EXTENSION SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT, 1926-1927

PURPOSE OF EXTENSION SERVICE

The Extension Service of the College of Industrial Arts is based on the belief that a State-supported college should, as far as is possible, serve all the people of the State. Those who are privileged to attend the classroom and laboratory work of the College constitute only a relatively small proportion of the citizens who have a just claim on the direct services of the institution. Furthermore, the resident students themselves are benefited through extension service, because the close relationship established between the College and the home, creates and fosters a sympathetic cooperative understanding of their common problems and needs, and, therefore, results in an increased efficiency on the part of the College in giving both to its resident students and to the citizens at large, the educational service most needed. The purpose, then, of the Extension Service is to disseminate in non-technical form the practical and assimilable information which it has been able to assemble through the research and investigation of its faculty of experts and specialists. It should be added that the Department of Extension does not limit its service to the so-called practical, but believing that the beautiful and the inspirational are also useful and practical, it includes in its service the less tangible but surely no less powerful spiritual and cultural phases of education as offered in its courses in music, fine arts, and the liberal arts.

SCOPE AND WORK OF THE COLLEGE

The College of Industrial Arts is a standard college of the first class giving four-year courses leading to the degrees of bachelor of arts and bachelor of science. The courses of study meet all the requirements of the standard liberal arts colleges and universities, and at the same time they include technical and industrial training which prepares for remunerative vocations and for the more practical phases of life. That is, in addition to the usual college courses in English, History, Mathematics, Science, Languages, and the related literary subjects, the College has equally standardized courses in Household Arts; in Fine and Applied Art; in Rural Arts, in Piano, Voice, Violin, and Orchestral Instruments; in Expression; in Public School Music; in teacher-training in Kindergarten; in Vocational Home Economics; and in a number of purely vocational subjects such as stenography, photography, telegraphy, linotyping and others. In connection with all courses every student is given the expert service of the Vocational Counselor and of Faculty Advisers.

KINDS OF EXTENSION SERVICE OFFERED

The kinds of service offered by the Department have been planned and developed in response to the requests that have come from the people of the State, consistent attempt having been made at all times to adapt the form of the service to meet the requirements of those asking it. The staff of the Extension Service is composed of lecturers, artists, and demonstrators, who are members of the regular instructional force of the College faculty. The following are the different kinds of service rendered:

- (1) Compiling, publishing, and distributing bulletins on subjects of special interest to the home and the community.
- (2) Lectures on social, practical, educational and literary subjects from the various departments of the College.
- (3) Lectures and demonstrations of important home-making activities given by trained and experienced experts from the Departments of Home Economics and and of Rural Arts.
- (4) Music recitals, dramatic expression recitals, and illustrated lectures from the Department of Music, the Department of Speech, and the Department of Fine and Applied Art.
- (5) Services of judges for debates and oratorical contests and for contests in Home Economics, Fine and Applied Art, Rural Arts, and for such other contests as are usually held at community, county, and State fairs.

WOMEN'S CLUBS, PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATIONS, AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

Supplementary to these more formal types of service, the Department of Extension gives co-operative assistance to clubs, civic improvement leagues and other organizations which have community welfare as their objective. The women's clubs of the State receive assistance in the form of year books, outlines of study, bibliographies, and, in a number of instances, material from which to prepare lectures and club papers. The Department also acts as a clearing house for assembling and distributing valuable information and suggestions in response to individual inquiries on concrete problems, and collects data and answers questionnaires in the promotion of educational matters.

BULLETINS

The bulletins issued by the Department of Extension are written by members of the regular college faculty, each author being a recognized expert in his or her chosen field. The subject matter constituting the bulletin has, in every case, a vital bearing on home and community life as is indicated by the titles listed below. The bulletins are distributed free of charge upon individual request for single copies. However, if more than one copy of the same bulletin is desired by any one person, or if the bulletins are to be used by members of a class or club a charge is made of twelve cents (12c) a copy. This pays for the actual cost of the publication. It has been found necessary to make this charge because the demand for the bulletins has far outgrown the ability of the service to finance their unrestricted free distribution. It is suggested that when the bulletins are desired by a class or club. some one member of the organization make the order for the whole number of bulletins required, and that the money be sent in the form of a money order payable to the order of the College of Industrial Arts, rather than in postage stamps.

Communities wishing to arrange for demonstrators, lecturers, or musicians should allow ample time for correspondence concerning the kind of program desired; however, such programs can be arranged for within a week's notice, if necessary.

The Department of Extension wishes to emphasize its willingness to serve the State in every way possible, and cordially invites inquiry for any additional information not contained in this announcement.
