Orientation

足何

পারিচিতি

SUB, AS, CFO, beanies, '76, fish. It's all a part of the language thrown at incoming students to TWU. So this is Denton, and this is TWU. The picnics, the tours, the receptions together make up orientation to the institution.

Registration

Dhi Jen Hoc

l'enregistrement

You hear experienced students wryly laugh about it and you wonder what the inside joke is. Registration. Lines, ID's food plans, lines, classes, lines and more lines and, of course, fees. Now the wry laughter is yours.

University Review

Revista universitaria

You learn about Stunts, Redbud, rules, Gold Rush, finding dates and, of course, cutting your cake. It's a kaleidoscope of learning which introduces new students to the real TWU.

Traditions Assembly

Überlieferung

Versammlung

Ah, this is where the real nitty gritty TWU history comes in. The mystery of fish and copters is solved for freshmen by naturally biased upperclassmen singing all the class songs they know. Spirits run high, as does rivalry, when big sisters expose their little sisters to the joys of being a '76 fish.

Gold Rush

Gold An-drang

淘金热月

Not quite Ringling Bros., Barnum and Bailey but it's TWU's substitute. Students join together to make Gold Rush, the annual carnival, a resounding success. Games, prizes, displays and children all make up the variegated patterns of carnival time at TWU.

Corn Huskin'

L'éplucher
 ۛۛۛۛ ۛۛۛۛۛۛۛۛ

A look at the "good ole days" in Texas, that's Corn Huskin'. TWU "hillbillies" take part in old-fashioned contests — log-sawing, egg-tossing, and, of course, corn husking. A touch of nostalgia, perhaps, for older faculty members; a new experience for many other faculty members, students, and townspeople.

Pledge Week

la semaine du gage

semana de sociedades de amistad

Pledging. Not quite like joining a sorority since TWU sports no such organizations. Often referred to as LS clubs, literary social clubs accept new members after a grueling week of resigned pillow-carrying and cries of club recognition across campus.

Perhaps the most satisfactory moment of Stunts is not the presentations themselves but the return of old Tessies of various fish and copter classes. These Tessies are the greatest actresses; their still bubbling spirit and enthusiasm glow with the devotion they continue to feel for the University. For many of these audience-actresses, '73 Stunts were a reliving of their own class productions. The phrase is borrowed but true, for there truly are "no people like Stunts people," past and present . . .

'73 Stunts, perhaps coincidentally, focus on the theme of love, for each of the extravaganzas involved one couple bitten by Cupid's deadly sting. Though the '76 Stunt dealt with breaking tradition, TWU's traditions reigned supreme as Dr. Guinn presented the Stunts Cup to an estatic senior class, breaking the long line of underclass and fish winners.

Stunts

矢豆 郭

les nouvelles sensationnelles

Freshmen

Fuchs

Le novice

"Anything goes" tells the whole story of the '76 stunt. The "sweet young thing" is Chinese; the guy's the all-American boy. Chinese traditions go out the window much to the dismay of the girl's grandfather, Rice a roni. Confucius, however, helps him come around to the new way of life in the U.S. The grand finale — a Chinese festival to prove all traditions don't die.

Sophomores

Segundo año

La seconde année

All is gray and drab in the town of Aurora as the town children decide to rediscover color by finding old Hue Brightly. Rebellious and determined youth attempt to "show the light" to their more conservative parents who see everything in terms of black and white. The "brightly hued" finale where Hue agrees to "make like a tree" and leave the forest to return to Aurora, rivals the feathers of the NBC peacock.

Juniors

Dercero año

der Unterstufe

There's green in Arabia as a leprechaun finds himself in King Babalou's palace, surrounded by famine. Sean's promise to feed the peasants can't be fulfilled till he finds his pot of gold. No food at dawn means no head for Sean, the prince or his servant-girl love. But Sean comes through, the famine ends, and who can say it better than the Grand Vizier, "If you can't beat it, eat it."

Seniors

Bursch

L'aînesse

WINNER

Boiling pots, flashing lights, and brilliant setting formed the backdrop for the '73 Stunt. The problem: finding a husband who can pass the King's test for Sopopilla, princess of the gypsies. The secondary problem is breaking the curse on the queen so that "the mouse devours the hawk" and she regains her voice. The dream man comes in the form of "hot stuff Jalapeno," aided by a convincing witch. All ends well for the gypsies; Jalapeno wins the princess, the queen wins her voice, and the Seniors win the cup.

"I remember in my day . . ."

This is the prevalent phrase during Homecoming, as alumnae return to their Alma Mater to reminisce about CIA, TSCW, and the earlier days of TWU.

Current students get a look at the "good old days" as recalled by these older but very spirited Tessies.

This year, Stunts were the culmination of Homecoming events, uniting the classes of yesteryear with those of '73, '74, '75, and '76.

But leading off the events was the annual Homecoming luncheon, honoring some of the distinguished alumnae.

Recognized this year for their continuous service to the University were Miss Ola Lummus, Mrs. LaVerne Harrell Clark, and Mrs. Frances Matsler Gordon.

Sharing their pride and delight were TWU President John A. Guinn and Alumnae President, Mrs. Dorothy Holland.

Other activities included tours of the rapidly changing campus, the Showcase of TWU talents, a chapel service at the Little Chapel in the Woods, a breakfast for the honor classes, and business meetings.

But, mostly, it was, and always will be, "Remember? Remember when . . .?"

Homecoming

Festival de bienvenida

Heimwärts

Redbud

botón rojo

le bourgeon de rouge

The blooming trees on Redbud Lane mark the approach of not only Spring, but of Redbud, the annual Spring formal at which a court of 24 crown princesses and the queen rule for an evening. For the 60 class princesses, it means a week of teas, banquets, flashing smiles, and "goodbye, grubs" — for a week, that is.

Dear Lord

I am finished.

Will they despise it? Won't they love it?

I am so proud and so ashamed. Nevertheless, it is done. Good or bad, it is over.
We, together, have accomplished with our own and others hands/minds
And learned to love and respect this work.

And thank you, many hours over, thank you.

Because without Patricia the dirty work would still be undone,
Without Sue those last minute pictures would still be unprinted
Without Robt. there would be no love to keep the spirit moving,
Without you, God, there would not be.

God bless Mrs. Hefner, for leaving us alone yet being there; Norman, for his help;
Sallie, for being that unfailing artist; Gloria, for being a scatterbrained, good photographer; Karen, for the experience; Margaret, for her putting up with it all; Margie, for her bounce; Kyle, for his pictures on page 172-3; NASA, for the picture on page 8-9; Shirlee Shaver, for her pictures on pages 320, 324, 343;
Julie; Fluet; Penne; Pam; Sara; Deborah; Mr. Burchard; the J.B. Security Cop;
Ed; my family and the Fuchsia formal.

In His Name
Amen.
