Dedication

He knows Tess' favorite foods, how many pounds of coffee are needed for one hundred people, the current price of steak, and his motto is: "If the food is in Texas, I'll get it!" He's Claude Castleberry, manager of Hubbard Hall. Although he puts pounds on Tess' hips, he is still one of her favorite people. Whenever her club is planning a party she knows that he will assist her in every way. With a ready smile, Mr. Castleberry will help plan menus, estimate the cost and see that the food arrives on time—the coffee still steaming hot and the cokes ice cold.

During his twenty-two years here, Mr. Castleberry has purchased the food for TSCW. Last year he became manager of Hubbard Hall, our new central dining unit. Compliments and complaints are his daily fare because Tess feels free to comment either way on the food for Mr. Castleberry says, "I want to serve the students." Because of all these things, I would like to dedicate the 1951 DAEDALIAN to the man who found that the way to Tess' heart is through her stomach—Claude Castleberry.

THE EDITOR

CLAUDE CASTLEBERRY

Manager, Hubbard Hall

Foreword

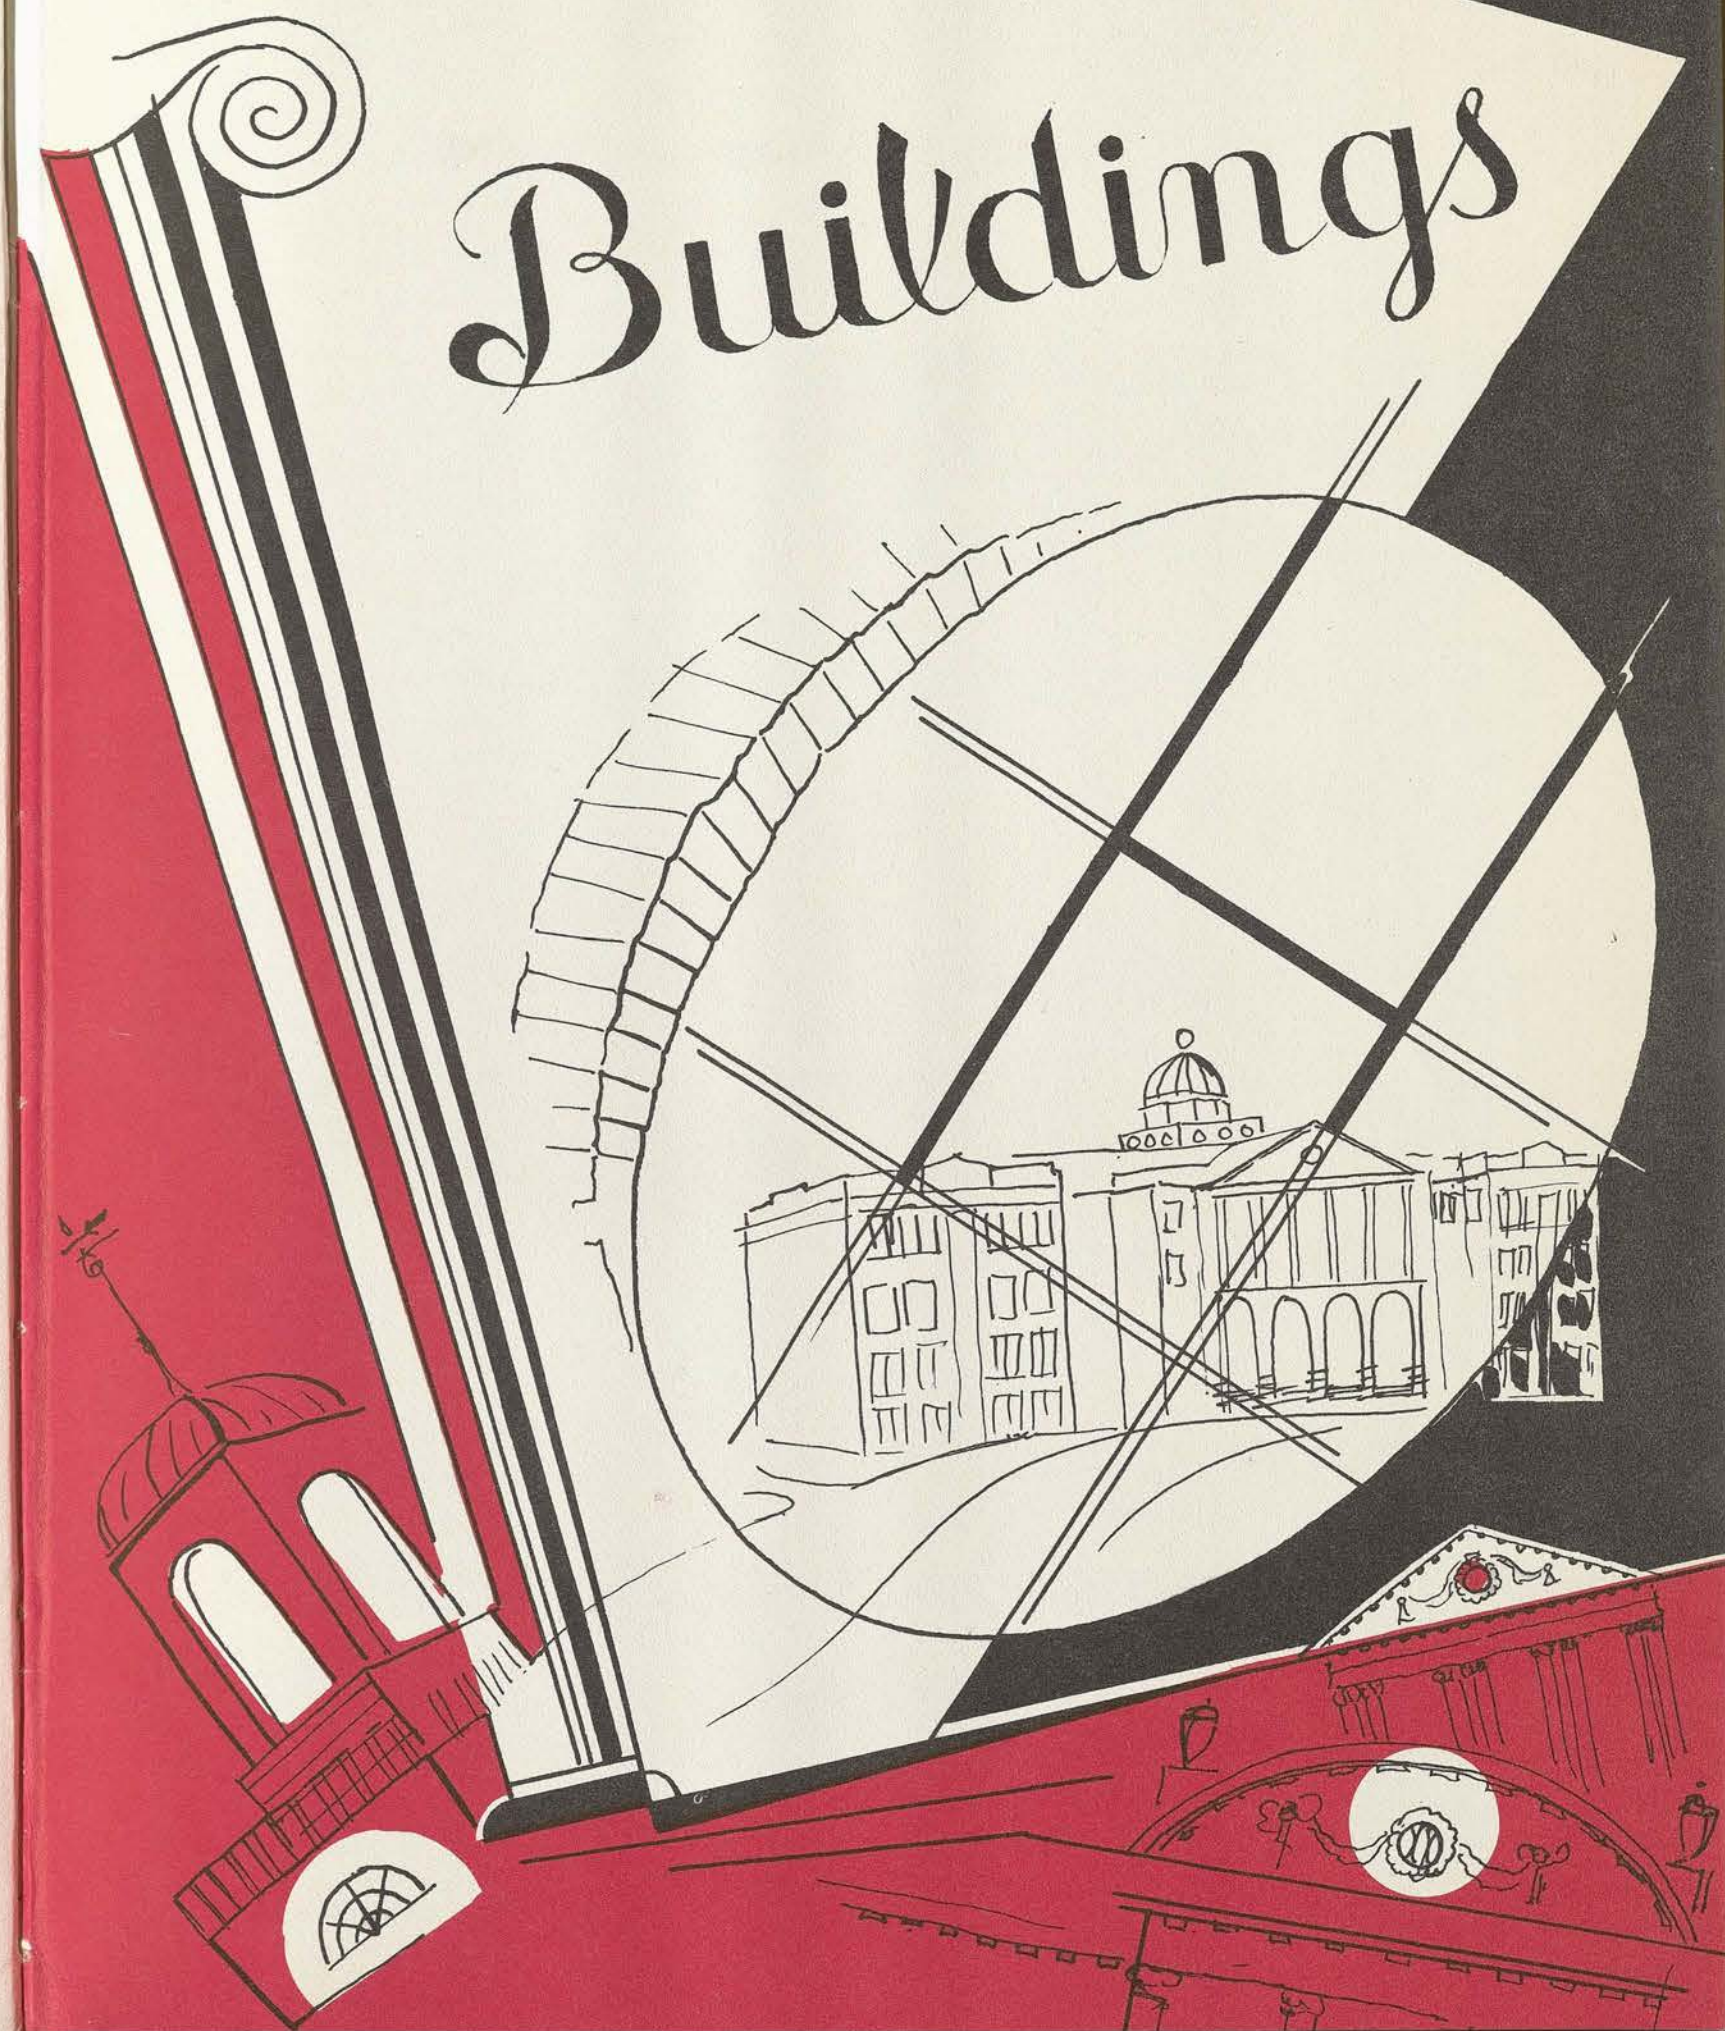

Our college is a combination of individual ideals built from the dreams and efforts of thousands of people. For forty-eight years students have entered—each one adding something to our institution, each one leaving with new aspirations and increased wisdom.

Progress is the motivating force at TSCW. In keeping with the ever-changing student body, the college has grown steadily since it was founded in 1903. Our theme is TSCW Looking Forward. We chose it because each of us has something to look forward to—whether it is a new college year or going out to make a place for ourselves in the world.

Our first aim was to give you the very best year-book you have ever had. The next was to give you a memory book that would increase in value with every day, every year that passed. We like to think of you looking at your DAEDALIAN and recalling everything you did while at TSCW—from the books you read to the clothes you wore. We hope the book shows our pride and reflects our love for just those things.

TEXAS STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

DENTON, TEXAS

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

15 December 1950

To The Class of 1951:

Yours is the first class to be graduated from Texas State College for Women under my administration as President. It is natural that I should have a special interest in you, even though our association has been limited to the last year of your undergraduate careers.

While many of you will continue your work toward the master's degree at TSCW, numbers of you under the pressure of circumstance will find it impossible to continue your collegiate studies formally. In either case you will be faced with conditions and problems that will provoke evaluations of your college training or invite comparisons of it with the training others have received in a different environment. You will, in other words, have the opportunity to test the value and usefulness of your higher educational equipment against a background of continuing realities. I do not believe that you will find TSCW wanting, and I wish to assure you that we will remain firm in our determination to maintain for those who follow in your academic footsteps the same high achievement standards which have characterized our institution from the very beginning of its life.

As I write this brief message there are ugly shadows on the international horizon. Perhaps the skies will clear before these words of mine are published some months hence, but I doubt that we shall lack for crises when your graduation day comes. I hope that at TSCW you will have acquired courage to face with confidence the trials which lie ahead and that you will have learned to find joy in the blessings which are abundant for those able to perceive them.

Sincerely and cordially yours,

John A. Guinn

No use trying to hide behind all that stage make-up—students will still recognize you profs.

As for powder and paint, students learn to apply their own.

Sports

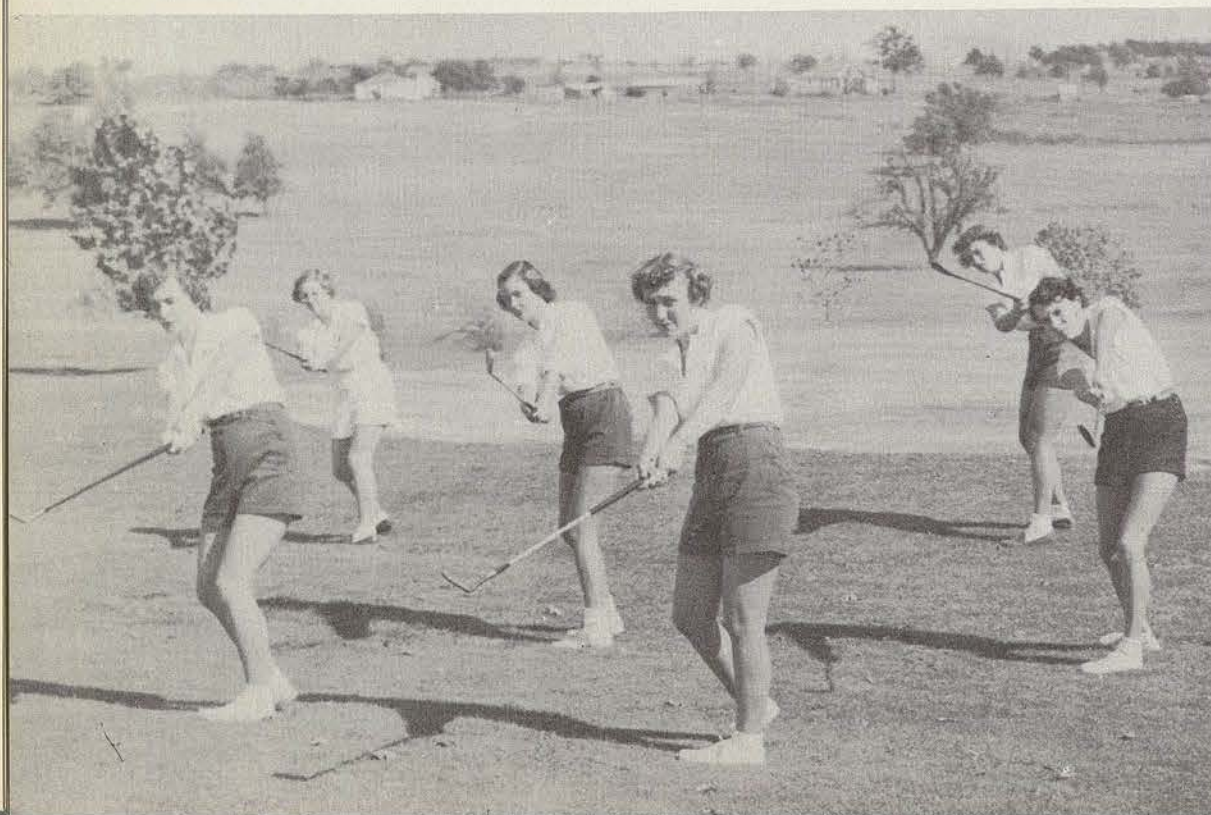

A serve safely returned.

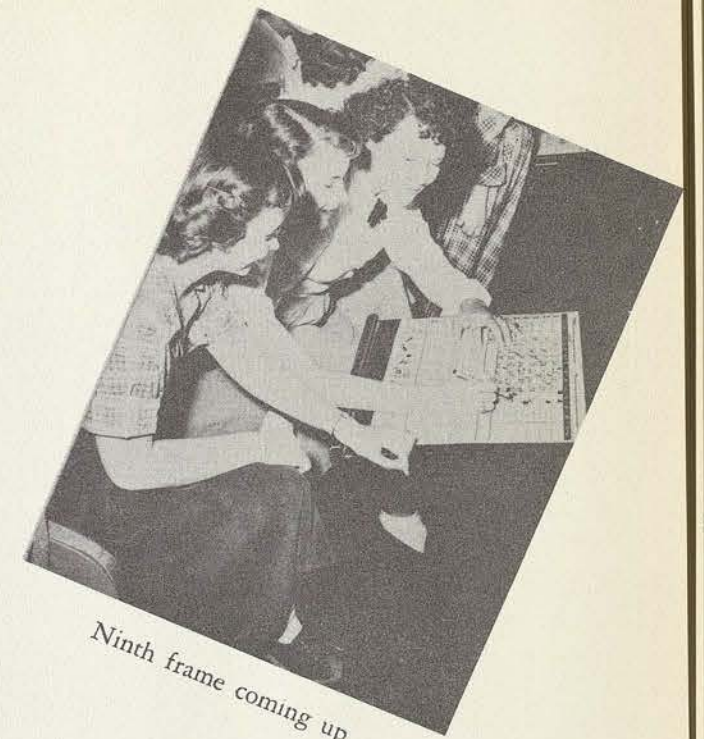

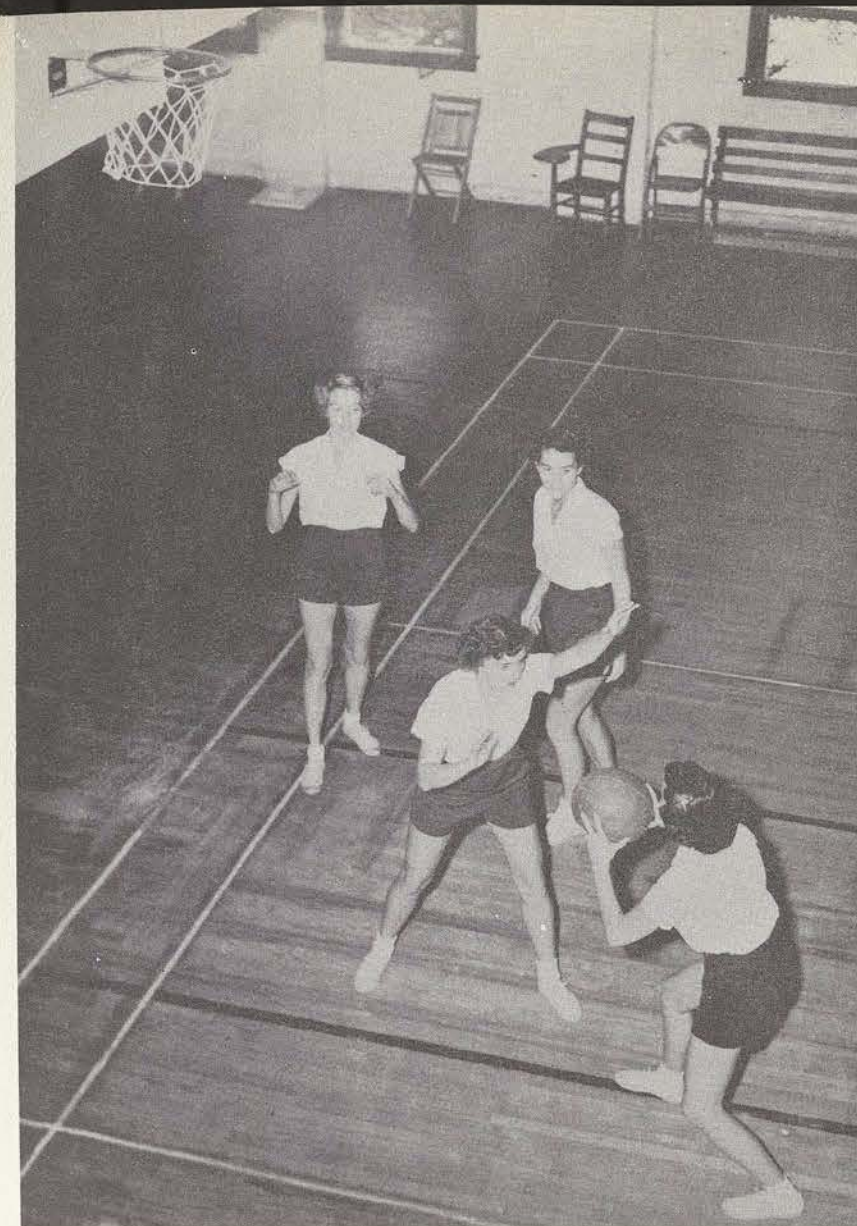

BADMINTON AND GOLF

"Watch the birdie" is always top command in badminton classes. These swingers demonstrate the hard smash, a sure way to catch points.

A-golfing we will go, at TSCW's own well-equipped course. Student and student-faculty tournaments add spice to the yearly golf calendar.

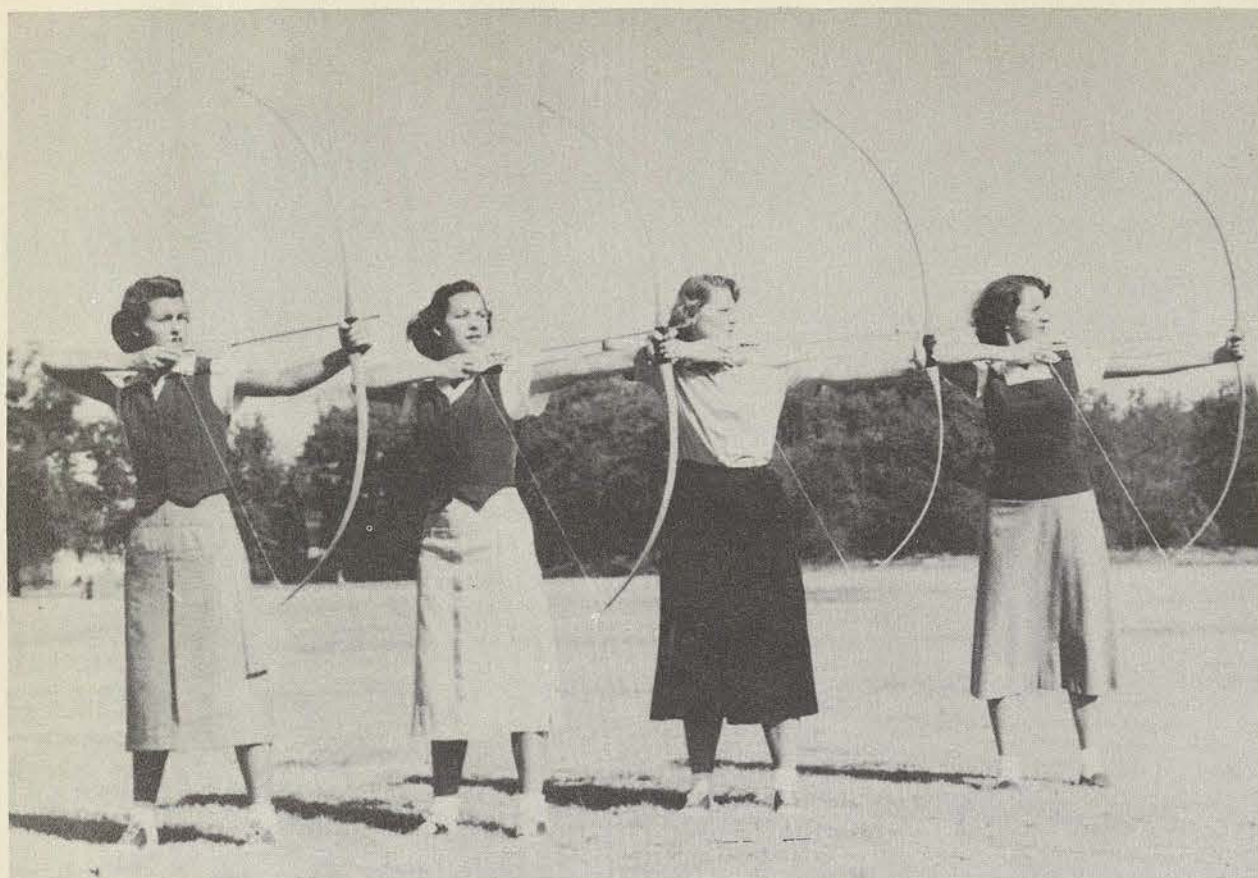

Ninth frame coming up.

Shoot it! Basketball at TSCW takes on real life when the inter-dormitory matches begin in the early winter months.

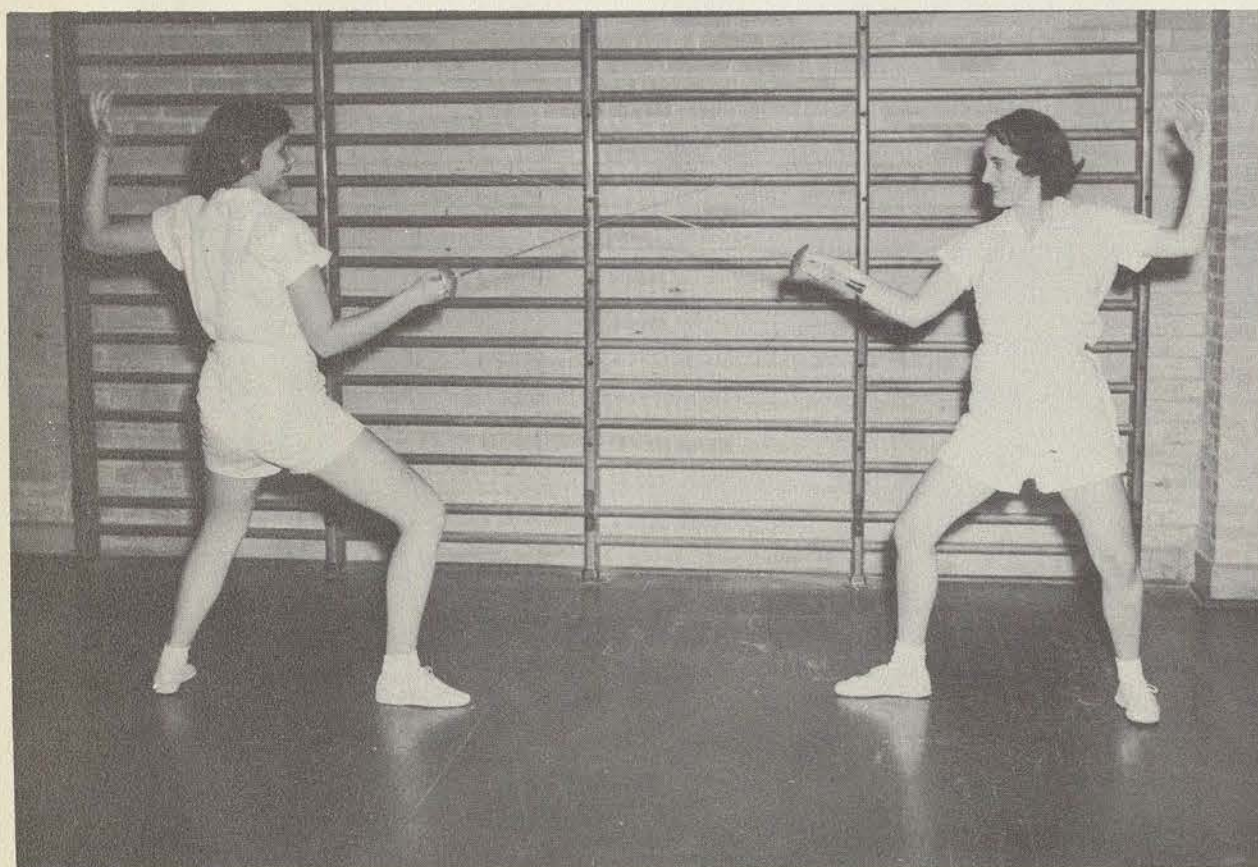

BASKETBALL AND BOWLING

Bowling is offered Tessies by downtown Varsity Alleys. Learning to knock over ten pins teaches co-ordination... and it's fun, too.

ARCHERY AND FENCING

From the clashing foils in Fencing Club and fencing classes, a girl can gain grace and skill.

Spring always brings the draw of bows and the whine of flying arrows on the archery range behind dorm row.

A ready stick for goal-guarding.

Set for a downfield dribble.

HOCKEY

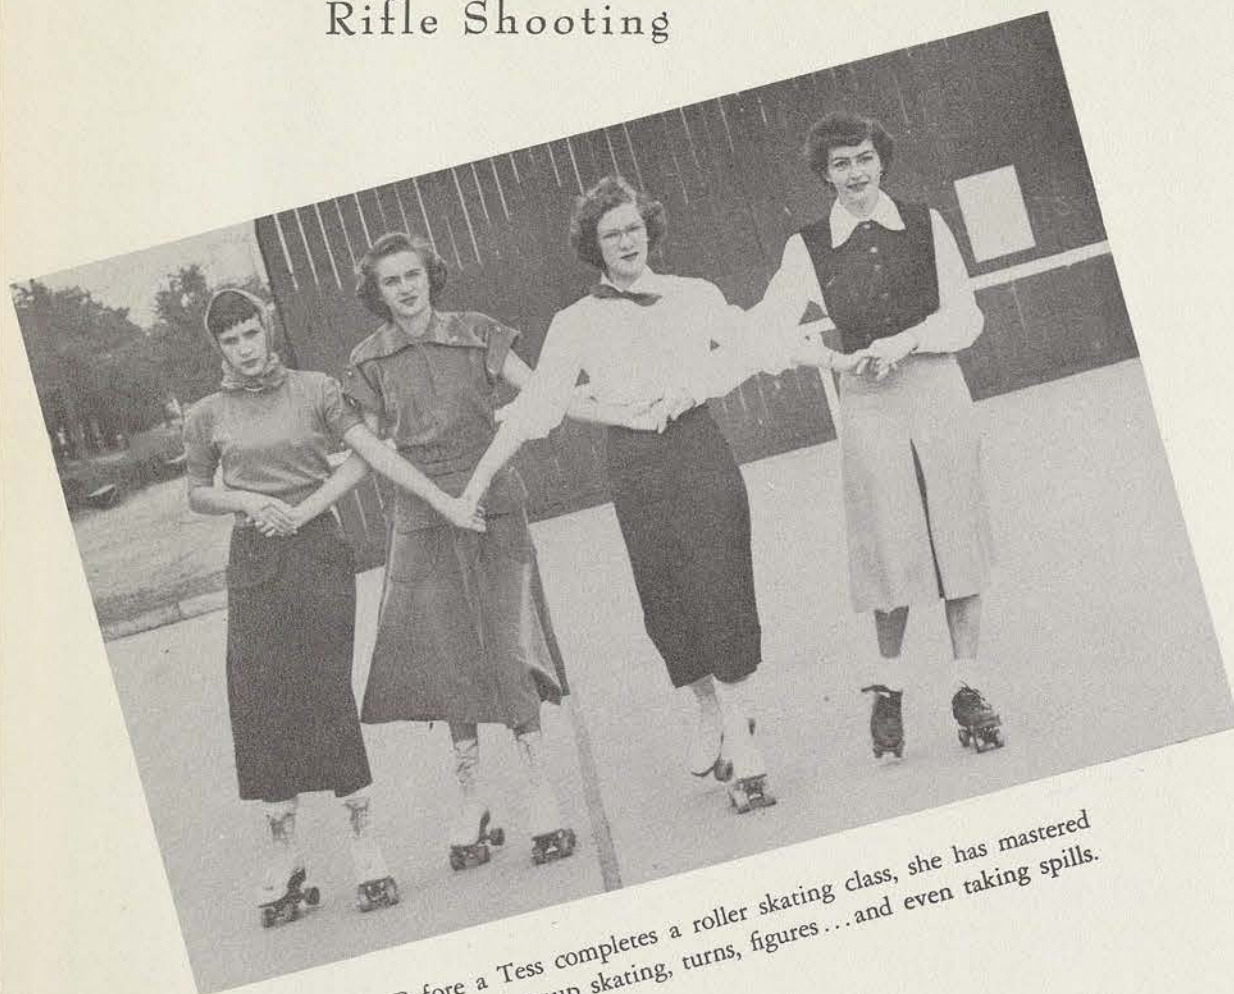

Capitalizing the hockey season at TSCW each year is a pre-Thanksgiving battle between teams representing the Texas Aggies and Texas Longhorns. Final score of this hockey bout traditionally tells the outcome of the festive Turkey Day football game between Texas and Texas A&M. Tessies may not have a football team, but comes the Saturday before Thanksgiving and you'll find them on the hockey field cheering for their favorite side.

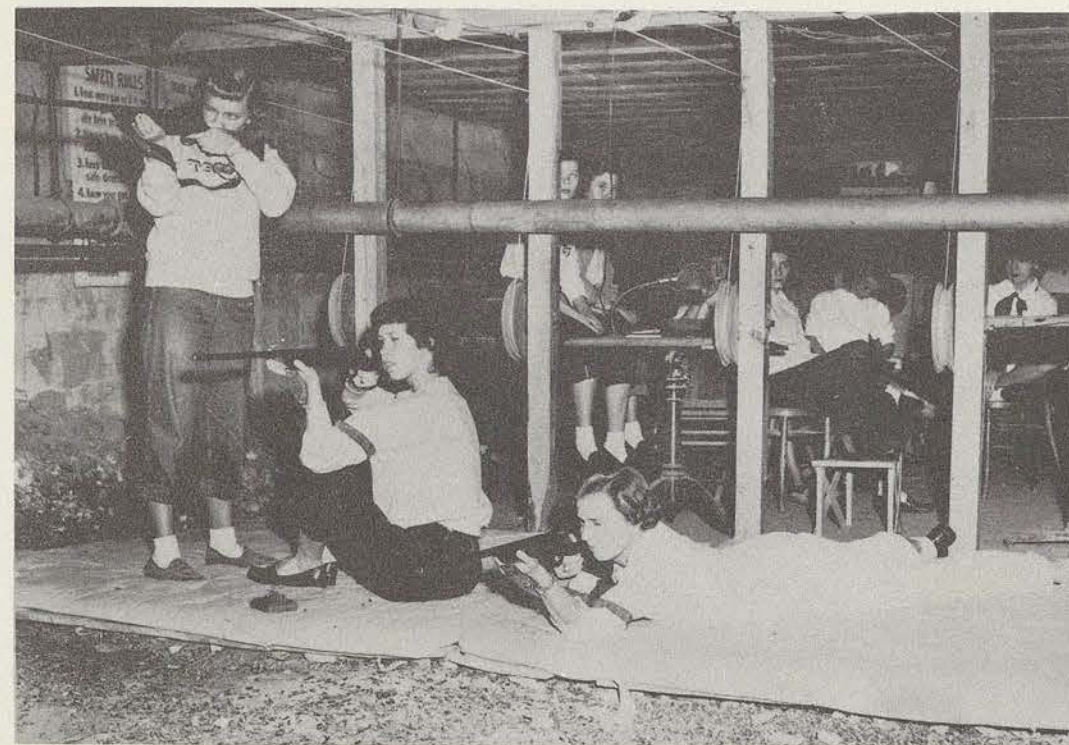

Besides the colorful Aggie-Longhorn contest, hockey players also schedule faculty-student, varsity-varsity reserve, and underclassmen-upperclassmen games during the season. This year, for the first time, eleven girls representing TSCW journeyed to Norman for a hockey engagement with University of Oklahoma.

Roller Skating and Rifle Shooting

Before a Tess completes a roller skating class, she has mastered the art of group skating, turns, figures... and even taking spills.

Anyone can be a second Annie Oakley by signing up for a course in rifle shooting. Regular targets are on the rifle range in Houston Hall's basement.

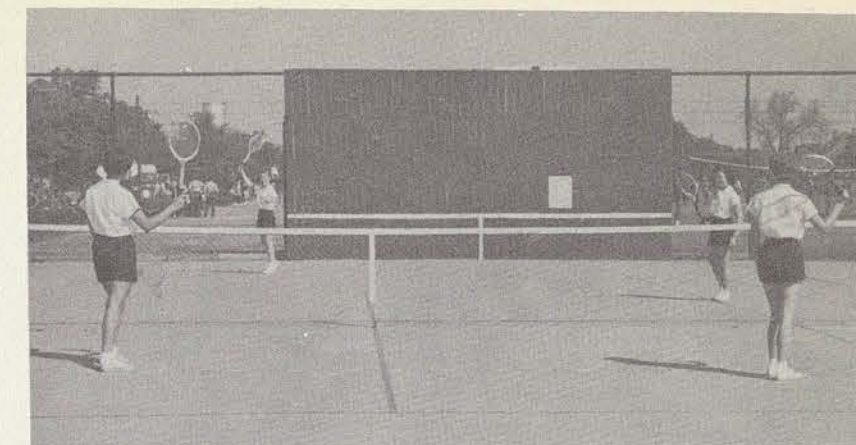

Into the skates.

Tennis and Volleyball

A racquet... a court... and a well-placed drive.

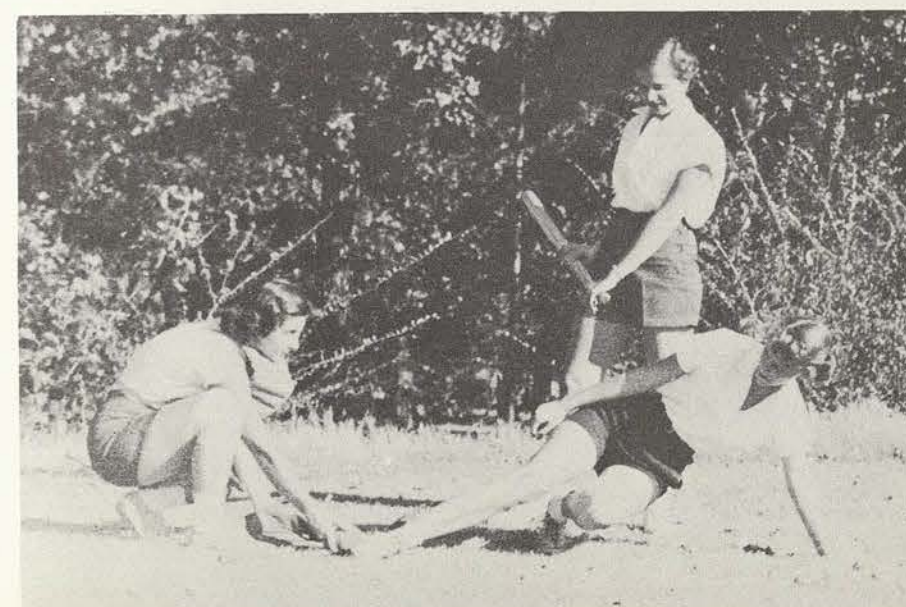

Tennis reaches a high point during the individual cup matches, but a sunlit court can always lure a sports-minded student to a vigorous game.

Volleyball, a sport that requires expert teamwork, ranks as a favorite at TSCW in both classes and dormitory tournament play.

Baseball

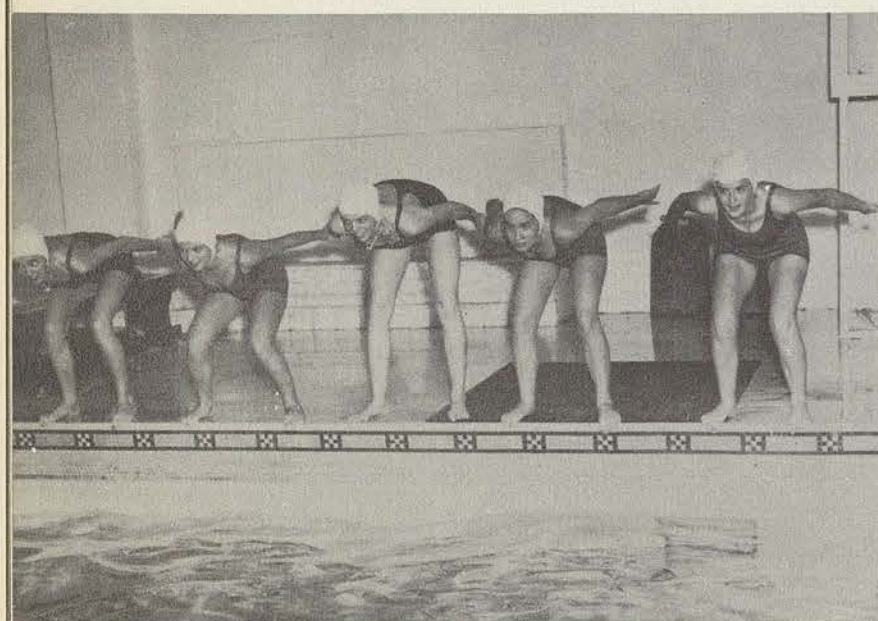

"Play ball"... and the catcher is ready.

A quick slide for home plate is just one of the thrills found in a good game of softball or baseball.

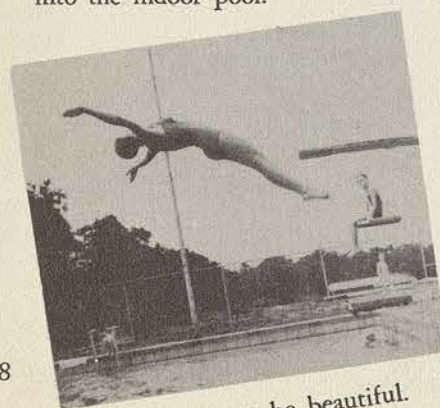

WATER SPORTS

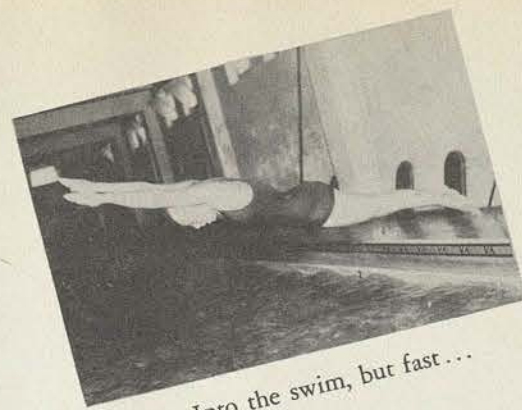

Where there's swimming, there's always life saving. Campus life savers stay in condition by practicing rescues and keeping current tab on new life saving methods.

Swimmers toe the mark for a racing dive into the indoor pool.

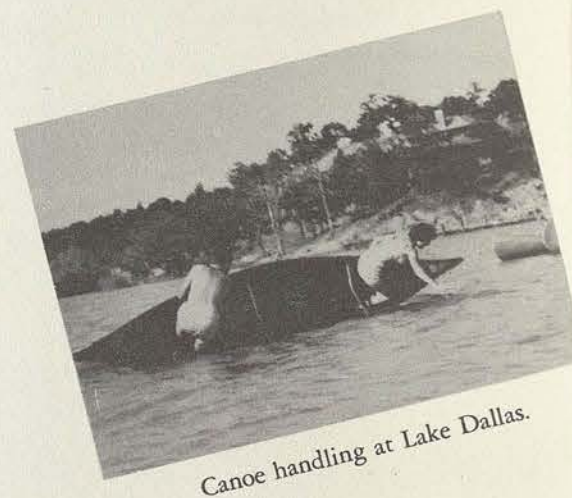

Diving can be beautiful.

Into the swim, but fast...

And the race back.

Canoe handling at Lake Dallas.

Aquatics Club, highest notch in swimming activities at TSCW, makes an annual tour to various Texas cities and also presents a water pageant each spring in the outdoor pool. Below, club members form a basic water pattern, the pinwheel.

Dance

Mrs. John Storrie... piano notes for folk dance.

FOLK DANCE

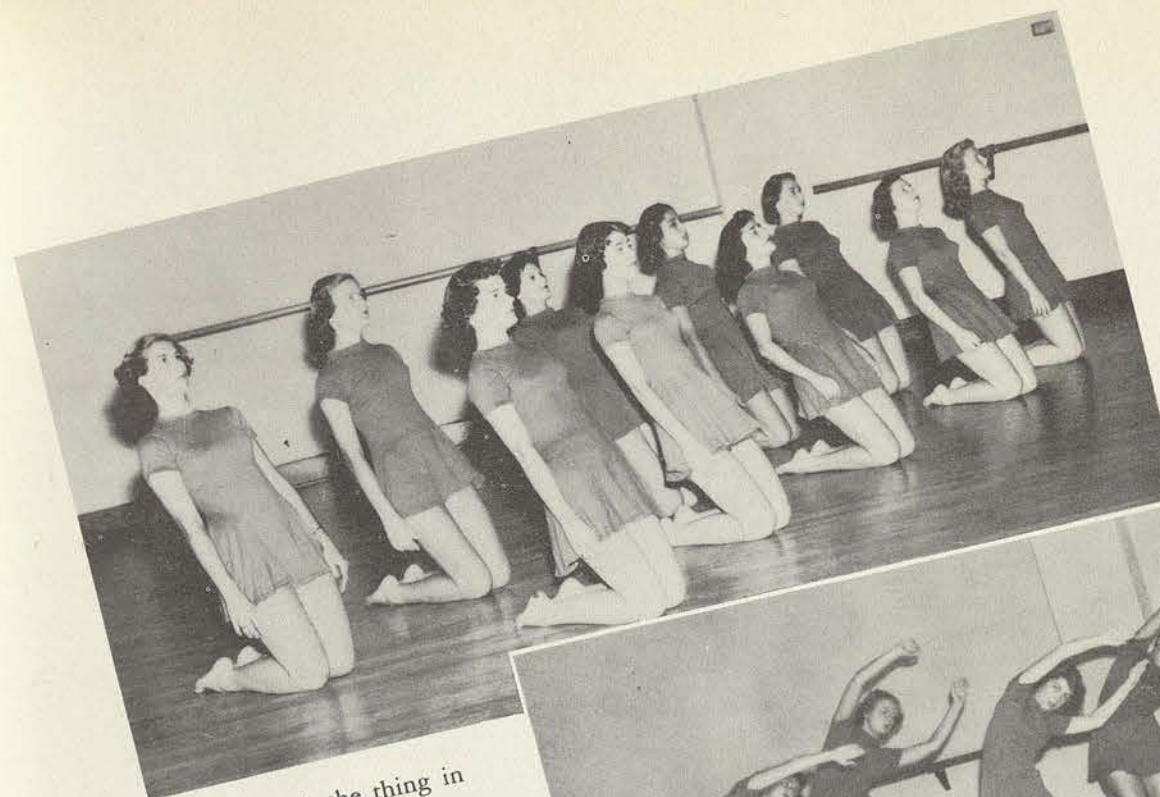

Beginning folk dancers balance and swing for "The Shortish," popular Danish group dance.

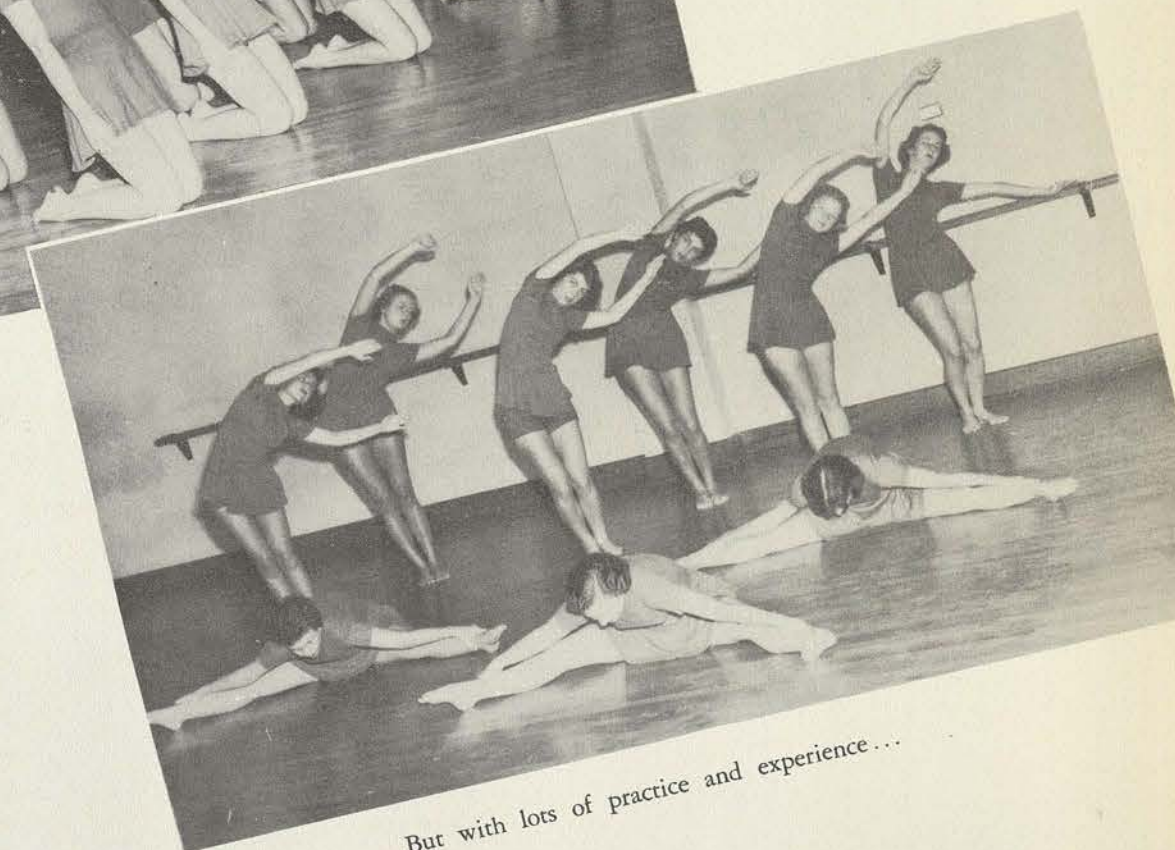

In colorful costume, members of the Folk Dance Club meet weekly to learn and enjoy native dances. A favorite is the lilting Norwegian "Tantoli."

MODERN DANCE

Technique is the thing in beginning modern dance classes.

But with lots of practice and experience...

Comes this. Four members of the Modern Dance Club interpret the color yellow from "The Color Suite."

Miss Mary Campbell... at the piano, always helping.

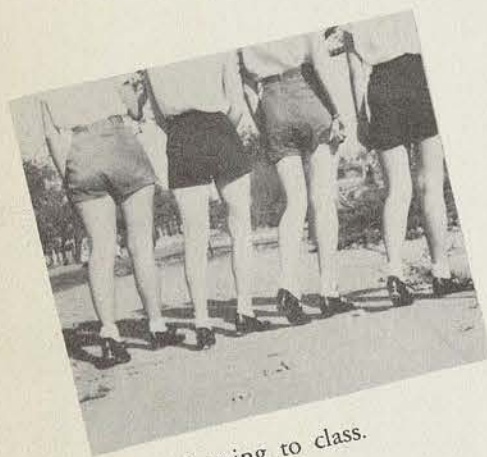

Precision tapping definitely has it with the TSCW Caperettes, who dance, dance, dance for on and off-campus activities.

Mrs. John Roberts... songs for tapping feet.

TAP DANCE

Tapping to class.

Heel, shuffle, step... and student tap dancers begin to click out steps in rhythm to "Sidewalks of New York."

The problem of what cross the 38th parallel, the Department said, was under "consideration" by this government and consultations were going "in diplomatic channels here and abroad" on the matter.

Bowen to Speak

Three years later, her first biography to be selected by the Book-of-the-Month Club, "Beloved Friend, Story of Tchaikovsky," was published. It sold over 700,000 copies and was translated into several languages.

That same year, 1967, Mrs. Bowen went to Europe to gather material for "Free Artist" her biography of Anton and Nicolas Rubinstein.

Mrs. Bowen, the wife of a surgeon, who is a retired navy officer lives at Bryn Mawr, Pa. She has a married daughter and a son who recently graduated from Amherst.

Her lecture at TSCW is one of a short series that she is making before starting on her next biography.

Thirty Days Grace Asked for Students

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13—Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey instructed local boards today to give students subject to the draft 30 days after the end of the school year to pick their own branch of service.

He said the students must make a written request for the 30-day delay. If they fail to make request and to sign up for vice army induction by compulsory

Miss Pat Bobo
 Texas State College for Women
 Denton, Texas
 Dear Miss Bobo:

It was indeed a privilege to choose the Beauty winners at Texas State College for Women on Friday, February 16.

The names of these girls are as follows:

Freshman class	- Wanda Harris
Sophomore class	- Mary Morton
Junior class	- Sue Mims
Senior class	- Helen Beys

I made my decisions in each instance on the basis of their individual presentation, taking into consideration such qualities as lovely teeth, hair and skin, as well as personal charm and attractiveness.

Yours very truly,

JOHN ROBERT POWERS SCHOOL

Junior beauty nominees, Mary Jane Moncrief, Carla Weber, Sue Mims and Martha Gill, sip coffee at the Virginia Carroll Lodge reception following the beauty and style show.

All smiles from the senior nominees, Gloria Jay, Jean Cummings, Julianne Brownlow and Helen Beys, as they chat with Judge Satterfield.

What's in a face? Maybe a class beauty, thinks Mr. Satterfield as he gives final judging to sophomore candidate Mary Morton. Rose Marie Leissner and Nancy Coolidge await their turn.

The sixteen beauty nominees "on stage" for their presentation to the entire college.

Aggie Sweetheart Dottie and her escort, Waymond Nutt. Dottie was presented during the half-time activities of the A&M-SMU game.

DOROTHY MANGUM, Aggie Sweetheart

Twelve Aggie judges arrived on the TSCW campus one week-end in October to select their college sweetheart and chose senior speech major, Dorothy Mangum from Cotulla. While here, the judges and nominees were entertained with a variety of parties including picnics, dancing in the recreation room of Stoddard, participating in the Corn Huskin' Bee, and late supper in Virginia Carroll Lodge.

Bee, Paula Mueller and Bob Hill. Back row: Tony Bockholt, Joan Jopling, Dale Fischgrabe, Patricia Hepinstall, Dorothy George, Don Hegi, Marilyn Fawcett and Bill Lewis.

Class nominees and judges.

WANDA HARRIS, Cotton Ball Queen

... And still another Aggie delegation visited our campus the last of March to choose a Queen and eight Duchesses to reign over the annual Cotton Ball and Pageant, which was held May 4 and 5. Saturday, the 32 nominees, nine judges and honor guests had dinner in Hubbard Hall, danced in Stoddard Recreation Room and had late supper in Virginia Carroll Lodge. Sunday, they attended the Little Chapel and then had breakfast at the Lodge. The Queen and Duchesses were announced later in the morning.

ELEANOR STEBER

Concert-goers found that the brilliant soprano voice of Miss Steber, star of concert, opera, radio and television, was matched by her charming stage personality. Miss Steber spiced her program with several modern numbers.

CLAIRE COCI

Perhaps America's best-known woman organist, Miss Coci has been acclaimed both here and in Europe for her organ mastery.

BARTER THEATRE

This noted American theatrical company took the TSCW audience through a memorable evening of first-class drama, "The Glass Menagerie," by Tennessee Williams. "Menagerie" gave the inside story of the life of a neurotic family living in a tiny New York flat. Barter Theatre is sponsored by the American National Theatre and Academy.

CHARLES LAUGHTON

An evening of dramatic reading came with Mr. Laughton's December appearance. The affable British actor, a prominent figure on the screen and stage, gave a one-man show featuring reading selections from Shakespeare to the Bible.

JACQUES ABRAM

A native Texan pianist, Abram has been described as an artist whose performances "tighten the throat and dim the eyes." The young pianist included selections from Chopin and Debussy on his program.

CATHERINE DRINKER BOWEN

One of the greatest living women biographers, Mrs. Bowen lectured on "History and Biography" at a February Concert and Drama Series. Mrs. Bowen's literary successes include "Yankee from Olympus" and "John Adams and the American Revolution."

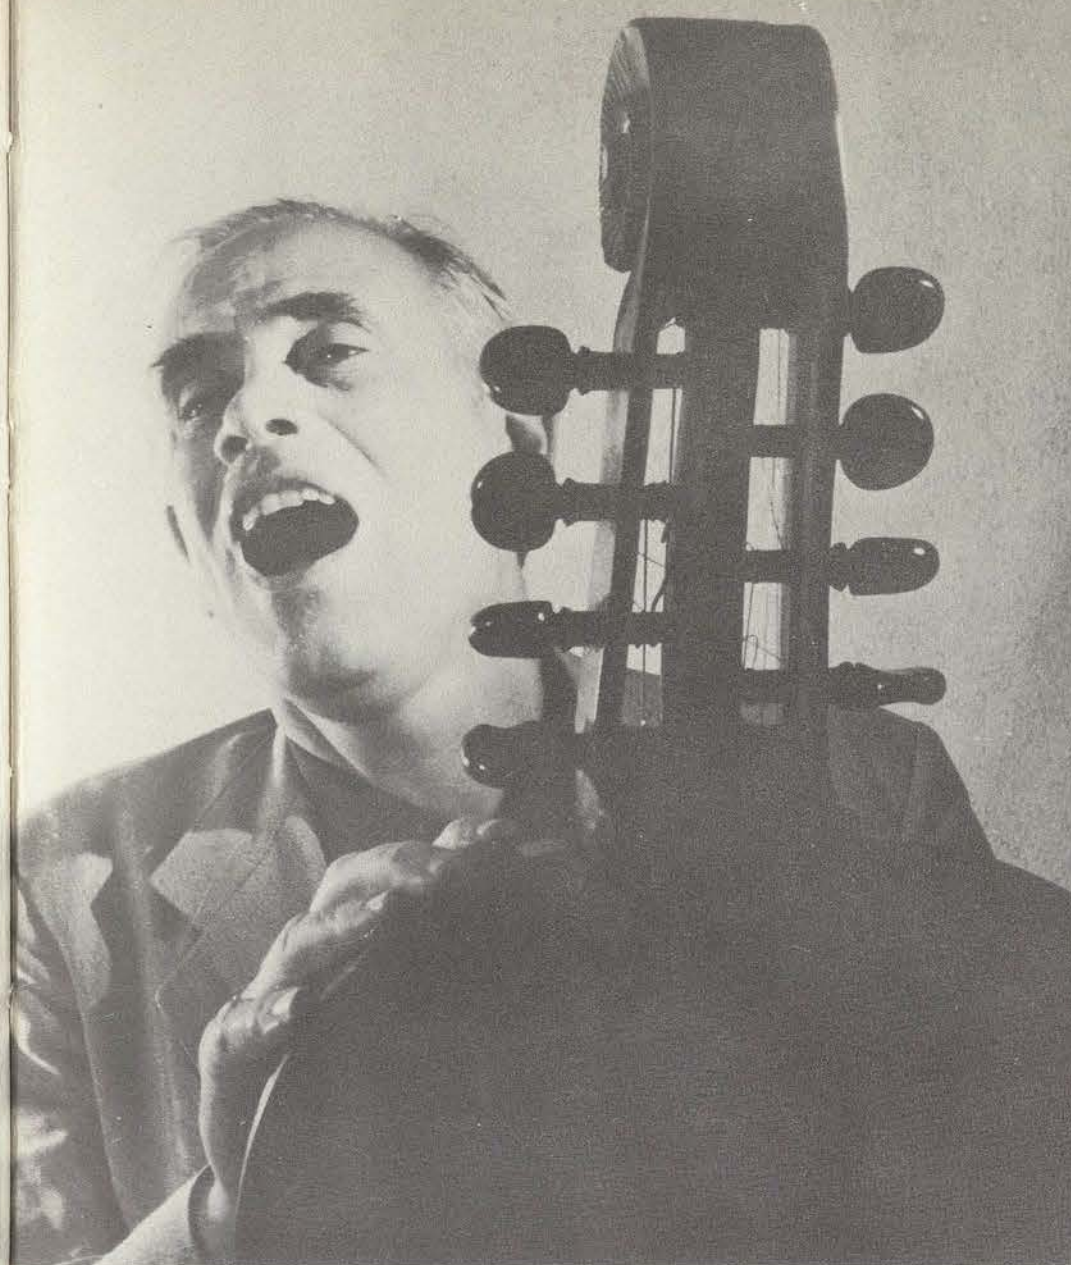

ANNA MARIA SPANISH BALLET

Clicking castanets and flowing skirts offered a realistic picture of the colorful art of dance in Spain, as performed by Anna Maria and her Spanish ballet. One of the favorite programs on the Concert and Drama Series calendar this year, the ballet included nearly every type of familiar Spanish dance.

TED SHAWN

America's top choreographer-teacher captivated his audience with his variety of technique and movement. Fabulous Ted Shawn presented a dance recital that included many of the patterns he has introduced to American modern dance.

JOHN JACOB NILES

Mr. Niles' April concert gave proof to his TSCW audience that he was "dean of American balladers." Mr. Niles presented a program of original compositions and folk-song adaptations.

Making its second appearance on the TSCW campus, Texas' own San Antonio Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Franco Auteri, featured music by American and European composers. The symphony has been called one of the greatest musical organizations in the Southwest.

San Antonio Symphony Orchestra

"Forever more we'll be just pals, dear old pals"
...sing these Tessie warblers.

Having a carnival? Yes, that's just where we're going, thank you.

No mother-daughter routine, this. It's Edra Zoe Austin and Bettigene Slover ready for another of their renowned vocal duets.

Her merits were doubtful, but Madame Jam-Jam, alias Germaine Piazza, built up plenty of hopes.

The sign said "pin on the hat"
...but most entrants came nearer the nose.

WRA CARNIVAL

ALL - COLLEGE PICNIC

October 11

Just because she's in college doesn't mean that Tess stops loving picnics. Blue-jeaned girls flock to the autumn picnic in Lowry Woods, one of two all-college outings during the year. Hot dogs piled with mustard, steaming coffee and apple pie usually precede a few innings of softball or some old-fashioned group singing.

OU BAND

October 13

At the OU banquet, seniors gave an assortment of entertainment such as the singing of Ramblers and a pantomime showing reactions at a football game. After the banquet, a dance was given in honor of the band in the recreation room in the Union Building.

Each year, before leaving the TSCW campus, the OU band marches through the streets serenading the Tessies. An admiring group follows as they march down Bell Avenue.

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK

October 24, 25, 26

REV. LOUIS H. EVANS
Pastor, Hollywood Presbyterian Church

PLEDGE WEEK

October 25-30

Pledges stopped being Tessies during Pledge Week and became instead humble, bowing slaves. Besides re-learning to scissor paper dolls, most of them could write books on how the ground looked, smelled, and even tasted.

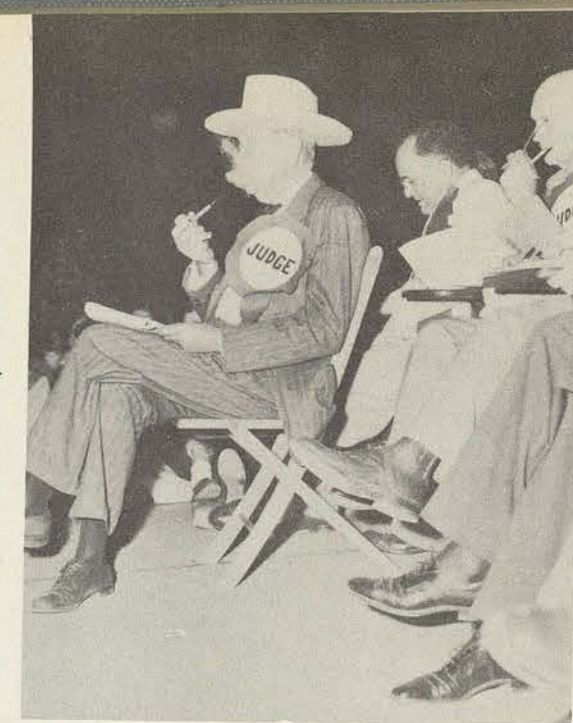

Many polished shoes...a butterfly, yet...and then there were rabbits.

CORN HUSKIN' BEE

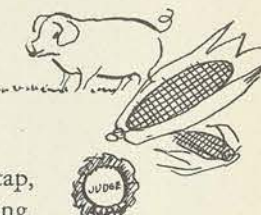

Judges ponder.

That's Clara Jones, rigged up to win the husband-calling contest.

October 27

Corn-huskin' time finds cold lemonade on tap, hill-billy singing, old-fashioned square dancing, and plenty of unshucked corn.

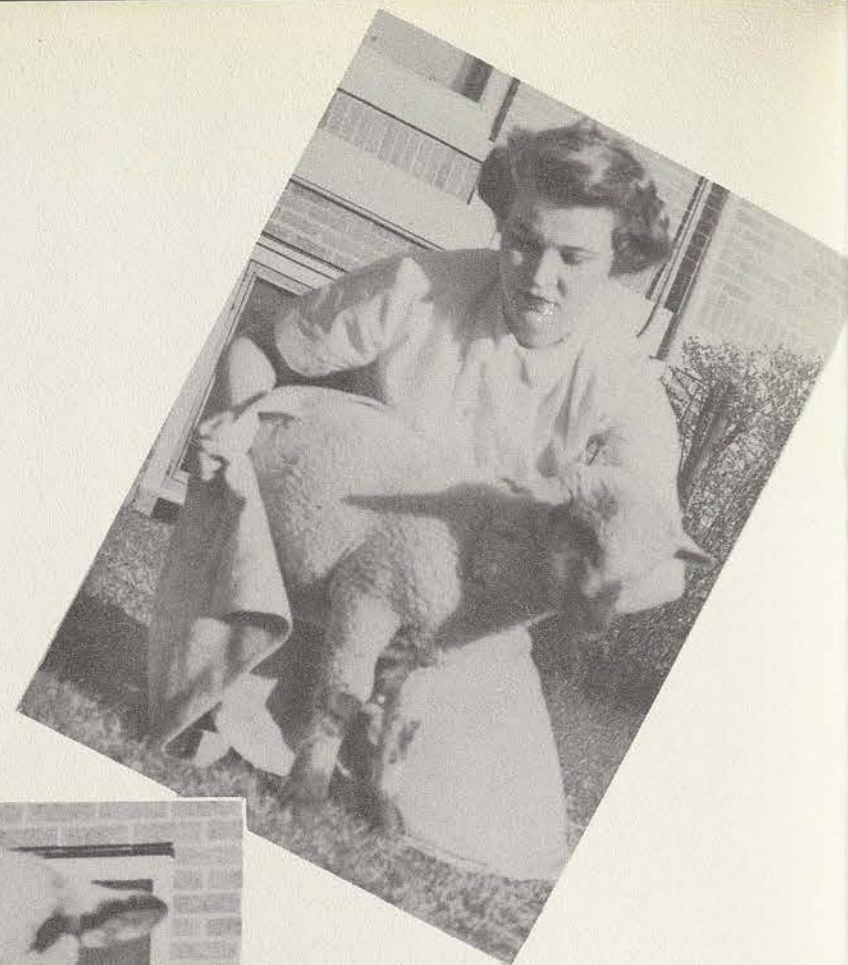

Mary Lamb and namesake—Mary said, "A little lamb . . . for mascot of the school" . . . When girls said "yes" to Mary's plan . . . Tessandra came to rule!

Tessandra's formal introduction to TSCW came when the four class presidents presented her to the Stunt Night audience.

B. Ann takes time out from Lass-O duties to give Tessandra a bath. As editor of The Daily Lass-O, which sponsored the mascot contest, B. Ann is one of Tessandra's baby-sitters.

Two more "keepers," Margaret and Fanchelle, proudly show off the mascot.

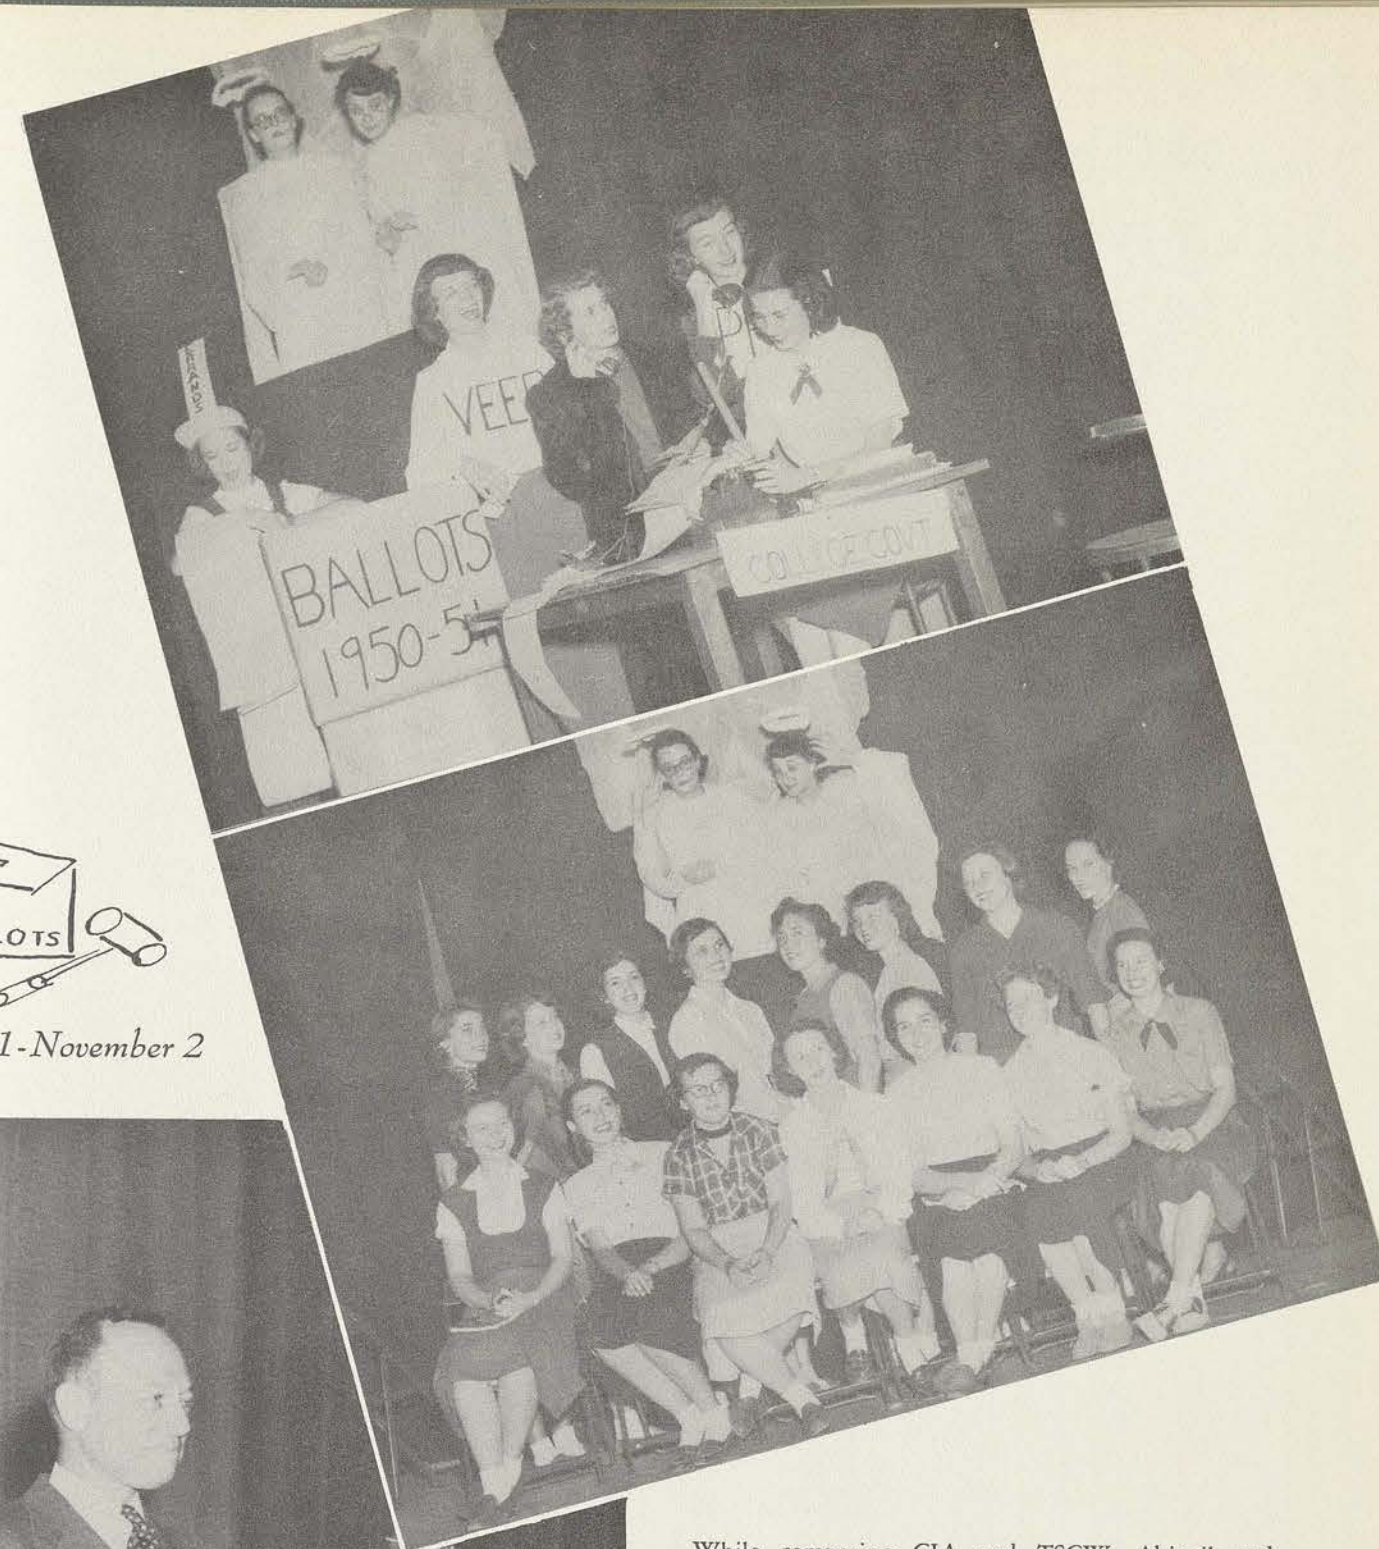

October 31-November 2

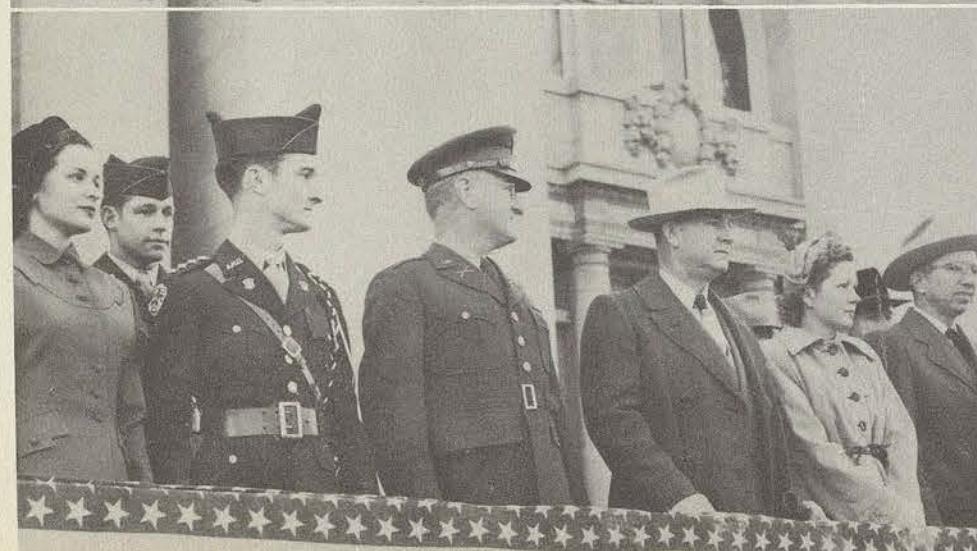

While comparing CIA and TSCW, Abigail and Agatha, the angels and ex-CIA girls, find out that many startling changes have been made in the college government since their day and time.

CORPS TRIP

Corps Trip mums for Dottie.

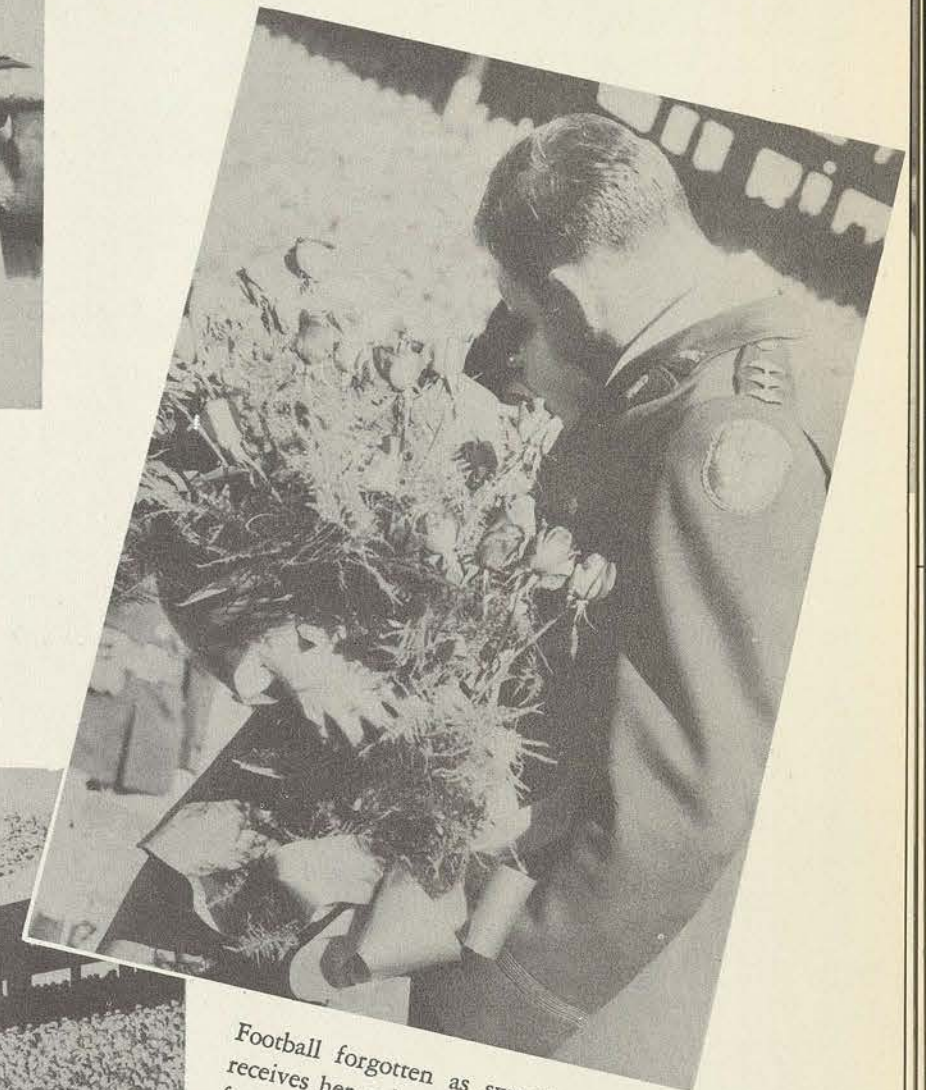

High-stepping Aggies parade in Dallas Saturday morning. . . Eyes right—for a salute to the reviewing stand. . . And in the reviewing stand are the presidents of A&M and TSCW and the Aggies' own sweetheart, Dorothy Mangum.

Nothing like healthy Aggie "gig'ems" to spur the maroon and white on to victory.

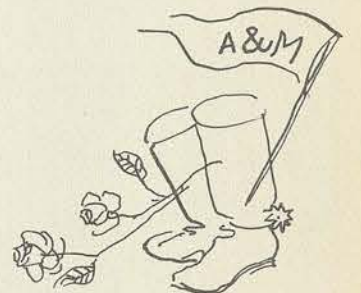

Just a first down, but the Aggie stands go wild.

Football forgotten as sweetheart Dottie receives her red roses and traditional kiss from Waymond Nutt.

SENIOR PARTY

November 20

Black faces were prominent at the Senior frolic this year. Everything from "Beale Street Papa" to "Ole Man River" was sung at the party. Other entertainment included tap dancing.

"GHOSTS"

A story, written by Henry Gibson, of young tragedy, brought the Alving family much distress and turmoil.

THE STORY OF THE CHRIST CHILD

Climaxing Christmas week, the annual Nativity Pageant was presented through the combined efforts of the music and speech departments. The drama, written by President Emeritus L. H. Hubbard, is a reverent presentation of the simplicity and beauty of religious experiences.

Given every year, it is written in nine scenes, beginning with the prophecy of the birth of Jesus and ending with the wise men bringing gifts to the Christ child. The lead roles this year were played by Carolyn Cawley as Mary and Cortez Morthead as Joseph.

This scene takes place in a street in Nazareth. The people are being told that they must return to Bethlehem to be taxed.

Joseph asks the Innkeeper, portrayed by Carol Lee Jones, for lodging for the night.

The Sky Angel, played by Connie King, tells the three shepherds, Donna Martin, Margaret Owings, and Paula Muller, of the birth of Jesus.

Above is the scene in which King Herod, portrayed by Fredda Scroggins, hears the prophecy of the coming of Christ.

The pageant was inspired by Mexican Yuletide festivals that Dr. Hubbard saw in Juarez during his boyhood. The titles of Renaissance biblical paintings are used in the nine scenes of the pageant.

The last performance was a special showing for the student body. At the auditorium there was singing of Christmas carols and a moment of prayer, then students entered in a body to see one of the most beloved programs of TSCW.

"... and they came with haste and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in the manger."

TEXAS HIGH SCHOOL PRESS ASSOCIATION

High school students register in the Journalism Building for THSPA convention.

Robert Chambers talks to ex-Tessie, Mickie Newbill, and some of her students who are attending the convention.

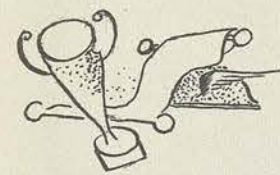

An open house was given in honor of the visiting students by Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism fraternity.

"THIS IS IT"

January 9, 10, 11

Tessie Players went slapstick melodrama for their first all-college production, "This Is It." A Gay Nineties air, complete with curling mustaches, beauty spots and plaid knickers highlighted the two heroine-villan plays, "Curse You, Jack Dalton" and "Fireman, Save My Child." Sandwiched between the plays was a variety show that featured every sort of song and dance talent on the campus. The production was staged jointly by members of the faculty and student body.

CLASS STUNTS

February 23-24

Grins were the order of the day for sophomores after Mr. Emerson made his traditional, unhurried cup presentation. Here, the four co-authors of the sophomore production, left to right, Jody Tomberlin, Marie Jackson, Judy Whitson and Mary Julian each grab a piece of that treasured cup. Pat Hart, sophomore class president, still in her stunt costume, displays a winning smile, too.

"Ye Gods" . . . the sophomores came through in Olympic style to capture the coveted silver cup for Stunts, Production '51. The winning class stunt, "Ye Gods!", was the story of gods and goddesses on Mt. Olympus taking time out for a holiday on earth. It gave the sophomores their first stunt cup since 1948.

The scene at top pictures the gods and goddesses climbing the stairway back to Mt. Olympus after their earthly fling. Mortals cavort in the two pictures on the left. Top, four "tipsy" sailors show Neptune their antics, and at bottom, the Dead End Kids make eyes at Venus.

"Alad 'N His Lamp" was the freshman stunt this year. It told the story of Alad, who found a magic lamp and was granted three wishes by the genie who lived there. In this scene, Alad finds that freedom is the best wish of the three.

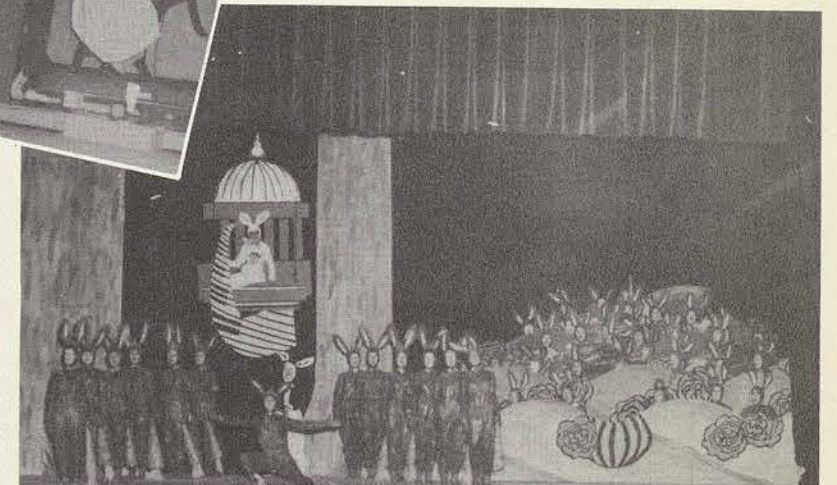

We spy two scenes from the junior stunt, "Wee Spy," the story of three small travelers, Winken, Blinken and Nod, who dreamed that they sailed around the world in a wooden shoe. The bottom picture is taken from a scene that depicts life in gay Paris, complete with a cabaret singer, a wandering violinist and a sidewalk artist. Carolyn Cawley and Connie Cutlip were co-authors of the junior stunt.

Senior class, defending cup-holders, presented "Hare's To Ya!" for their final stunt. It was a satire on the "habits of rabbits" during a typical national emergency. Harry Trubunny surveys the citizens of Briarborough in the top scene, and at bottom, five booted cow-bunnies wonder "How're ya gonna straighten our bow legs, even to be in the bunn-ery?" Senior stunt was written by Boots Cooper, Joan Daniel, Joy French, Maridan Gross, Jeanne Hathaway, Betty Markham, Franchelle Moore, Marilyn Neil, Carole Perkins, Jane Quinby, Frances Sage, and Margaret Stewart.

"What is this I see before me," sings Alad as he lifts the top of the long-closed golden lamp. The freshman stunt was written by Ann Hollis, Dorothy Garner and Barbara Harwell.

TESSIE'S WEEKEND

Like all good Tessies, Senior Jo Ann Hatchett believes in the old adage "All work and no play makes Tess a dull girl." Jo Ann thinks that a week-end with fiancé Jimmy Willows, senior at North Texas, is a fine way to end a five-day siege with the books. Jo Ann and Jimmy have been going together since they were freshmen.

Friday night finds Jo Ann and Jimmy topping off a good movie with malts and 'burgers at the drive-in.

Jo Ann, in her frothy new formal, is ready for the senior dance.

Let's sit this one out . . . for a bit of small talk.

Post script: And they had a wonderful time.

Dinner in Hubbard Hall follows Sunday church for Jo Ann and Jimmy.

Then it's over to Stoddard to plan for the future . . . with help from a few homemaking magazines.

"And someday we'll" . . . the Little Chapel helps make those dreams come true.

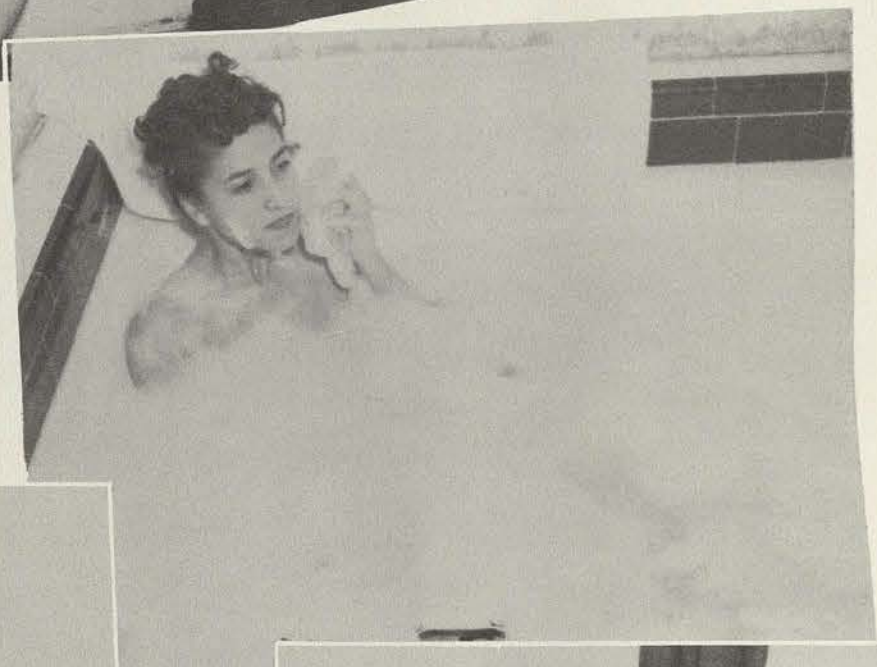

"You're pretty as any picture," Jimmy tells Jo Ann as they stop in the Botanical Gardens.

'ROUND THE DORM

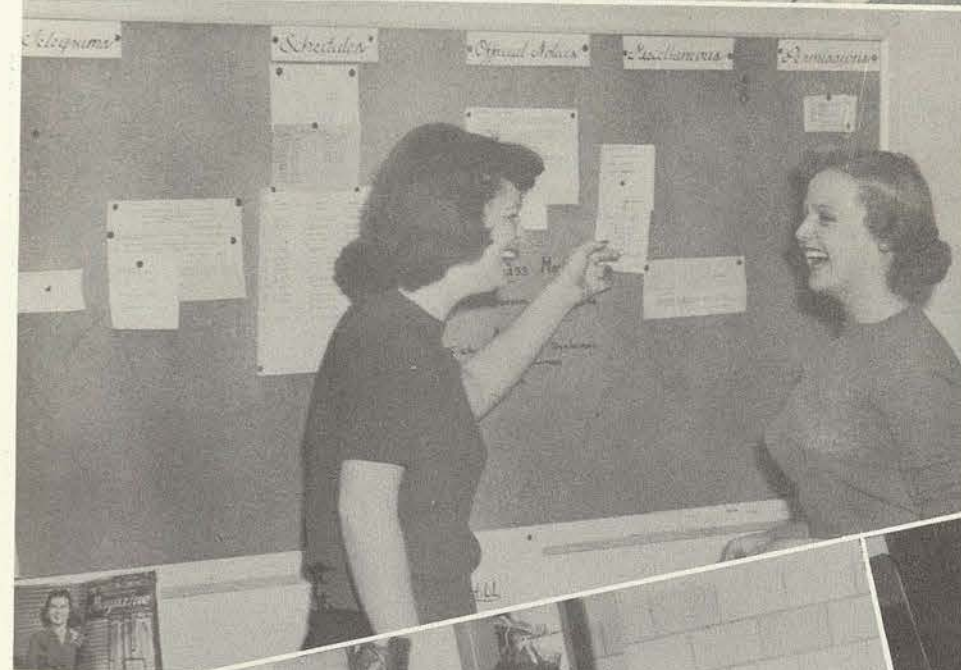

That big smile on Wheetsie Akers' face couldn't mean anything but a long distance call from West Point.

Is this picture posed? Or do you really have time to take a leisurely bubble bath?

'ROUND THE DORM

Four Stoddardites take time out for a Canasta game . . . looks like the deck is frozen!

Maudine Huckaby and Wanda Jackson seem to have found something very funny on the B-board. Could it be a notice from the Dean's office?

. . . then there are those of us who only have time to take a quick shower.

Tessies getting ready for the Redbud Ball.

LONE STARS
POEMS OF IMAGISM

They are Marching* They are marching,
Daring daughters of Denton,
Two abreast, eyes aflash, shoulders back,
Like the men of A and M
Like the Texas Battalion
Who win all our wars—
Grandchildren of the Rangers
Of the martyrs of the Alamo,
Of the old Republic,
Of our largest State.

In faultless step they are marching
Right foot! Left foot! One! Two!
One thousand strong,
The Class of Fifty-one,
Singing a new song,
By their Class Poet,
To a new music,
With echoes of Sibelius,
But the Eastern meadowlark knows
Chords from his hundred songs.
Winged like Samothrace
They herald many victories,
New generations of motherhood,
Chanting their paeans of praise
Girlhood of Texas,
Class of Fifty-one,
They are marching.

*The Central Statue at the entrance to the Administration Building is the Winged Victory of Samothrace.

This poem was dedicated to the class of 1951 by Mr.
Henry Goddard Leach, who lectured on the campus last year.

He He.

A nice green sticker patch.

Girls, it's nearly six!

On the sunny side of the street.

Gee, Aggies.

Party Party.

Hope they're not practicing archery.

Oh boy, a picnic.

Oh, my achin' feet!

The green horn-ettes.

Could it be wash day?

Don't tell me; let me guess!

Nice dorm, anyway.

Studying hard, I see.

Windy, hun?

I'll get a ride on that boat or bust.

"Romeo, Romeo, wherefore art thou, Romeo?"

Bend lower!

Whew! What a ride.

Sailing, sailing.

What form!

I say, ol' girl.

Dining hall view.

Ready, aim, fire.

Barefoot girl.

What is it?

Among my souvenirs.

We'll be right over.

Caged.

We can dream, can't we?

I'll roll my own.

Put your hand lower, Barbara.

I shore is proud to be here.

Look at the birdie.

It must be funny.

The queen and the doorkeepers.

Gee, I like this.

Gorgeous view.

Smiling for the "Birdie."

Which one?

It's Christmastime.

Where did she come from?

Acrobat.

Calf rope!

Smile, Bo.

Row, row, row your boat—

Ih saa, I'm from Meemphiss.

While passing by the zoo—

I use Ipana.

Boy, what a picnic.

The world is rosy.

Double take.

Not cold are you?

Going to class? Chuckle.

Where was the dance?

Around the corner, under a tree—

Quit hidin', we see you.

Spring house cleaning?

How are you going to get down?

Here, you take it.

The toothpaste industry must be booming.

Smile darn ya' smile.

Cold, isn't it?

So long it's been—

Gig 'em Aggies.

What is it with you?

Stop, I'm trying to pose.

Make yourself comfortable, Carrie.

Easter parade.

Mirror, mirror on the wall—

Ah, just smell those flowers.

Don't drop me!

Don't just sit there, Von.

What are you doing?

Ward three, that is.

As one president to another.

We're from Tennessee.

A short sing between classes.

Don't get excited, it's Colorado.

More studies.

Run for the hills, men.

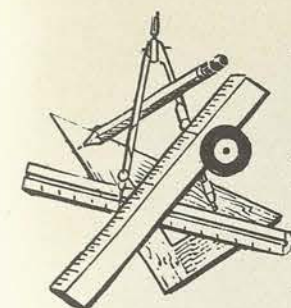

Boots!

Won't that bus ever come?

Who's the dummy?

The Baedalian Annual
TEXAS STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN
Denton, Texas

Betty Jo Benchoff, Business Manager

This is it---the last page of the book. It doesn't seem possible that a year could have passed so quickly, in fact, four years for quite a few of us.

A lot of people are responsible for these 320 pages. In behalf of B. J., Liz and myself, I give a million thanks to Dr. Mac and Millie, who took the pictures (sometimes over and over); to the class editors, I say you were wonderful; to the special editors, I say we couldn't have done without you. I want to express my sincerest appreciation to each of these girls for learning right along with me---there couldn't have been a "greener" annual editor.

Also at the top of our "thank you list" are Mr. Eisenlohr, of the Dorsey Company, who could always solve our problems, and Mr. Sterling, of the American Beauty Cover Company, who did such a fine job of matching the red on the cover with the fingernail polish I was wearing the day we went to choose the cover colors.

The memories each of us has stored away during this year will always be with us. Putting the annual together was a lot of hard work, but there were twice as many laughs. Every minute of it has been fun and I speak for the entire staff.

So, to Thelma Balcar, your 1952 editor, and her staff, we say good luck. There's no better work or fun anywhere---and we mean it.

In behalf of the 1951 staff,

Pat Boso

To ISCW we pledge our hearts forever to be true...
