JAMISONS TO LEAD CULINARY ADVENTURE AT TWU LIBRARY

Texas Woman's University invites the community to join award-winning cookbook authors Cheryl and Bill Jamison for "The Ultimate Culinary Adventure" on April 15 at 11:30 a.m. in the Blagg-Huey Library on the Denton campus. The library will be closed for the event from 10:30 a.m. until 2 p.m.

The event includes a lecture and discussion on the Jamisons' latest cookbook, "Around the World in 80 Dinners: The Ultimate Culinary Adventure;" a tasting reception with samples from the Jamisons' cookbooks; and a book signing. The Jamisons' cookbooks and duplicate books and recipe leaflets from TWU's celebrated cookbook collection also will be available for purchase.

Tickets are $40 per person and reservations are required by April 7. For information or reservations, call 81-3748 or visit www.twu.edu/library. Proceeds will benefit the Friends of the TWU Libraries. For information on sponsorship opportunities, contact Carolyn Ishee at 81-3869 or cishee@twu.edu.

Members of the Advisory Board for the event are Betty Alford, Jane Boyle, Jo Cassell, Valerie Clegg (The Chestnut Tree), Helen Crumpacker, Sharon Draper, Martha Len Nelson and Chris and Curtis Wells (The Classic Café).

The Jamisons, whose daughter Heather is a TWU alumna, are the authors of more than a dozen cookbooks and travel guides. They have received four James Beard Awards and have numerous other honors to their credit. Their recent cookbooks include "The Big Book of Outdoor Cooking and Entertaining;" "Good Times, Good Grilling;" "Chicken on the Grill;" "A Real American Breakfast;" and the revised and expanded version of their landmark "Smoke & Spice" — one of the best-selling cookbooks of the last decade. The Jamisons appear regularly on TV and are frequent contributors to magazines like Cooking Light and Bon Appetit. They live near Sante Fe, NM.

SCHOOL OF THE ARTS SCHEDULES WALKING TOUR ON APRIL 3

Area residents are invited to explore the spaces where the arts happen during a tour of Texas Woman's University's Denton campus.

TWU's School of the Arts will host the TWU Arts Triangle Walking Tour from 5 to 7 p.m. Thursday, April 3. The tour, which is free and open to the public, will begin at the Redbud Theater Complex on the northwest side of Hubbard Hall. TWU dance, drama, art and music students will perform at various locations as the tour continues through the campus before ending with an open-studio reception and free refreshments in the Fine Arts Building.

For more information about the tour, visit <http://www.twu.edu/arts-triangle/> or call 81-2086.

Students from the TWU Dance Department will begin the tour with a performance at 5 p.m. in the Redbud Theater. In a change of place, the dancers will use the audience seating as their stage. The audience then will be led to the east steps of Hubbard Hall for "Too Much Light Makes the Baby Go Blind," an abbreviated adaptation of the work by The Neo-Futurists. In this version, actors race the clock, performing five plays in 10 minutes.

The tour also includes a performance by Sruti Kanti Swara, the TWU Balinese Gamelan Angklung Ensemble. The gamelan anklung is an orchestra of Indonesian percussion instruments. Dance Department students will perform a piece outside the Administration Conference Tower (ACT) building, as will the TWU Percussion Ensemble. Audience members will be invited to join in with the ensemble as they explore the possibilities of music at the ACT ventilation louvers.

Additional performances include works by the TWU Dance Lab, the Brass Sextet conducted by Joseph Pinson, and the TWU Concert Choir performing "Ave Maria." Audience members also will receive a backstage pass to the studios of painters and photographers. Artists will have work on display and will be available to answer questions.

The final stop on the tour will be a reception in the foyer of the Fine Arts Building, with free refreshments. Work by visual art students, as well as recordings of performances by the dance and drama departments, also will be featured. Audience members may tour the building, exploring the various studios that will be open with art on display.

NEWSBRIEFS

Information and news about activities, programs or TWU people may be sent to the Office of Marketing and Communication through campus mail or by e-mail to info@twu.edu. The deadline to receive information is the first and third Tuesday of each month at 5 p.m. for the following week. Student information for the “People” section is not published unless it is submitted by or in conjunction with a faculty member and that faculty member’s related activities.

TWU’s fourth annual Putting Fore Pioneers tournament will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday, April 8 in the Student Union. Cost is $5 per round of golf for faculty and staff, and $2 per round for students. Participants may sign up at the event. Trophies will be awarded to the top individual and team in both the faculty/staff and student division. Raffle tickets also are available at a cost of $1 per ticket. Tickets may be purchased at the event or in advance at the Student Union or the Athletics offices. All proceeds from the event benefit TWU Athletic Scholarships. For more information, call 81-3641.

Here’s to your health! TWU will host its seventh annual Well Wednesday Community Health Fair on Wednesday, April 2. The event is sponsored by TWU Student Health Services and Texas Oncology. Door prizes, including two mountain bikes and two iPods, will be awarded. Admission to the event is free and open to the public. The health fair is scheduled from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Pioneer Hall. For more information, contact TWU health educator Priyanka Lalwani at 81-3833 or email healtheducation@twu.edu.

UPDATE ON TWU PEOPLE

Please submit “People” items (faculty and staff only) to the Office of Marketing and Communication by campus mail or by e-mail to info@twu.edu. Include first and last names (no initials, please) and appropriate titles (ie. Dr.).

Dr. Carolyn Gunning (provost) has announced that Dr. Patricia Holden-Huchton has accepted the position of dean of the College of Nursing effective April 1. Dr. Holden-Huchton formerly was the associate dean for the Denton campus, and has served this academic year as interim dean.

Dr. Ellina Grigorieva (mathematics and computer science) was invited by the Program Committee to speak at the International Conference “Differential Equations and Topology” June 17-22 in Moscow. The conference is dedicated to the 100th anniversary of the birthday of L.S. Pontryagin, the founder of modern optimal control theory. Dr. Grigorieva will present “Hierarchical Differential Game between Manufacturer and Retailer.”

Dr. Ellina Grigorieva (mathematics and computer science) published an article titled “Game approach to the description of interactions between manufacturer and retailer” in the book “Problems of Dynamic Control,” 2007, Volume 2, pp. 312-331.

Gladys Keeton (dance) and the TWU International Dance Company received the Community Recognition Award presented by the Denton Hispanic Chamber of Commerce at the Membership Appreciation Awards Gala on March 7.

The Dr. Lee Rowe Sewell Scholarship Fund has been established in the Texas Woman’s University Foundation through the generosity of the late Dr. Sewell’s family. Her husband, Sam, and daughters Amanda Martinez and Callie Sewell, established the fund in memory of Dr. Sewell who passed away May 12, 2007. The endowed fund will support scholarships for graduate students in occupational therapy on either the Denton or Dallas campuses. Dr. Sewell was a former associate dean within the then School of Occupational Therapy on the Denton campus. Friends, colleagues and former students who wish to make gifts to The Dr. Lee Rowe Sewell Scholarship Fund may contact the TWU Office of Institutional Development, Attn: Carolyn Ishee, P.O. Box 425618 Denton, TX 76204-5618, or via phone or email, (940) 898-3863 or cishee@twu.edu.
