Foreword

A rose at the Texas Woman's University has long been a tradition symbolizing appreciation, congratulations, recognition or just a special feeling.

Cherishing this, we offer to each of you a special rose . . . one filled with nostalgic memories of the years which have stimulated and molded our lives into the feminine graces and qualities on which our University was founded in 1903 and continues to emphasize sixty years later.

Our rose contains the old and the new through art work; the TWU year in review through captions and pictures, but most of all . . . it contains you in the year 1963.

"MA" WIMBERLY

At the Gold Rush Carnival, Mrs. Wimberly gathers prizes one after another. She said they made good gifts for her grandchildren, and found herself in jail.

"Ma" Wimberly Captures '63 Daedalian Dedication

The legend of "Ma" Wimberly is told in the theme of the dedication page of the 1963 Daedalian Yearbook.

The "Ma Wimberly legend" originates with the test of years and Seniors. Mrs. Zenda Wimberly began her "University" career as a student majoring in Physical Education at CIA. She graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1926, and returned to Texas Woman's University in 1957 to join the Residential Staff and live in the senior dormitory, Stoddard Hall.

Through the oral and written TWU tradition she became the "Ma" Wimberly of "Wimberly Castle," complete with its marble halls and statues. The legend reached far and wide out onto the campus, and few seniors of 1963, then underclassmen, did not know of this "Ma" whose dorm and nights are filled with "Music til' Dawn."

While the Queen of Wimberly Castle, her seniors made her proprietor of "Wimberly Girdle Factory" and in December, 1962, she moved into her "contemporary castle, Mary Gibbs Jones Hall." In the summer of last year she added to her domain, "Wimberly Bridge."

The Seniors know her now as the best House Demonstrator in the University community, and as "red coat-clad Ma." This "Spritest Lady" of them all, displays a motherly interest in the affairs of her Seniors and of the entire campus. No Senior misses her "crisp housemeeting agenda" and her statement, "I'm on my way to C&D."

This year she presented spring and redbuds in her warm motherly fashion as she urged Seniors to view the wonder of nature, in the Botanical Gardens.

At Christmastime, Mrs. Wimberly's grandchildren were a traditional part of the reception line. They met every guest who came to the dorm.

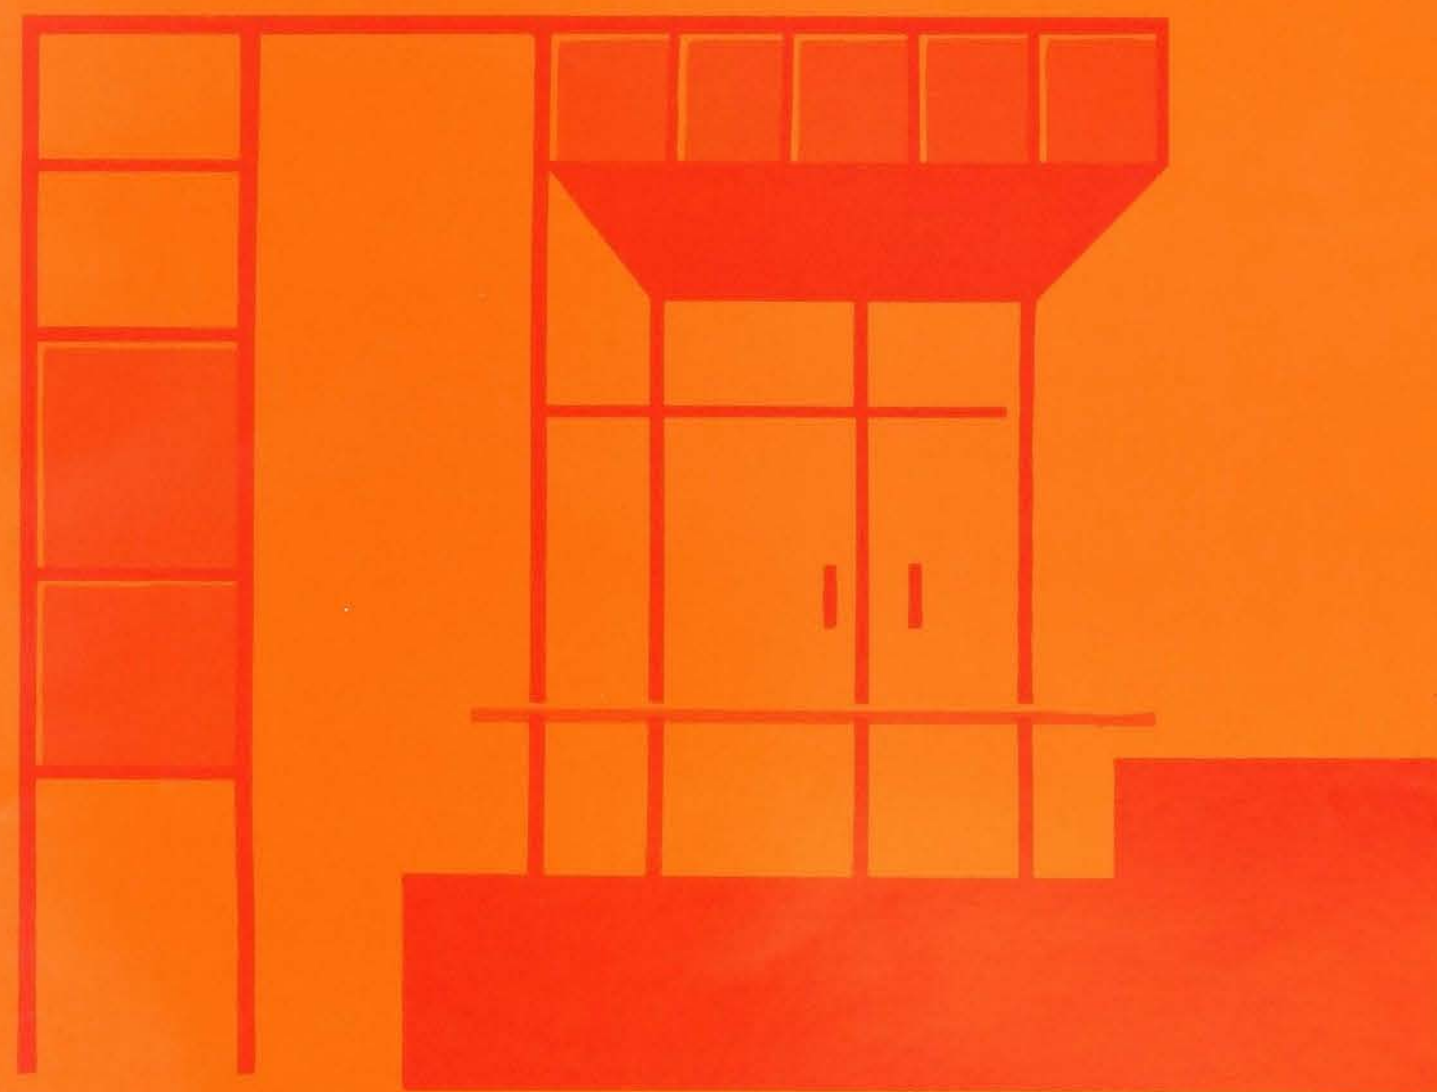

"Ma" had her station at the Central Pacific Gold Rush Display and was as proud of it as was the Class of '63.

TEXAS WOMAN'S UNIVERSITY

DENTON, TEXAS

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

To the Class of 1963:

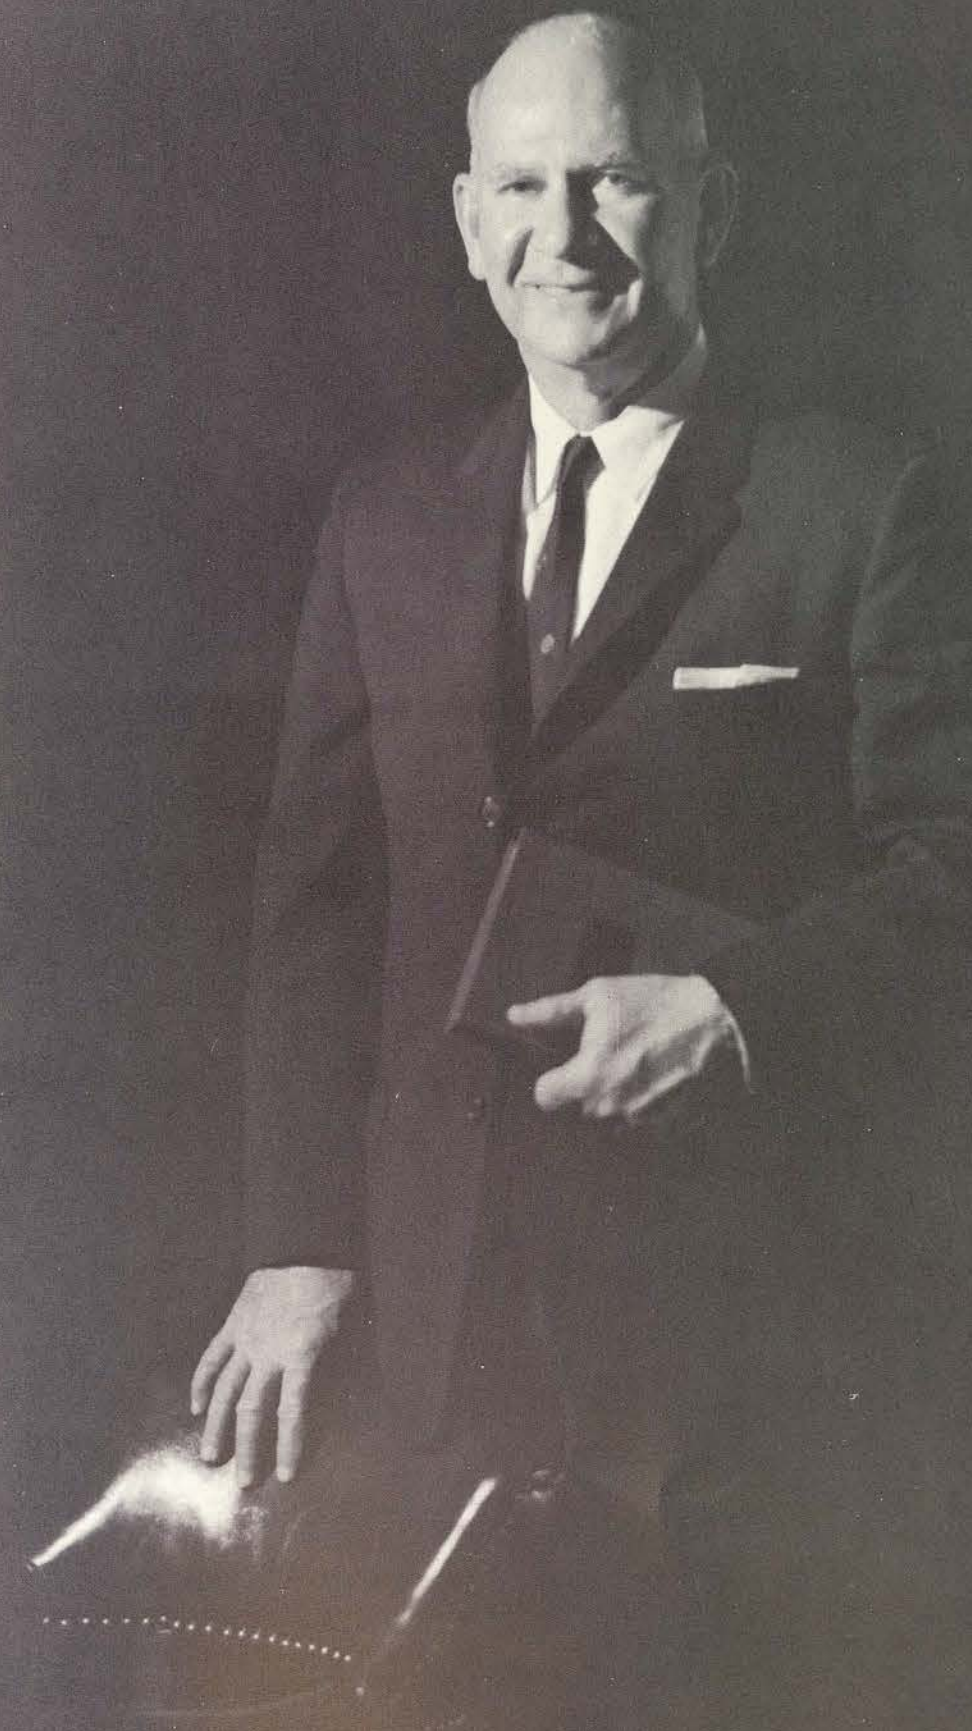

It is my privilege to acknowledge in this brief message the solid contribution which you have made to the ongoing progress of our University. Throughout your undergraduate days you have as a class proved admirably the values and rewards of responsible citizenship in the University Community. Although the maturity of judgment which you have shown as seniors has reflected itself in various ways, I am deeply gratified to say that it has been most evident in your concern for the welfare of TWU.

Whenever you encounter this page of your Annual in the years ahead, let it remind you that as surely as you have a lifelong duty to insist on excellence in American higher education generally, you must also accept the obligation to give enduring loyalty and support to the mission of your own alma mater.

Sincerely yours,

John A. Guinn

Board of Regents Strives For Betterment of TWU

Formulating plans for the future and striving for the betterment of the present, the Texas Woman's University Board of Regents is interested in the activities and programs of the University. Decisions which they make as the governing body of the University are important to the success and growth of the University.

Mrs. Clark Jones, president of the TWU Alumnae Association, recalls with members of the Alumnae Board past Class Stunt performances. Alumnae Association Board members are (seated) Mrs. Betsy LeBleu Hawkins, Mrs. Helen Hare Thorpe, Mrs. William F. Reichert, Jr., Mrs. T. R. Brooks, Jr.; (standing) Mrs. R. L. Sneed, Mrs. Joe E. Vick, Mrs. C. G. Hunt and Mrs. Mary Belle Patterson.

Alumnae Association Works To Serve TWU Exes

"Service" is the word which best defines the activities and goals of the Texas Woman's University Alumnae Association. The purpose of the Association, which was organized in 1905 in Denton, is to further the well-being of the University, the graduates and the alumnae.

13,000 members composing 40 active chapters are presently accredited to the Association.

A graduate may become a member of the Alumnae Association by sending her name and address to the Alumnae Office along with the year she was graduated and her major. Every former student in good standing with the University who has completed at least six hours of credit is automatically a member. Any member may become active upon making an annual contribution to the Texas Woman's University Foundation.

The Alumnae Office, located in the Student Union Building, keeps all the files and handles the correspondence of the Alumnae Association. It also sponsors and distributes the Alumnae Bulletin which is published quarterly for the Alumnae members and chapters.

Courses Vary in College of Arts and Sciences

In the College of Arts and Sciences, every student has her opportunity to acquire knowledge and understanding essential to her as a person and as a member of society. Thus she may obtain a foundation basic to the professions, to business and to the numerous and complex activities in which women engage.

The individual—identical with mankind in emotion, thought and aspiration—is central to the broad humanistic foundation of the educational program in the Arts and Sciences, including literature, philosophy, the written and spoken arts, religion and history. Human society, in which the individual functions, is here also in government, sociology and economics. And the extra-human, over which mind and hand preside, is here in mathematics and the sciences.

Courses offered in these fields lay the foundation for a liberal education that acquaints students with their heritage and helps them mature through the exercise of their intellectual curiosity, through the test of their integrity and capacity for self-education, through the improvement of their arts and skills of oral and written converse, and through the pursuit of excellence con amore. Concentration in departmental majors and minors in advanced and graduate work gives depth and breadth and leads to degrees earned through programs designed by the departments composing the College of Arts and Sciences.

Many of the departments in the College of Arts and Sciences are located in the stylish and modern "AS" Building.

Special Programs Enhance Biology Department Growth

Growth of the Biology Department has kept pace with that of the University as evidenced by the increase in number of biology majors and the continuous enlargement of course offerings.

Special programs developed in this department have attracted both undergraduate and graduate students and increased research activities have added vigor. This steady expansion provides opportunities for studies in pre-medicine, medical technology, pre-dentistry, medical art and the teaching of biology. Participation in research is open to advanced undergraduate as well as graduate students. Graduates of Texas Woman's University with a major in biology have found excellent positions and are making enviable records for themselves, the Biology Department and the University.

The Department of Biology offers four degrees: Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Master of Arts and Master of Science.

Business and Economics Stress Many Careers

The Department of Business and Economics of Texas Woman's University offers outstanding training in career courses especially planned for young women plus liberal arts courses to develop well-rounded personalities so essential for success in the business world. One of the department's advantages is that it offers so many varied types of careers. Skills which the program develops are the basis for effective participation and eventual leadership in business, community and the home.

The Department of Business and Economics is the largest department in the College of Arts and Sciences and offers a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree to its majors in merchandising, insurance and finance education, secretarial administration, business education, general business and economics.

Chemistry, Physics View Opportunities for Women

Opportunities for women in science are advancing. Texas Woman's University is recognized as an institution for training technical personnel and its many graduates that are employed in industry have substantiated this fact. The University is cognizant of this recognition and is fully prepared to assume its responsibility in graduating technically trained women. The Chemistry and Physics Department offers majoring students Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees in chemistry; chemical librarianship, and/or chemical secretarial training; general science; teaching or preengineering, and physics. The department is accredited and approved by the American Chemical Society. The University is also a sponsoring institution of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies. This is further evidence of its scientific stature. A master's degree program is also offered in the department. A graduate in the field of chemistry may pursue work in analytical, inorganic, organic, physical and bio-or radio-chemistry.

English Program Lays Cultural Foundation

The program of the English Department aims at laying a cultural foundation for students in the liberal arts and in English. Degrees offered by the department for majors include B.A., M.A. and the Sixth year. A teaching of basic skills as well as complex training for the women interested in gaining a broad cultural foundation are offered by the department. The student in English learns to distinguish good literature from poor, to express herself in writing and to speak correctly.

The Daedalian Quarterly, a magazine written and compiled by students twice a year, offers English students a chance for publication of their original work and gives majors editing experience. Other programs designed to interest the English student are the Freshman Writers' Conference, the Traveling Workshop and the English Workshop on Current Trends in English.

Foreign Languages Stress World-Wide Opportunity

Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees are offered by the Foreign Language Department whose courses of instruction are many and varied to educate women thoroughly and adequately in foreign languages. The department stresses the audio-lingual approach to language study. French, German, Spanish and Russian are offered and conversation classes are provided to accompany different levels of languages for additional oral practice. A complete modern electronic laboratory is well equipped for language students to receive oral as well as ear training. The Festival of Nations is held each spring to acquaint high school students of surrounding area schools with the customs of the world's peoples. With the co-operation of all areas of the University this celebration is sponsored by the Department of Foreign Language and the foreign students who act as hostesses for the event.

History and Government Strives to Teach Truth

Remembering that history is a discipline which seeks to find the truth concerning human events, the history faculty has this as a major goal. Accordingly attempts are made to prepare students to face all historical problems confidently by relating the past to the present and the present to the past.

Closely related to history is the discipline of government. The survival of free government depends upon access to relevant facts by the people. Equally, it depends on a much rarer ability of the individual to acquire skill in this knowledge and use of basic principles by which facts are properly evaluated and rightly ordered. The goal of the faculty in the field of government is to impart both the formation and information needed by future citizens for the fulfillment of their high obligations.

The Department offers not only formal lecture courses but also certain civic organizations: the Citizenship League, the History Club and Phi Alpha Theta.

For students contemplating a career in teaching, politics or public administration the Department of History and Government offers special direction and assistance.

Journalism Offers Majors Professional Training

The Journalism Department at Texas Woman's University is accredited by the American Council on Education for Journalism. This is a recognition of the quality and variety of work in the department and the success of its graduates. The department offers four sequences of specialized study to students; news-writing and editing, advertising, home economics journalism and radio-TV journalism. Journalism students edit and publish a newspaper, the Daily Lass-O, as well as edit the University yearbook, the Dae-dalian. The program provided for journalism majors is divided into two phases, first a broad general education is emphasized and second, professional training is offered to prepare the student for her career. The University maintains a close relationship with high school journalism through the Texas High School Press Association which has its annual convention on the campus every fall.

Mathematics Department Emphasizes Understanding

Mathematics majors at Texas Woman's University acquire an education in the subject which prepares them for positions in industry and as high school teachers. Students who are particularly able are encouraged to do graduate work. Emphasis is placed on understanding, rather than mechanical manipulation.

The department offers programs leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts. Undergraduate students are required to obtain a good foundation in the liberal arts other than mathematics.

The department sponsors the E. V. White Mathematics Club, which is open to all who are interested in mathematics, and the Texas Gamma Chapter of Kappa Mu Epsilon, an honorary society for majors and minors who make exceptionally good grades. An award is given to the freshman who is judged to have done the best work in mathematics.

Students Study Religion On Non-Sectarian Basis

Religious Education Department instruction is conducted to students on a non-sectarian basis by ministers provided by several denominations. Courses in religion and the Bible are taught on the same level of standards as all other academic subjects offered at the University. The studies the department offers give the student a better understanding of religious beliefs and creeds and a greater knowledge of Christianity, world religions and philosophies, churches and church group work. Students are able to discuss and analyze their religious beliefs and problems with other students at meetings in student centers which are maintained by local Denton churches. The opportunity is offered to TWU students to present weekly devotional services through dormitory vesper groups and through the Sunday morning chapel services in the Little Chapel-in-the-Woods.

Sociology Students Learn Lifes Basic Concepts

The Sociology student learns basic concepts which will help her adjust to situations throughout her life. She can look forward to a "helping" career in any of five fields—social work, religious work, industrial relations, social welfare and teaching. The Sociology Department is affiliated with and approved by the Council on Social Work Education, a national organization.

Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees are offered by the department and the social work sequence gives either case work or group work experience to the senior major meeting departmental requirements. As extra-classroom activities, the department sponsors an annual field trip to neighboring welfare institutions, field work as training for undergraduates and an annual $100 scholarship, which is awarded to a deserving student in the department.

Speech Training Emphasizes Social, Personal Development

Speech training is emphasized as a means of social adaptation and personal development. Acting, directing, staging and costuming experience is gained by majors and elective students in the Speech Department at Texas Woman's University. Stage shows are produced by students. The Department sponsors the University Theater, Arena Theater and Children's Theater, which presents yearly plays for children of Denton and surrounding towns. Majors in speech are also taught to express themselves through radio and television media. Actual radio and television are offered work with exceptional children as well as a complete curriculum of study. Much time is spent in clinical practice. Organizations under the sponsorship of the Speech Department include the Radio Guild, the Speech Club and the national honorary fraternities, Zeta Phi Eta and Sigma Alpha Eta.

College of Education Seeks Effective Teaching Methods

The College of Education strives to equip the student with the professional knowledge needed for effective teaching of children and youth today. The University at large through its Teacher Education Council insures that students are provided with a strong liberal education. Each academic department assures competency of the student in the subject to be taught. The contributions of courses in Education toward the student's preparation are several: emphasis is placed on the philosophical, psychological and historical foundations of education. Learning technology is demonstrated and students develop skills of instruction as related to specific teaching assignments. The Demonstration School on campus and various public schools affiliated with the University provide observation opportunities and actual laboratory and practical experience. Graduates of the University who qualify for teaching certificates have been placed in the leading public school systems throughout the nation.

Atop the TWU hill stands the College of Education Building, the oldest on campus. It was first used in 1903 and today it also houses research facilities.

Appreciation Set As Goal Of College of Fine Arts

The College of Fine Arts, composed of the Art and Music Departments, is designed to provide professional training and experience and to offer appreciation of the arts at a high cultural level. It is concerned with bringing to both non-major and major students an enlarged cultural background and appreciation of the fine arts. The major student has the opportunity to obtain a broad educational background from the other colleges of the University. The student in the College of Fine Arts is continually helped toward a keener appreciation of the esthetic value in the fields of art and music. Typical of the benefits of the College of Fine Arts is the annual co-ordinated program in which art and music, along with the other arts, offer a series of inspiring artistic events. The Art and Music Departments both offer programs leading to the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science and Master of Arts degrees.

Rehearsal studios and lecture rooms make up the Music and Speech Building, which is the home of the Music and Speech departments. Popularly called the "Main Aud," it is the scene of many Concert and Drama performances and the annual Class Stunts.

The Art Building at the south end of the campus is equipped with 38 studios, a lounge, laboratories, lecture rooms and four large galleries for art exhibits.

Student Exhibits Offer Challenges to Art Majors

The Department of Art is rich in terms of a highly trained professional art faculty, with backgrounds of study and travel, along with a supply of intensive and unusual equipment to promote skills and understanding in visual arts for the Texas Woman's University student. Since most of the students majoring in art become professional artists, it is necessary that instruction in basic, advanced and specialized art courses be sound, progressive and effective.

An art museum located in the Art Building contains several art collections, including those of the primitive arts, utilitarian objects, paintings and prints. Each year the work of all art classes is examined and individual pieces are selected for an annual exhibition.

Music Department Provides Students Cultural Training

Texas Woman's University was the first institution of higher learning in Texas to offer degrees in music. Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science and Master of Arts degrees are now obtainable by young women who enter the Music Department at TWU. The department offers a thorough program of training in music theory, history, appreciation, voice, piano, organ, all band and orchestral instruments, conducting music arranging, elementary and secondary music methods and a wealth of practical experience through memberships in numerous ensembles. The Modern Choir, featuring music originally written for women's voices, annually tours Texas and the Southwest. The Music Department of TWU is one of the few in the country to offer courses leading to a degree in music therapy. In addition to these advantages, the University Concert and Drama Series, the Faculty Recital Series, Student Recitals and the unique Chamber Music Series provide a rich musical culture for the entire student body.

The Lass-O Choraliers, a section of the TWU Modern Choir and under the direction of Dr. J. Wilgus Eberly, are off on a four week concert tour of the United States armed forces stations in the Caribbean.

CHAS Prepares Student For Diversified Career

The College of Household Arts and Sciences prepares students for a career that is the most practical and most diversified for any young woman. The curriculum offerings are being continuously revised to meet the changing needs of women in the ever-changing world. Since 1903, the College of Household Arts and Sciences has had two main objectives in training the majors: to educate the young women for better personal and family living and to equip them for careers in one or more of the many areas in home economics. The college is a leader in Texas, in the nation and in other countries in the training of young women in home economics and research. Research not only expands the boundaries of knowledge but it adds also to the quality and inspiration of both students and faculty.

HAS Foundation Conducts Research in Major Fields

The Research Foundation in Household Arts and Sciences is devoted to the conduct of sponsored investigations in such major fields as food and nutrition, clothing and textiles, housing and child growth and development. Nutrition research in the Foundation is conducted in the Nelda Childers Stark Laboratory for Human Nutrition Research.

Research work in clothing and textiles emphasizes the textile fiber most intimately associated with the economy of the state of Texas — namely, cotton. Research work in this field is conducted in another component laboratory of the Foundation, the Cotton Finishing and Utilization Research Laboratory. Cotton research is supported by special funds provided by the Texas legislature, in which four colleges and universities participate, and by grants-in-aid.

The Textile and Detergency Laboratories involve another section of the Foundation devoted to research and testing of various textile items, detergents, and related products for the Texas State Board of Control, as well as detergency research in cooperation with two industrial Detergency Associations with nationwide membership.

Major support for the Research Foundation in Household Arts and Sciences at the Texas Woman's University comes from the Texas Legislature. Grants-in-aid also make an expanded program possible. Recent grants-in-aid have been awarded by the National Institutes of Health, the U.S. Army Medical Research and Development Command, the United States Department of Agriculture, the Cotton Producers Institute, the National Council of America, the Florida Citrus Commission, the Chance Vought Corporation, the Dow Chemical Company and the American Zinc Institute.

The Research Foundation in Household Arts and Sciences is a center for investigation of the science of wash-and-wear treatments for cotton. This shows the method of evaluating wash - and - wear scores using three-dimensional plastic standards.

CHPER Emphasizes Purposeful Leadership

The general purpose of the College of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation is to contribute richly and effectively to the total development of young women through a two-year required program in which each University student is enrolled. A sound and comprehensive professional education program is offered for candidates for Bachelors, Masters, and Doctoral degrees. Emphasis is placed upon extensive opportunities to acquire knowledges, master skills, develop attitudes and appreciation and establish patterns of behavior conducive to happy and effective living, through class experiences, and many and varied extra-class activities. Staff members serve as faculty sponsors for extracurricular activities for the University. Stress is placed upon the obligation of the student to utilize the knowledges, skills, attitudes, appreciations, habits, and practices thus acquired and developed for purposeful leadership.

The College strives toward student achievement of such specific goals as the development of adequate skills in and love for a variety of sports, dance, aquatic and outdoor education activities.

The College of Health, Physical Education and Recreation Building has spacious dance instruction studios, a natatorium, large classrooms, a modern gymnasium and other recreational facilities. TWU was the first school in Texas to offer a degree in Physical Education.

Nursing Program Balances With General Education

The purpose of the College of Nursing is to prepare nursing practitioners who can care for the sick, aid in rehabilitating the handicapped and promote health. The curriculum is designed as an integrated general and professional one throughout the four years, balancing offerings in the nursing major with offerings in general education. The student gains an understanding of important ideas and principles from the humanities and from the biological, medical nursing, physical and social sciences.

The community services for health, education, welfare and rehabilitation are studied. The program prepares the graduate to plan and provide nursing care to individuals, families and others in homes and other community agencies, as well as in hospitals. Emphasis is placed on the student learning to think critically to communicate purposefully and to relate to others effectively.

As the student progresses in the program she is able to identify and pursue her personal and professional goals with increased understanding and self-direction. The courses in clinical nursing are offered in the hospitals of Dallas County Hospital District and the Texas Medical Center of Houston. Health departments of these two metropolitan areas provide experiences in Public Health Nursing.

Parkland Memorial Hospital in Dallas serves as the Dallas Clinical Center for nursing majors. The staff residence, where majors reside for three years, is located near the hospital.

OT Challenges Students To Teach Handicapped

The constant challenge of teaching the handicapped to help themselves is met by the Occupational Therapy major. TWU has the only accredited School of Occupational Therapy in the Southwest. The School was added to the curriculum as a result of the demand for more trained people in this profession. Training consists of courses in theory of occupational therapy, basic sciences, various medical subjects, psychology, design and crafts. Medical lectures are given in the Houston Medical Center in the fall of the senior year by the teaching staff of Baylor University Medical School. Upon completion of all the academic courses, ten months of clinical course work is required in various approved Texas Hospitals. The Occupational Therapy major receives a general University education leading to a B.S. degree. Her career combines many aspects of nursing, social work, teaching and administration. The Occupational Therapy major, in actual hospital work, experiences similar situations she will meet in her future career.

LS Designs Training To Meet Individual Needs

The School of Library Science offers a program of thorough professional training carefully designed to meet individual needs of students. The library science student is encouraged and given opportunities to develop further knowledge and interest in all subject areas or to specialize in one field of interest. The School of Library Science offers superior facilities to its majors. Microcard and microfilm machines in the School's own library, which houses over 8,000 books, are available to the Library Science major. The air conditioned Library Science Building is the first in the country to be designed especially for the education of librarians. The School offers Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts and Master of Library Science degrees, which are accredited by the American Library Association.

TWU Library Provides Students with Benefits

Bralley Memorial Library, beautifully landscaped in the center of the University, was built in 1925 and extensively remodeled and enlarged in the spring of 1960.

One of the most attractive and functional libraries in the Southwest, it boasts reading rooms, study alcoves and carrels for graduate students. The areas are designed for comfortable reading and study.

Books, current magazines, bound magazines and books on reserve reading are in open stacks and on open shelves in reading rooms. Only rare books and some special books which use is limited to the building are in closed stacks.

Planning constantly to co-ordinate library services with classroom instruction the library staff and faculty are always striving to give only the best services to the students. This provides the student with an integrated library-instructional program that affords the fullest benefits in University work.

Concentrating diligently on her studies a student makes use of the study tables in the library.

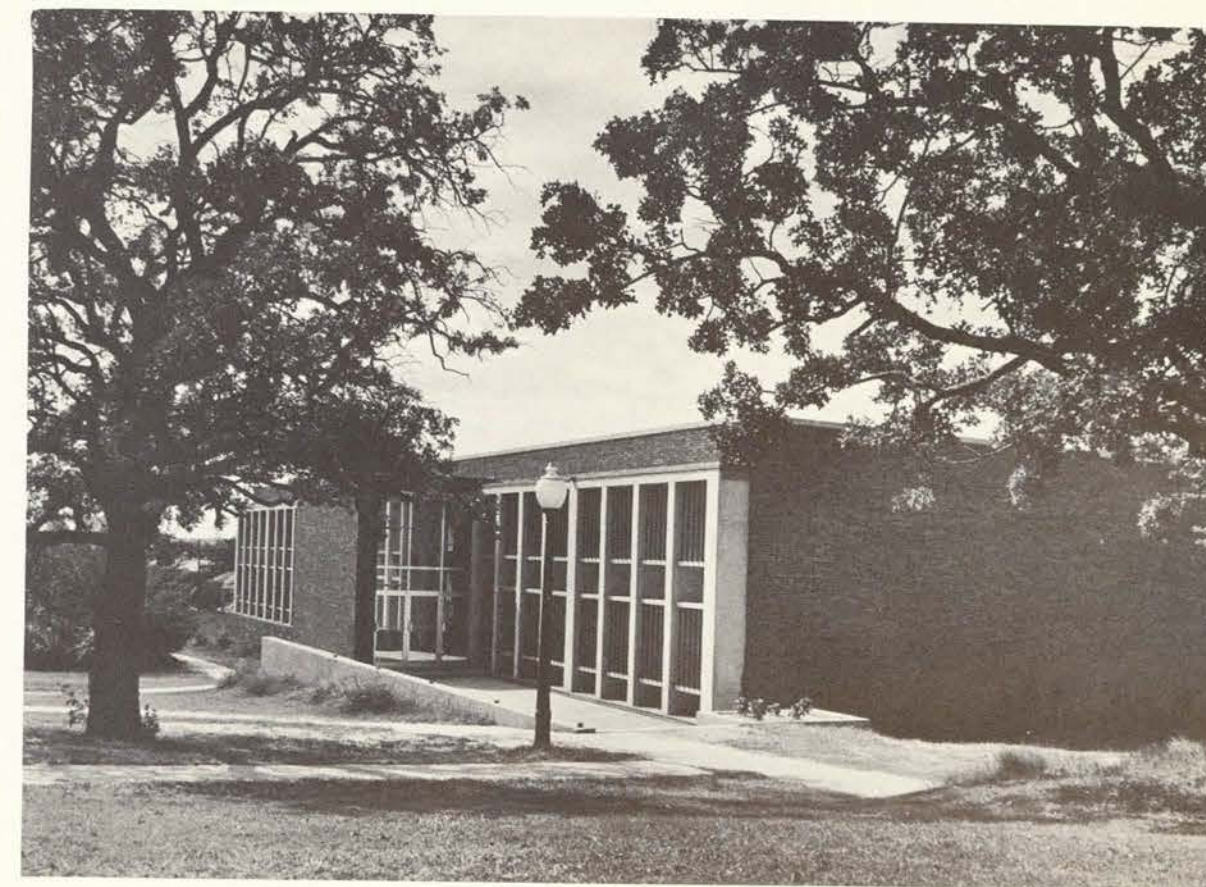

This was the library in September when students first returned to the campus, as seen from the mezzanine.

Spacious tables allow these students to be comfortable while reading and studying.

Preparing a research paper, this student uses the convenient tables at the end of each shelf in the stacks.

Beautifully landscaped, the Bralley Memorial Library, built in 1925, serves the purposes and needs of the University.

These alert students admire and describe their own talents in the mural which they have made for their school room.

Dem School Offers Students Modern Teaching Facilities

The TWU Demonstration School is a completely modern building located on Highway 24 parallel to the golf course. The structure includes a library, classrooms, therapy rooms and a combination dining room-auditorium.

The members of the staff of the Demonstration School have superior qualifications as teachers and supervisors. They provide excellent instruction for the pupils in the school as well as superior opportunities for observation and practical experience for University students in teacher education. Educational innovations in the Demonstration School have brought about changes in many public school programs.

The Texas Woman's University Demonstration School provides an opportunity for students majoring and interested in education to observe and work with school age children.

Dr. James D. Tyson, director of the Speech and Hearing Clinic, and a speech and hearing therapy major give this little patient a hearing examination.

TWU Prepares Therapists For 2 Fields of Service

The two training programs connected with the Speech and Hearing Clinic are designed to prepare therapists and teachers for two fields of service: (1) Developing understandable speech in speech handicapped children and (2) Developing language production and comprehension in deaf children.

Student therapists and teachers in the clinic gain valuable experience in working with communication-handicapped people as they provide needed therapy and instruction for children and adults who cannot understand their friends or cannot make their friends understand them.

The University, proud of its record as the first college in Texas to organize a program of professional training in the area of Speech and Hearing Therapy, has just completed an expansion of a course of study leading to complete professional certification for teachers of the deaf. Graduates are at work in the public school systems, in the Dallas and Fort Worth Societies for Crippled Children, the Veterans' Hospitals and the Dallas Speech and Hearing Center.

Educational Emphasis Placed On Campus by CGA

With the newly decorated Pub as its meeting place, the Campus Government Association started the year placing emphasis on the educational aspect of college life.

Enjoying a calendar full of activities, the sponsorship program, CGA welcoming committee and house visitations were the first of the new year's plans to help the new freshmen get off to a happy start. Next, the Gold Rush Carnival, in October with its two night stand netted the highest gross in the history of the event.

Student Council members, along with other representatives of the University, were hostesses at home town parties for high school students during the Christmas and Easter vacations. Then CGA hosted the Texas Intercollegiate Student Association which brought over 200 Texas student leaders to the campus.

A revision in Class Beauty elections and type of campus dress were some of the year's main topics for the student governing body.

A final, but well accepted project, was the welcome feeling given to TWU ex-students at Homecoming, April 27.

Dressed in the official University blazers are Woman's Recreation Association officers Becky Davila, vice president; Ann Condra, president; Val Marshall, secretary, and Nancy Bob Cleveland, treasurer.

"Come play the WRA way" invite WRA officers and sponsor Mrs. Kitty Magee.

WRA Sponsors All-Campus Recreation

Woman's Recreation Association enjoyed a year full of activities and events. The organization is a school-wide membership circle and sponsors many recreation activities to help students get the most out of their college days.

WRA sponsored such tournaments as basketball, baseball, swim marathons, tennis tourneys and badminton tournaments.

The association added a Fencing Club to their agenda this year. They also co-sponsored several invitational tournaments inviting schools from around the vicinity.

WRA printed blotters with the calendar of all their activities on it for the use of the students. This year they also had their minutes mimeographed for every board member so that they could have handy copies for interested students.

Included among their many activities were clinics where professional athletes came and lectured on winning techniques of such sports as tennis and golf.

The Woman's Recreation Association represents every student on campus. Membership to the WRA Board is done through elected dormitory representatives, there were two for each dorm this year, and club managers were chosen for each sports club on campus to complete the membership.

The outstanding activity for WRA is the awarding of the WRA cup at the Honors Day Assembly. The cup is awarded to the dorm who has scored the most points through participation and wins.

Checking points for their dormitories are WRA Board members Pepper Martin, Jan Gandt, Laurie Liccioni, Maria Ramirez, Bonnie Grantham, Virginia Gwosdz, Fran Johnson, Jeanne Schaffer, Toni Stasswender, Jo Lightsey and Paulette Wean.

Keeping the WRA B-Board in the Pub up to date are Board members Mary Lu Albee, Sharon Ault, Lamar Rodriguez, Penny Kasper, Sharon Pickett and Jo Anna Gray.

Dojo Club members do their reitsu rei, translated, "howdy" before beginning practice on their Judo techniques.

HPE&R faculty members warm-up in their most exerting manner before the annual WRA sponsored Faculty-Student Hockey Game.

During WRA Fun Night freshmen get a chance to try their ability at folk dancing. Mr. George Lowrey seems to be having fun, too.

"Stop going so high, Becky; I get air sick!" says Val Marshall as she and Becky Davila soar high into the old gymnasium during the WRA sponsored Stunts and Tumbling Club.

Members of the folk dance class practice dances and customs from many different countries.

"Ready, aim, fire!" say these two riflers as they practice perfect form and safety.

These archery enthusiasts learn the techniques of bow and arrow skill.

Students brush up on their weak points and abolish bad habits at the WRA sponsored tennis clinic.

"Gosh, what do I do; the ball's coming in my direction," concentrates a participation point conscious volleyball player. Smith-Carroll Hall won the WRA sponsored tourney.

This typical Tessie dressed in her chicken-callin' costume models the almost appropriate attire for the old fashioned Corn Huskin' Bee sponsored each year by the College of Health, Physical Education and Recreation and WRA.

"One, two, three, kick," chants Synchronized Swimmers as they prepare for their spring swimming tour.

Now let's not lob the ball, girls. Remember, the floor may cave in. These bowlers participated in the WRA Bowling Tourney.

Knights of the Round Table discuss plans for the Pre-Rush Tea held in October. They are Wanada Stevenson, vice president; Pené Tourville, treasurer; Carroll Baxter, president; Lila Carrow, treasurer, and Carolyn Lockman, parliamentarian.

RT Expands Goals During 1962-63 Term

The Round Table expanded its goals for guidance this year as it promoted educational emphasis during Pledge Week. Members made up of the presidents of all campus clubs worked to tighten co-ordination of every campus organization by keeping files on activities, officers and membership of all campus clubs. The Round Table co-ordinated a Christmas Project for the Denton State School.

All-Campus

Pledges from all the literary-social clubs gather to make Christmas favors for the Denton State School. This was a project set up by Round Table in order to have the TWU clubs do a service for the community.

Clad in sheets, Athenaeum members welcome guests to their Rush Party. An atmosphere of old Greece was created for the night.

"Now listen here, watch where you pin my name tag," seems to be on the mind of Kathy Bland at the Adelphian Literary-Social Club's Rush Party.

"Here you can have your cake and eat it too," smiles Emily Smith to Mary Jane McDuffie as Chaparral members enjoy their traditional steak fry for prospective members.

Delian pirates sponsored a treasure hunt for their Rush Party guests. Wearing patches over their eyes rushees bobbed for apples and had fun scavenger hunting while members warmed up by the fire.

Pat Ragan, Tina Lamborn, Velma Villegas and Jan Kuehl confer about the decorations for the SUB Ballroom where all-campus dances are held.

Jane Warhmund, Kay Frazier, Karen Glenn, Paula Ann Clark, Charmaine Lake and Betty Pond model appropriate dress for the first dance of the year, "Swingin' September."

66 All-Campus

Leading the Student Council of Social Activities through a successful year are Sallye Stapleton, secretary; Marilyn Jordan, vice president; Lynn Gresham, president, and Gail Pope, treasurer.

SCSA Sponsors Campus Social Functions

Meeting the social needs of TWU students is the main goal of the Student Council of Social Activities. "Swingin' September", featuring a back-to-school theme was the organization's first sponsored event of the year. Sponsoring the Aggie Sweetheart selection weekend was another busy time for the SCSA Council made up of representatives from each dormitory and club. The Pre-Corps Trip dance followed an Aggie led yell practice on the lawn of Hubbard Hall a few weeks later.

The orchestra of Tommy Dorsey played for the Christmas Formal, "Winter Beauty", at which time the Class Beauty finalists were presented.

Closing the festive and successful season for SCSA was the beautiful Redbud Festival, which featured the traditional coronation and dance.

SCSA Council members Mary Lou McCollum, Charlene Mabry, Kay Davis and Wilma Wallis write invitations to chaperones and guests to the Redbud Ball.

Lynn Gresham is the bearer of happy news for sophomore Ellen Mattison who was selected as an Aggie Sweetheart finalist. A week-end of excitement and fun was in the future for the 14 girls and visiting Aggies.

Tessies and their dates twisted and swung to the music of Shep Fields' Orchestra at the first dance of the season.

A formal dance in the Starlight Room of Rayzor Hall added to the luster of the Aggie Selection Weekend.

Off to A&M to invite the Aggies to the TWU campus for the Corps Trip weekend are Aggie Sweetheart Lynn Parks, SCSA President Lynn Gresham, Freshman Class representative Paula Rich, Junior Class representative Mary Lou McCollum and Senior Class representative Marilyn Jordan.

Harriet Crump anticipates an exciting weekend when the Aggies arrive on campus and for a yell practice, open house in the dormitories and a dance; then escort their dates to the Corps Trip Parade and football game in Dallas at the Cotton Bowl.

Relaxing in the SUB Rec Room are Aggies and Sweetheart Finalists after a picnic in Lowry Woods.

Campus SCRA Sponsors Weekly Chapel, Vespers

Striving for the spiritual guidance of each student is the goal of the Student Council of Religious Activities. A weekly vesper service in each dormitory and Sunday chapel services in the Little Chapel-in-the-Woods are SCRA's main activities throughout the year. The organization also sponsors Spiritual Development Day and an assembly with ministers of the different faiths as the main speakers. Students joined together to worship during the traditional Christmas candlelight service in each dormitory, the all-campus vespers and Easter sunrise service held on the lawn of the Little Chapel.

SCRA officers make plans for the all-campus vespers on the lawn of the Little Chapel-in-the-Woods.

Rev. Ben Hearn of the First Christian Church addressed the student body and introduced Denton ministers at the annual SCRA sponsored "Meet Your Minister" assembly.

SCRA Council members, officers and Mrs. Eva H. Mark, sponsor, were introduced to the student body during the Spiritual Development Day Assembly.

It's Dorm Break time during Special Study Week before finals and Student Finance Council officers Jackie Maddry, secretary, and Edna Perry, president, are anticipating profits from the sandwich, cookies and fresh fruit sale for future SFC scholarships.

SFC Sponsors First Two-Day Rummage Sale

This year for the first time in SFC history, the annual Rummage Sale and Auction was extended to two days. The sale helped to provide funds for scholarships for deserving students. In still another effort to gain funds for scholarships, SFC prompted traditional smiles and "howdys" at the Howdy Dinner. The annual Friendship Dinner was a success in 1963.

SFC membership is composed of a representative from each dormitory, whose function is to initiate fund raising activities which will allow students needing financial aid to attend the University. All campus organizations contribute to the SFC Scholarship Fund through campus pledges at the annual Gift Day.

Wanda Thompson and Dee Verway can't resist that invitation in their elevator to the Howdy Dinner.

Rummage in the form of bargains and exciting buys were available for Tessies at SFC's annual Rummage Sale in the Sub. SFC President Edna Perry and her council had the job of sorting the bargains to be put up for sale, to even untangle net from typewriter keys.

Hungry Howdy Dinner guests enjoyed a menu of barbecue, potatoe salad, spiced peaches, ranch-style beans, French bread and ice cream drum sticks.

"We're off to see the wizzard, the wonderful wizzard of E," was the song presented at the Howdy Dinner program on the steps of Hubbard Hall. Stars for the nights were Charline Hardin, Cyann Looney, Diane Wally, Jan Cunningham, Gerry Higgs, Rexanne D'Loach, Hazel Burnett and Sandra Brawley.

Winding up last minute details before the convention are TISA officers Priscilla Scott Hoffman, executive vice president, and Linda Lynn, executive secretary.

Preparing TISA files available for students to read in the Central Agency Office in the Sub are TISA Central Agency Director Lynn Schlegel and Central Agency Secretary Enid Daniels.

TWU Hosts TISA 15th Annual Convention

TWU was the site of the 15th Annual State Convention of the Texas Intercollegiate Student Association on February 28-March 2, 1963.

Central Agency and files for the 41 member Association of Texas Colleges and Universities is located on campus. The Association was founded in 1949 as a student government service organization dedicated to the ideal of providing educational means for developing qualities of vigorous leadership and responsible and informed citizenship.

Chairmen for the TISA convention on the TWU campus met to organize their plans and select students to work and help with the various committees.

A panel discussion, lead by student leaders from the representative schools, discussed such subjects as the philosophy of student government, the use of the committee system and methods of financing student government.

Visiting with Nancy Ann Edwards, Lynn Schlegel and Marilyn Jordan, hostess, is Democrat Don Yarbrough who spoke to the delegation on the first night of the convention.

Republican United States Senator John Tower spoke at the convention Saturday night. Senator Tower, formerly on the faculty of Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, met and talked with the delegates from that university.

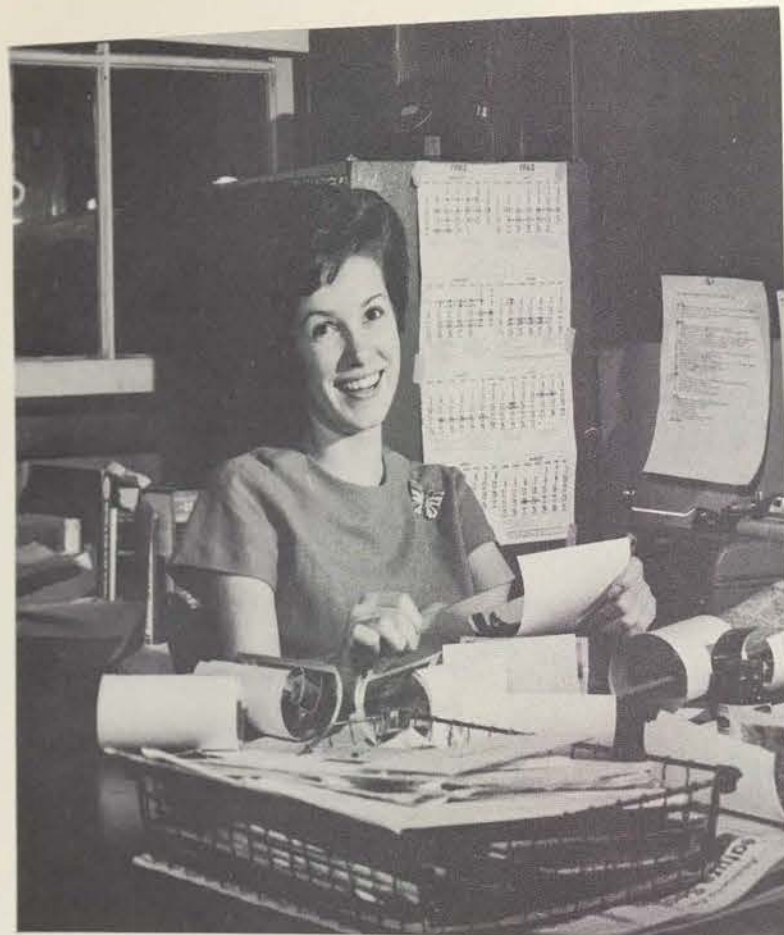

Registration for the 15th Annual State TISA Convention lasted two days.

Mrs. Kitty Magee, HPE&R professor and buzz group leader gives TISA convention delegates pointers on leadership principles and techniques.

Lass-O Strives to Encourage Individual Student Thinking

With communication as its purpose the campus newspaper, the Daily Lass-O, publishes five days a week and features campus and national news. Directed by Kathy Coffey, editor-in-chief, journalism majors gather, write, edit and help print daily news that not only entertains, but informs the student, faculty and administration population and encourages individual thinking. Its news columns cover the political, social, intellectual, cultural, religious, sport and recreational aspects of University life. Weekly, full pages are devoted to women's news, entertainment, a light, campus comment column and a religious column. The editorial page, bright with cartoons, features and feature pictures, comments thoughtfully on campus and national life in its editorials and letters to the editor. Daily, this page is edited and layed out by a different student day editor. On all-campus election night, the Lass-O publishes an "Extra" and has the record of putting out the 1963 "Election Extra" in three minutes. Every two weeks, editors plan and schedule the feature budget and discuss the paper's over-all plans and policies.

Eva Claire Holzmman Riggs served as Lass-O managing editor 1st semester and graduated in January.

Second semester managing editor Gail Wallace served as business manager 1st semester.

Lass-O reporters D'Eva Luthringer, Regina Kaufman, Shirley Buck, Judy Barneycastle, Linda Berlanga, Carolyn Shrum, Freda Oden, Peggy Armstrong and June Pope work together in compiling information for the Lass-O Election Extra.

Lass-O cartoonists Charline Hardin and Geneva Salsman dream up new cartoon ideas.

Photographers Judy Adamson and Judy Barneycastle check with Shirley Buck, photography editor, for assignments.

Reporter Sylvia Martin interviews Mrs. Ralph Yarbrough, a graduate of TWU, when she and her husband, United States Senator Ralph Yarbrough, visited campus in the fall.

Lass-O editorial assistants meet together to plan the next week's newspaper.

Daedalian Yearbook, Largest in TWU History

The goal of the 1963 Daedalian Yearbook staff members has been to give the students as complete a picture of their 1962-63 TWU year as they could.

Students from all four classes served as staff members, selling advertisements, sorting, scheduling and alphabetizing pictures, writing copy and picture captions, and planning art work. The Daedalian staff worked under the sponsorship of Mr. Frank Rigler, director of the Department of Journalism, and Penny Pickard was editor-in-chief.

The Daedalian sponsored the traditional Class Beauty presentation at the Christmas formal which was preceded by a Beauty Buffet in Hubbard Hall.

The expansion of the activity section, larger pictures in the class sections and wider coverage and changes in other areas have made the fifty-third volume of the Daedalian Yearbook the largest annual in the history of Texas Woman's University.

Publications

Receiving instructions and assignments for advertising selling from Ruth Palacios, advertising manager, are Charlotte Harris, Carmen Dominguez, Paulette Bogart, Mary Cantu and Mercy Ramos.

Student Material Printed In Daedalian Quarterly

The official literary magazine of TWU is the Daedalian Quarterly. The magazine prints some of the best essays, short stories and poems written by TWU students throughout the year in both classes and individually.

Members of the English Department edit and supervise the art work in the Daedalian Quarterly. Being the oldest southwestern college magazine, the Quarterly encourages students to use their creativity and imagination in writing different articles. Students are urged to submit their own work for possible publication in one of the issues of the Quarterly. Freshmen, as well as upper-classmen and graduate students, have their literary pieces published.

TWU News Bureau Keeps Home Papers Informed

One of the busiest centers on the University Campus is the News Bureau, which is located in the Journalism Building. The bureau sends out important news stories concerning students and faculty to the Denton paper and to hometown papers which are interested in TWU happenings.

Stunts, the literary-social club sing-song, elections and other news events provided special interest stories which the bureau sent out. The bureau also sends out stories on students who win honors or who participate in some outstanding event. The bureau is run by a secretary who uses student assistants to aid in the work.

University Press Prints Various Jobs for TWU

Serving the publication needs of the University is the University Press, which has its headquarters in the Journalism Building. Here complicated machinery does all the printing required by a university of the TWU size. Bulletins, catalogs, programs, invitations and the Daily Lass-O are all published by the press.

They also print the Daedalian Quarterly. The shop is well equipped with three Linotype machines, a Ludlow casting machine, a flat bed press, news press, two job presses, proof press and several high-speed cutters and folders to do all types of printing.

Mr. H. S. Church, linotype operator, sings happily as he prepares Daily Lass-O galleys.

Green, White A's Decorate Adelphian Parties

With a year full of green and white activities the Adelphian Literary-Social Club added another page to their list of memories. Pledge Week was their first big project as they kept their little pledges busy with many activities.

Entering the Volleyball Tourney sponsored by WRA and the Sing-Song contest was also on their year's agenda.

The purpose of the club is to study modern literature and with this in mind they centered their meetings around their goal. They also held parties during the year which gave the members a chance to socialize.

Aglaians Give Award To Top Three Pledges

Wearing the colors of blue and gold the Aglaian Literary-Social Club had a most enjoyable year of memories.

The first main activity of the club was pledge week when pledges could be seen running errands, writing letters and cleaning rooms. At the end of pledging the club held an initiation where awards were given to the best pledge, highest scholar, and the girl improving her average the most.

Aglaians also participated in the WRA sponsored Volleyball Tournament. They also entered the Sing-Song with their arrangement of Gypsy Rover.

Two other activities on their list included a donut sale and the final club outing where members "roughed it" for a weekend.

Aglaian officers greeting the guests at their Western Party are Gladys Jentsch, pledge captain; Annette LeCocq, treasurer; Martha Strittmatter, vice president; Tina Carrola, president; Pepper Martin, historian; Tina Lamborn, SCSA representative; Charlene Hardin, secretary and Dawn Chaney, pledge captain.

Athenaeum Sponsors First Literary-Social Sing-Song

Athenaeum started the year with films of Greece presented by guest speakers at pledge meetings for a pledge class of 32. Initiation followed shortly at the Torch Restaurant in Dallas. Mr. George Lowrey, club sponsor, gave the members an exciting evening of Greek folk dancing at the regular monthly meeting in February. During March, the members learned to operate efficiently in committees for the first of an annual all literary-social club Sing-Song sponsored by Athenaean.

April brought their Sing-Song, a seminar on leadership, and an evening of swimming with children from Cumberland Presbyterian Children's Home. The annual spring picnic in Lowry Woods in May also served as a faculty-student party.

The club insignia is an "A" on a torch, represented by the club silver drop. Club colors are blue and silver and the mascot is "the wise old owl," pet of the Greek goddess Athena, after whom the club is named.

Literary-Social

Chaps Join in Medley For L-S Sing-Song

Enjoying a year full of events was the Chaparral Literary-Social Club. During the year Chaps sponsored donut sales to build their treasury, held the traditional Honey Supper to initiate their new members and had an outing.

During the week of pledging "beep-beeps" indicated that the literary-social club with the blue and white colors was around. This year the club won the WRA awarded trophy at the Literary-Social Club Volleyball Tournament held in the new gym.

Chaps also participated in the first song contest with their rendition of a medley of Negro spirituals.

Entertaining at Chaps traditional steak fry are Nancy Edwards, secretary; Sandra Hunter Pearson, historian; Betsy Larkin, SCSA representative; Linda Lohrke, treasurer; Emily Smith, vice president, and Hazel Burnett, president.

Members of the Delians are (1st row) Betty Bullard, Carolyn Thumann, Wanda Gale Breedlove, Frances Casas, Helen Algarin, Diane Machado, Sandra Pinkerton, Estefana Silva, (2nd row) Jeannie Singleton, Nedra Laughlin, Mary Ann Bippes, Judy Beckett, Judy EnDean, Sandra Goehring, Annette Klammer, Terry Reagan, Jane Fitzgerald, Luann Jones, Judy Felthaus, Joann Adams, (3rd row) Laurie Fisher, Gail Brown, Gloria Williams, Jane Miller, Ruth Ann Haggard, Barbara Rogers, Betty Brown, Pat Farmer, Gail Graham, Carol Targett, Ann Wingert, Susie Wood and Jean Edwards.

Diane Wally, treasurer; Betty Bullard, historian; Ann Wingert, pledge captain; Susie Wood, president; Judy Felthaus, SCSA representative, and Gail Brown, secretary, show rush party guests the art of biting for apples.

Trip to 'Six Flags' On Delian Calendar

Delian Literary-Social Club members attended special programs and Concert and Drama Series programs as a group this year to stimulate interest and social life and to promote individual growth.

A spring picnic was given for the seniors and the club went as a group to visit "Six Flags Over Texas."

Delians in their black and red sweatshirts showing the club colors, participated in the literary-social club volleyball tournament and sing-song.

Sponsoring the Delians is Dr. Phyllis Abbott.

L'Allegro members are (seated) Elsa Diana Martinez, Wanda Winchester, Mable Kwong, Linda Lou Mather, Linda Joyce Bilton, (standing) Sharon Faye Wilbur, Frances Veale, Mary Aleva Smith, Carolyn Davidson and Mrs. Kenneth B. Loomis, sponsor.

L'Allegro Invites Guests 'To Come as a Record'

The purpose of the L'Allegro Literary-Social Club is to stimulate interest and understanding in the fields of music and art. The club was started in 1921 to develop better understanding of literature, art and music through the Concert and Drama series and other literary activities.

Meetings this year featured guest speakers and special programs. The literary-social club gave a tea for new faculty members and participated in the spring literary-social club sing-song.

As a different idea for a rush party theme, L'Allegros told guests to come as a record. The club's sponsor is Mrs. Kenneth Loomis.

"Come as a record!" said L'Allegro Literary-Social Club on invitations to their Rush party. Officers, as records, are Sylvia R. Salizar, secretary-treasurer; Mary Aleva Smith, president; Elsa Martinez, reporter-historian, and Sharon Faye Wilbur, vice president.

MEB members are (1st row) Lou Wescott, Joan Carbone, Julia Ward, Jane Turpin, Emily Ferguson, Jody Meuchel, Kathy Kasper, Carole Blaylock, Linda Berlanga, (2nd row) Mrs. Linnie Gifford, sponsor; Sherry West, Pat Smith, Jean Vester, Dr. Bettye Myers, sponsor; Mary Lou Vowell, Sandra Paddock, Joyce Goff, Sandra Arnett, Jeannine Penk, (3rd row) Pené Tourville, Jackie McElfresh, Sheila Gibbs, Vicki Brigman, Marge Criswell, Lynette Schroeder, Denetra Smith, Rowena Ely, Jane Ames, Kay Frazier, Oneta Donaldson, Pat Ragan, Phyllis Thurber, Carol Kutzer, Rosalind Ferguson, Alice Pierce, Delora Verway, Jackie Maddry, Carol Baker, Charlotte Buegler, Leah Sanders, Linda Jones and Karen Miller.

Ivy Serves as Symbol Of MEB Friendship

Mary Eleanor Breckenridge Literary-Social Club was organized in 1908 as the first literary-social club.

Members this year planned events for the busy year which included their traditional gypsy party held in Lowry Woods by a campfire and an initiation ceremony at the Commodore Motel.

MEB members sponsored a faculty tea and participated in the literary-social club sing-song in the spring.

The ivy is the symbol of the club and is given each year to every new member to signify lasting and growing friendship. The club's colors are gold and maroon and Mrs. Linnie Gifford and Dr. Bettye Myers are sponsors.

Philomathias Initiate Neel as New Sponsor

Philomathia Literary-Social activities during the 1963 school year emphasized the organization's purpose to develop an appreciation of art, literature and music and to sponsor social activities.

The traditional "Philo's in Hi Fi" rush party was given in the Sub Student Lounge and new members were initiated formally into the literary-social club during a banquet at the Commodore Motel. The club had their faculty tea honoring new faculty members in Mary Gibbs Jones living room. Philo members also sponsored their annual fashion show.

The green and gold seal of the club was on most every member's dormitory door and as a Philo tradition, pledges received a yellow rose from their big sisters upon becoming members of the club.

This year Philos, along with a new pledge class, initiated and put through the usual pledge duties, a new sponsor, Dr. Reba Neel.

Delphi Society Promotes Highest Student Attainment

Delphi Society, an all-campus service organization for upperclassmen, is a relatively new organization. The purpose of the organization is to promote scholarship, leadership and service to Texas Woman's University.

Members are selected on the above criteria at the end of each school year and are tapped by the graduating members. Each new member wears the mortar board for a week to signify her membership in this organization.

Sponsored by Dr. Lurline Lee, Mrs. Eva Mark and Dr. Phyllis Abbott, Delphi sponsored a coke party for those students who made the Dean's List. They also sponsored a coke party for the seniors elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Making plans for a year of activities are Bev Huston, treasurer; Becca McAlister, Kay Clarke, president; Dr. Abbott, Perc Scott Hoffman and Mrs. Mark.

Service

Pictured at the organization's banquet are Linda Taylor, Lana Smallin, secretary; 2nd row: Joan Carbone, pledge captain; Linda Ralton, president; Mary Alea Smith, secretary; and Pené Tourville, treasurer.

Library Science Majors Selected to Join ABA

Alpha Beta Alpha is the honorary library science organization. The purpose of the organization is to increase interest in library development, to foster professional spirit among students of library services and to promote enriching association among students specializing in the fields of library work.

The club heard guest speakers and attended lectures this year and for social enrichment held a banquet and a picnic.

High Scholarship Remains Goal of Alpha Chi Members

Under the name of Alpha Chi, the organization is open to upperclassmen with high scholarship achievements.

The purpose of the organization is to stimulate, develop and recognize scholarship and the elements of character which make scholarship effective.

The club is sponsored by Dr. Autrey Nell Wiley, Dr. Harlan Miller and Dr. A. Wallace Woolsey.

Initiating new members are Dr. James Newcomer, Sandra Hatchett, 1st semester secretary-treasurer and 2nd semester president; Dr. Woolsey, Barbara Mallow, vice president; Dr. Wiley, Patricia Taylor, 1st semester president, and Dr. Miller.

Honor

Discussing the program for a future club meeting are Dr. Ethelyn Davis, sponsor; Suzanne Sanders, president, and Mabeth Hallmark, vice president.

Alpha Kappa Delta Serves 'Soci' Scholars

Alpha Kappa Delta, an honorary organization for sociology majors, was formed to stimulate interest in the field of sociology. This is achieved through a democratic and non-secret organization.

Juniors and seniors who have maintained a B average throughout their university career are eligible for membership in the organization.

Alpha Lambda Delta Recognizes High Grades

The purpose of Alpha Lambda Delta is to recognize and encourage high scholastic attainment among freshmen students. With this in mind the organization promotes high standards of learning which encourages freshmen to maintain their scholastic excellence throughout their college careers.

Membership in the honorary organization is obtained from freshmen students with a 2.5 grade point average. New members are initiated during both fall and spring semesters at which time new pledges must don red dunce caps for a week. Each fall the organization sponsors a tea for freshmen valedictorians and salutatorians.

Alpha Lambda Delta officers are Jane Fitzgerald, president; Pat Robbins, vice president; Mary Ann Sheister, secretary, and Oletha Jean Edwards, treasurer.

Sciences Present Challenges To Tri Beta Members

Beta Beta Beta, the biological sciences honorary fraternity, has the purpose of providing an honorary society for students of the biological sciences and thereby to stimulate sound scholarship, to promote the dissemination of scientific truth, and to encourage investigation in the life sciences.

During the year the tri Betas met and discussed the opportunities afforded them through science. They also held social meetings to help them become better acquainted with one another.

Greeting members to their meeting are Karen Pennington, treasurer; Virginia Craig, historian; Nancy Craemer, secretary; Nancy Craig, vice president, and Meade Doyle, president.

Looking through the exhibits at the Art Building are Mary Ann Jurcak, historian; Sandra Stamper, secretary; Kay Clarke, vice president, and Nancy Macon, president.

Delta Phi Delta Sponsors Daily Coffee Sales

Promoting interest in art, particularly American art, among college students and in communities at large is the purpose of Delta Phi Delta, honorary art chapter on the campus.

The chapter sponsored coffee sales in their department to help send a delegate to the 1963 National convention. They also contribute to the national scholarship fund.

Through the special projects of the club, students are made to feel the need of a broader knowledge of art.

Discussing plans for their next meetings are Ruth Ann Haggard, corresponding secretary; Betty McClean, reporter; Ramona Puckett, president; Helen Reid, vice president; Patricia Williams, secretary-treasurer, and Andy Ma, historian.

TWU Chemistry Interests Promoted by Iota Sigma Pi

The purpose of Iota Sigma Pi is to promote interest in chemistry among women students. The club also strives to foster mutual advancement in academic, business and social life; and to stimulate personal accomplishment in chemical fields. The organization includes all levels of academic achievement beginning at the undergraduate level.

Kappa Mu Epsilon Social Honors Department Freshmen

Kappa Mu Epsilon, mathematics fraternity, started the year with a social honoring the transfer and freshmen students majoring in mathematics.

The purpose of the organization is to further interest in mathematics in those schools which place their primary emphasis on the undergraduate program; to help the undergraduate realize the important role that mathematics has played in the development of western civilization; to develop an appreciation of the power and beauty possessed by mathematics and to provide a society for the recognition of outstanding achievement in mathematics on the undergraduate level.

Looking through one of KME's old scrapbooks are Gwen Ballard, secretary; Carolyn De Vries, vice president, and Lois Hinze, president.

KAM 'Shoots' Students During Campus Functions

Kappa Alpha Mu had a very active year as the photographic fraternity on campus. Most of the school wide functions were attended by the members who set up picture booths and took pictures of all the students who wanted a picture.

They also set up a booth during the Gold Rush Carnival that attracted many people to it.

This year the chapter sent two delegates to their national convention in Washington, D. C. The chapter also took many of the club pictures for the annual.

Sponsoring a doughnut sale was another money making project for the year.

Miss Carlotta Corpron, art professor, shows some of her pictures to Nancy Glenn, vice president; Betty Nipp, executive secretary; Valerie Meston, president; Judy Barneycastle, treasurer, and Shirley Buck, corresponding secretary.

Preparing for an initiation ceremony are Wanda Breedlove, secretary; Nancy Glenn, vice president, and Annette Gooch, president.

Freshman Scholars Join Omega Rho Alpha

Omega Rho Alpha membership consists of those students who are English majors and have made all A's in freshman English, have their writings published in the Daedalian Quarterly or whose papers are selected to be read on the Freshman Writer's Program. This organization has sponsored book reviews, the Freshman Writer's Program and other activities to encourage students to improve their scholarship every year.

Phi Alpha Theta Members Recognized in 'Historian'

Phi Alpha Theta, national honor society for history majors and minors, encourages the study of history and recognizes excellence in that field.

The Eta Nu Chapter holds two initiations a year. To be eligible members must have a high scholastic standing in history.

Members of the organization are recognized in "The Historian," the group's official magazine, for outstanding attainments in the field of history.

Mr. Harral E. Landry, history instructor and new to TWU this year, is the organization's sponsor.

Phi Alpha Theta members catching up on the latest news from the "J" Department are Shelby Miller, Judy Kellow, Alberta Garcia, Donna Smith, Linda Mitchell Blase, reporter-historian; Mojie Adler, Debbie Hart, Erma Wentworth, president; Perc Scott Hoffman, Lynn Schlegel, Gail Ratliff and Barbara Cameron.

Phi Sigma Iota Members Present Literary Papers

With the purpose to recognize outstanding ability and attainment in romance languages and literature and to promote a feeling of friendship between our own nation and the nations using these languages Phi Sigma Iota members strive to carry out these purposes through their activities during the year.

Sponsored by Dr. A. W. Woolsey, the club members were each required to present a literary paper on any phase of literature before the rest of the members.

During the Festival of Nations they also sponsored a booth full of books, magazines and other literary forms which they sold to interested spectators.

Phi Upsilon Omicron Sponsors Foreign Dinner

Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics society, highlighted the year with their traditional foreign dinner and by fixing goodies for the Denton State School.

The purpose of the organization is to promote and advance the ideals of home economics, especially through high academic standards, leadership and the personal development of the individual members.

They hold two initiations during the year; one in the spring and one in the fall.

Discussing future plans for the organization are Mary Ann Landess, editor of the Candle; Donna Thedford, recording secretary; Janie Hott, corresponding secretary; Judy EnDean, president, and Roberta Watters, chaplain. Sitting are Ruth Nichols, vice president; Barbara Rogers, treasurer, and Madeline Whitten, librarian.

Pi Lambda Theta Gives State School Christmas Party

Pi Lambda Theta, the prospective teachers honorary fraternity, had planned programs in their agenda during the year. They also sponsored a Christmas Party for the children at the Denton State School.

The organization sponsors an initiation each fall and spring semester.

Sponsored by Mrs. Marion de Coligny the purpose of the organization is to foster professional spirit and to seek and maintain the highest standard of scholarship and professional preparation. They also strive to develop professional fellowship among women engaged in education and encourage graduate work and stimulate research in accordance with their purposes.

Honor

Enjoying a minute of relaxation are Margaret Baker, secretary-treasurer; Wilhemina Lott, Charline Hardin, Lila Sumida, president, and Carole Creed.

'OT' Profession Sponsors Pi Theta Epsilon Fraternity

Phi Theta Epsilon is the occupational therapy honor fraternity. The organization provides an opportunity for the members to come closer through social and educational development.

Every year the club accepts new members into the chapter and strives to keep their aims high.

Leaving for a lecture at one of the other nearby campuses are Mrs. Gladys Drake, Lenal Boehme, vice president; Gail Scofield, treasurer; Thalia Conroy, president; Alicia Salinas, reporter; Karen Otteman, executive board; Annette LeCocq, executive board, and Mary Jane McDuffie, executive board.

Honor

Practicing their musical ability are Carol Godwin, secretary; Patricia Cruse, president; Portia Haynes, vice president; Patsy Northcutt, Connie Smith, treasurer; Marcia Ellis and Bonnie Tancre.

High Scholastic Rating Required for Sigma Pi Beta

Sigma Pi Beta has the purpose of honoring those students in the Department of Business and Economics who have a high scholastic rating.

Membership into this organization is according to high scholastic achievements both in over-all courses and in the field of business and economics.

Sigma Alpha Eta Members Participate in Conference

The purpose of the speech and hearing society, Sigma Alpha Eta, is to create and stimulate an interest among students in the field of speech and hearing rehabilitation; to encourage professional growth by providing learning experience outside the normal course of study, and to build wholesome public relations with other college departments and with local organizations interested in the field of speech and hearing therapy.

One of the organization's main activities was the Mid-Winter Speech Conference in which the members of this organization participated. During the year they also heard many guest speakers and also combined meetings with other chapters to gain more educational knowledge on their field.

Planning the agenda for their next Sigma Pi Beta meeting are Mary Lou Mooney, secretary-treasurer, and Jean Bobo, president.

Sigma Alpha Iota Members Usher at Music Programs

To form groups of representative women who will, through their influence and their musical interest, uphold the highest ideals of a musical education; to raise the standards of productive musical work among the students of TWU, and to further the development of musical interest and understanding between foreign countries and America whenever possible are the purposes of Sigma Alpha Iota.

The honorary musical fraternity also gives moral and material aid to its members and strives to promote and dignify the music profession.

Sigma Alpha Iota members usher at the recitals put on by the Department of Music and attend as many of the Chamber Recitals as possible.

Promise of future usefulness

On the basis of the above criteria, 30 students were selected by a student-faculty committee to be named to WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES. Each department had nominated its candidates to the committee, and upon selection, names were sent to the organization's headquarters for approval. Those selected will find their names published in the national periodical published by WHO'S WHO and are eligible to use the placement service of the organization.

Hundreds of schools across the nation participate in the program. Thus the honor is twofold: the distinction is recognized nationally and locally.

The 1963 Daedalian presents with pleasure those students who have merited selection to WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES.

GLYNNIDIA SUE BAILEY

A felicitous laughter marks the personality of Glynnidia Sue Bailey, an elementary education major from Lonoke, Ark.

To Glynnidia, the elementary grades are the most important in a child's education because here his future attitudes toward school are formed. In and out of classes, the Dean's List student finds education her forte, because she is president of Pi Lambda Theta (teacher organization) and member of the Association for Childhood Education and the Student Education Association. The vivacious senior is a member of Aglaian Literary-Social Club.

JEAN LANG BOBO

Although secretarial work has been the main interest of Jean Bobo, she has found that TWU has given her a broad education and has expanded her interests.

A member of Omega Rho Alpha (society for freshman English students), the brownette has since included activity with the Lass-O Band among her interests. This year has seen the Brownwood native as president of Sigma Pi Beta (business scholastic fraternity), member of Professional Business Women's Club and Tau Pi Phi (business-economics organization). In addition, the senior's name has appeared on the Dean's List.

BARBARA ANNE CAMERON

A government major with strong interest in music characterizes Barbara Cameron, native of Orange.

While at TWU, the vivacious brunette is best known for her role as delegate to the Model United Nations convention in Austin and also as chairman of the CGA Current Affairs Committee. Although secretary-treasurer of the History Club and member of the Citizenship League, Barbara has in the past performed with the Lass-O Band, Redbud Band, Serenaders and served as vice president of Tau Beta Sigma (band fraternity). Need it be added that she is a Dean's List student?

JANE McDAVID CHILDRESS

Jane McDavid Childress, a January graduate, who has since become Mrs. Mark Harvey, has combined majors of English and government, taking an active role in both while including musical activities (Modern Choir) for good measure. As a senior she served as president of the English Club, vice president of Sigma Tau Delta (English society), treasurer of the Citizenship League and member of Round Table. The auburn-haired miss is a native of Overton.

KAY CLARKE

Friendly, freckled-faced Kay Clarke, from Fort Stockton, believes art can teach people to use refinements and unity and apply them to their own lives. "This way life becomes more meaningful; it becomes an art in itself," says the smiling senior. Since she was struck with infantile paralysis at the age of 14, Kay has decided on a teaching career in art, only one of her interests. For in addition to being an Art Club member, Delta Phi Delta vice president (art fraternity) and co-editor of the Daedalian Quarterly, Kay belongs to Alpha Chi (honorary group) and serves as Delphi Society vice president (prospective Mortarboard).

KATHRYN COFFEY

Unrivalled opportunities wait at TWU, testifies Kathy Coffey, journalism-English major from Sulphur Springs. And opportunities to the brown-eyed miss have not gone wanting for she led her class as sophomore president and the school as CGA secretary and editor of the Daily Lass-O. The Philomathia member's charm and optimism have made her a popular lass both on and off campus for she has been a Redbud princess, Aggie Sweetheart nominee and delegate to the Southern Conference on National Affairs. She is a member of Delphi Society (prospective Mortarboard) and Theta Sigma Phi (fraternity for women in journalism).

THALIA CONROY

"Your career becomes as much a part of your personality as do your ideals in education, your formative environment and religion," Thalia Conroy, speech and hearing therapy major from Mt. Pleasant, believes. Certainly, her activities show that her career is part of her life now. In addition to serving as president of Sigma Alpha Eta (speech and hearing society), she is vice president of Pi Lambda Theta (prospective teacher group) and a member of Zeta Phi Eta (speech and drama organization). The vivacious redhead has participated in Stunts and has made the Dean's List and "B" Average List consistently.

PATRICIA ANN CRUSE

Music strikes the dominant chord in the activities of Pat Cruse, Waco music education major. The soft-spoken senior says of her major interest, "Music is the most complex art because it must be studied, played and heard to be understood, yet it can simply be heard and felt to be appreciated." She performs with the Lass-O Band, Serenaders and her church choir, and still finds time to serve as president of Sigma Alpha Iota (music group), treasurer of Tau Beta Sigma (band society) and member of the Music Club.

JUDITH ALICE ENDEAN

Teaching, according to Judith EnDean, home economics major from Houston, provides satisfaction "of helping girls understand a subject which will be part of their lives always." A sophomore transfer from Pennsylvania, the Delian club member has since filled leadership roles both on and off campus. She has served as an officer in the Methodist Student Movement and as Phi Upsilon Omicron president (home economics group), representing the local chapter at the National Conclave in Georgia. She is vice president of the Home Economics Education Club and is a Dean's List scholar.

NANCY JO FISHER

The running thread of activity through the years, for Nancy Fisher, clothing and merchandising major from San Antonio, has been in the Student Council of Religious Activities. Rising from member to treasurer to president, the attractive blonde's leadership of SCRA has brought her both respect and admiration. In addition, the Aglaian Literary-Social Club member, who designs and makes most of her clothes, is a member of the Clothing and Textile Club and holds the Lorch Manufacturing Company Senior Scholarship.

CAROL ANN FOSTER

An interest in liberal arts directed Carol Ann Foster, a native of Orange, to the English field. But music has had a magnetic pull on her time, too, for she has served as president of the Modern Choir and manager of the Lass-O Choraliers, USO Caribbean tour group. A past president of Chaparral, she lists counselor and Stunts music director among her activities here. As a senior she serves as president of Sigma Tau Delta (English fraternity) and is a member of Delphi Society (prospective Mortar Board chapter).

ANNELLE GLEASON

Annelle Gleason, secretarial administration major from Hico, wanted more than basic office skills, so she came to TWU for a broad general background in education.

She serves as treasurer of the Professional Business Women's Club, and is a member of Tau Pi Phi (business-economics organization), Sigma Pi Beta (scholastic business organization) and Alpha Chi (upperclassman honorary scholastic society). The attractive miss has served as student assistant in the Business and Economics Department and in the Office of the Dean of Women.

SANDRA HATCHETT

Art history is of special interest to Sandra Hatchett, art education major from Fort Worth, who feels that the art of culture reflects a people's way of life. Transferring to TWU her sophomore year, Sandra's accomplishments and activities have included being Daedalian art editor, member of Alpha Chi (scholastic fraternity), Delta Phi Delta (art fraternity) and Citizenship League. Her parents had the first formal wedding in the Little Chapel In-the-Woods and Sandra and her twin brother, now attending medical school in Dallas, were christened there.

PATRICIA HAZELRIGG

Adaptability plus is one feature of a nurse, and Pat Hazelrigg, nursing major, feels that she has gained this important quality and more through her study. The friendly Lafayette, La., native serves as secretary-treasurer of the Senior Nursing Class at the Houston Clinical Center and is a member of the Texas Students Nurses' Association and Citizenship League. A "B" Average List scholar, Pat participated in Gold Rush, Corn Huskin' and the Swim Marathon during her semester on campus this year.

PRISCILLA SCOTT HOFFMAN

The Texas Intercollegiate Student Association convention which convened at TWU this spring was largely a result of the effort of petite Priscilla Scott Hoffman, who served as TISA executive vice president this year. Originally from Sedalia, Mo., the hazel-eyed student's capabilities have resulted in an accumulation of honors for she is a member of Delphi Society (prospective Mortar Board), Alphi Chi (scholastic society) and Phi Alpha Theta (history society). A Chaparral Literary-Social Club member, "Perc" was married to Charles Hoffman, a design engineer, in December.

BEVERLY ANN HUSTON

"I like to think of my work," says Beverly Huston, speech and hearing therapy major, "as not being missionary work, but helping those who have a deficiency to overcome this with training and help." As CGA vice president and a serious student, the vivacious Fort Worth native has blended leadership and learning well. A Chaparral and member of Delphi Society (prospective Mortar Board), she is also active in Zeta Phi Eta (speech and drama society), Sigma Alpha Eta (speech and hearing society) and Pi Lambda Theta (prospective teacher organization).

GLADYS JENTSCH

A blonde, dynamic leader rose to the head of her class as president, and seniors found Gladys Jentsch's enthusiasm catching. A friendly, cheerful leader, the sociology major transferred to TWU from Concordia Lutheran College where she was a member of the Speech Club, Pep Club and the annual staff. At TWU, the Aglaian is also a member of the Citizenship League and Sociological Society. She says of social work, "I would like to strive for a deep love and understanding of each person I come into contact with and accept their beliefs and ideas as individuals."

DIANA DEATHERAGE JOHN

"The most rewarding asset of occupational therapy," says Diana Deatherage John of her major, "is the understanding that there is something I can offer the patient and help him to obtain by himself." Diana, a Houston native, will join her husband in Kansas City, Mo., after she finishes clinical training. The Delian member is a student member of the Texas and American OT Associations and Pi Theta Epsilon (OT organization). Among her host of laurels she lists counselorship, Redbud princess and membership in the Methodist Student Movement.

MARILYN JORDAN

To an elementary education major, such as Marilyn Jordan, nothing is more rewarding than "seeing a child grasp what you have been trying to teach him, seeing the light finally dawn." And not only in education has the blue-eyed brunette from Mesquite found rewards, for even before her senior year, she was an Aggie Sweetheart finalist, Philomathia president, one of the 10 best dressed and, for two years, Stunts co-author. As a senior she has served as Student Council for Social Activities veep and as Philomathia SCSA representative.

REBECCA ARLETTE MCALISTER

Helping others help themselves is the goal of CGA President Rebecca McAlister, sociology-speech therapy major from Wellington, Kan. A member of Chaparral, the tall, blonde Kansan has found areas of action in the school at large, in organizations and in class events. Chosen to be a member of Delphi Society (prospective Mortar Board), Becca is also a member of Alpha Kappa Delta and Zeta Phi Eta, societies for sociology and speech, respectively; she has previously served as junior TISA representative and has been author, choral director and director of Stunts.

BETTY BOLTON MCCLELLAN

Betty McClellan, chemistry major from Bryan, has found the adage, "the more you learn the more there is to know," quite true, and began working on her master's degree this spring. The former counselor is qualified to judge the saying, for in scholarship, she has made quite a mark: All A's List, Dean's List and Alpha Chi (honorary scholarship). She has served as president and reporter of Iota Sigma Pi (chemistry society) and Kappa Mu Epsilon treasurer (math group). Betty married Joe McClellan, a music education major at NTSU, in 1961.

PENELOPE ANN PICKARD

Deadlines for the Daedalian set the pace for Penny Pickard, journalism major from Richardson, who edited the 1963 Daedalian. Pert, blonde Penny lists interests in the yearbook since her freshman year when she was a class editor. As a sophomore and a Redbud princess she served as Capps Hall secretary, and as a junior, Chaparral treasurer, Daily Lass-O staff member and on her class' executive board. After serving a summer as a Texas Daily Newspaper Association intern, vivacious Penny returned to TWU and to membership in Theta Sigma Phi (fraternity for women in journalism) and Kappa Mu (photo club).

RAMONA ROSE PUCKETT

Both church and campus activities have found in Ramona Puckett, chemistry major from Marlin, a more than able leader. Her work as Iota Sigma Pi president (chemistry society), is balanced by teaching Sunday School, membership on the church music committee and leader of the Married Young People's Training Union. The Dean's List student works part time as a chemist at Morrison's Flour Mills. She was married in 1960 to Norman Puckett, an insurance representative.

EVA HOLZMANN RIGGS

The University printshop has provided floor space for the pacing of Eva Riggs, journalism major from New Braunfels, who served as Daily Lass-O managing editor first semester. Former Daedalian advertising manager, she was treasurer of Theta Sigma Phi (fraternity for women in journalism) and a member of Delphi Society (prospective scholastic) and class executive board. Winner of the Citizenship League Essay contest, Eva Claire rejoined her husband, Lt. Robert E. Riggs, a jet fighter pilot, in February.

BARBARA ROGERS

A transfer to TWU her sophomore year, Barbara Rogers has risen to positions of leadership in her field of home economics education. A native of Brownwood, Barbara serves as Home Economics Club president, as historian of Phi Upsilon Omicron (home economics society), and as a member of Alpha Chi (upperclassman scholastic), Delian Literary-Social Club and the Methodist Student Movement. Recipient of the Danforth Summer Award, Barbara was also named TWU nominee of "home economist of the year" to the Texas Home Economics College Clubs.

LYNN SCHLEGEL

Vivacious Lynn Schlegel, history and government major from Houston, has found student government practical training for her major. As a junior she served as vice president of her class and as a delegate to the Model United Nations. Much of her energy this year was channeled through her position as Central Agency director of the Texas Intercollegiate Student Association and through membership on Student Council. A "B" Average List student, Lynn is a member of History Club, Citizenship League and Chaparral Literary-Social Club.

NANCY PEACOCK SEVIER

Occupational therapy has not only become the career goal of Nancy Peacock Sevier, but it also has provided the cheery student with outstanding opportunities. Last summer she was a student assistant in the OT section of the Visiting Nurse Association in Washington, D.C. and she attended the World Federation of Occupational Therapists in Philadelphia under an Office of Vocational Rehabilitation Traineeship. President of Pi Theta Epsilon (OT society), Nancy was married to Mike Sevier in December and after clinical training, she will join him in Washington, D.C.

LANA KAY SMALLIN

A library science major from Lubbock, Lana Kay Smallin lists children's libraries as her special interest, perhaps stemming from helping organize a school library when in the sixth grade. As a TWU student, the slender brownette became recipient of the Teen-Age Library Association Scholarship. Alpha Beta Alpha (library science society) lists her as secretary, and she is a member of Pi Lambda Theta (prospective teachers) and Delian Literary Social Club. Lana serves as International Student Chairman of the BSU.

MARY EMILY SMITH

An interest in Girl Scouts led Emily Smith to the field of recreation and TWU as a sophomore transfer. But her activities have not been confined to only her major. The popular miss served as chairman of CGA Student Affairs Committee, Mary Gibbs Jones Hall secretary, general co-chairman of Gold Rush Carnival and Chaparral veep. In her major department's activities, she is a member of the WRA Executive Board, performing Folk Dance Club and the HPE&R Professional Club. And she still finds time for voluntary Girl Scout work at the Denton State School!

PATRICIA ANN TAYLOR

Jolly good humor, laughter and a lab jacket — these three things mark Pat Taylor, biology major from Abilene. "Education is a never ending process, not confined to formal courses and not ending with graduation," Pat believes, and her education has touched many fields at TWU. Serving as president of two honorary clubs — Delphi and Alpha Chi —, the effervescent student is also a member of Newman Club, Beta Beta Beta (biological organization) and Student Education Association. She is a microbiological research assistant and CGA Honor Code chairman.

Activities

Student leaders spent a few days before school opened at a retreat. Days for the Student Council members were filled with discussion and University Review rehearsals, and nights were wet! Agree Nancy Ann Edwards, Edna Perry, Lynn Gresham and (is it?) Perc Scott Hoffman!

Freshman Shelia Carrington anticipates no days of just studying and exams. Notice the stuffed animals and popcorn popper.

And then there was freshman Becky Burk. She arrived that first day in a custom built bus!

The first question the '66 newcomer asks is, "Where do I buy my beanie?" Then, "What size beanie do I wear?" She is reassured as friendly Mr. Lester Robertson, bookstore manager, helps her purchase her freshman symbol.

The Campus Government Association sponsored a welcome and orientation session for the freshman Sunday evening. The purpose? To answer those many questions and to give all a chance to become acquainted.

CGA members Nancy Fisher, SCRA president, and Kathy Coffey, Daily Lass-O Editor, greet freshman Robin James and her grandmother.

Tours of the campus for the newcomers were sponsored by Delphi Society and led by students selected by each department. Refreshments were served in the departments at the end of the hikes and students were able to meet and talk with faculty members.

School Opens, Freshmen Greeted

Freshmen, gathered together for the first time at Monday's orientation, were introduced to Dr. John Guinn, University president, Dr. Lurline M. Lee, dean of women, and other administrators. Those eighteen girls in the white beanies with "CGA" instead of "66" were also introduced. '66ers had their first chance to perform in the traditional TWU manner by singing a few Tessie favorites and then began their soon to be familiar chant, "Yea maroon, Yea white, come on freshmen, you're all right."

Freshmen entered Hubbard Hall, slowly but finally, to register for the first semester of their university careers. They came out of Hubbard Hall, some the same morning, some that evening, some after two days, the largest Freshman Class in the history of TWU.

Registration, Fun Night for All

Miss Jessie Sim, ready for those at the end of the first line, reassures '66ers that all they have to do now is fill out each card properly and stand in the next line.

Freshmen take time to sit down and relax, while upper-classmen have mastered the technique of writing while standing in line.

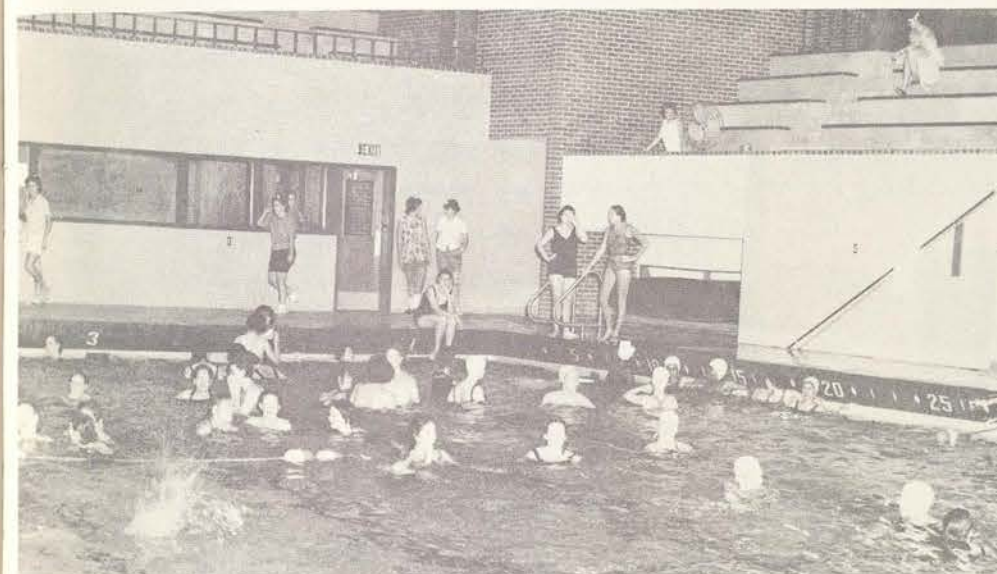

Registration is a task for all! Then comes that senior year when you wanted to take all those electives and still need thirty hours of required subjects plus student teaching!

The WRA Council and sponsor, Mrs. Kitty Magee, entertain their Fun Night audience with song . . .

. . . and dance by the Folk Dance Club.

Freshmen soon "get in the swim" of activities, getting acquainted with the CHPE&R's modern indoor pool.

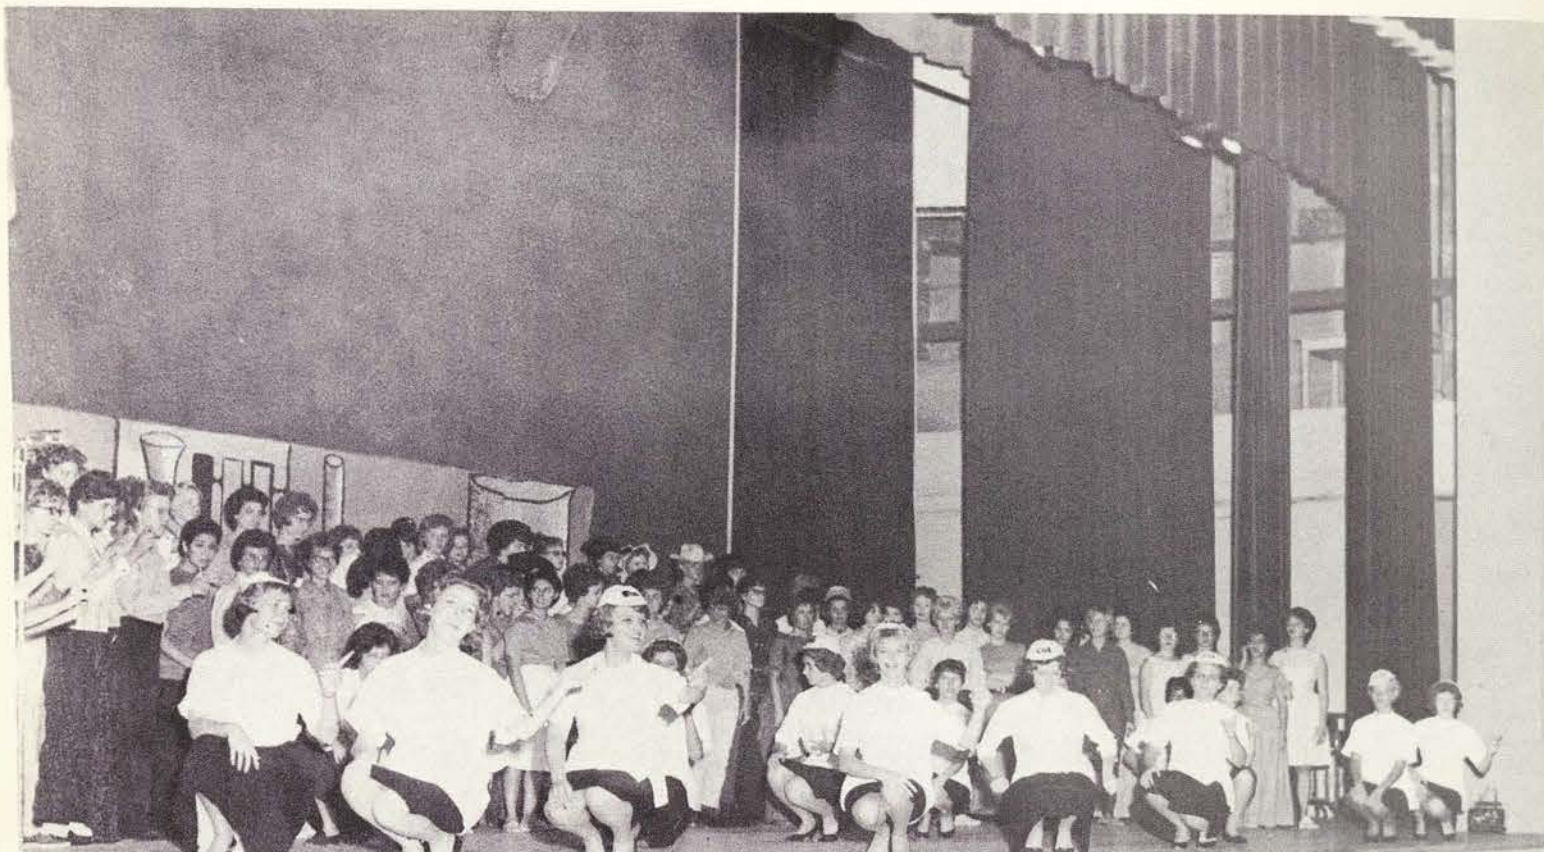

New students, honored at the President's Reception in Hubbard Hall, met and talked with members of the administration and student leaders at the first dress-up event of the year.

Ann Condra, WRA president, welcomes new and old Tessies to WRA Fun Night and invites all to "come play the WRA way."

"You now see what's coming up, what lies before you; not only in '63, but four years ahead," sing CGA's Scientessies as they present their University Review of the year ahead titled "Formula '66."

Texas A&M yell leaders join SCGA President Lynn Gresham and CGA President Becca McAlister in the traditional Aggie spirit and "saw varsity's horns off."

Lantern Parade Turns into Review

Becky Davila, Lantern Parade general chairman, and freshmen prepare the giant lantern displayed in front of the Education Building for the event.

Representing the Freshman Class, Annarene Kelley accepts the traditional lantern from CGA President Becca McAlister as the "symbol of the TWU light of friendship."

Upperclassmen following in the Lantern Parade custom begun in 1922, hand their lanterns of friendship to the Class of '66 at the top of the campus hill, and members of all four classes sing and wind the parade down the hillside.

Weary Lantern Paraders join in the sing-song on the steps of the Main Aud, some becoming acquainted with and others remembering the traditional class songs.

"I'll lend you my recipe," promises Dr. Guinn as he gleams with pride at the '62-'63 CGA members.

Activities Stress Fun

At the annual President's Picnic on the back lawn of Dr. Guinn's home, freshmen found heaping quantities of food and fun. A menu was served of fried chicken, potatoe salad, hot rolls, fruit salad, pickles, olives and cokes and even second and third helpings!

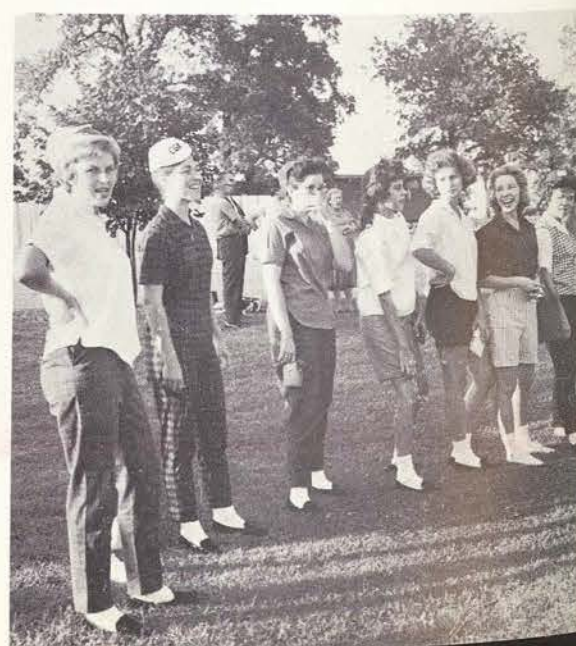

At X-hour, '66 beanies had first chance at the cokes and cookies and then were serenaded by songs from upperclassmen stunts.

Wild cries of enthusiasm and showers of maroon and white beanies fell on the back lawn of Dr. and Mrs. Guinn's home when CGA announced beanie time was "no more."

Everyone had their fun at the picnic, even administration members who had to sit on chairs.

"So, when do we get to eat?" wonders Senior Class president, Gladys Jentsch.

Trampolining was popular among the co-ordinated freshmen picnickers, while others found other interests—like just watching.

That Class of '66 talent begins to spring up, even as early as the President's Picnic.

Students dig hopefully into bargains awaiting them at the annual Student Finance Council's Rummage Sale. Items such as gym clothes, curtain rods and "B" boards are popular buys for the bargain hunting Tessies. Profits from the sale go toward SFC scholarships.

BEWARE OF X-HOUR! That moment when . . . "all freshmen on your knees!" The occasion? The last official welcome of freshmen to University life by faculty, administration, upperclassmen and Denton citizens.

The X-Hour bonfire blazed as the sirens roared and beanie-clad freshmen streamed from dorm row to Lowry woods. There the surprised '66ers found friendly upperclassmen ready for a traditional Tessieland sing-song. Not hardly what they expected!

Soopstone man and the Soopstone woman (sophomore entertainers) presented a skit for the X-Hour crowd. Then Dr. Quinn reminded the newcomers that homework was coming soon.

Administration, faculty and seniors were entertained and well fed when the sophomores treated their sister class at the annual Senior Breakfast, and all rode back to memories on "Streetcar '63."

Breakfast, Dance; Meetings Start

Senior special education majors meet with some of the youngest residents of the Denton State School on a visitation.

Fall, winter or spring, on a pretty Saturday, Tessies go cycling.

Maid of Cotton nominees from TWU are Bessie Barecky, Judy Rotramel, Helen Hensley, Eleanor Elwood and Sue Kinney. Miss Elwood was the official TWU representative at the Dallas Cotton Exchange.

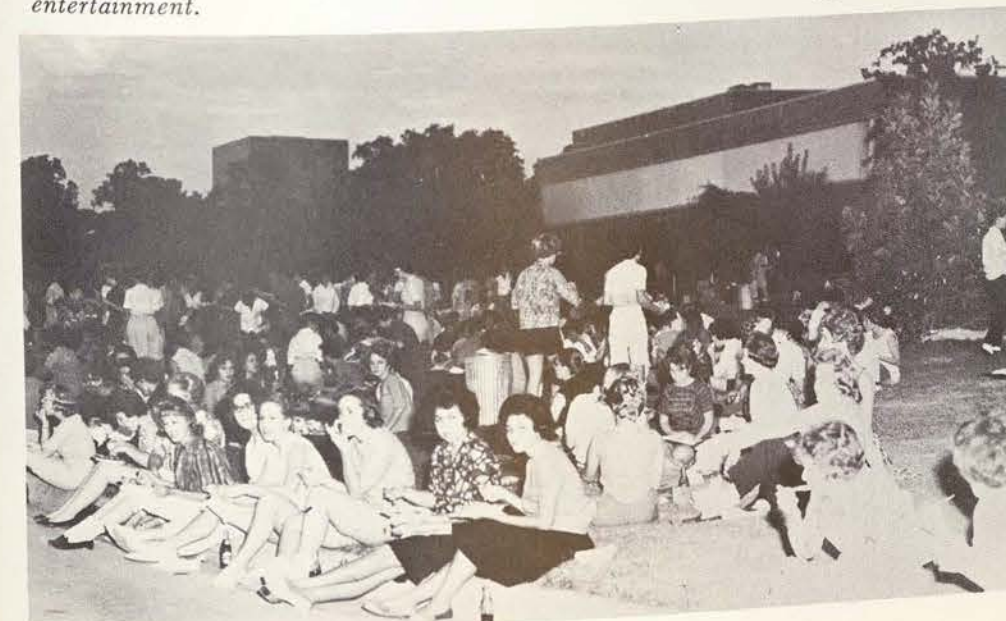

A favorite TWU fan, Shep Fields and his orchestra, opened the year's dancing activities and first all-campus dance, "Swingin' September."

Ushering in the autumn feeling a large Japanese lantern and fall colored leaves decorated the SUB Ballroom for the SCSA sponsored event.

Tessies covered the lawn of Hubbard Hall enjoying the delicious Howdy Dinner meal and eagerly awaiting the entertainment.

Senior nursing majors Delores Warren and Diana Orren, back on campus for the fall semester, work on a laboratory project concerning the much publicized drug Thalidomide.

Student Council members Carroll Baxter, Elaine Meeks and Gladys Jentsch meet with chairman Emily Smith to plan the first of the series of house visitations.

Delegates from Texas A&M and TWU finalists for Aggie Sweetheart danced and enjoyed themselves at the formal dance during the weekend devoted to choosing Aggie Sweetheart.

Members of the Aggie delegation and finalists leave the Little Chapel-in-the-Woods after Sunday services.

Aggies Choose Sweetheart

In the comfortable lobby of the Commodore Motel couples find time to chat before Sunday breakfast.

Lynn looks a bit surprised upon hearing that she is pinned to 7,000 cadets.

The suspense was almost unbearable until the Aggies announced that Sophomore Lynn Parks was the 1963 Aggie Sweetheart.

The Aggies do have their traditions! Chuck Nichols and Lynn after she named him Mr. Congeniality, a selection made by all the finalists.

Reggie Richardson pins Lynn.

Donut sales, the popular club money making project, have made seniors Judy EnDean and Barbara Rogers pretty tired of donuts.

Visitors Arrive on Campus

Sophomores ate, sang and had fun times at their Sophomore Harvest Moon.

Freshman Class officer candidates prepare speeches for their first attempt at holding an office in their University careers.

Senator and Mrs. Ralph Yarbrough visited the TWU campus in the fall and were honored at an afternoon tea for faculty members and student leaders.

Members of this body mechanics class don't seem too sure of the balance of this brave walker.

Returning for a second year of performance on the TWU campus, soprano Gianna D'Angelo captured her audience with an outstanding program in October.

Rainy days at TWU bring out the umbrellas and rain coats.

Nancy Fisher and Gladys Jentsch attend the Mary Gibbs Jones' sponsored chapel service in the Little Chapel-in-the-Woods.

Pianist Edward Kilenyi appeared in the Redbud Auditorium at the end of October. He presented for his TWU audience Chopin, Beethoven and other compositions.

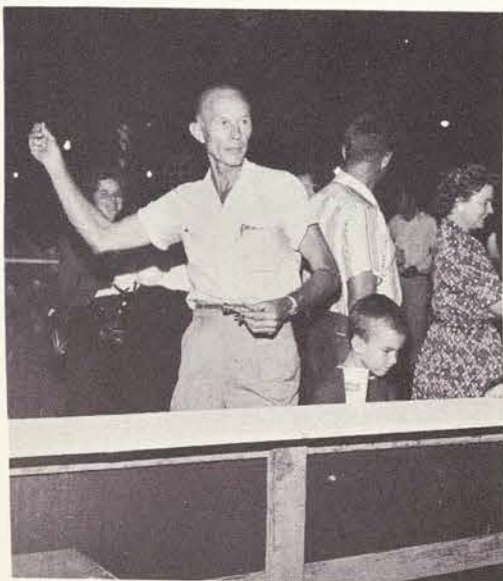

Sophomore Class President Patsy Northcutt doesn't like to carry her umbrella and would rather predict her own weather taking a chance of getting wet.

Judges Dilemma . . . The weekend preceding the Gold Rush Carnival found judges tramping over campus, viewing the ten dormitory displays before casting their ballots for the winning three.

Mr. Lowry, beloved stunt super-assistant and constant "Mr. Fixer," joined the throngs of people seeking prizes through their marksmanship.

Candy apples made a hit with workers, such as Lynn Schlegel who took time out to munch on the red-coated fruit which brought carnival fare.

Pam Minger and Maxine Varisco see that all is in readiness for the opening night's rush.

Supper's Served . . . After a full day at the office, TWU's dean of women, Dr. Lurline Lee, and assistant dean of women, Miss Jessie Sim, joined the buyers of chicken suppers and sat down to a leisurely meal.

The Gold Rush Carnival

Cotton candy and cokes, thus October 9, 1962, started for many. The time was Gold Rush and the atmosphere was completely carnival.

"Bingo!" was the constant victor's cry from the booth northwest of the announcement stand and jail as administrative and faculty "sharks" joined in the prize pursuit. Mrs. Ed Williams, wife of TWU business manager, proved a winner in some event—witness the "uncut" glass bowl.

Balloons, Children and Clowns . . . Marilyn Jordan sells another balloon to an admiring little blonde-haired girl.

Jailed! Paul Roseland, art associate professor, found himself locked in jail before the evenings ended but he seemed to be making the most of the affair.

Oops! Cotton candy coming through! And Dr. Josh Roach lets young bears of the fluffy-pink delicacy pass on before joining them in indulging.

Miss Olive White, History Department member, brought her nephews along for the two-evening fun-filled event.

Queen Kathryn from the House of Coffey-to-be, spent a wet time in the CGA Sponge Throwing Booth.

"All this for money?" questions soaked Nancy Fisher.

Profit Production . . . The last of November found CGA officers and Gold Rush co-chairmen handing Dr. John A. Guinn, University president, and the TWU Foundation the largest check in the Carnival's history—$5,000.

The traditional Grand March with the administration in the lead and faculty and students following opened the 1962 Corn Huskin' Bee sponsored by the College of Health, Physical Education and Recreation and Women's Recreation Association.

Bee, Rush Busy Students

Spirit and good fellowship prevailed at the Bee as Smith-Carroll's cowboys and cowgirls sang "Empty Saddles."

In celebration of the 25th Anniversary of the Corn Huskin' Bee, Dr. Anne Schley Duggan, dean of the CHPE & R, was presented with a silver ear of corn.

Chicken callin' contestants ran around the tennis courts, the scene of the Bee, screeching "here chickie" at the top of their lungs.

Costumes dug up from everywhere and anywhere appeared as "old-fashioned" for the Bee night.

A hot race was on when CGA and the administration set out to beat the other in the Corn Huskin' Contest. Claiming the winning team were Dr. Roach, Mr. Williams, Mr. Smith and Mr. LaRue.

The Pre-Rush Tea invited all sophomores and other interested students not members of literary-social clubs to come and meet members and sponsors of the eight campus clubs.

Athenaeum's own Mr. George Lowry, the only male sponsor of a literary-social club, enjoys his role in the receiving line.

After four days of Rush Parties, prospective members were asked to sign their literary-social club preference cards, meanwhile, clubs selected lists of to-be-members, and bids were sent out.

Following in the atmosphere of old Greece, Athenaeum members entertained their guests at a Rush party in the SUB Lounge.

Pledges bowed and scrubbed for members during pledge week. George Ann Cravens believes "Booma Philo" is all there is!

A mass work project for new pledges of the eight clubs included mostly fun and the singing of newly learned club songs.

TWU's Aggie Sweetheart Lynn Parks views the Corps Trip parade from the reviewing stand in front of the Dallas courthouse.

Reville, the only girl on the A&M campus, displays her Aggie spirit in the Corps Trip parade.

Corps Trip with the Aggies

The A&M-SMU Corps Trip Weekend was begun by a military parade in downtown Dallas.

Members of the Corps and their dates enjoy the game; and as winners, who minds standing all day?

Receiving her bouquet of roses, Lynn is introduced as the 1963 Aggie Sweetheart.

Being Aggie Sweetheart does have its advantages!

November 8, was the date violinist Christian Ferras appeared before the TWU campus for a Concert and Drama Series. The French artist made his American debut in 1959.

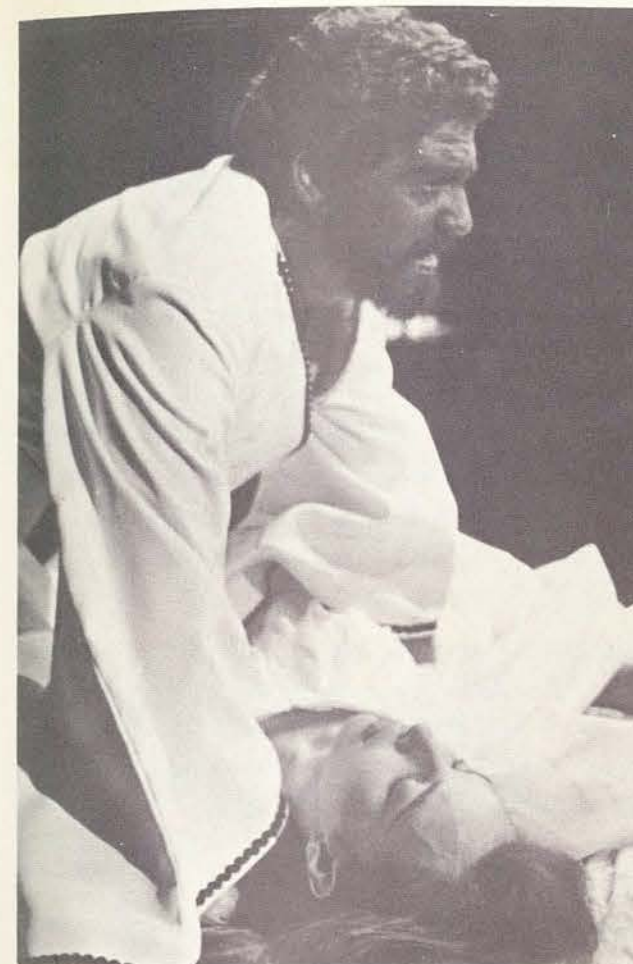

Every Tessie's friend, Maggie, played, leaped and barked; sometimes she even stopped for a pat.

Seniors push time.

TWU Players put on their first production of the season, "Twelve Angry Women". Wada Thompson, the only junior who believes in the innocence of the accused, reacts the crime for the rest of the jury.

The National Players presented Moliere's "School for Wives" and Shakespeare's "Othello". Pictured is a scene from "Othello", which the young actors presented November 30.

But the wind dancers appear and beckon Dolphin Boy away from the sea.

Dolphin Boy, after going with the wayward wind and being left behind by it, asks to be taken back by the Sea. Only after King Neptune, his father, commands it, is the young boy accepted.

Freshmen Present FTA

In the Freshman Talent Assembly, "The Dolphin Boy", the young sea dancers show the young star, Joan Moon, that he is a part of the sea.

After selecting a class song and presenting their first class production, FTA, the Daughters of '66 contributed their share of serenades to the campus.

Nursing students added their Christmas touch to the campus in decorating the patio of the Arts and Sciences Building.

This friendly Santa greeted students in the dormitory as he participated in the WRA sponsored Christmas door decoration contest.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Rust, sophomore sponsors, are welcome faces at Stoddard when they come to visit.

Dr. and Mrs. A. Wallace Woolsey enjoy the refreshments and hospitality at Stoddard Hall's Christmas Open House.

Tessies Entertain with Christmas Parties

Pam Minger, Mary Jane McDuffie and Lenal Boehme decorate the Jones girls' Christmas tree with balls and tinsel used by "Ladies" of the past.

Smith-Carroll's living room was decorated for guests and the Christmas season with a beautiful display of candles.

All the participants in the Woman's Recreation Association sponsored tennis clinic welcomed the professional tennis star Bill Bos to campus.

"Oh, the life of a photographer," exclaims Judy "B" (Barneycastle) as Shirley Buck and Valerie Meston sooth her wounds.

Education majors Joyce Goff and Ann Binford work with transcribing their voices in Mrs. Marion de Coligny's course in audio visual aids.

Miss Genevieve Dixon, director of Library Science, engages in a stimulating conversation with foreign graduate students of the school.

Dr. John A. Guinn, University president, welcomes Mr. Eugene M. Locke, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee to campus. Mr. Locke spoke to the student body at the CGA and Citizenship League sponsored assembly during Citizenship Week in January.

Soaring high into the sky is this tumbling class member, while fellow students await her proper landing.

Class beauty finalists were honored with a Beauty Buffet sponsored by the Daedalian Yearbook before their presentation at the Christmas formal.

Daedalian Presents Class Beauties

Finalists filed down the stairs in Hubbard Hall to meet the five judges before the Beauty Buffet.

Judges Mr. and Mrs. Tom R. Brooks, Jr. and University President Dr. John A. Guinn converse with the 24 class beauty finalists.

Finalists Carol Gies, Donna Gibson and Betsy Larkin enjoy their meal and conversations with KRLD's popular voice, Hugh Lampman.

After the buffet judges toured the dormitories. Mrs. Zenda Wimberly, Jones Hall director, and senior Marilyn Jordan show Hugh Lampman the WRA door decoration contest winning door.

Senior beauty finalist Jean Elsass was first to be presented.

Selected as the most beautiful girl in the Junior Class, Nancy Ann Edwards is escorted by her fiance, Mr. Darrell Smith.

Judges await the formal presentation of the beauty finalists before the "Winter Beauty" Christmas dance began.

Tommy Dorsey's Orchestra, under the direction of Sam Donahue, entertained the beauties and students as they danced and often just stood and listened.

Students were happy to get back to that Hubbard Hall food after the Christmas holidays and turkey, turkey, and more turkey.

Duo-pianists Arthur Gold and Robert Gizdale delighted their TWU audience on January 9, with their renditions of classical music.

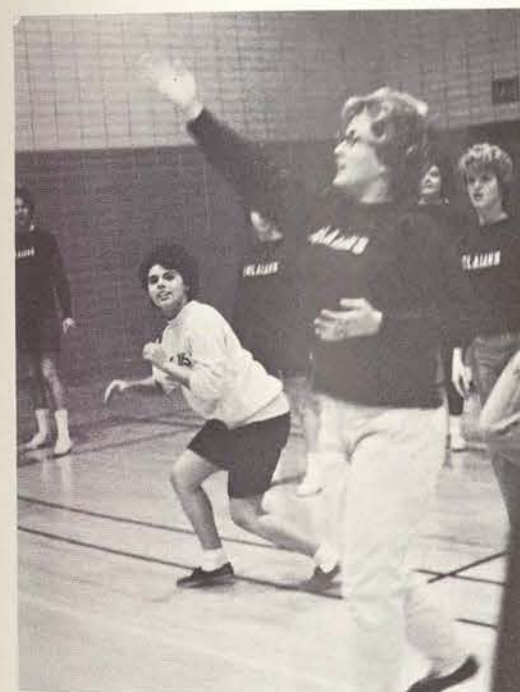

The Soci Society's Mexican Supper in the SUB made a hit with all attending . . . and those "originals," hand painted place mats, were kept for souvenirs.

Freshmen began studying early for their first semester exams; heading the list was Orientation and a test over the TWU Handbook of Information.

Graduating in January and out into the world went Pat Taylor, but first she had to pack and file all those momentos she had saved and held onto so dearly during the past four years.

Aglaia's, vying for the winning position in the annual Literary-Social Club Volleyball Game, were beaten by the Chaparrals.

Doris Froehling registers for her "B" Average privileges . . . she went home early Easter and no double negatives!

Starting the match with a handshake, these fencing students learn the ideals of good sportsmanship.

Students use the modern and convenient facilities offered for them in the Library Science Library in studying for finals.

Class competition reaches its peak as these juniors and freshmen try to capture one of the Stoddard sophomore's Stunts signs.

Senior Stunts Director Mary Jane McDuffie urges the Ladies to "keep that feeling that you are mining coal."

Busy Junior Class President and Stunts Director Lee Martin found herself going to rehearsals for two productions at a time.

Junior orphan Olga Rueda "really got the feeling" of the bomber plane that swept over the stricken area in their Stunt as she suffered from her broken arm.

Sophomores, under the direction of Jeanne Shaffer, exercised before practicing every night.

Stunts Time Begins

1963

February 15-16

The Columbian children gather around their teacher singing,
"Tell us why,
Oh why, our days are gay?"

Together the people of Columbia and their new found friends plan to work "with no strings attached."

Realizing that they will work hand in hand toward peace and progress, the Columbians help the Peace Corps carry their equipment.
"Friends forever and side by side,
Together, wherever we go!"

Sophomores . . . Experiment in Friendship

Carrying trunks and tools the American Peace Corps arrives to help the Columbians build their school.

Their dream of the new school becomes a reality as the people of the two countries build together.

Sophomore dancers Mimi Coral and Cissie Rowland bring in supplies for the new school to the "Bolero beat."

Unaware that the snake is sacred, a member of the Peace Corps kills it much to the horror of the natives.

Padre, Patsy Northcutt, leads his people in prayer, knowing that the killing of the snake was unintentional.

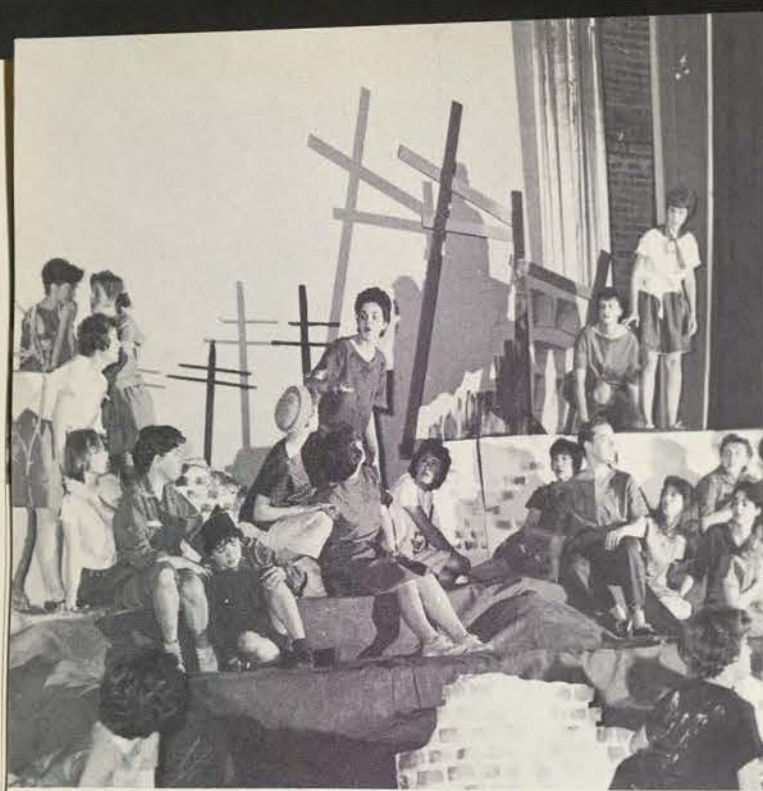

"Whatever comes up we'll take it in stride," the Columbian mayor, Jean Edwards, tells Peace Corps leader, Tom Drummond, Toni Stasswender.

"I want to be in Columbia,
OK with me is Columbia . . ."

Juniors . . .

Allegory

"The moon is cardboard, fragile, very apt to fray," says Dee Barnes who plays the part of a pessimistic orphan in the Junior Stunt.

Dancing happily to the "Carousel Waltz" the war orphans are unaware of the tragedy that awaits them.

The war-ridden children lose themselves in a dream vision of a carnival.

Realizing that an enemy plane is overhead, the frightened war orphans seek protection as they fall to the earth.

Terrified, the children look to the sky in wonder, and suddenly realize that they must find faith in the whisper of the wind and smell of the rain.

"We'll build;
We're on our way.
We'll strive to live in a new born day."

"Try to remember...
And if you remember,
Then follow..."
sing the homeless juniors as they recall life before the war came and destroyed their happiness.

"We'll build;
And try to give this barren earth
a helping hand."

"We'll pass the realm of war's decay
And find a light to guide our way."

"I stand today with a joyful heart," sings Ann Wells, bride-to-be, as the community joins in preparation for the wedding.

Seniors . . . Colliery No. 9

As the miners joke with Hank, Bets Heinbach, the prospective groom, the foreman, Sharon Price, predicts,
"You'll be tied to your pick and your woman, too . . .
And that's your load to carry on through!"

"Hit that coal, men, Time's a wastin'!"
warns assistant foreman
Bruce Cavett as the men work the mine.

Ann Condra, Old Pete, has no trouble convincing the people that his son is the best one down in the mine,
"He mines coal by the ton . . ."

"It's a great town we live in,
We sing our cares away . . ."
"Stop your laughing,
There will be no wedding—
"There's a sign in the sky!"

"A cave in!" As the mine falls beneath rocks and rubble, the miners' families above fear the worst.

Ann Wells sings
"I stand today
With a joyful heart . . ."

"Our life is here,
And our hearts in this mine . . ."

"We've lived with this danger,
And in fear of this time . . ."

Johnny, Julia D'Albine, is in jail recalling the story of his shooting of the Jealous Lover, Melanie McCoy.
"My gal's gone now
Ain't no use in dreamin'
I killed for her . . ."

Night club singer Marty, Marilee Sweitzer, sings to Johnny, Madeline Brown, on her last performance before their wedding,
"Ain't misbehavin'
I'm savin' my love for you."

Freshmen . . .

The Triangle

And are joined by other dancers of the freshman cast in their Roaring Twenties dress.

The lovers dance the tango.

The Charleston takes the spotlight as the flappers bat their eyelashes and twirl those beads.

Fancy stepping of grandmother's day is done by the Daughters of '66.

In a crap game with the fellows Johnny pleads,
"Luck be a lady tonight . . .
Luck if you've ever been a lady to begin with,
Luck be a lady tonight."

The Jealous Lover implores Marty to come back to her and she refuses,
"I can't love you,
No, never again."
"Yes, you will be mine," threatens the Jealous Lover.

And as she sings,
"Love me or leave me, or let me be lonely . . .
Regretting . . ." and Jealous Lover kills Marty.

"Now don't push me off this stage, Ladies," yells Dean Francis Emerson as he announces that the Class of '63 won the Stunt Cup.

Seniors Win Stunts

The Seniors were ready to put on the winning Stunt over and over.

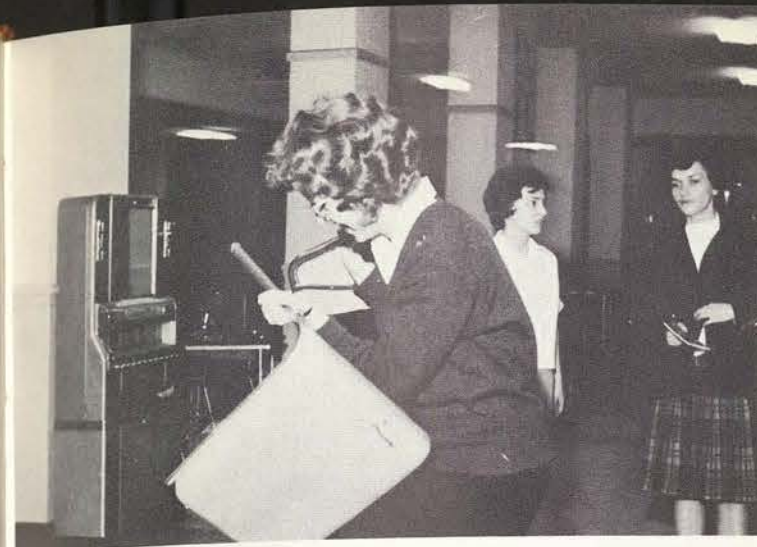

'63 Director Mary Jane McDuffie clutches the treasured cup which she led two Stunt casts to win.

A victory party!

"Molly and her helicopter," helped keep the spirit of '63 alert and striving to win Stunts.

Stunts were over and students retired to repair those lost grades . . . CGA President Becca McAlister decided to repair broken chairs at CGA meetings.

Sophomores Annette Klammer, Luann Jones, Geneva Salsman and Sue Gameson display some of their hidden talents that Stunts brought out.

Journalism majors went back to their usual beats.

The knitting bug hit campus especially when those northers began and knit hats felt real comfy. Giving free hat knitting lessons is Sandie Dunlap, right, teaching Pat Lack and Jostie Gordon.

Rehearsals were not over for junior Lee Martin and the cast of "You Can't Take It With You."

But the show was a success.

TWU's TISA leaders Perc Scott Hoffman, executive vice president; Lynn Schlegel, Central Agency director; Margwen Murphy, junior representative, and Nancy Ann Edwards, senior representative, started early in the fall planning for the 15th Annual State TISA Convention held on the TWU campus this winter.

Dr. Eldred Speck, business and economics professor, led a buzz group discussion on the national economy and the American student.

Don Yarbrough, a guest speaker for the convention, answered questions asked by the delegates.

A group of delegates visited with students in Mary Gibbs Jones Hall and were invited to listen in on a House Meeting; and they stayed!

TISA Convention

Fred Head and Tom Green, TISA vice president from East Texas State College, chat with Senator John Tower, who, after dining with the delegates, spoke to the group.

Fred Head, Texas Intercollegiate Student Association president from SMU, is given a friendly welcome by TWU President Dr. John A. Guinn.

Convention delegates from the many TISA member colleges and universities in Texas registered in the Redbud Auditorium for the three-day meeting.

Students participated in Town Hall, a program given by businessmen and women for the purpose of stimulating student interest in American business. The program was sponsored by CGA and was "one of the most successful ever."

Dr. James Newcomer, dean of the faculty, following President Kennedy's suggestions cheerfully walked to his work in the Administration Building.

Freshman nursing major Mary Hobbs proudly observes the arrival of Spring 1963 all over campus. This year for the first time in several years, the Redbud trees bloomed at the proper time, for the Redbud Festival and Parents Day.

Horseback riding became the campus craze when spring days and weekends appeared after the cold winter of 1963.

"Once in a Tree" a children's play, written by Dr. Josh P. Roach, associate professor of speech, was presented in March by TWU students.

With all-campus elections and campaigning at the hub of all activity Aggie Sweetheart Lynn Parks checks her map for the correct location of A&M! After traveling to the brother school this year, such trips are in the agenda for the new SCSA president next year, too.

CGA officer candidate Betty Ann Smith browses through the University Bookstore in the CGA operated Pub.

CGA Treasurer hopeful Cissie Rowland begins with organization of her own bank account.

CGA Elections Top Agenda

CGA President-elect Elaine Meeks purchases a notebook to keep those new ideas for next year in.

Poster and slogans strung from the walls of the Pub as campaigning for all-campus elections got into full swing.

Judith Manly, in her Theta Sig report to Student Council, emphasized the importance in voting for student government officers.

CGA and WRA presidential candidates met in Jones' lounge the night before elections for a question and answer session to which all students were invited.

Tessies were encouraged to take part in their government elections and VOTE! Lowry Hall was the first dormitory to report 100 per cent voting on election day.

Shreiking with joy Lass-O editor-elect Gail Wallace is congratulated for her new title by her roommate, CGA President-elect Elaine Meeks, and present editor Kathy Coffey.

Costumed for her role in a play WRA President-elect Becky Davila reads her congratulatory note from the Campus Government Association.

Hazel Burnett gleams with happiness over her new title as 1963-64 Round Table president.

Pat Benevidez portrays the exhausted but thrilled winning candidate as she learns of her new post, WRA treasurer.

"One of the first qualifications in being a Redbud princess is to have a small enough head so that the crown will fit in case you are queen," Dr. Bethel M. Caster explains to princesses Jane Sullins and Mary Lindemann.

Posture Queen contestant Sallie Stapleton demonstrates proper sitting at the Self-Development Week Posture Assembly.

Freshman dance major Joan Moon is crowned TWU Posture Queen by University President Dr. John A. Guinn.

Self-Development Week Prevails

"One, two, three, four, and keep your back straight," emphasize Mrs. Betty Alford and Mrs. Ramona Emmons, as they teach these Redbud princesses to curtsy in their most gracious manner.

The 1963 Posture Queen and finalists.

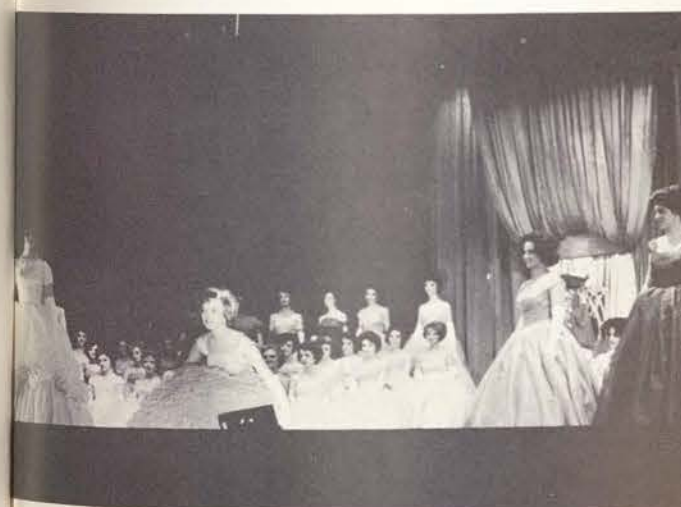

Redbud princesses Carol Gies and Jane Sullins await their escorts for the Festival evening.

Freshman princess Donna Gibson goes through the final make-up inspection line before the coronation as Mrs. Clarice Garrett adds a bit more rouge and Nancy McCormick straightens her dress.

Redbud princesses giggled and talked backstage before the Saturday night presentation.

Princess Mary Janice from the House of Johnson makes her curtsy for the Redbud Festival audience.

"Princess Kathryn from the house of Coffey shall reign as Queen of the Redbud Festival," announced King John from the Royal Line of Guinn.

During that last minute before the curtain opens to present the Redbud Princesses, Dr. Caster arranged her court's dresses and petticoats.

Ladies in Waiting Nancy Fisher and Lynn Gresham add that final touch to their gowns, redbud hued ribbon.

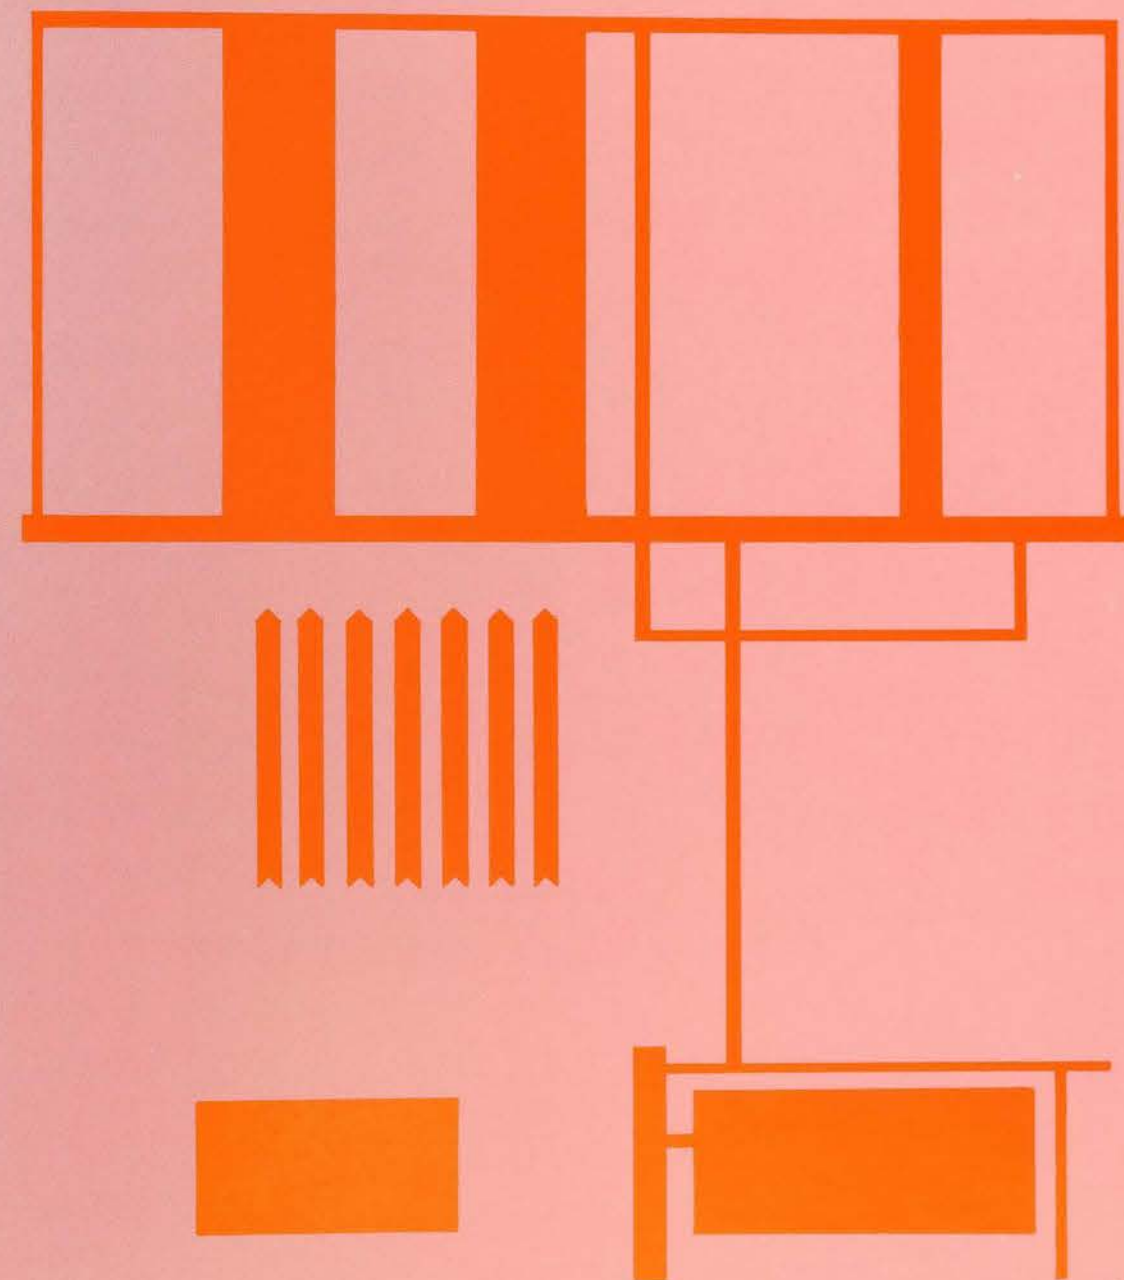

Queen Kathryn and her court await the entertainment by the royal dancers and musicians.

Dormitories

Capps Hall for Freshman Students

Residential assistants Alice Ward, Myrna Jones, Ann Graham, Karen Artley and Beve Francis assist Miss Lummus with office and residential duties.

Roommate Cissie Rowland, Miss Lummus and third floor girls congratulate Lynn Parks on her selection as Aggie Sweetheart.

Scanning a television schedule for interesting programs are counselors Mary Ann Merritt, Cissie Rowland, secretary; Kay Davis and Betty Ann Smith.

Miss Lummus, Marilyn Josey and Karen DeWit greet visitors at Open House and offer them some of Miss Lummus' special spiced tea.

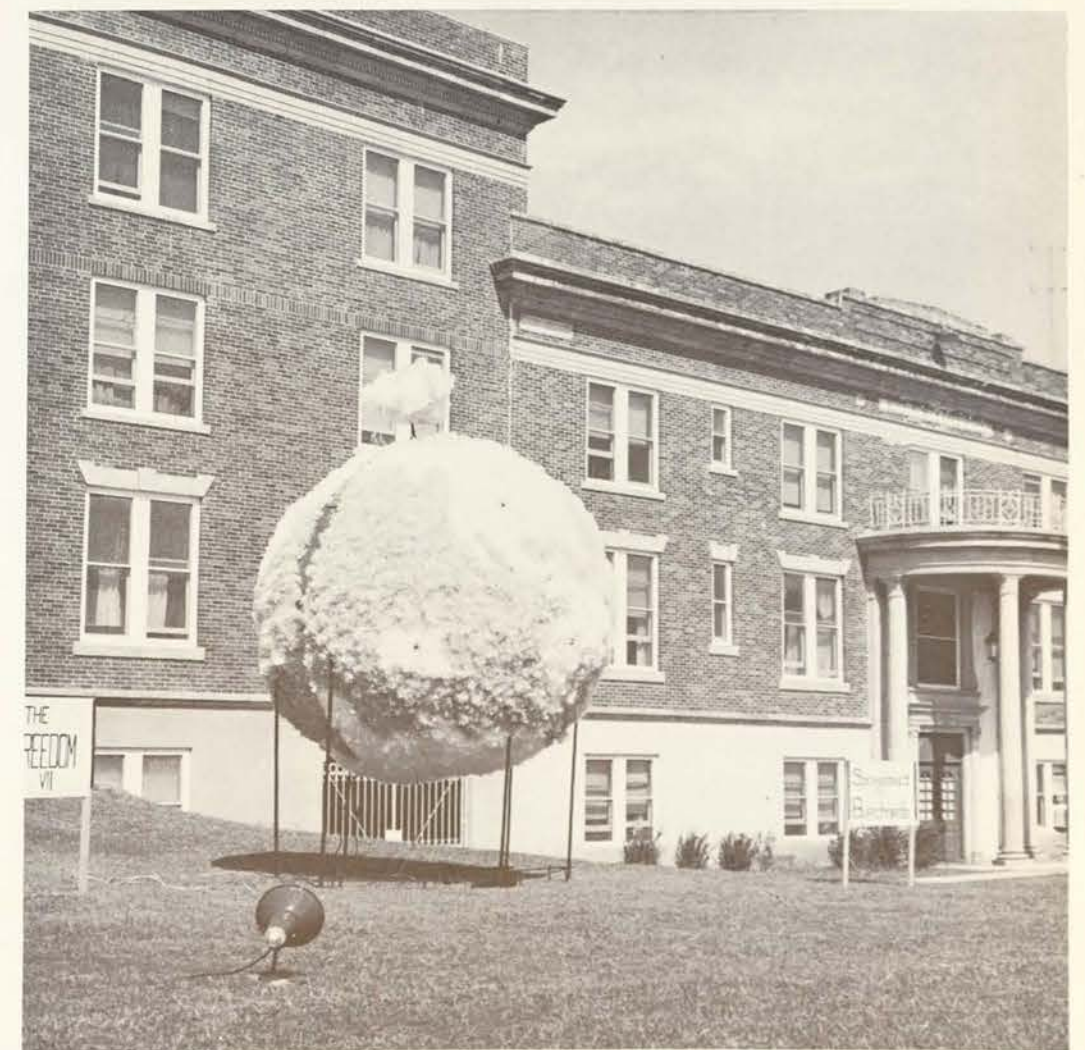

Enjoying a game of bridge in a typical room are counselors Dorothy Renshaw, Mary Lynn Graham, Judy Mims and Margwen Murphy.

Relaxing with the dormitory's new stereo are counselors Rita Robinson, Lynn Parks, president; D'Eva Luthringer and Nan Lowe.

MISS OLA LUMMUS
Director

Capps launches its own satellite for Gold Rush, "The Freedom VII."

Assisting Mrs. Davis during a busy night, are residential assistants Peré Beha, Barbara Moore and Penny Wilson.

Counselors Nan Beha, secretary; Kay Arnold, Karen Glenn and Myrna Riedesel take a break from freshman problems.

Posting information on the "B-Board" are counselors Trish Murphy, Martha Saenz, president; Celina Trevino and Ruth Hancock.

Christmas carols ring out in Lowry Hall at the annual Christmas Open House.

Lowry Hall for Freshman Students

Mrs. Kitty Magee, usually seen by freshmen only at their Orientation sessions, is a welcome guest at Lowry's formal Christmas Open House.

Mrs. Davis and her "Lowry Lovelies" serve as hostesses at the annual Christmas open house.

MRS. RUTH E. DAVIS
Director

The Wright Brothers pilot their motor-powered propeller plane (it propelled, too!) in "The First Successful Airplane Flight" on Lowry's front lawn.

Sayers Hall

for Freshman Students

Maintaining an efficient office is the responsibility of residential assistants Rita Degele, Enid Daniels, Sherry Cory and director Mrs. Pharr.

Signing out for evening dates are counselors Susan Wright, Doris Estes, 2nd semester secretary, Jane Wahr-mund and Donna Struebing.

Counselors Kathleen Holm, 1st semester president; Nadine Gates, 1st semester secretary, 2nd semester president; Marilyn Ruzicka and Betsy Roy form a dorm quartet.

Esther Carmean, Shay Davidson, Raquel Penqueno and Chris Garza form a quartet to entertain Christmas visitors.

MRS. CARRIE PHARR

Director

U. S. freedoms are re-stated in Sayers' Gold Rush display, "Our American Heritage."

Austin Hall

for Freshman Students

In the absence of director Mrs. Ince, residential assistants Betty Rials, Doris Froehlnig, Nancy Goin, Barbara Fry and Carolinda Simmons assume control of the office.

Margaret Bridger, Becky Gerrq, Miki Peterson and Alice Midyett are among Austin's hostesses at Open House ready to show guests through the dormitory.

Counselors Pat Mizener, Kay Frazier, Paula Miller and Georgann Rice prepare a vocal presentation for a dormitory Vespers service.

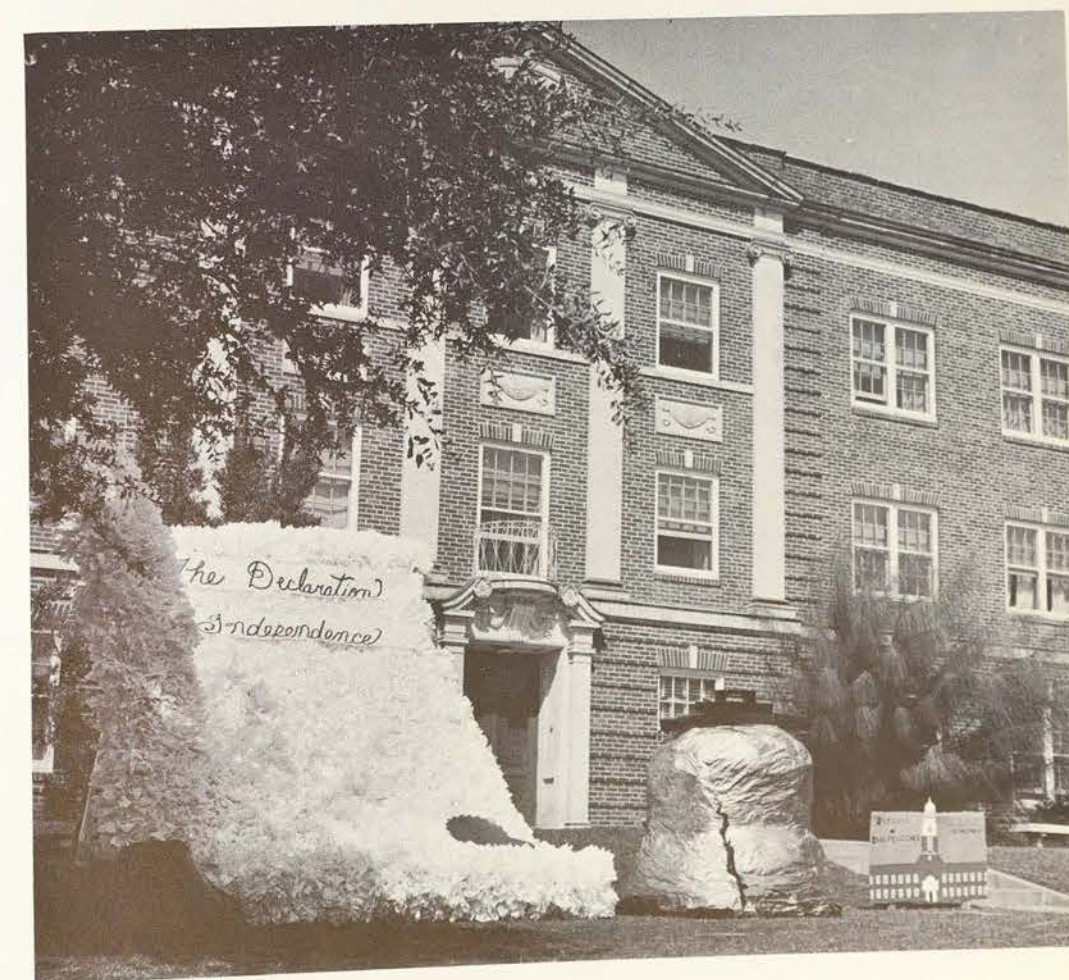

Ho, ho, ho! Laugh little elves Kay Frazier, Sue LaMotta and JoBeth Schlegel as they help Mrs. Santa, Mrs. Ince, spread the Christmas spirit.

MRS. KATHRINA P. INCE
Director

Austin's quill signs the Declaration of Independence in its display "Symbols of Independence" for the Gold Rush Carnival.

Counselors Jo Beth Schlegel, first semester president; Sue LaMotta, first semester secretary and second semester president; Margene McCarthy, Elizabeth Dool and June Pope assemble for a house meeting.

Houston Hall

for Freshman Students

Dee Carley keeps Houston Hall together as they sing "The Wreck of the Old 97" for the Corn Huskin' Bee song contest.

Relaxing with campus and world newspapers are counselors Brenda Rhine, Linda Berlanga and Jackie Fay.

Counselors Gypsy Barlow, 2nd semester secretary, Judy Rotramel, president, and Ann Clark prepare for a house council meeting.

Mrs. Isdale shows Judge Parker of Civil Defense and Mr. Leon McNatt, a Denton businessman, one of the decorated doors at Open House.

What do you mean, a guest in the office!

MRS. GUSTAVIA A. ISDALE
Director

No House Councils tonight! Judy Rotramel, Jackie Fay, Sharon Coleman and Gypsy Barlow take a break at the Christmas Open House.

Harmonizing with traditional tunes are counselors Joanna Coffey, Dee Carley, 1st semester secretary, and Sharon Coleman.

Telephone calls and visitors keep residential assistants Jean Carefoot, Rose Gaines, Debby Burgess and director Mrs. Isdale busy individuals.

Houston captures first place in the Gold Rush display contest with its Philadelphia Inquirer and "History Through the News." (Kennedy and his chair even rocked!)

Fitzgerald Hall

for Sophomore Students

Mrs. Gifford helps herself to some punch at Fitz's September reception.

Floor Chairman Patsy Whittington, Sandra Moody, and Margaret Gray help maintain peace and quiet throughout the dormitory.

What a cheerful group of residential assistants are Mabeth Hallmark, Jo Massey, Virginia Gwosdz (seated) and Deborah Burgess.

The efficiency of Fitz depends on Mrs. Gifford, Mary Johnson, president, and Laura Sullivan, secretary.

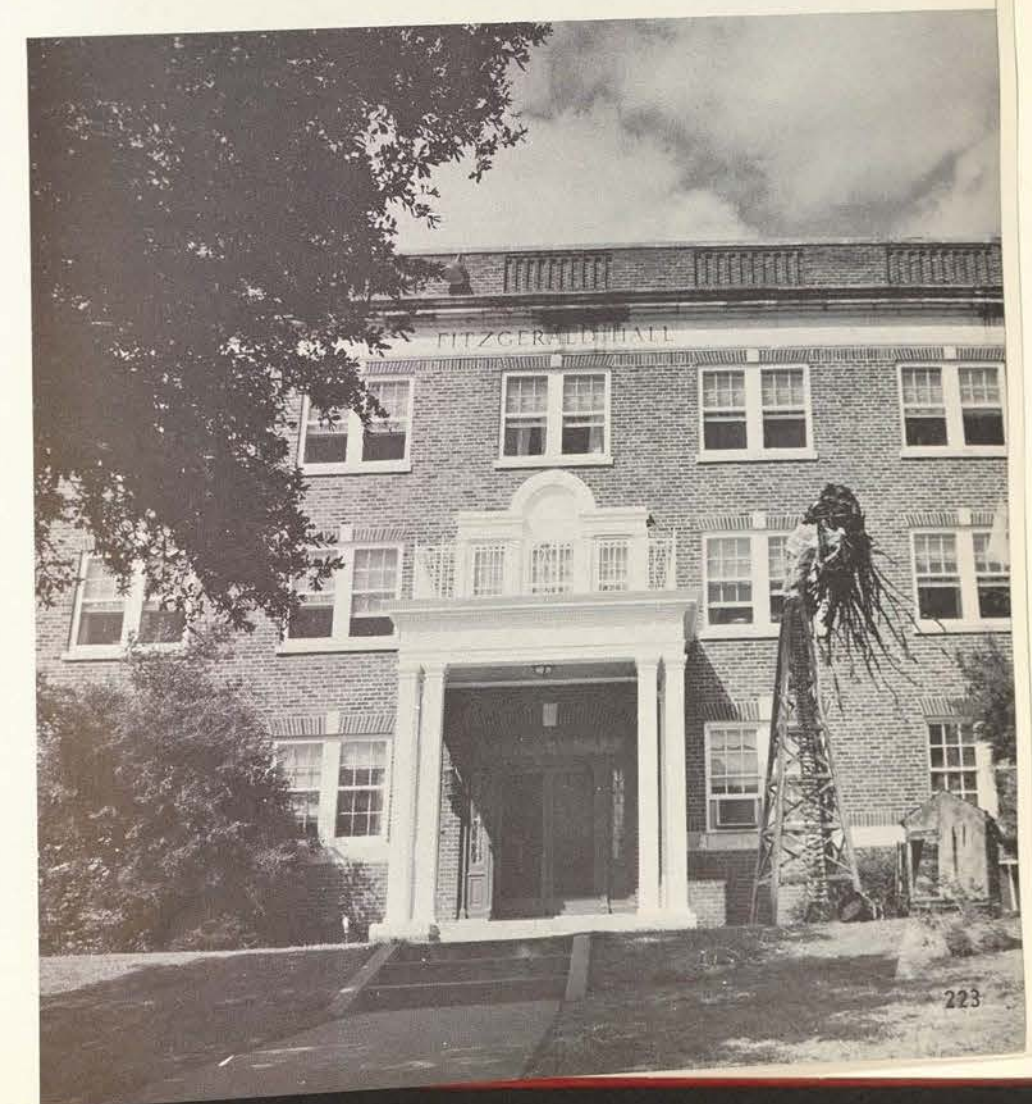

Mrs. Gifford seems quite pleased to have Santa visit her at Christmas time.

MRS. LINNIE GIFFORD
Director

Order is maintained in Fitzgerald by Robin Lee Beattie, Susan Moreton, Suzie Jackson, Janie Dunn and Sallye Stapleton.

"Spindletop" brings oil to Fitzgerald during this year's Gold Rush Carnival.

Stoddard Hall for Sophomore Students

Adding a calypso beat to the Corn Huskin' Bee are Stoddard's songsters with their director Patsy Northcutt and "South Winds."

Peggy Yates, Kay Dodson, Jeanne Shaffer and Pat Lack are among those busy Stoddard floor chairmen.

Stoddard is run efficiently by Sanlyn Cooley, 2nd semester president; Mrs. Bell and Jean Edwards, 2nd semester secretary.

Stoddard floor chairmen Carolyn Elsass, Jenny Lynn, Donna Carol, Sharon Thigpen and Lou Ann Thompson are always ready with the rules.

"RA's" Linda Dean, Gay Harrell, Dayle Anderson and (seated) Tina Askounis handle Stoddard's office work with a smile.

Mrs. Bell and first semester officers Marilee Smith, president, and Nedra Laughlin, secretary, greet Stoddard's Christmas guests.

MRS. FREDERIKA BELL
Director

Stoddard brings back FDR, his faithful dog and the "Fireside Chats."

Smith-Carroll Hall for Junior Students

The juniors ride high on "Empty Saddles" for the Corn Huskin' Bee.

Lois Twitchell, Val Meston and Cam Cameron admire the sparkle of the dormitory Christmas tree.

Janice Trigg, Patti French, Val Marshall and Becky Davila's songs added joy to Smith-Carroll's Christmas party.

SC's residential assistants are kept busy buzzing, checking and just sitting pretty. They are Sandra Pinkerton, Charline Hardin, Gwenn Ballard, Dianne Crossland and Patty Curtin.

Janet Buring (center) may be a small-size floor chairman, but she has assistance from Erma Whitworth, Tillie Ragsdale and Melba Sturrock.

Floor chairmen Carol Reynolds, Melanie Malin and Maxine Varisco are in agreement on dormitory regulations.

Director Mrs. Briggs, Charline Hardin, president, and Betsy Larkin, secretary, Charline Hardin, president, greet Open House visitors.

MRS. FRANCES BRIGGS
Director

Smith-Carroll's Marines held their flag at "Iwo Jima" during Gold Rush.

Mary Gibbs Jones Hall

for Senior Students

The home of "the Ladies."

Filling Jones' post office boxes with the "latest" are residential assistants Lenal Boehme, Ellie Walter and Mary Lou Mooney.

Dr. Guinn and KRLD's Hugh Lampman entertain "the Ladies".

Oh, dear! What is her room number? Alice Chambers, residential assistant, needs help, but colleagues Karen Stewart and Ellen Jeschke don't hear her plea.

Martha Strittmatter, finance chairman; Lenal Boehme, president; Emily Smith, secretary, and Mrs. Wimberly are all quite proud of that Stunt Cup won by the Senior Class this year.

And I want . . . ! "Ma" Wimberly's grandchildren are the center of attraction at the Christmas Open House.

Elaine Miller seldom has a chance to play the dormitory piano. She, Dawn Chaney and Frances Tipton are among Mary Gibbs Jones' floor chairmen.

Keeping the Jones girls in their place are floor chairmen Carmell Putch, Linda Mullins and Elizabeth Heinbach (standing).

MRS. ZENDA WIMBERLY
Director

The fuschia and black Central Pacific, "The First Continental Trail," is halted at Promontory Point behind the Golden Spike.

Mary Hufford Hall

Cooperative Dormitory

Classes

Seniors, Class of '63

We came . . . and we go now, for it is time. Here, at Texas Woman's University, we have lived apart as individuals and together as the Class of 1963 — giving, taking, growing, learning, loving and thinking. We go now, for it is time, and take with us the treasure of memory.

We go with excitement, for we have known adventure. From our first week filled with the President's Reception and Picnic, WRA Fun Night, X-Hour, Lantern Parade and University Review to our first class productions, FTA's "Chez '63" and Stunt, "Streets of New York."

We face new and unknown horizons, yet we remember the sweet taste of our first victory as in our Sophomore year we journeyed through song and storm beyond the "Hidden Horizon" to our first Stunt Cup. We pushed on through Senior Breakfast, Harvest Moon and the Scholarship Show anticipating victory and honor in our oncoming years.

We pause to recall, for we have the memory of fellowship and sincere friendships as we gained new students and a little sister class at the crossroads of our college years. Although "Operation Mopsters" didn't bring us another victory, it brought the helicopter which became a symbol of our courage. In cooperation with our little sisters, we depicted the "History of Television" in the Scholarship Show and as the year was ending, we entertained the Seniors in heavenly splendor at the Junior-Senior Breakfast. As we approached our position as Ladies, we gained the spirit for another "great day."

We stand together, for we have the bond of sharing memories in song as our little sisters gave us the Senior Breakfast. The path of our enthusiasm continued as the Senior Nursing students joined us for class parties, serenades and the traditional Senior Christmas Caroling. Our ties strengthened as we reached our final victory with "Colliery No. 9" to become one of the five classes to achieve this dual victory. With the crown of success, we completed our year with the Scholarship Show, Senior Formal, Junior-Senior Breakfast and Senior Day. Along with this is added to our diary of memories the traditional Gold Rush Carnival, Corn Huskin' Bee, Aggie Corp Trip and Redbud Festival.

We came . . . and we go now, for it is time. To those who follow and to one another we say:

"Fill your dreams with sweet tomorrows
Yet remember what has been
May the good Lord bless and keep you
. . . till we meet again."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Chambers, Senior Class sponsors.

"Fight furiously, Ladies, Weeee!" Cheer the Senior Class leaders Gladys Jentsch, president; Barbara Kobarg, treasurer; Jimmie Nell Burdett, secretary, and Susie Wood, vice president.

Senior Class Song

We are the Class of 1-9-6-3,
Proud of our honor and loyalty,
Years to follow we'll be true
Forever to Texas Woman's U.
White and maroon, the colors we cheer
So distant Texas Aggies can hear
Tessies will be proud to claim
The Class of 1-9-6-3.
Rah, rah, rah.

"Here's to the Sophomores, here's to our Sisters . . . the Class of '65"! sing the Seniors' sisters.

They say the Senior year takes the hardest pull.

Bev Galanda drinks her Theta Sig coffee while Kathy Coffey perks away.

Twink-le, twink-le little star,
How you play on your guitar!

Modern, fashion conscious
Nancy Fisher is Lee-ward!

"Jungle experts" recall the adventures of their Caribbean Tour.

'63, Do You Remember?

... our sophomore year and we were "in the know" about X-hour.

... the first convocation we witnessed when Mrs. Edith Dean received her honorary Doctor of Letters degree.

... those freshman art labs.

... serenades to the "Ladies on the hill."

... when reporters Eva C. Riggs (then!), Penny Pickard and Kathy Coffey worked so well together.

... when only the hairdresser knew for sure.

... those many "heels and hose" receptions and teas.

... when you were the friendly and helpful RA's in "Sallie B."

... pledge week and the sore knees, aching muscles and weary smiles.

'63, remember?

... '62 CGA President Linda relinquishing the horse shoe to Becca.

... Eva Claire Riggs as managing editor of the Lass-O wearing her rings around her neck.

... Pam as a penguin.

... Biology bulletins didn't mention bottle washing.

... Ann Condra enjoyed the sweet smell of success.

... when the "world turned" every weekday at 12:30.

... in our first Stunt we sang, "New York, New York, it's a wonderful town."

'63, remember that "great day"?

... listening to Uncle Billy's tales.

... "A-way, hey, up we're rinsin' ... earl-i in the morning."

... "A storm's a comin'."

... when you really felt it.

... "A time just for livin' ... Oh, Lord won't you help us to build our new home?"

... and we had our "victory at sea" and won the brand new Stunt Cup.

... "Full sails, the winds arisin' ... the New Horizon!"

Seniors, in years to come, Will You Remember? . . .

. . . our days as "the Ladies."

. . . those long, long lunch lines in Hubbard Hall.

. . . patrolman "Pops" and all his girls.

. . . Lass-O editor Kathy, up to her elbows in ink all the time; but who took time out of the print shop to reign as Queen of the Redbud Festival.

. . . when as juniors we sang and predicted "for success together we've worked as one—and look out world here we come!"

. . . '63's Senior Hymn

We stand here with mixed emotions
Seniors all to go our way
Off to taste life's magic potions
After graduation day.

Thru our lives we'll long remember
Cherished dreams will bring us here
Though the flame becomes an ember
Still our hearts are near.

New adventures filled our first year
And traditions we have learned
Time went on and now we hold dear
Honor that our class has earned.

Each new year has been a glad one
Filled with laughs, a smile, a tear;
Days of parting will be sad ones
But our thoughts will linger here.

Fill your dreams with sweet tomorrows
Yet remember what has been.
May the good Lord bless and keep you
'Til we meet again.

. . . the first serenade when we were sung to as "the Ladies."

Juniors, Class of '64

A new role awaited us as we came back to campus this year as juniors. It was the role of upperclassmen and big sisters. We took this challenge and started off with anticipation. We greeted the Class of '66, our little sisters, with a serenade, a special orientation and a warm welcome. We had the wonderful privilege of working and playing together, and watching them grow.

We started off with a party for our new transfer students. We took them on a tour of the different departments on campus, through a pantomime and left feeling as though they had been with us always.

Then came the full moon and new hay, and we were off on our Junior Hayride. Fun, games and good food were shared with our classmates from the Dallas Clinical Center.

Gold Rush and Corn Huskin' found us on the move again. Displays were built and everyone worked for the success of Gold Rush. We then shook the old hayseeds out of our Corn Huskin' costumes and practiced our singing, dancing and chicken calling.

The holiday season found us full of good cheer and fellowship. We celebrated with a Big Sister-Little Sister party, with our party for the underprivileged children of Denton following close behind. This tradition added a meaning to the Christmas spirit.

Before we knew it, Stunt time was near, and we set to work with the spirit of '64 shining brightly. Our Stunt, Allegory, was the result of long hard hours of work and fun, with everyone joining in to help.

Soon after Stunts, the Redbud trees began to bloom, and so came the Redbud princesses. After the princesses had passed through the royal court, it was time to prepare our final show for the Ladies of '63. Everyone enjoyed working on Senior Breakfast.

The time was drawing near when we would take our seats as Ladies and sing our very own Senior Hymn. This was done with pride and anticipation.

Our year was one of work and play. We added another link to our chain of growth and knowledge, and looked forward to the new role we would play in the coming year with our campus officers and the undying spirit of '64.

*Dr. and Mrs. Josh P. Roach,

Junior Class Song

For All the class of '64;
There comes a rising cheer. Hey! Hey! Hey!
We're the class to carry on
Traditions old and dear.
We never fail in what we do
Though troubles may arise.
We learn to do by doing our best
And troubles quickly fly.
Our hearts are full of happiness,
We're Tessies everyone.
Forever more our hearts are true to our TWU!
Hit It!

Most girls bring their stuffed animals to college but Claudia Spang brought her real, live horse.

You can tell by their smiles that these five juniors use Ipana toothpaste.

Step, shuffle, step, — we finally learned the routine, say Judy Villegas and Carol Craft.

"Here, let me help you with your clubs," says Becky Davilla to pro golfer Judy Kimbell.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Rust,
Sophomore Sponsors

Sophomores, Class of '65

The anxious Class of '65 hit campus this fall with great plans for the year's activities. Sophomores rode into Hubbard Hall on "A Streetcar Named '63" and presented the Senior Breakfast. Soon afterwards Lowry Woods roared with the singing and entertaining program of the Sophomore Harvest Moon. Before we had time to hit our books again, Gold Rush stormed the campus, soon to be followed by the Corn Huskin' Bee. We had just enough time to change from our Corn Huskin' costumes and grab a wardrobe for the Corps Trip weekend with the Aggies and to see one of our own classmates, Lynn Parks, be pinned as Aggie Sweetheart.

A Sister Class Party and serenade were just in order for the Christmas season and the White Breakfast which soon followed was more beautiful than ever. By this time the fall semester had quickly passed and exam time was upon us.

The spring semester started off with a bang—Stunts!! Each member of the class gave of her time, talents and spirit to make our Stunt, "Experiment in Friendship," a good one.

The class carried on with grand style through the big activities of the spring semester. Among these were CGA elections, class officer elections, Posture Queen, Best Dressed, Redbud Festival, Festival of Nations, Senior-Sophomore Scholarship Show, Homecoming and the big Senior Assembly.

It's been a good year for '65 and our class sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Rust, have been a blessing and inspiration to us.

To our wonderful Sister Class of '63, we say THANKS for being our sisters, and may you all have a successful future.

"Where ever we go, what ever we do,
We're gonna go through it together . . ."
"With no strings attached."

Sophomore Class Song

Are you a Tessie?
Are you a Tessie?
From the Tessie Class of 1965?
Well you're the best one,
I said the best one,
From the best class ever alive.
If you're from Alabama, Tennessee or Yankee Land,
Let's all get together and give a hand.
Hey to the sophomores,
Hey to our sisters,
The Class of '65.
'65, '65
Greatest class there is alive!
He-e-e-y
1-9-6-5
Are you a Tessie?
Are you a Tessie?
Well I'm a Tessie, too!

Freshmen, Class of '66

Well, '66, here we are at the end of our freshman year at the University and at the beginning of three more bigger and better years. As we arrived here last fall, we were, to say the least, apprehensive and anxious. We proved ourselves with an exciting Freshman Talent Assembly. We learned to work together as a class and with the invaluable aid of our class sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. John Murray Kendrick, and our sister class. We have grown to love and admire Texas Woman's University. As second semester approached, we selected, organized and produced our first Stunt. Although we did not win the cup, we won the respect and friendship of many. We made our good better and our better best.

And now with wistful eyes we look to the future. With this year behind us we are ready to move ahead and prove ourselves an asset to this University. May no one ever be able to say of '66, "so much to do, so little done."

Mr. and Mrs. John Murray Kendrick, Freshman Sponsors

Freshman Class Song

Placement Bureau Aids Tessies in Seeking Jobs

With the help of the TWU Placement Bureau seniors and graduates are finding it easier to obtain employment.

The service offers tips on arranging a conference with the prospective business placement director, writing the application letter, preparing and conducting yourself for the interviews and observing the ethical restrictions on making applications.

The Placement Bureau, which was started in 1923, is under the direction of Mrs. Betty Jackson.

Mrs. Yarbrough points out the fundamentals of basic anatomy to a Body Structure and Function class.

MRS. LA VELLE
Director

Practical Nursing Program Trains Students in 4 Fields

In January, 1952, the Samuel H. Kress Foundation selected Texas Woman's University as one of the three leading universities in the United States where a model Practical Nurse Training Program was to be established. In this model program techniques were to be perfected to improve instruction in practical nursing.

The student in this program becomes a regularly enrolled student of TWU, spending the first semester on campus and two semesters in clinical practice at Flow Memorial Hospital in Denton, Medical Center Hospital in Tyler, Wichita Falls General Hospital or Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas. There the student receives training in four major fields: medical, surgical, pediatric and obstetrical. After completion of the program the student is eligible to become a licensed vocational nurse.

The program of study for the foundation period includes courses designed especially for practical nursing students and taught by members of the University faculty. The curriculum is planned to give a sound basic introduction to nursing, and, at the same time, to give an opportunity for participation in the many and varied activities of University life.

It is emphasized that the national accreditation of the Kress Foundation Practical Nursing Program gives its graduates the advantages of recognition anywhere in the nation.

During a nursing skills practice period these students learn basic nursing procedures in helping patients and administering food and medicines.

MRS. JEANETTE
KORIATH
Instructor

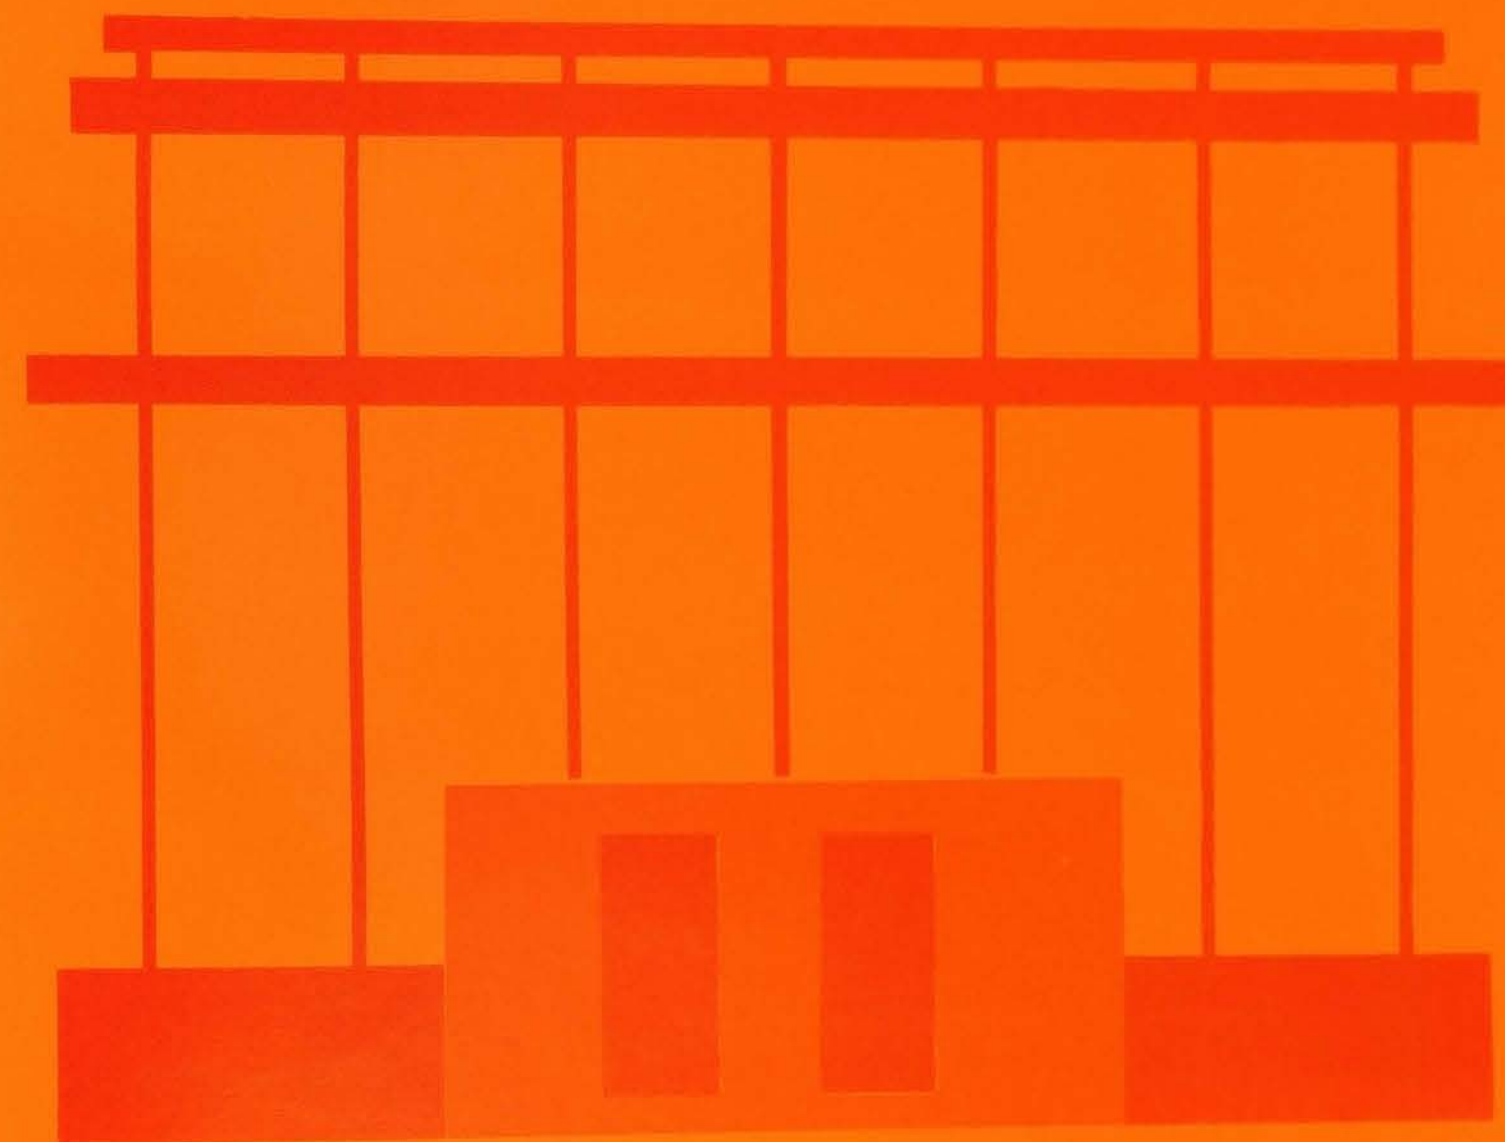

MRS. RUTH
MIDDLETON
Instructor

Nursing students receive last minute instructions from Mrs. Middleton as they begin their clinical practice in Denton County's modern Flow Memorial Hospital.

For Over 30 Years

Russell's

has been the favorite shopping place for thousands of
T. W. U.

TWU seniors, Kay Millet and Jan Pruitt, look happy and carefree in their sports ensemble from Russell's. Kay wears a two piece culotte outfit and Jan models a two piece skirt-blouse sports outfit, perfect for picnicking.

As T.W.U. has progressed and grown from the Industrial Arts — to Texas State College for Woman—to Texas Woman's University, it has been our privilege and happy experience to serve thousands of students and faculty members — counting them among our many dear friends. We are proud of having earned the reputation of being the "Big Friendly Store" in Denton where you can always find nationally advertised merchandise of good taste and high fashion at moderate prices!

Record-Chronicle

Furnishing students of Texas Woman's University with the latest in local, national and international news, copies of the Denton Record-Chronicle are delivered daily to dormitories to keep students informed of current events.

Two busy editors, Penny Pickard, Daedalian, and Kathy Coffey, Lass-O, take time out to see how the Denton Record Chronicle is printed. Kathy seems to be telling how to do it; do you understand, Penny?

Located on the drag

To the Texas Woman's University,

Forever to be true . . .

For everything you stand for . . .

Maroon and white to you.

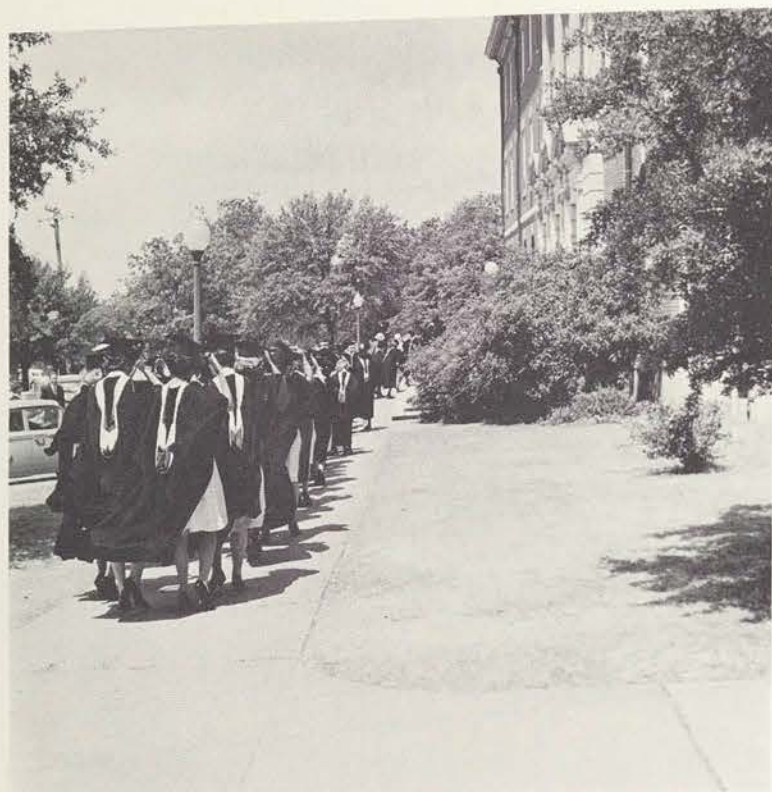

The friends we've made while living here,

Will last our whole lives through . . .

To the seniors . . .

And our school . . .

We pledge ourselves anew.
