FIFTY FOUR DAEDALIAN

Forward

Last year TSCW celebrated its Golden Anniversary and 50 years of progress. With half a century behind, a new era has opened up. As the school built in the beginning toward the goal of becoming a great college, it now builds toward the goal of becoming a great university for women. It picks up speed as its wheels turn, slowly at first but before long going at top speed.

As it is with the college, so it is for each class and each individual always going forward just a little faster and making just a little more progress. As our theme this year, we, too, choose to go forward . . . with the wheels of progress.

So come along with us . . . and we hope you enjoy the ride!

Four years ago an unusual freshman arrived on the campus. This freshman with strength, vision, foresight, and a determination to build a great university for women rolled up his sleeves and went to work. Under his capable leadership TSCW has begun a climb that can only end at the top of the ladder. To this "freshman," a senior now, we dedicate the DAEDALIAN '54.

TEXAS STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN • DENTON, TEXAS

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

18 December 1953

To the Class of 1954:

The loyalties characteristic of all associations at the Texas State College for Women are admirably typified by the spirit of unity with which you have emerged from the memorable experiences of your undergraduate life at our beloved institution. My salute to you as a graduating class is tinged with special affection because you and I began our careers at TSCW simultaneously in the fall of 1950.

In retrospect I see in many significant institutional advances during the past four years abundant evidence of your own contribution to the greatness of your alma mater. For myself no less than for the faculty and staffs of the College I want to thank you for understanding, for very real help, for inspiration. TSCW will depend upon continued support and undiminished loyalties from the Class of 1954.

Sincerely yours,

John A. Guinn

STUDENT UNION BUILDING

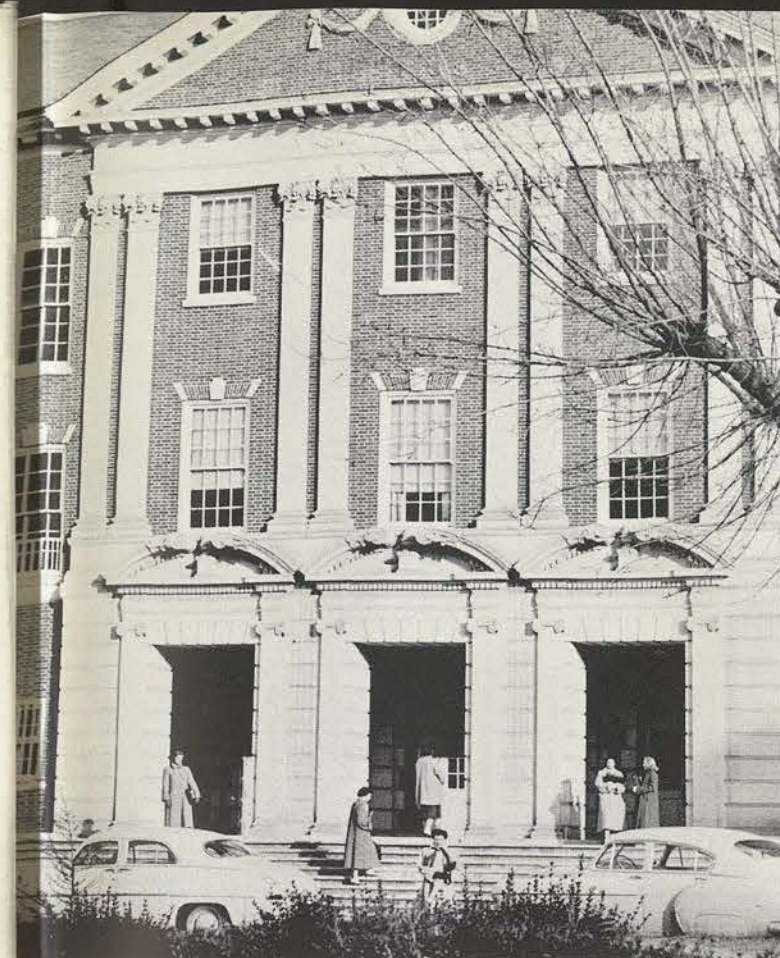

New and old . . . the new College of Household Arts and Sciences and the old Home Economics Building, which now houses Occupational Therapy and research projects.

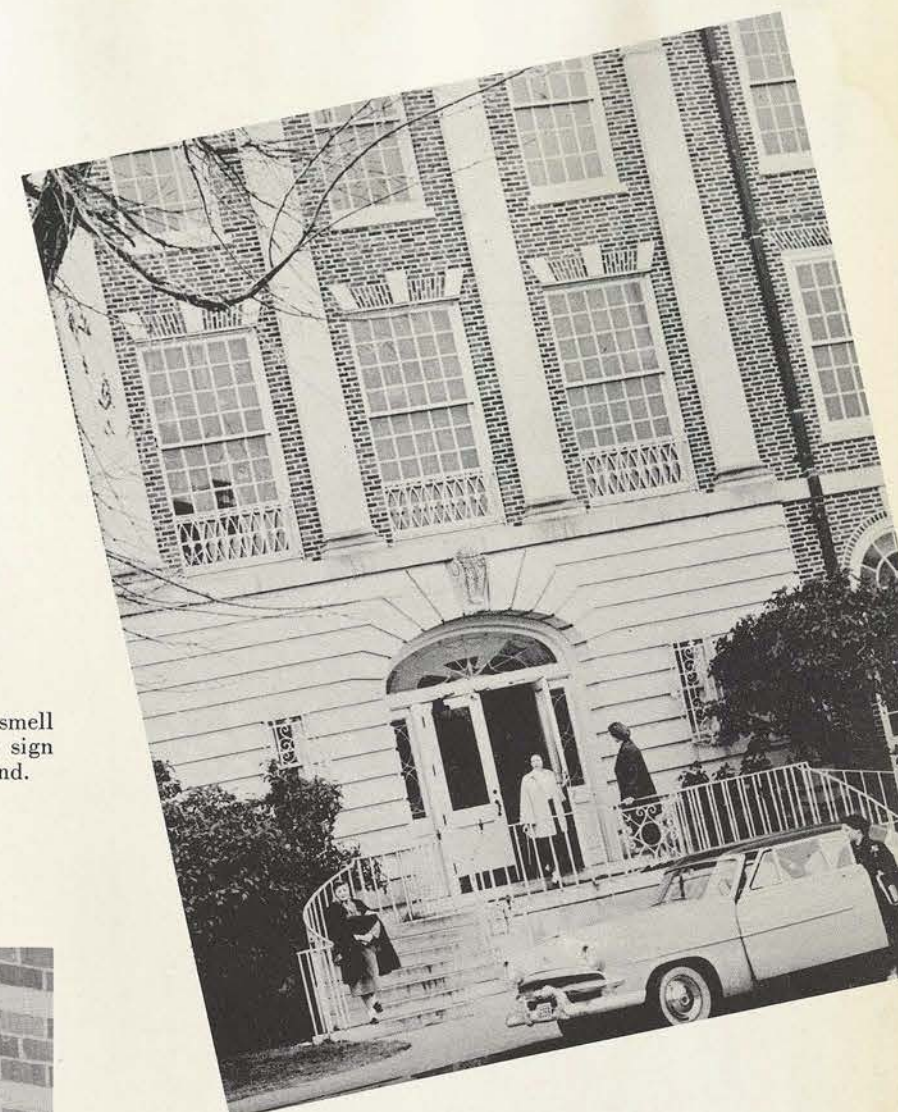

Always the odor of chemicals and formaldehyde . . . it lets you know you're near the Science Building.

Look out for flying balls . . . the old Gymnasium has seen many a flying ball, birdie, and foot.

Martial music, symphony or chorus, you can hear rehearsals in the Music-Speech Building for blocks away. The Main Auditorium houses assemblies, C and Ds and Stunts.

Drawing boards and the smell of oil paint are a sure sign you're Art Building bound.

Home of the Daily Lass-O, Daedalian Annual and the hard working "J" majors is the Journalism Building.

Alumnae Association

Formed this year from the Ex-Students Association the Alumnae Association works with the foundation to build a better TSCW through her former students.

The Alumnae Center . . . meeting place, rooming house and headquarters.

A group of Alumnae officers and past officers gather to discuss homecoming and the Foundation. They are: Mrs. George Preston, Mrs. Vivian McCracken, Secretary; Mrs. T. G. MaGee, Mrs. Code Edwards, Past President; Mrs. Ben Barden, New President; Mrs. L. G. Russell, Treasurer; Mrs. Ben Boyd, Retiring President.

Mrs. Boyd and Mrs. Barden add another red pin to mark a new chapter for the Association.

PROGRESS . . . in Home Economics

The first step in TSCW's stride toward becoming a university was taken when the home economics department became the College of Household Arts and Sciences, and an important nationwide center of research. The work done here in nutrition and textile research has received worldwide publicity. TSCW's first Ph.D. degrees were granted in the College of Household Arts and Sciences only last year.

Degrees are offered in every phase of the home economics field and students receive their training in one of the most modern plants in the country with the most modern of equipment.

PROGRESS . . . in Nursing

Newest of TSCW's outstanding programs is the addition of the School of Nursing. The program combines the finest of faculties with the finest of physical resources. After spending eleven months on the campus of TSCW the nursing student moves to the new $11,000,000 plant of the Parkland Memorial hospital. The proximity of the hospital to the campus allows full student participation in all college activities as well as thorough training in the field.

In her senior year the student returns to the campus to join her class in graduation and receive her Bachelor of Science degree. In less than four years she meets all requirements for her baccalaureate degree and for her professional program and is ready to take the State Board examination for a registered nurse's license.

PROGRESS . . . in Art

At TSCW the word "art" may cover any of the nine major fields, such as Advertising Design, Art Education, Ceramics, Costume Design and Fashion Illustration, History of Art, Interior Design, Jewelry and Metal-work, Painting and Sculpture. Fifty art classes a week, besides the above, meet for elective subjects including crafts, photography, etching and lithography, mechanical drawing, illustration, woodwork and plastics, drawing, painting and design.

PROGRESS . . . in Biology

Today's women are right at home in the biological sciences. Training at TSCW in medical technology is so thorough that graduates need only nine to twelve months of internship to qualify for examinations and become registered technologists. Laboratory techniques are taught through practical experience in Bacteriology and Introduction to Medical Technology, Botany, Pre-medicine and Zoology.

PROGRESS . . . in Business and Economics

Realizing that today's employers demand more than a knowledge of typing and shorthand skills, TSCW's business department offers technical training for every type of business machine as well as the standard typewriter. On the job training in Merchandising is a leading reason why our graduates are constantly in demand. Here, too, character and social graces are stressed as an essential for rising young business women.

PROGRESS . . . in Chemistry

With chemistry and physics becoming more important each year, TSCW is prepared to train much needed chemists to such an extent that many large Texas industries prefer to hire their women chemists from our graduates. Openings as college teachers, workers for government laboratories, chemical and petroleum companies are available to TSCW graduates. Research grants for graduate study toward a doctorate have been received by many.

PROGRESS . . . in Education

On the campus of TSCW students "learn by doing" as they student teach in the TSCW demonstration and nursery schools. Degrees are offered in Kindergarten, Intermediate-grammar grade, Secondary Education, Counseling and Guidance, Supervision and General Education.

PROGRESS . . . in English

In the past a major in English led only to the classroom. Today's English major may train for a career in business, journalism, radio, sociology, library science as well as teaching. A newly organized professional program trains graduate students for teaching at a college or university on fellowship while working for a Ph.D. degree. In other fields TSCW English majors are working in such remote places as London for the government and Brazil as missionaries. Practical training for budding authors may be found in the English publications, "The Freshman Writer" and "The Daedalian Quarterly."

PROGRESS . . . in Foreign Languages

Today's Tessie lives in an international world. Any country on earth is only a matter of hours distance, and language has become more essential than ever. Tape recorders, wire recorders, collections, a large record library and visual aid equipment give students a chance to learn a language the modern way. Conversation classes meeting with foreign student teachers bring an understanding as well as the opportunity to practice languages.

PROGRESS . . . in Health, Physical Education and Recreation

The first college in Texas to offer a degree in physical education and one of the first in the South to offer a degree in recreation. Pioneer in the field of dance education, TSCW has been recognized both nationally and internationally. Students get practical experience on unlimited playing fields. They also learn to coach and officiate, and to plan meets, carnivals, playdays, sports events, and banquets.

PROGRESS . . . in History and Government

With both history and government changing fast and furiously there is a real demand for government workers, leaders and teachers with backgrounds in these subjects. At TSCW a student learns to better understand the institutions, human relationships and problems of this changing world.

PROGRESS . . . in Journalism

One of the outstanding schools of journalism in the country, TSCW offers practical experience which rivals the largest of universities. Students handle all news gathering, advertising, make-up, photography and editing for the Daily Lass-O, only women's college daily in the world. A United Press wire machine supplies world news. A Ludlow headsetter, and Fairchild Scan-O-Graver, one of the first installed in Texas are used for training students. From copy room to print shop the students handle their paper, even to putting the type in the chase. A complete photography lab, copy-reading and news rooms make the "JB" as much like an actual newspaper office as possible.

PROGRESS . . . in Library Science

The library has widened from the single institution of yesterday to the multiple field of today. Librarians are needed in business, art, music and science libraries as well as other specialized fields. They are also in demand for children's, college and high school libraries.

PROGRESS . . . in Mathematics

Never before has the demand for graduates with a degree in Math been as great as it is today. Women are being hired daily by large industries such as aircraft manufacturers and oil and geo-physical companies to handle industrial mathematics.

PROGRESS . . . in Music

Latest addition to the TSCW music department is a course of study in a limited new field, Music Therapy. Students gain experience from numerous college musical groups such as band, orchestra, dance band and Chorus. In any phase of music stress is placed on a balanced program of general education, music study and professional education.

PROGRESS . . . in Occupational Therapy

One of the first schools in the Southwest to offer a degree in Occupational Therapy, TSCW continues to offer thorough training to the OT student. Clinical work and medical lectures at the medical centers of Dallas and post-graduate clinical training prepares graduates for the national registration examination. Pediatrics, psychiatry, tuberculosis, general medical and surgical conditions and physical injuries are the fields open to the OT for specialized work. Intensive training in crafts of every type prepare the student for capably treating her patient.

PROGRESS . . . in Sociology

As the first college in the Southwest to offer a degree in professional social work and a degree in church services, TSCW has earned an outstanding reputation. Sequences offered to the major are Pre-professional Social Work, Church Services, Industrial Relations, Public Relations, Teaching and Counseling, and Marriage and Family Living.

PROGRESS . . . in Speech

To meet the growing need for workers in the growing field of speech, TSCW offers a major in speech therapy. Today speech therapists from TSCW are aiding those with handicaps such as stuttering, cerebral palsy, cleft palate and articulatory disorders. To meet another growing need, this year the department added a course in television. In actual professional surroundings at KRLD-TV students write, produce and direct TV shows which are seen by thousands of viewers each week.

Running Smooth...

"Shall we have coffee or tea?" says junior president Ludy Simmons.

"Let's have both, say officers Rebecca Adams, secretary; Nancy Garner, vice president and Jill Malone, treasurer, as they plan for the breakfast honoring the senior class.

Wheeling Along...

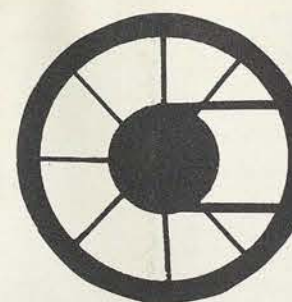

"It takes paste to make a good poster," says Sue Boyd, sophomore president.

Lots of publicity for Harvest Moon, say these officers, as they slave over construction paper, paint and paste. They are Joe Dean Downing, treasurer; Susan Brasher, vice president; Laura Beard, secretary.

Ah . . . The Life of a Senior Or . . . Alumnae Association Here We Come!

Early in October our Senior rings came and Mr. Douglass was mobbed . . . NOW we feel like Seniors!

All of a sudden nine months are gone and there we are . . . clothed in cap and gown, gazing across the flagbearers to the likewise clothed administrative officials.

And it's all over but the shouting . . . and just hear us shout! Big wide world . . . make way for the class of '54, we're here to stay!

Round and Round We Go...

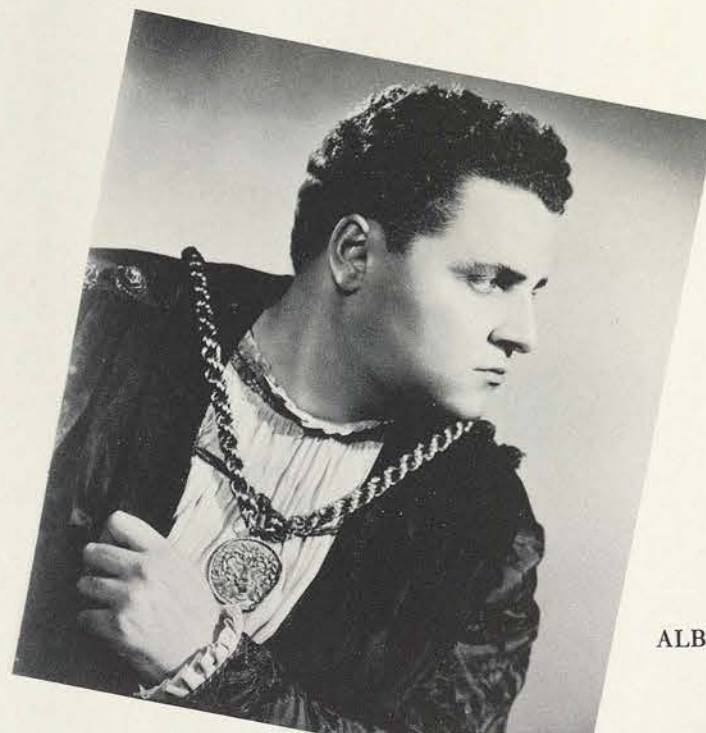

SIDNEY FOSTER

Concert and Drama Series

The personable young pianist who made a decided hit with the TSCW audience in the 1951-52 season has since achieved added national acclaim as an artist. Sidney Foster returned to open the 1953-54 concert and drama series.

ALBERT DACOSTA

RINA TELLI

Charles L. Wagner's opera company returned this year to present Verdi's melody masterpiece, "Il Trovatore." In 1951 the company presented "La Traviata."

CHARLES WAGNER

Miss Telli and students pause for tea at the reception following the opera.

Virginia Sales' sketches of "Americana" brought the house down and blended an excellent variety of selections and vivid character portrayals as well as campus personalities.

Gloria Bendy and Jo Rutledge share a smile with a fellow Zeta.

BERNARD IZZO

ELIZABETH HUMPHREY

Tessies gather around for a chat after the performance.

Elizabeth Humphrey, soprano, and Bernard Izzo, baritone, together in "Operetta Time" sang the best music of the theater the way everyone likes to hear it . . . and seldom does.

SINDA IBERIA

Mistress of a new field of comedy, the concert stage, Miss Russell left even John Rosenfield in stitches with her presentation of classical music in a ludicrous satire. She and her accompanist prove their humor is not restricted to "onstage" as they entertain students after the show.

ANNA RUSSELL

STEPHAN HERO

Stephan Hero, a former child prodigy, has been acclaimed as "one of the great violinists." Here he talks with students following his concert.

SINGING STARS

One of the most popular of the tour groups on campus is the Stars. Single performances to week's tour, it's all in the game.

Front row: Lynne Hendricks, Dorothy Heaton, Mary Bob Johnson, Mary Genelle Kubala, Ann Hartung.

TIME

Now and the Past

Just before curtain time "Sis," Mari Ola and Joan run through their entrances.

An aging mother, with memories of her southern childhood, and her restless son attempt to bridge the gap between them.

The speech department made giant steps in progress with their speech clinic for children and "Seminar 12:00," a top notch TV show produced weekly over KRLD . . . "We Learn to Do by Doing."

A speech therapy student coaches one of her little charges . . .

KRLD's Mr. Ed Halleck, Pat Brown, Ione Weisberg and Mr. Black pose in front of those impressive looking cameras just before time to start the show.

Cameraman watches as last minute details are whipped into shape.

WCST

Station manager Gloria Bendy handles the "board" with the greatest of ease.

Emily Mae Stafford, continuity, and Jo Proctor, program director, check the day's log.

Susanna Garland, chief control operator, and Martha Jane Morehead, chief announcer go over a news bulletin just before air time.

Barbara Hinckley, record librarian, and Marion Bennett, publicity, "pull" a record for a show.

Annie Simmons gets an engraving ready on the Fairchild.

Beverly Drawe, Ione Weisburg, and Liz Fisher plan their page make-up at the copy desk.

The Daily Lass-o

Entered as second-class matter October 17, 1946, at the post office at Denton, Texas, under the Act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

Published every afternoon except Saturday and Sunday, September to June, and except holidays and examination periods, and once weekly during the summer session under the title "The Summer Lass-O," in the Journalism Building at Texas State College for Women, TSCW Station, Denton, Texas. Margaret Nobles and Roxy Ward check a local story and pull some national news off the wire.

The press is ready to roll so June Hazlip gets ready to "let 'er go."

Fitting type into the chase is old stuff to Ann Minick.

Cecilia Garcia plans her editorial for the day. This year's Lass-O once again became a full-fledged daily when it began publishing on Monday as well as Tuesday through Friday.

Business manager Carol Koenig keeps the Lass-O on a self-supporting basis by careful managing of bills and ads.

Section editors Pat Conley, Church; Joyce Connaway, Society; Gail Petersen, Clubs; and Betty Brown, Special Features, discuss the week's work.

Roxy Ward, photographer, gets her camera out for another session of picture making.

Hard working art editor Pat Bryan slaves over layouts.

Section editors Emily Mae Stafford, Activities; Maggie Nobles, Clubs; Betty Brown, Activities; and Liz Fisher, Clubs; check through the picture files.

Joyce Connaway, Faculty editor and Gail Petersen and Marion Bennett, Features, trim pictures and plan their layout.

That big smile means that Business Manager Beverly Drawe has landed another account for the Ad section.

Class editors Norma Smith Sophomore; Jane Odom, Freshman; June Mints, Sophomore; and Nora West, Freshman, confer on layout plans for class pictures.

Bobbie Jean Jasper, editor-in-chief gets ready to start to work.

Leslie Hopper, art editor, is kept busy designing the cover and doing inside art work.

Ann Peterman, literary editor, checks over copy.

Frank Rigler, Director of Journalism, checks the files for a news release.

The News Bureau Publicity center for the campus

Nora West and Jane Odom, news bureau assistants, check pictures to be sent out with publicity releases.

Virginia Mullins and Julia Sauer type up copy for the releases.

A familiar face. H. H. Blagg, print shop director, makes a final check of weekly expenses.

Herbert Church, linotypist, makes a last minute correction for Daily Lass-O Editor Cecilia Garcia.

"Get in there . . ."

Hockey Club members go after a ball during practice. It's not only lots of fun, they also broil those legendary "Hockey steaks" at the end of the "TU-A&M" game.

"And it's over . . ."

Volleyball tournaments are hard and fast and competition is keen, especially when it's Juniors versus Seniors as here.

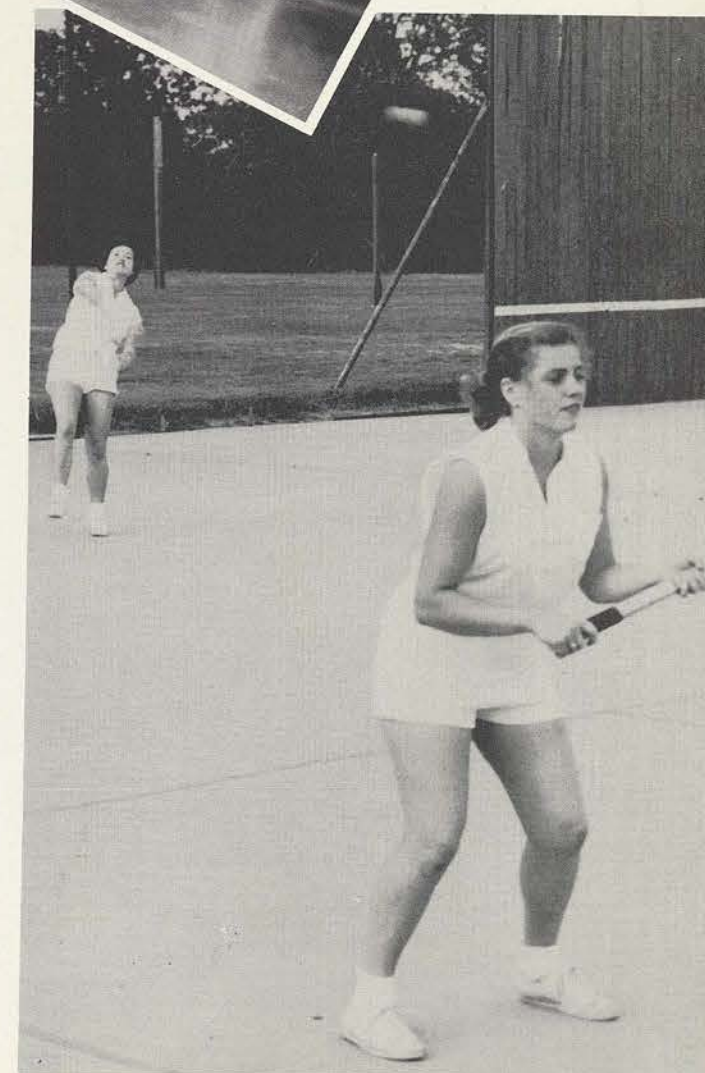

"Stretch . . ."

Sinking that basket may mean the game as members of the Basketball Club play fast and furiously. Club play means added practice for inter-dorm WRA tournaments.

"Ready? Serve . . ."

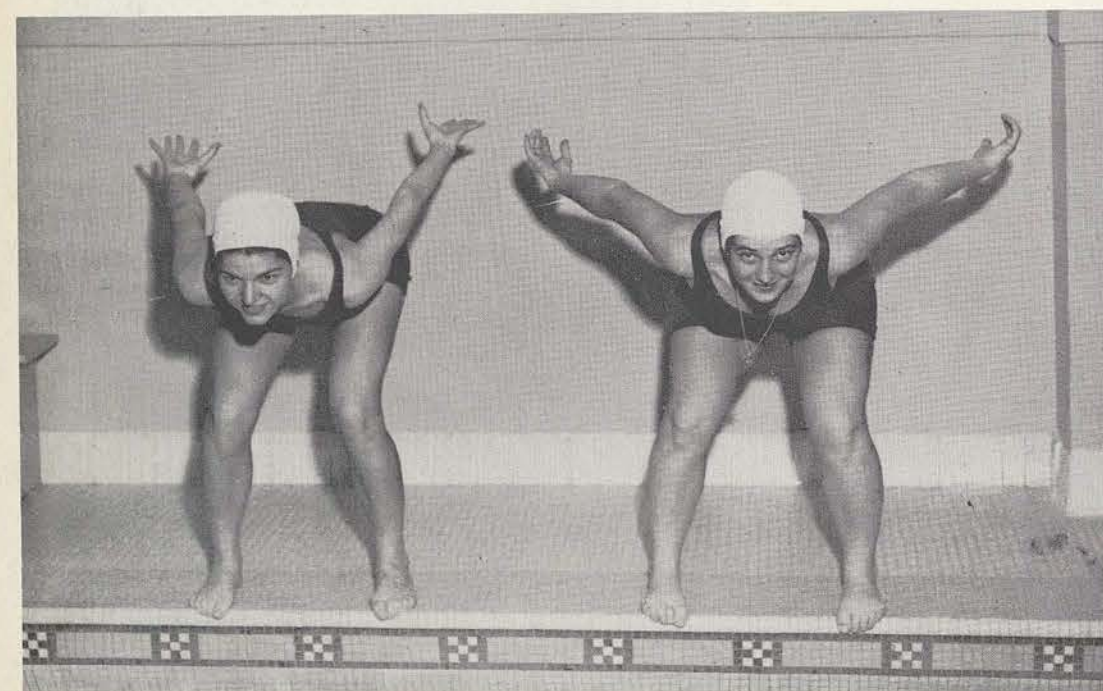

Mary Guinn waits at the net as her partner slams a hard one over. Smashers and forehanders, experts or beginners, they all have a crack at the WRA Tennis cup.

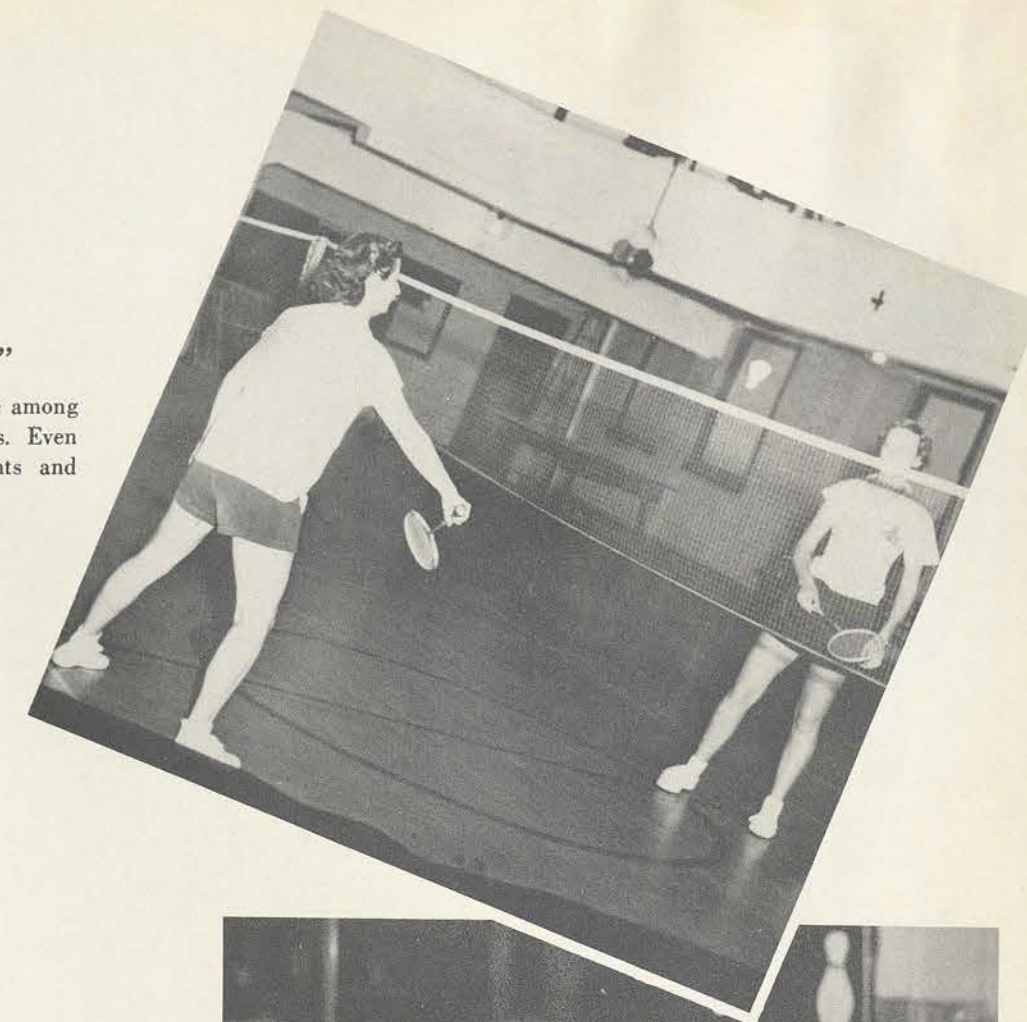

"It goes like this . . ."

Mary explains a formation to Marianna as the Aquatics Club prepares for its annual Spring tour and home show.

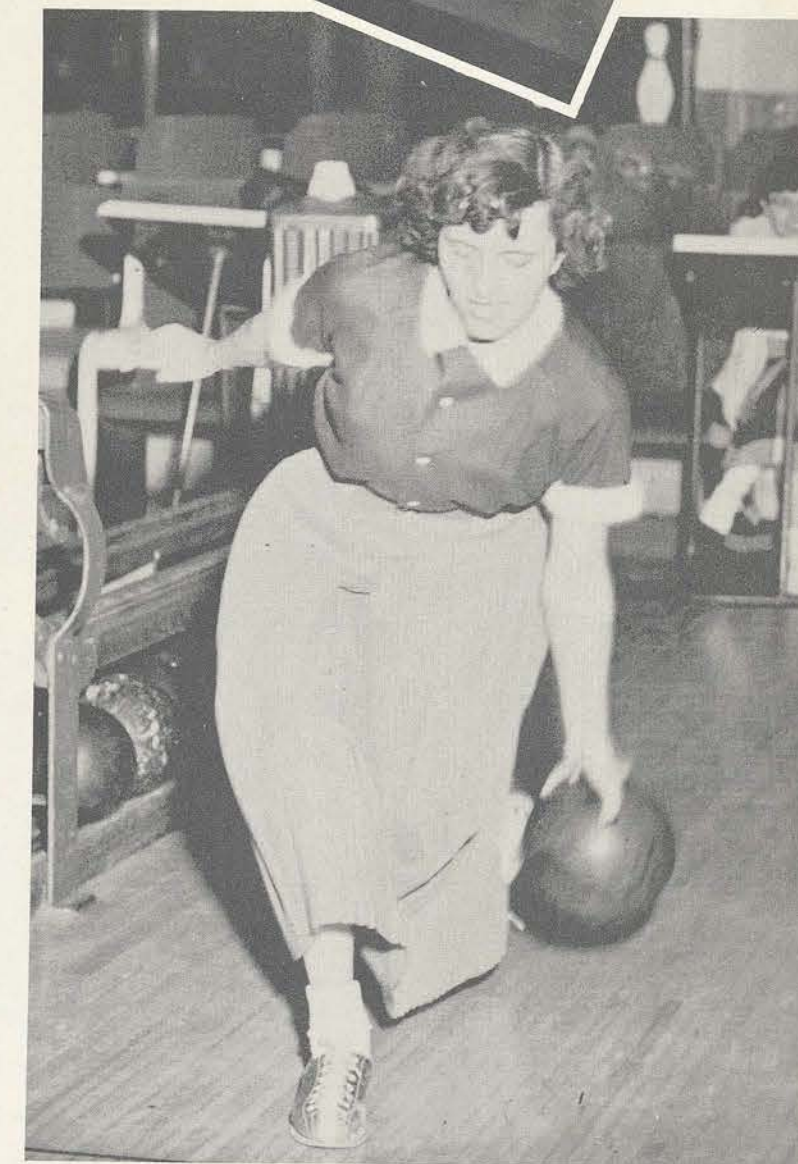

"Swimmers to your marks . . ."

Competitive swimming is a sidelight for Aquatics members but still they bring home the ribbons and medals. This year they competed against Louisiana and entered Southwestern AAU in Dallas.

"And the Birdies fly . . ."

Spring badminton tournaments are among the most popular WRA activities. Even absolute beginners play for points and have lots of fun.

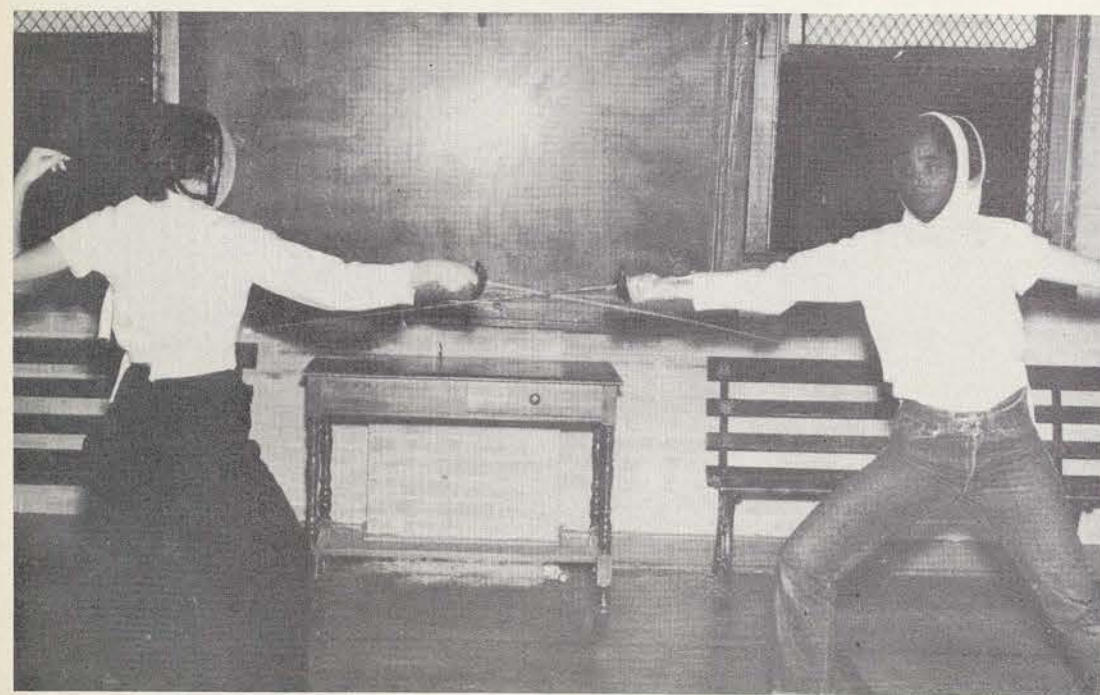

"A spare, at least . . ."

Good form makes for a good score as a team member sets her dorm up in the "first alley." Competition is keen with some dorms entering as many as three teams.

"One and two and three..."

One of the most popular tour groups on the campus, the Caperettes, practices for a coming performance.

"Touche..."

It requires timing, co-ordination and concentration to become a top fencer. The TSCW team has carried off honors all along the line. Tournaments as well as constant practice keep them busy.

"Round and round..."

Folk Dance Club members practice a dance for the Christmas dance program. Dances from foreign lands are a specialty and lots of fun.

"Fore..."

A Golf Club member practices up on the first tee. The club sponsors tournaments that match students and faculty members as well as competing against other colleges and universities.

"Heavy... I guess..."

Allie struggles with a full thermos as Loyal packs in a heavy sweater. Corky fights the bedroll and they're off to Texoma! The Outing Club plans several weekend trips a semester and "roughin' it" is the order of the day.

"Bullseye..."

Rifle Club members practice up in the basement of Houston. Among other things they hold an annual competition with A&M and often come out on top! Mail tournaments are part of their activities, too.

The nationally known Modern Dance Club is one of the hardest working and most popular performance groups on campus.

Freshmen "J" majors explore the Journalism Building.

SEPTEMBER . . .

when . . .

The biggest Freshman Class in several years registered and "Could you tell me where?" became the Question of the Month . . . Upper-classmen relived previous years in story and song while freshmen and transfers got their first glimpse of the friendly spirit that is TSCW . . . Orientation included the inevitable tours through campus buildings . . . Pat Pryor, Danforth graduate, led All-College Sing.

Aunt Pogette pokes tradition at Pogette.

"Listen my children and you shall hear . . ."

Roz and Susie portray green frosh.

Borrowing from Walt Kelley, All-College night shows Pogette and Okefe Tessieland peopled with "faculty critters and sich" . . . Aunt Pogette smiled, "but not with her purty brown eyes" . . . Twelve new faculty members were added . . . new personality course aims at creating poised, well-rounded freshmen . . . the Student Finance Council Rummage sale came around and everyone came away with something.

Flossie gets the bird and SFC nets $100 at Rummage sale.

Hit her again! Hit her again!
Harder! Harder!

And Loyal and Connie are kids again . . .

OCTOBER . . .

when . . .

Frosh Frolicked . . . Juniors Hayrode . . . and Sophs Harvest Mooned.

Three on a joke as the Juniors play Hayride.

Nothing fishy about their Stunt predictions.

Say "Cheese" Mrs. Denman . . . Senior class and house president and freshman class president at the Stoddard open house for Freshmen.

A prediction of things to come? A Mambo yet!

Sophs unveiled new class hymn at Harvest Moon . . . Dorms elected house officers . . . Lass-O rated one of top 17 college newspapers . . . College received $25,000 grant for human nutrition lab.

"Redbud is our flower, '56 our year . . ." sing the Sophs as they serenade their sister class, the seniors.

"Would you run through that again?" Puzzled Seniors register for placement.

Minick entertains freshman "J" majors.

"Care to dance, huh?—"

In October, clubs settled down to having open house for freshmen . . . Aggies invaded campus to choose Jane McBrierty 1954 Sweetheart . . . The Texas State Fair set aside a special day for TSCW . . . Halloween jack 'o lanterns leered from the most unexpected spots . . . and we ate a special Halloween dinner in Hubbard Hall.

"Take off the spurs; that's all that we ask you to do—"

Aggies, Aggies, everywhere . . . they swarmed over the campus to get dates for the annual Corps Trip . . . Classes were dismissed for Saturday's game.

And they can march, too.

Meet me at the Texas.

It was a lovely day when the Aggies romped over TSCW, the Fort Worth highway, Texas Hotel, Fort Worth, Carter Field and TCU's Horned Frogs, 20-7.

Crossing her palm with silver, Flossie?

"Put your right shoe in, put your right shoe out . . ."

It's hydromatic sailing for Delian pirates.

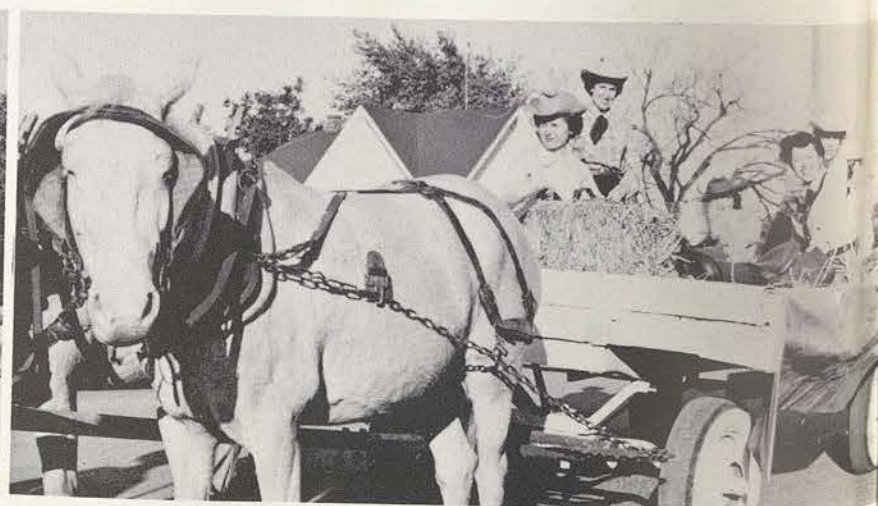

Juniors show how intellectual they can look.

Originality pays off as local students win the float contest.

Philos display Ipana smiles.

That's ok, horsie. Ann isn't so happy either.

But, Dean Hufford, we're making money—for the college!

... And gold rushed into the TSCW Foundation coffers ... Tennessee Williams' play, "The Glass Menagerie" was presented by the Rehearsal and Performance Class ... Pushpa Broker, native of Bombay, married her Indian sweetheart at A&M ... Parkland Hospital joined TSCW in nursing venture ... Thanksgiving holidays began.

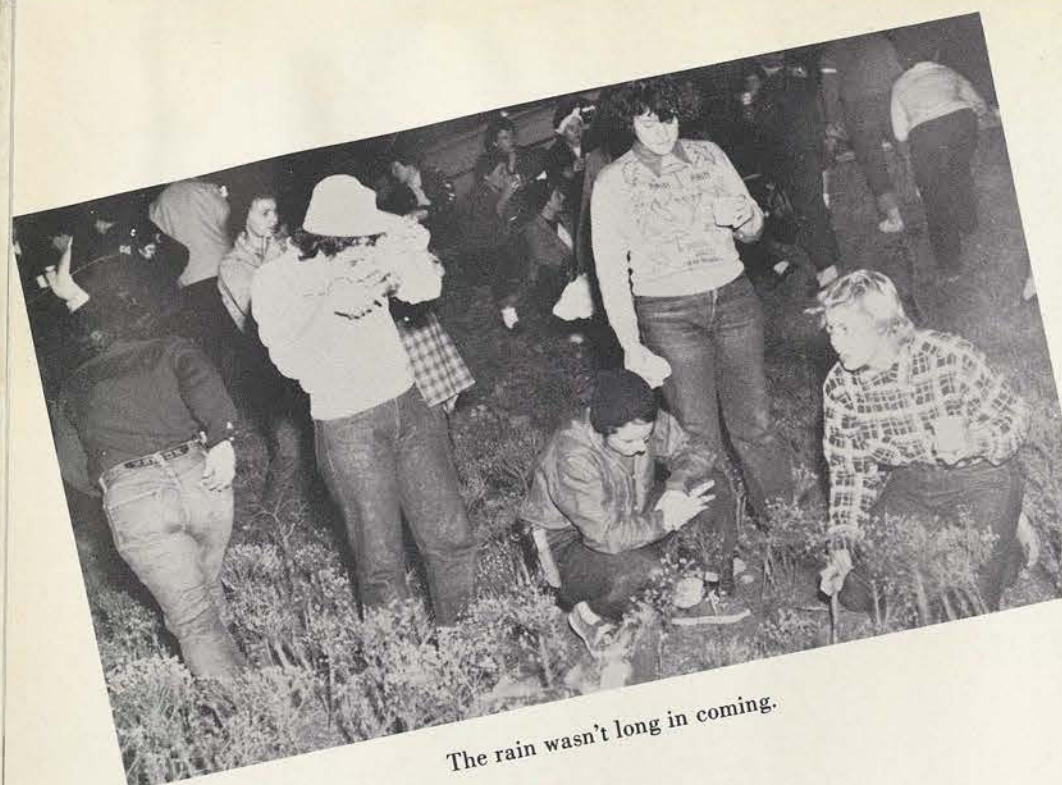

Cigarettes and women and wild, wild pennies.

Y'all Come!

His eyes light up and his hand waves howdy.

The rain wasn't long in coming.

They caught that possum, too.

DECEMBER . . .

when . . .

It began to get cooler . . . Everyone made Christmas plans . . . The campus discovered the Pickette sisters . . . Betty Coffee joined the Dean of Women's staff . . . Freshmen presented a talent assembly.

"How could you believe me?"

The biggest THSPA meet in history—600 high school journalists registered.

Every dorm had a punch line.

Christmas trees and candles crowded books off the desk.

Dorms flung open wreathed doors at annual open houses . . . The traditional Nativity Pageant was presented . . . Everyone sang carols . . . "Oh, Come All Ye Faithful" became the teachers' theme song . . . Every club on the campus threw some sort of Christmas party . . . Christmas vacation started.

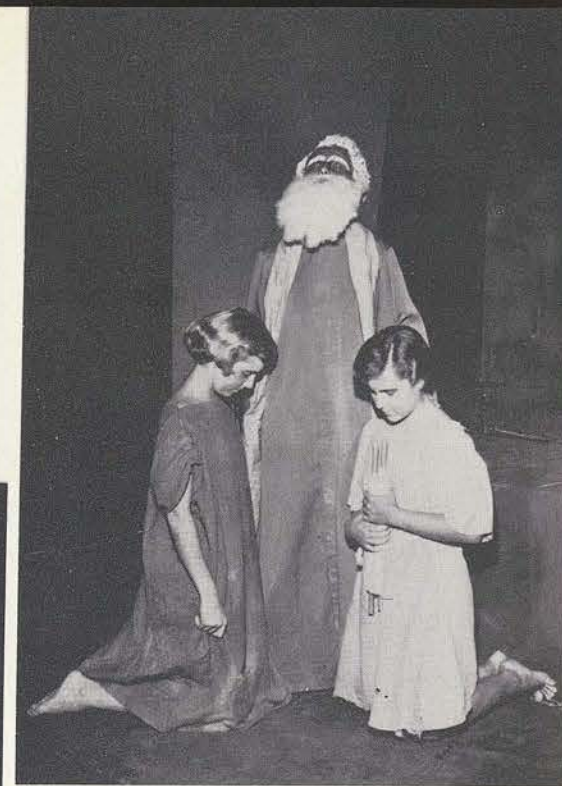

Joyful and triumphant?

Fill that punch cup, pass that plate.

"... And his mercy endureth forever."

"He likened me unto this lily."

Beauties behind the scenes.

And this was the year we had 20 beauty nominees . . . Chosen in December, names of the class beauties remained one of the best-kept secrets of the year . . . Houston Hall won the Lass-O sponsored door decoration contest . . . We breakfasted in white and threw midnight Christmas parties.

Beauty judges discuss scoring.

Well, really now—Laurie corners the judges.

The sacred solemnity of the Christmas season was portrayed in the traditional and beautiful Nativity Pageant written by Dr. L. H. Hubbard.

"We three kings of Orient are, bearing gifts we traverse afar."

"And unto us a child is born, unto us a King is given."

"And if elected, I promise to do my best."

JANUARY . . .

when . . .

Our elder sisters took the pledge and promised to vote . . . Dead Week found us spending long hours over term themes . . . grade point speculation ran high . . . frantic cries of "I only cut six times" were heard in every dorm . . . Seniors bid farewell to the first '54 grads.

After careful research I find that—
I need another cup of coffee.

Flagbearers of '54.

"And I thank you kindly."

Give out a mighty roar for '54.

"I'd like to ask you a few questions, ma'am . . ."

And in the left hand corner wearing, wearing . . .

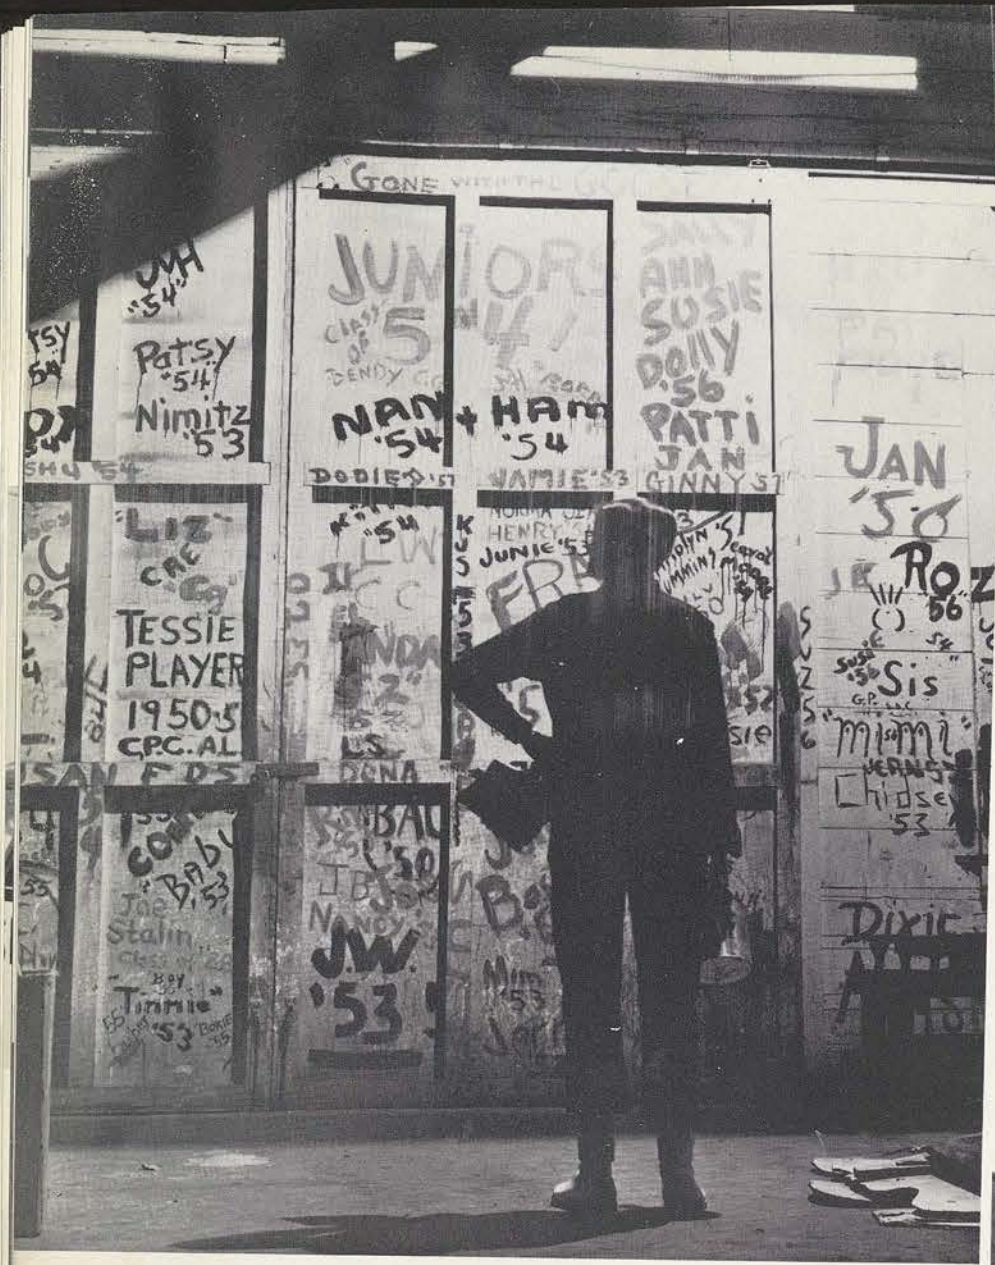

Secret desires, unlimited.

"Well, shut mah mouth and call me king-size . . ."

Seniors and faculty frolicked together and each revealed her secret desire . . . Student Council sponsored a good will collection . . . Dining hall trays replaced feet as modes of transportation when snow blanketed the campus and stayed on for four days.

The Dean of the Stunt Cup reminisces . . . "That was the year . . ." and his speech is still only "2 minutes long!"

FEBRUARY . . . and stunts
took the spotlight . . .

'50 to '54 . . . they're all there in the scenery shop . . . dreams in paint . . . names on the doors and though the predictions didn't always come true . . . the stunts live on . . . names and stories on the big sliding door inspire other authors, other crews . . .

A crew is a crew is great . . . whether they glitter a set . . . make the "Goose hang high" . . . ride up the areas . . . or sweep out after rehearsals . . . and the backstage show is always as good as the one out front.

Gracie and Pat, Freshmen foresters . . .

"Blessed are those who go around in circles, for they shall become big wheels . . ." Jo Ann, Sue, and Gail.

MARCH . . .

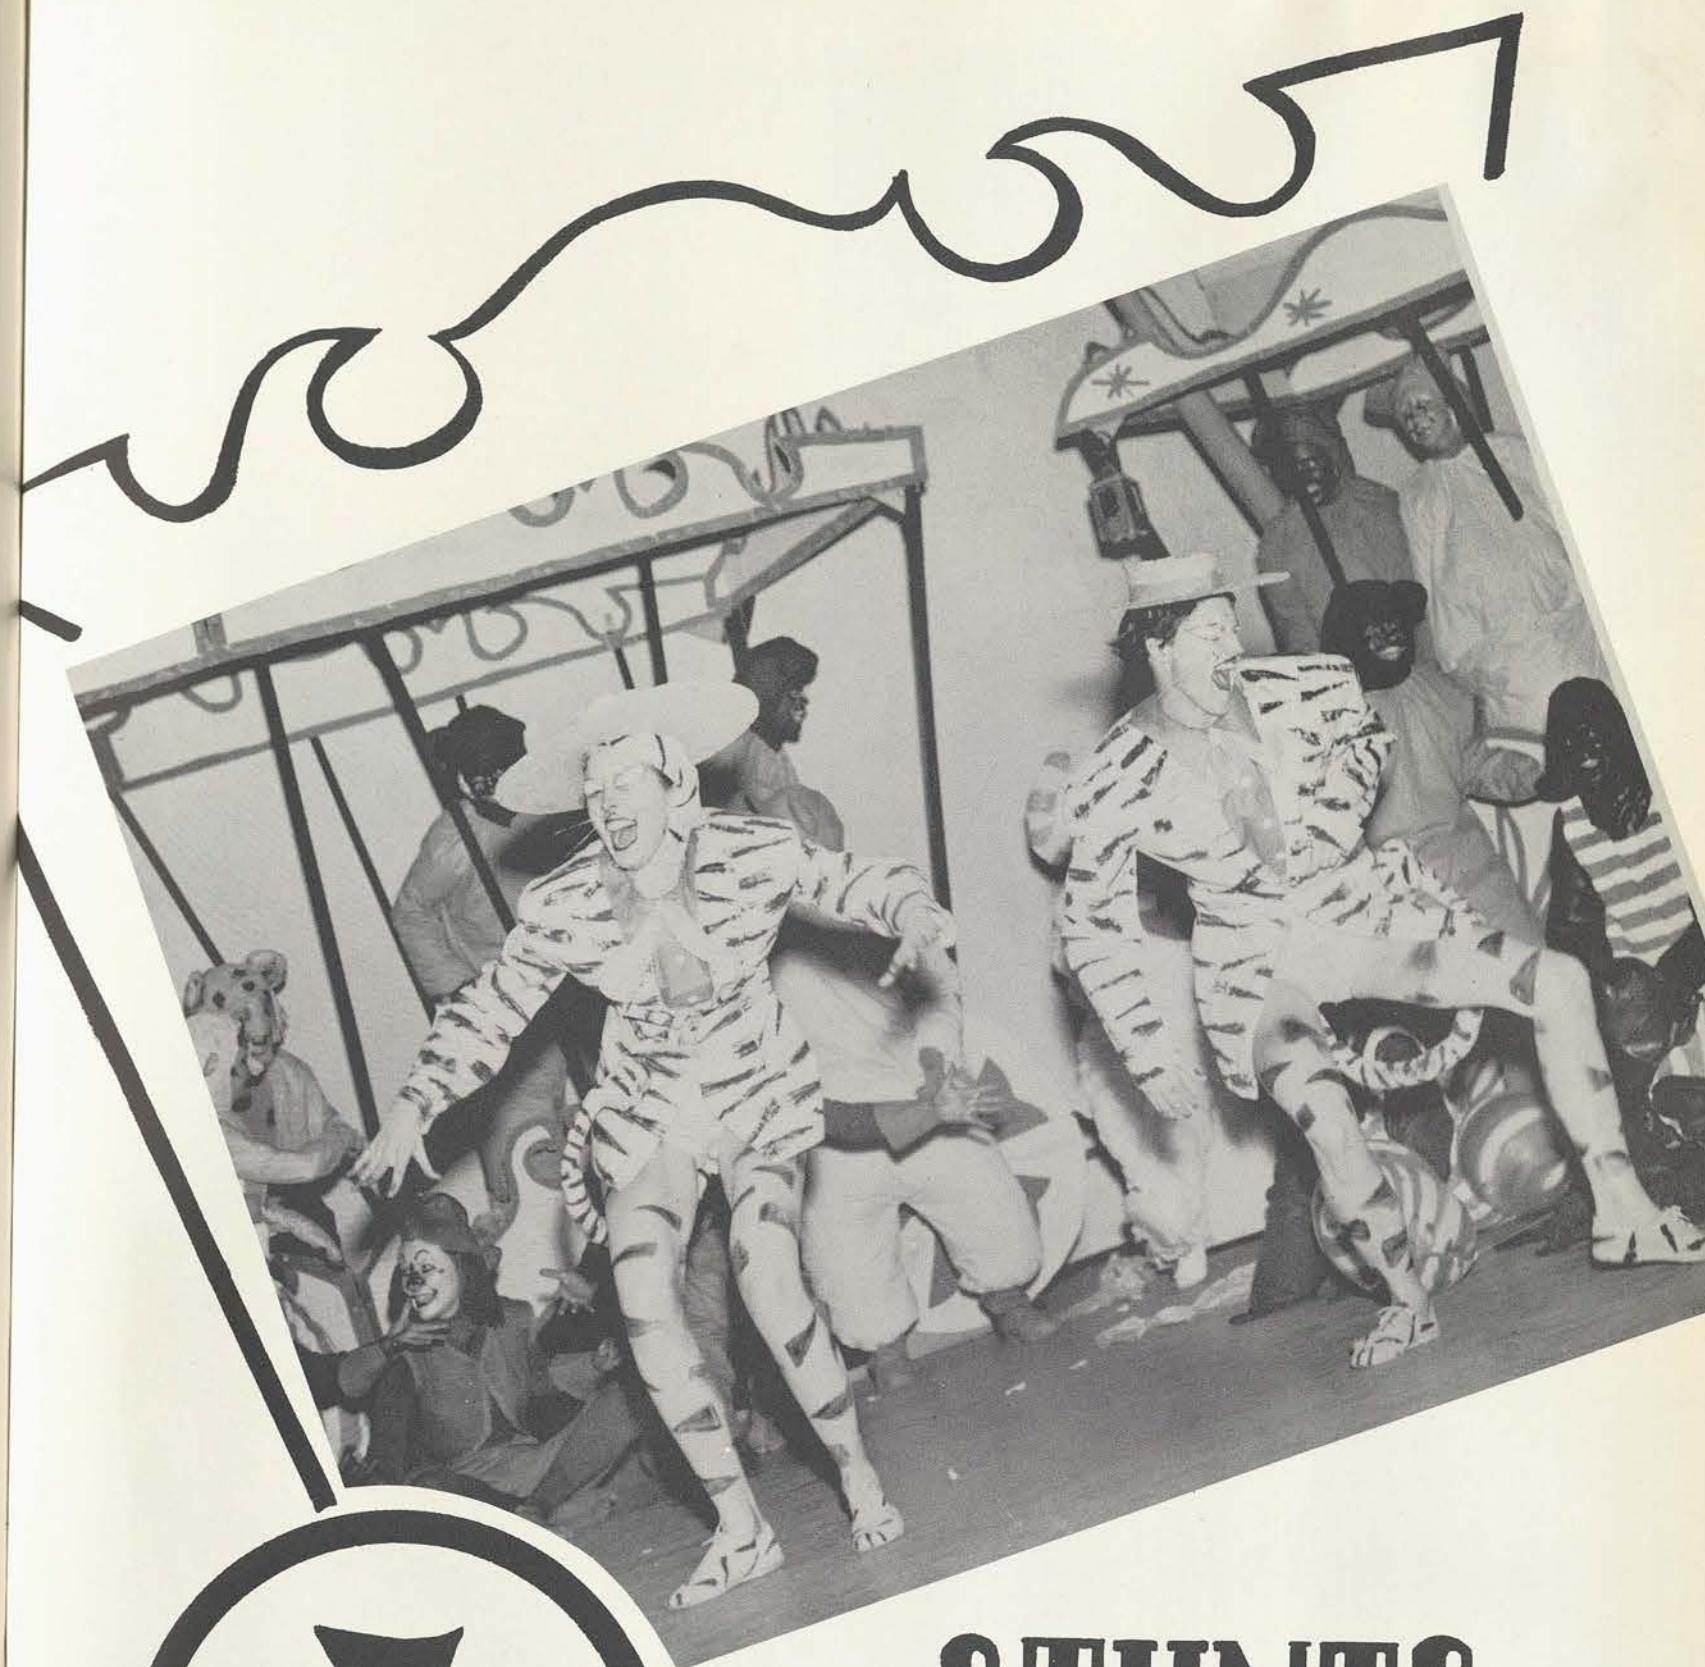

when . . .

Stunts were over and another whirl of activity began . . . Candidates conducted campaigns for CGA, SFC, and WRA offices . . . 100 charming Redbud princesses were chosen . . . The weather changed from hot to cold then hot again and everyone contracted a terrific case of spring fever . . . The redbuds froze and bloomed again.

Signs sometimes tip the scale in favor of one candidate or another.

Your glove size, madam?

STUNTS

SENIORS

A misguided guide conducts a factually dry tour, while . . .

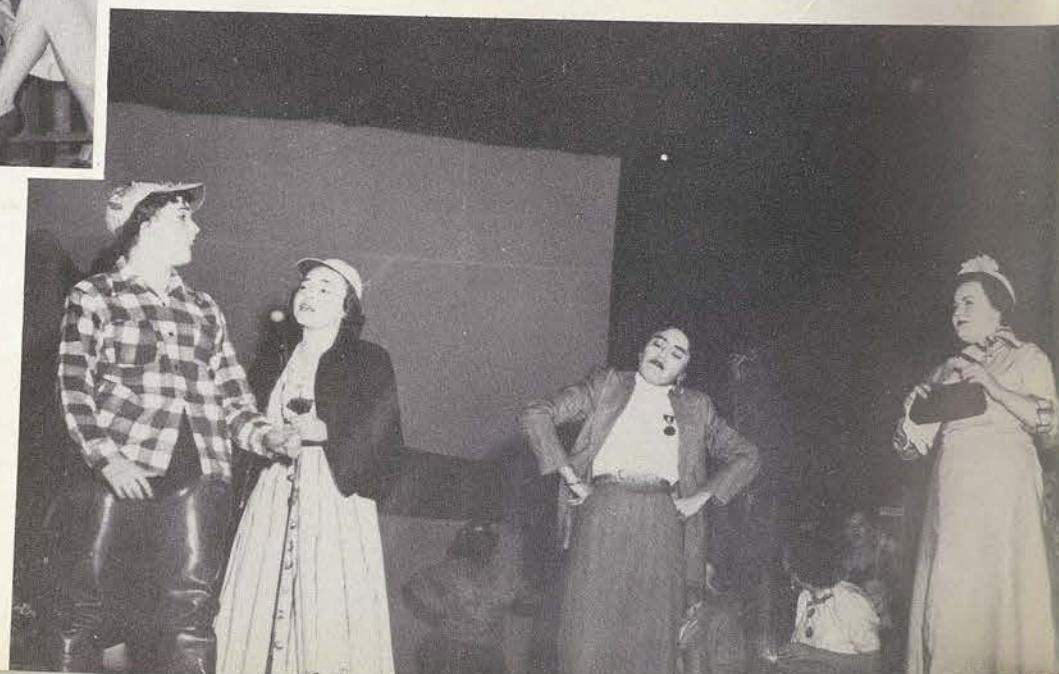

It's the people who make the station great . . . the redcaps, . . .

. . . the sports fans . . .

the station master says "stick around and see us as we are . . ."

. . . and a love-sick lass . . .

. . . the young recruit who'll bring new glory to Old Glory . . .

JUNIORS

The Juniors got "pretty darn hot" when . . .

. . . all of those quadrupeds decided to stay with the circus . . .

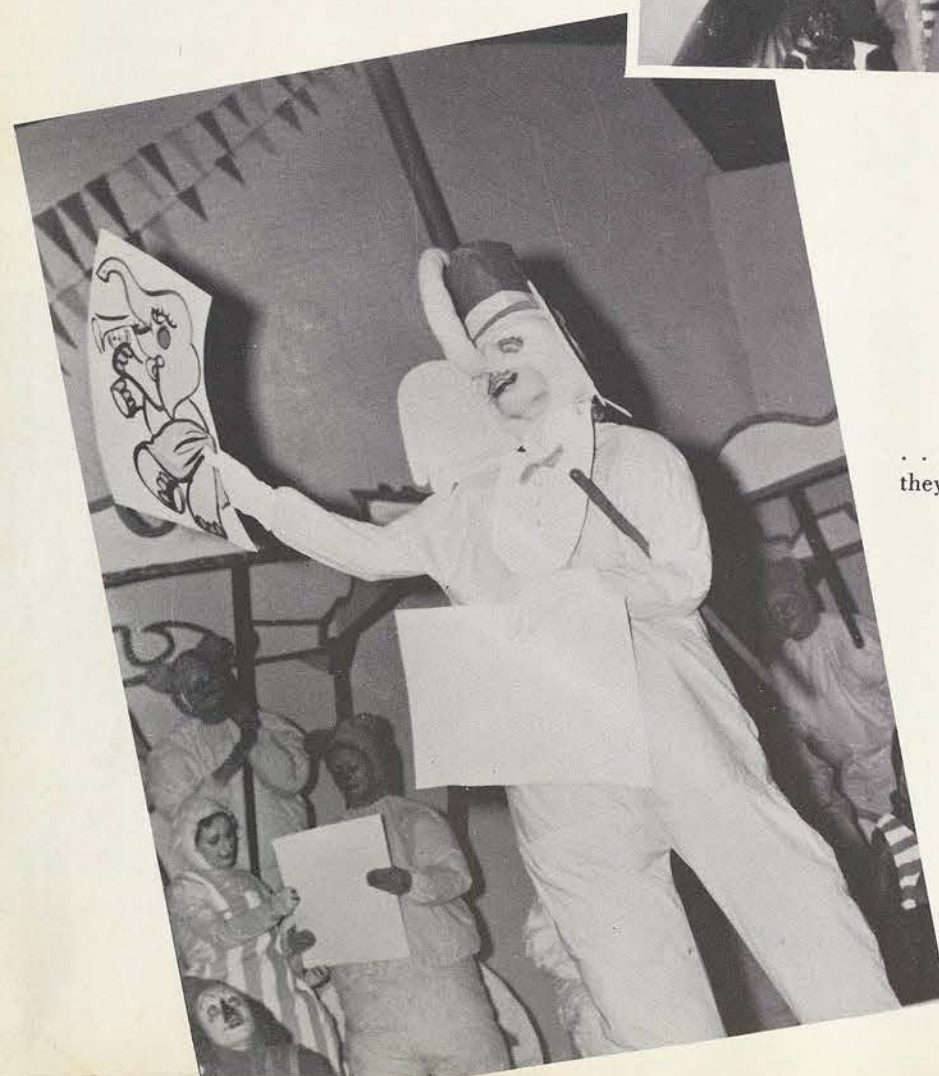

The camel came through with a camel walk . . . what else? . . .

. . . and a couple of crazy mixed up cats went wild . . .

. . . as did all the little animal friends . . .

. . . and forget the "life that late they led."

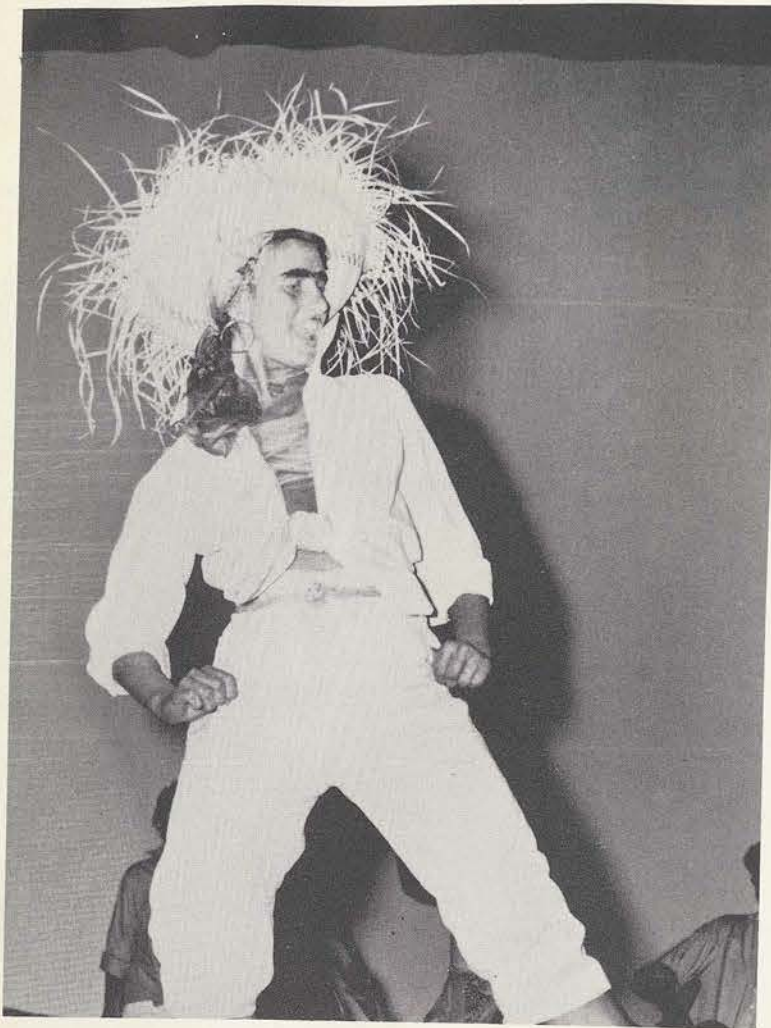

'cause the place was a "Big Topsey Turvey" and the Juniors copped the cup ! ! !

SOPHOMORES

The temperature rose . . . and rose . . . and rose . . .

. . . while the tourists tried to beat the heat, but . . .

ah, my dear, that blasted heat drove them insane ! ! !

Calypsos, maracas and rhythm sticks clacking . . .

. . . and what do they do way down in Panama ? ? ?

Why everybody dances and on the double they forget all their troubles and dig that crazy "Heat Wave!"

FRESHMEN

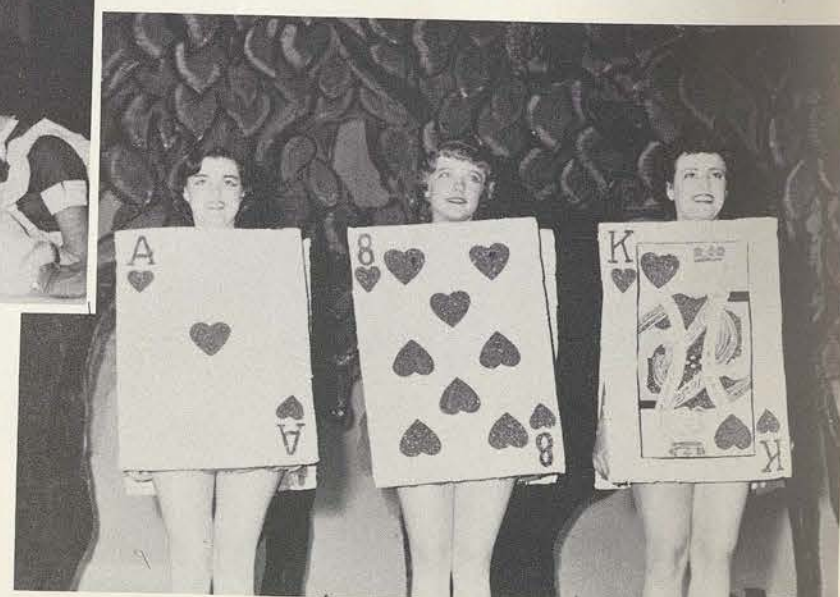

Mother Goose came down below ...

. . . to get our laundry . . .

and our mail!

We stood to get in the PUB . . .

. . . to get our coffee (still 5c) . . .

and last but not least . . . to eat !!!

We caught up on the gossip while we waited.

We Went to Assembly . . . but Just Barely . . .

First we waited . . .

Then we sang . . . college songs, old songs, new songs, and class songs . . .

" . . . '57, '57, we're the class of '57 . . . "

" . . . Redbud is our flower, '56 our year . . . "

" . . . We are the class of 1955 . . . "

. . . and the Seniors sang their hymn, too, " . . . Loyal to you, '54 . . . "

Some were always late . . .

People, People Everywhere . . . and not a one knew we were there!

Ah boredom . . . question of the year . . . find the photographer's roommate! (The only smile in the bunch!)

Police group extracts confession from local Dean of Women . . . EXTRA! EXTRA!

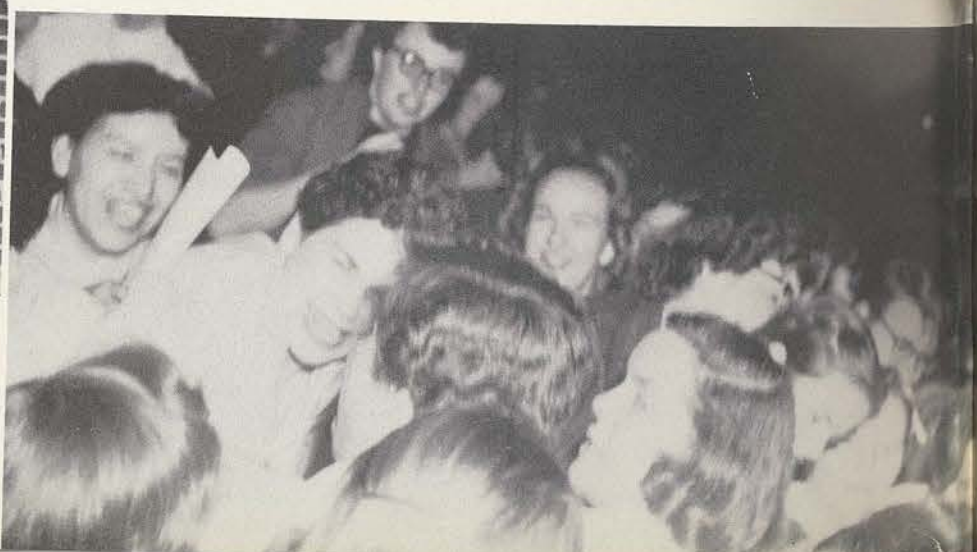

Could this be the carnival group at 7:00 breakfast the next morning?? It could!

"Whoosh . . . coming down" . . . and it only stayed there overnight after all that trouble!

"Senior Joyce Faux addressing the yell-practice from the balcony of Stoddard."

What?? A riot?? Who's next for the starch? Seniors and Sophomores "invoting" the Juniors and Freshmen to "joint yell-practice."

The Pub

Everything happens there . . . and anything can be overheard!
"And then she said . . ."

"Ooohh . . . you DON'T say!"

... "Think this day will ever end?"

"... and in walks the prof . . . right behind her!"

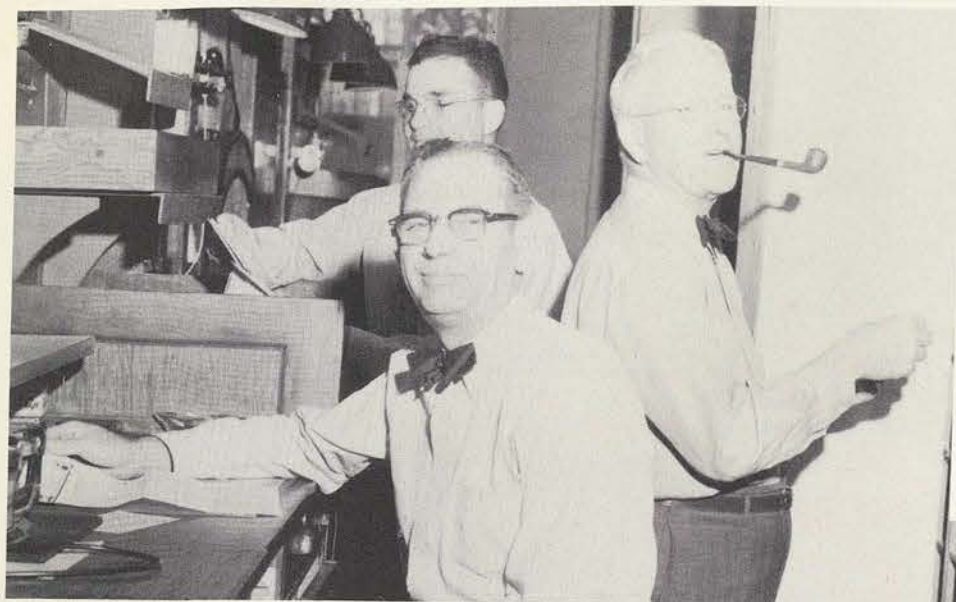

"... and what's more, I said . . ."

"Light anyone?"

What Would We Do Without . . .

. . . Mr. Hirsch, the "Dutchman," and of course, Mr. Weaver, who see that we get mail every day (?) . . .

"POP" . . . who takes care of our problems . . .

Jewel, who gives us hot coffee and listens to us gripe . . .

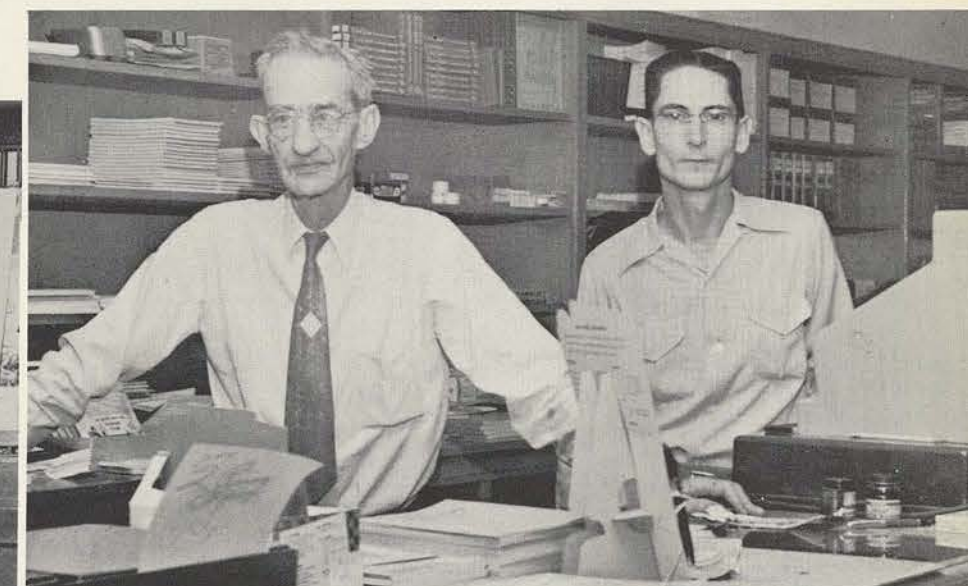

And Verne Starnes, who hung by his toes from a ceiling once too often while repairing a clock . . .

"The laundry ladies," who keep up with our linen cards . . .

"Uncle Joe," who builds stunt sets the day of the first performance after a dress rehearsal flop! (He also paints a wicked fish . . . as does Mr. Lowery) . . .

Mr. Douglas and Lester, who pass out everything from books and senior rings to cough drops . . .

. . . and Carl . . . without whose "Goin' up, pal" a day wouldn't be complete, and we'd never be able to keep up with people if it wasn't for his "B" board . . .

C. J. Becker's Fritz arrives and meeting Mrs. Denman is first on the agenda.

Tessie Weekend . . . Complete with Date

. . . and we never forget to sign out!

C. J. seems to be enjoying her coke but Fritz is more interested in C. J.

Fritz adds an inscription to the already scarred old stone bench in the Botannical gardens.

With wedding bells just around the corner, Fritz and C. J. look at furniture.

Just practising say C. J. and Fritz as they leave the Little Chapel.

Dinner in Hubbard Hall to a Sunday perfect . . .

Sunday morning services in the Little Chapel find C. J. and Fritz thinking about a Little Chapel wedding.

Goodnight . . . but he'll be back . . . and soon!

The popcorn may be good but just being together is so much better!

Camera Highjinks . . . Whoops!

"What seems to be going on here??"

"Now there's a good girl . . ."

"And he says to me . . . Buddy,
HAVE A DRINK, he does . . .!"

Women, women everywhere
No matter where you look
Women, women always there
A man they cannot hook.

Beautiful, some faces,
Some faces fat, and thin
Faces cute or ugly,
But none of them are men.

Clothes we see are stylish
But all are women's news
And up the hills tramp women's feet
In women's G.I. shoes.

Two thousand women every day
I see, in search of knowledge
My last request is just take me
Out of this women's college.

WHY?

Have you ever wondered just why we call our yearbook "THE DAEDALIAN?"

Here is the story . . .

Once upon a time, as all good stories begin, there lived a Greek god named Daedalus. He was the god of architecture, a master of arts and crafts.

When notice of his fame as an architect spread to King Minos, Daedalus was summoned before the royal court. "Build me a mighty labyrinth of winding passages beneath my castle," the king ordered, and Daedalus began his work.

At first the king was pleased with Daedalus, but then, his royal wrath was incurred by some obscure incident, and he ordered his architect thrown into the highest towers of the prison. He allowed him to take his small son, Icarus, with him.

Daedalus tried again and again to find a way of escape from his lofty prison, but alas, King Minos had thought of everything and even the ships leaving the harbor were searched.

"Minos may control the land and sea, but not the legions of the air," said Daedalus, "I shall try that way."

So he conceived the idea of wings made from feathers and wax. He wrought the feathers together, beginning with the smallest and adding larger ones to form an increasing surface. The large ones he secured with thread, the smaller with wax until the whole resembled the wings of a giant bird.

Daedalus built a pair of wings for himself and one for his son. "Take care, my son," he cautioned, "for the sun is hot and waxen wings were not made to endure such heat. Do just as I do and together we shall find freedom."

And with these final words of warning Daedalus and Icarus soared into the air and away from their tower prison. In the fields shepherds and ploughmen dropped their work to stare in horror at the giant winged creatures.

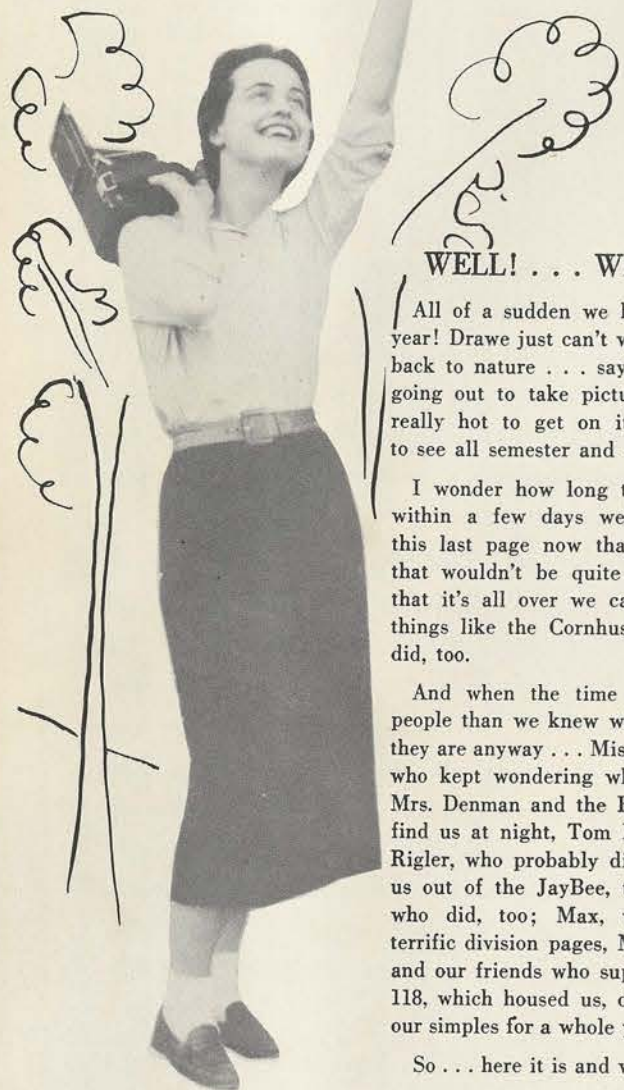

All went well and might be so yet had not Icarus chosen to disregard his father's warning. Exulting in the joy of flight he rose higher and higher into the sun. In vain Daedalus shouted and cried as the wax began to melt.

Suddenly the wings fell apart and Icarus, the disobedient son plunged to earth. A saddened Daedalus landed and buried his son where he fell. He called the land Icaria, then continued his journey to Sicily. There he built a temple to Apollo, god of the sun and hung up his wings as an offering.

Miss Anna Mary Shouse, past director of English, named the annual in honor of Daedalus. She felt that the name embodied the practical as well as the inspiration, which ties in with the college motto, "We Learn to Do by Doing." Daedalus represents the happy symbol of arts and crafts for which the college stands.

An early annual was dedicated to him and a volume of poems issued by the Quarterly.

WELL! . . . WE HARDLY KNOW WHAT TO SAY! . . .

All of a sudden we have time to do all the things we've been wanting to do all year! Drawie just can't wait to get to bed and catch up on her sleep; Roxie is heading back to nature . . . says she's tired of taking pictures of people in groups so she's going out to take pictures of trees; Pat's got a good book all picked out and is really hot to get on it . . . as for me, Well, there's a show I've been wanting to see all semester and several places I want to go!

I wonder how long this will last? We love it now but I have the feeling that within a few days we'll be finding time on our hands. I'd like to hang onto this last page now that it's all over . . . but at this stage of the game I guess that wouldn't be quite cricket. Seriously . . . it's been real! Really it has! Now that it's all over we can laugh about the missed classes, late hours, worries . . . things like the Cornhuskin' negs which went up in smoke and the popcorn which did, too.

And when the time came to dedicate "the monster" we found we had more people than we knew what to do with. Since we couldn't give it to all of them, here they are anyway . . . Miss Benson, and the hours of German we flubbed, Mr. Chambers, who kept wondering where his WP and Law classes were but never said a word; Mrs. Denman and the RAs in Stoddard, who never knew when or where they would find us at night, Tom Murray at Taylor who thought we'd never make it, and Mr. Rigler, who probably did, too. Then there was the nightwatchman who never locked us out of the JayBee, the parents who wondered if we were still alive and David, who did, too; Max, who kept the whole campus laughing and produced the terrific division pages, Mr. Burchard who let us cry on his shoulder between pictures and our friends who supplied the coffee . . . Most of all, we'll never forget Stoddard 118, which housed us, our pictures (thousands), our coffee (gallons), our tears and our smiles for a whole year.

So . . . here it is and we hope you enjoy it, because, believe it or not . . . We have !!
