The problem: why do we need documentation?

Multiple people
doing the same work

Only one person knows how to do something

Organizational changes

What is a technical writer?

“A writer who develops (writes, edits, curates, etc.) technical documents.”

Morgan, K. (2015). Technical writing process: the simple, five-step process that can be used to create almost any piece of technical documentation such as a user guide, manual or procedures. St Leonards, NSW: Better On Paper Publications.

What is a technical document?

“A document of a technical nature which assists someone to carry out a process or procedure, or use a product. Examples of technical documents include user guides, procedures, manuals and quick reference guides.”

Morgan, K. (2015). Technical writing process: the simple, five-step process that can be used to create almost any piece of technical documentation such as a user guide, manual or procedures. St Leonards, NSW: Better On Paper Publications.

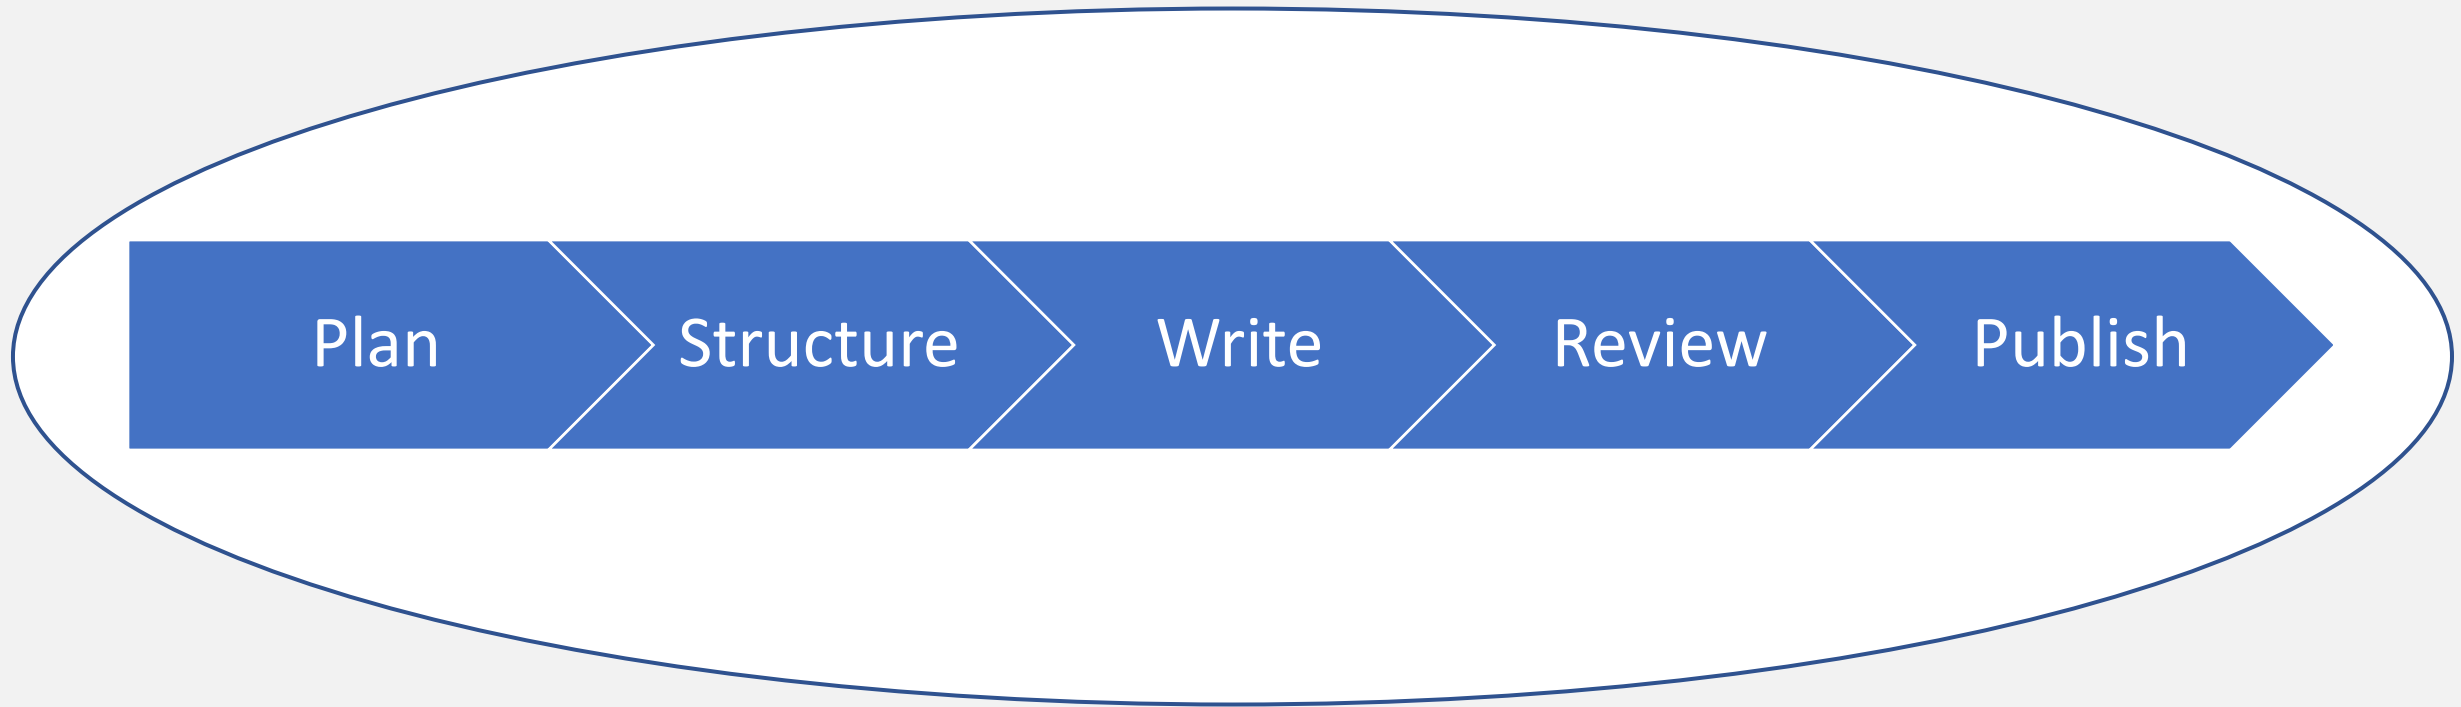

How can technical writing help?

“Technical writing is a definable, repeatable, predictable process. It can be planned, scheduled, and executed in a manner that leads to predictable outcomes, quality, and timing.”

Process-based structure

Based on a sequence of activities or tasks

Usually involves verb-noun format

Create a process model

Map the model to a table of contents

OR

Formalize it into a flowchart

Write first draft

“It is always possible to edit a bad page, but not a blank page”

Review draft with subject matter experts/stakeholders

- Beware “unconscious competents”
- This is an iterative process

Use review matrix to define review team and their roles

Name and Title	Review Responsibility
Nancy Drew, Library Director	Adherence to style guide
George Fayne, Head of Technical Services	Language, spelling, and grammar
Bess Marvin, Head of Circulation	Process accuracy

Use a review log to collate and track feedback

Item	Page	Who	Date	Status
Incorrect version of logo is used	3	Nancy Drew	3/20/2020	Closed
Wrong URL for report page	5	Bess Marvin	3/25/2020
