TWU, TEXAS A&M SIGN COOPERATIVE AGREEMENT

Thanks to a new dual degree program between the College of Arts and Sciences at Texas Woman's University and the Dwight Look College of Engineering at Texas A&M University, students preparing for a career in engineering will have a stronger, more diverse education. The program, which was announced at a reception on Thurs., May 9, at the Zachry Engineering Center in College Station, allows students to earn two degrees -- one in mathematics and the other in engineering -- simultaneously. The memorandum of agreement was signed by Dr. Beverley Byers-Pevitts (academic affairs) and Dr. Roland Haden, vice chancellor and dean of engineering at Texas A&M. Under the joint program, students who complete the TWU and A&M curricula will receive the appropriate bachelor of science degree in mathematics from TWU and in engineering from Texas A&M.

Students will attend TWU for three years as a mathematics major, taking a broad range of courses in mathematics, computer science, humanities, social and natural sciences and the basic introductory courses needed to enter studies in engineering. They will continue their education at Texas A&M's Look College of Engineering for approximately two years. Participants must maintain a minimum 2.25 grade point average during the first three years at TWU before transfer admission to TAMU will be considered. Students also may earn academic credit and income while gaining on-the-job experience through TWU's cooperative education program. The dual degree program will be monitored by both institutions and may be revised at any time by either school.

"This agreement will help us recruit students at TWU," said Byers-Pevitts during an afternoon reception. "We are doing this because of our commitment to our students and our efforts with Texas A&M." Both institutions are encouraging students to consider careers in engineering, and such an agreement with TWU will bring more women into the field -- an area in which they traditionally have been underrepresented. For details, call Dr. Turner Hogan (mathematics and computer science) at ext. 2166.

TECHNOLOGY EFFORTS MOVING FORWARD

Dr. Carol Surles (president) recently announced that Dr. Les Thompson (research/Graduate School) has agreed to coordinate the university's planning for distance education and a broad range of special projects. In this role, Thompson will report directly to the president and will work closely with the academic units.

Tom Graf, formerly manager of telecommunications for TWU, has been reassigned by Surles as director of technology services. Graf has been asked by the president to expedite the development of TWU's technology infrastructure. He will report directly to Surles until the university completes a search for a chief information officer.

UPDATE ON TWU ATHLETICS

Several TWU student-athletes were honored at the annual awards luncheon in Hubbard Hall on April 26 for their athletic and academic accomplishments. Brandi Bosley, a four-year letter winner in basketball, team captain, honor student and recipient of TWU's Outstanding Senior Award was named recipient of this year's President's Award. She and three other student-athletes - seniors Misty Brever (volleyball) and Monique Taylor (gymnastics) -- were selected to their respective GTE Academic All-American District VI teams.

The Kitty Magee Award, which recognizes the most dedicated student-athlete, was given to fifth-year senior gymnast J.J Shanks. The Jo Kuhn Award, which honors outstanding leadership, was given to sophomore volleyball player Chantelle Clegg. Freshman softball player Catherine Jacobson was selected by TWU's athletic trainers for the Golden Cast Award, given to the athlete who is the most conscientious about the treatment and rehabilitation of her injuries. She currently is rehabilitating from shoulder surgery. One individual in each of the athletics programs received an award for outstanding student-athlete. They were sophomore Shaughnessy Bland (tennis), Shanks (gymnastics), senior Kerri Sheppard (athletic training), junior Sarah Steinmetz (volleyball) and junior Rhonda Wilson (basketball).

Two individuals from the Denton community were inducted into the Order of the Redcoats, an honor that recognizes individuals inside and outside of the university community who support and demonstrate outstanding service to the Pioneer athletics program. The recipients were Lori Golden, former TWU basketball player, who has served as the official statistician for volleyball and basketball programs for several seasons; and Jimmie Lankford, a TWU graduate student who volunteered as an assistant volleyball coach for the past two years and also served as a bus driver for all road trips. In other news:

■ Five softball players recently signed national letters of intent with TWU: Blaire Beaty from Newman Smith High School in Carrollton, Texas; Brandi Chane from Weatherford (Texas) High School; Nicolette Engelbrecht from Alberton, South Africa; Michelle Rogers from Georgetown (Texas) High School; and Shannon Ward from Elisk High School in Houston. Two students from Stephen F. Austin State University -- Chessa Cassels and Karen Lundstedt -- have indicated they intend to transfer to TWU.

■ Two high school seniors, Shanda Urban from Trinity High School in Bedford, Texas, and Leslee Zachry from Cooper (Texas) High School also recently signed national letters of intent to join TWU's basketball program. Laura Kolenovsky, who played one year for the University of Texas at Arlington, has signed an institutional letter of intent and will transfer to TWU.

■ Gymnasts Amy McFadden from Hempstead High School in Dubque, Iowa, and Melissa Peed from Union High School in Tulsa, Okla., also signed national letters of intent with TWU and will join the four-time USA Gymnastics Collegiate National Champions.

NEWSBRIEFS, continued

Reminder: The TWU department of public safety will dispose of chemicals from various offices and departments on campus during the week of May 20, 1996, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. by appointment only at the chemical storage building next to the physical plant, according to Vicki Byrd, TWU's environmental safety and health officer. For guidelines and details, call ext. 2924.

The TWU gymnastics team needs donations of good quality aerobic equipment for use in their practice facility -- exercise bikes, treadmills and stair steppers, specifically. Anyone who has such equipment and would like to make a donation should call Frank Kudlac at ext. 2378.

Reminder: TWU Update begins its biweekly summer publication scheduled with this issue. Publication dates will be May 13 and 27, June 10 and 24, July 8 and 22, and August 5 and 19. All materials should be submitted by 5 p.m. on the Tuesday prior to each publication date. Student news is not published unless information is submitted in conjunction a faculty member who participated with them in an activity or academic conference. Items submitted for use should include the name of the person who sent the information and a telephone number.

A reception honoring Audrey Godi (public safety), who will retire May 31, will be held on Tues., May 21, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Student Center Underground. All friends, family members and colleagues are invited to join the department of public safety as they wish her well in her retirement.

Reminder: National Employee Health and Fitness Day will be observed by the TWU Wellness Center on Wed., May 15, with a one-mile walk around the campus. All interested faculty and staff are invited to check in at 11:50 a.m. at the Wellness Center -- and bring a friend! This year's theme is "BINGO!" and participants will receive a bingo card at two of the four stations along the way. Join everyone for a healthy lunch (Dutch treat!) in the Garden Room of the Student Center, and use your card to play bingo and win prizes. For details, call ext. 2900.

TWU faculty and staff are invited to become part of the University Chorus next fall. The chorus meets from 1 to 2:30 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday during the fall and spring semesters. "University Chorus has enjoyed having faculty and/or staff members join them every semester since its inception in 1994, and we would like to encourage others to join us," said Dr. Janice Killian (performing arts, music), who directs the group. University Chorus is a non-auditioned group that performs a variety of music styles. For details, call Killian at ext. 2505.
