A WISH...

Needles...

If the formula we have used in compiling this yearbook has

Pins...

been one with the correct proportions of sentiment, humor, dignity and foolishness...

Triplets...

If each girl finds within its pages what she wants to keep with her about the TSCW of 1947...

Twins...

Our wish has already come true.

DEDICATION...

to the friends we've made while living here

The girl we sat by in history class...the roommate who thought to pick up our laundry...the prof who understood a late theme...the person who cashed our dollar checks...the man who moved our trunks...the people who fed us three times a day...the man who told us
the mail was up.

To all these and many more we dedicate this book.

TO THE SENIORS

TEXAS STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN
DENTON, TEXAS

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

To The Class of 1947:

As you approach the day when you will be graduated from the Texas State College for Women, and are, I hope, wondering as to the meaning of this four-year experience on the campus you have learned to know so well, I would have you listen to this song of Walt Whitman:

"Come, I will make the continent indissoluble,
I will make the most splendid race the sun ever shone upon,
I will make divine magnetic lands,
With the love of comrades,
With the life-long love of comrades.
I will plant companionship thick as trees along all the rivers of America, and along the shores of the great lakes,
and all over the prairies,
I will make inseparable cities with their arms about each other's necks,
By the love of comrades,
By the manly love of comrades.

For you, these from me, O Democracy, to serve you, ma femme!
For you, for you I am trilling these songs."

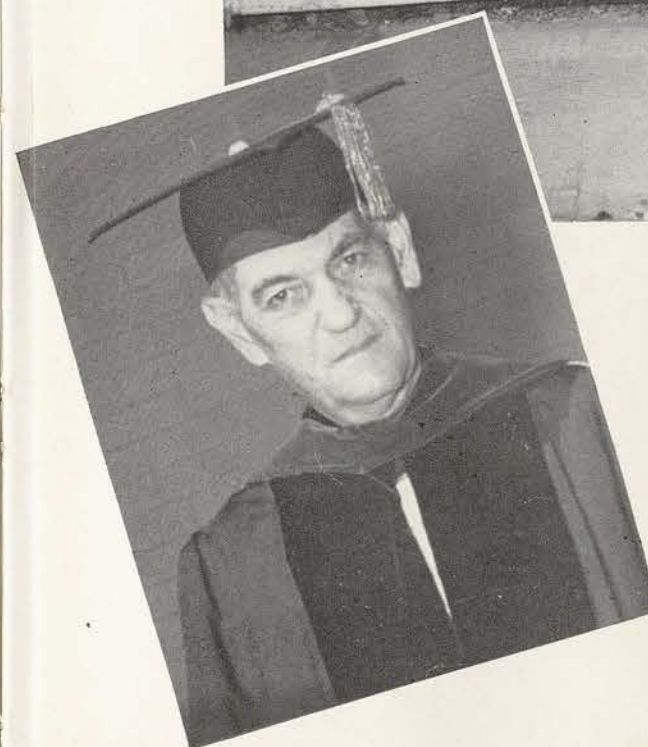

Yes I would have you remember that the importance of these four years will be measured by the strength of the devotion you have acquired for America, and by your determination to make Democracy, within its borders, a vital force.

And then, making Democracy a vital force within the borders of this fair land, you will then bend your every effort toward making its influence felt throughout the world.

The time has come when every lover of Justice must believe in, and work for, world peace. Have you learned this lesson at T.S.C.W.? That you have is my fervent hope.

Yours very sincerely,

L. H. Hubbard
L. H. Hubbard, President

OUR PRESIDENT

Dr. L. H. Hubbard

... who could "walk with kings and not lose the common touch"...

OUR DEAN

E. V. White

... whose jovial philosophy of life inspires both faculty and students ...

OUR DEAN OF STUDENTS

Mrs. Mattie Lloyd Wooten

... whose own charm is an incentive for students to follow her "way of life." ...

FRANKIE MASTERS

Miss Gloria Echols
The "Daedalian"
T.S.C.W., Denton, Texas

Dear Miss Echols:

In submitting to you my choices for the outstanding beauties of Texas State College for Women, I'd like to include a bit of unsolicited comment.

Among the things for which TSCW has won recognition is the high average level of pulchritude among its students. I can now see why. Choosing four of the outstanding beauties from a selected group of sixteen was a job more befitting the talents and experience of the late Ziegfeld than a band leader whose technical knowledge of "figures" is primarily concerned with the type found on a musical staff.

Tho I couldn't help regretting that each one of the nominees could not be a winner, I think I need have no apology for those I (with the help of my "board of advisers") finally selected. They are lovely.

But neither do the remaining 12 girls need apology. They all are worthy queens for any beauty throne.

It was a pleasure playing for you and an honor to be invited to make a selection of the beauties. I wish you all the best of fortune and happiness.

Sincerely yours,

FRANKIE MASTERS

PEGGY HENDRICKS . . . AGGIE DAY SWEETHEART

Aggie Day Sweetheart Nominees

When a dozen good-looking Aggies, kneedeep in leather, came up to Tessie, they had the assignment of finding the queen of the twelve girls shown below. Their choice, Peggy Hendricks, is shown on the preceding page. Below are the nominees. Front row: Laura Sessions, Frankie Lenert, Helen Bell, Katharine Reeve, Peggy Hendricks, and Jane Blanchard. Back row: Martha Snow, Hilda Harkness, Patsy Jo Jones, Katherine Blankenship, Margaret Ann Browning, and Norma Walker.

The Judges

QUEEN MARY BETH OF THE HOUSE OF FOSHEE . . . REDBUD QUEEN

The Redbud Festival

When spring comes, it is known that a Redbud Festival must be held to herald spring, and to honor the lovely princesses of the campus. This year Queen Mary Beth of the House of Foshee was crowned the loveliest of the princesses. Each year a queen is selected for her charm, contribution to the campus, and all-around queenliness. Last year a junior, Katharine Reeve, was chosen to reign at the Festival. She is pictured above on the throne, reigning this year on Friday before the new queen was named on Saturday.

King Louis of the Royal Line of Hubbard crowns Mary Beth Queen, after which she was entertained by the Modern Dance Group, the College Symphony, and the College Chorus.

Below, the attendants to the queen are the officers of the College Government Association. They are (clockwise): Clydene Simpson, Ann Douglass, Bonnie Ruth Matthews, Phyllis McCarthy, Javonne Jewett, and Mahala Menefee. Mary Beth is holding a bouquet of roses presented to her from the college, and an orchid from the Denton Chamber of Commerce.

Cotton Ball Queen

Joann Dobbs

Ex-Student Association

Seated around the table are officers of the Ex-Student Association at one of their meetings. Left to right, they are: Mrs. Paul Beene, Executive Secretary, Denton; Mrs. L. L. Prock, Recording Secretary, Pilot Point; Mrs. T. R. Brooks, Jr., Treasurer, Denton; Miss Abbie Rutledge, Second Vice-President, Denton; Mrs. Jack McCullough, First Vice-President, McKinney; Mrs. Chester Terry, Corresponding Secretary, Dallas; Mrs. Herbert C. Hale, President, Dallas.

With their Alma Mater as a common interest, former TSCW students organize and participate in Chapters of Ex-Students in many Texas towns. Throughout the year they maintain a bureau of information regarding its students, as well as other duties, and at the end of the second semester each year a big Ex-Students' Reunion is held on the campus.

The Modern Choir

Freedom of expression is emphasized in this choir, under the direction of Dr. William E. Jones, which toured Texas several times this year. Variety of repertoire from the classics to the moderns are offered by the group, which is in its tenth year.

CONTRALTO SECTION

Second row: Lottie Atkinson, Mary Grace Good, Frankie Phillips, Rose Marie Bland, Bobbie Green, Beth Jones.

Third row: Ann Douglass, Joan Straughan, Betty Hunter, Ann Van Amburg.

SECOND SOPRANO SECTION

First row: Patsy Durham, Jean Ann Ramming, Dorothy Lusk, Bobbyetta Matthews, Mary Joyce Kubala, Mary Beth Duke.

Second row: Marjorie Mahaffey, Evelyn Morgan, Doris Carmignani, Betsy Cunningham, Jean Pullin, Alice Milliken.

Third row: Lera Mae Gooch, accompanist, Virgie Estill, Martha Steed, Naomi Flewellyn, Mary Gammel.

FIRST SOPRANO SECTION

First row: Louise Hudspeth, Madge Boucher, Jane Darst, Irene Yoder, Anne Danforth.

Second row: Jean Harrison, Norma Jean Wilson, Vivian Burges, Jean Jackson, Lindy Hester.

Third row: Martha Jo Wilson, Carolyn Wall, Beverly Brauer, Frances Denton.

Singing Stars

Under the direction of John Murray Kendrick, the Singing Stars gave many performances this year in Fort Worth, Dallas, and other cities, as well as in Denton.

Violin Trio

The Violin Trio performs with the Modern Choir on programs in Denton and on out-of-town tours. Left to right are: Mary Oden, Helen Billbrey, and Beverly Tucker.

Sweetheart Sextette

The Sweetheart Sextette has entertained at Rotary Clubs in Denton and Dallas, at teas, and on other programs. Under the direction of Dr. William E. Jones, the group was reorganized this year for the first time since the war.

Above, the Shiek sings to his dancers in the Senior Stunt, "Traveler's Gold," written by Mark Murrell and "Put" Ketelson.

CLASS STUNTS

The campus changes from a peaceful girl's campus in a few hours to a place of shouting by everyone for her class. There is a place for every one with class spirit during rehearsals . . . in making scenery, costumes, encouraging, or just hollering when stunt night comes. This year the Sophomore Class took the cup with their "Black Men" stunt, which was the history of the Negro in three scenes, in Africa, on a Southern plantation, and in Harlem.

Below, the bartender sings in "Recess in Heaven," the Freshman Stunt, written and directed by Patsy Roach and Cheryl Maxwell.

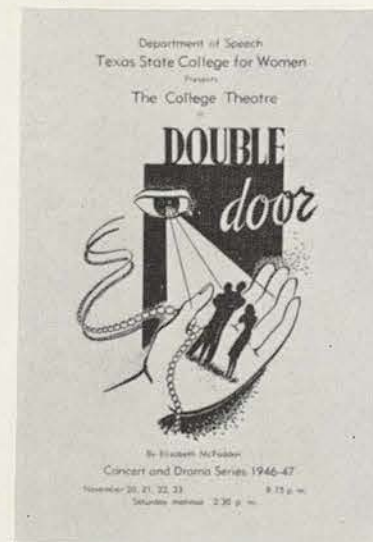

Above, with an oriental setting, the Junior Stunt was named "Mandarin Mood," and was written by Barbara Brooke, Ann Shanks, and Jimmie Sears, and directed by Barbara Brooks.

Below, the second part from "Black Men," shows a plantation scene. Left, two of the writers of the stunt are Peggy Dyer and Jean Harris. Sug Chatham is not pictured. At right, Martha Snow, class president, joyfully accepts the cup from Mr. Emerson.

Double Door

by Elizabeth McFadden

Family difficulties form the background for the mystery play "Double Door" presented in November. Victoria Van Brett's attempt to dominate the lives of her sister, Caroline, and half brother, Rip, is interrupted by an outsider, Anne Darrow, whom Rip marries. With Victoria's will concentrated on ousting the newcomer, Little Theatre goers were provided with suspense and excitement throughout the entire performance.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

AVERY . . . . .	Sibyllene Bickers
TELSON . . . . .	Sarah Sharp
LOUISE . . . . .	Marilyn Monaghan

RIP VAN BRETT . . . . .	Mary Marshall
DR. JOHN SULLY . . . . .	Mildred Whatley
LAMBERT . . . . .	Betty Lou Sorrell
	Dorothy Culberson
	Pat Bray

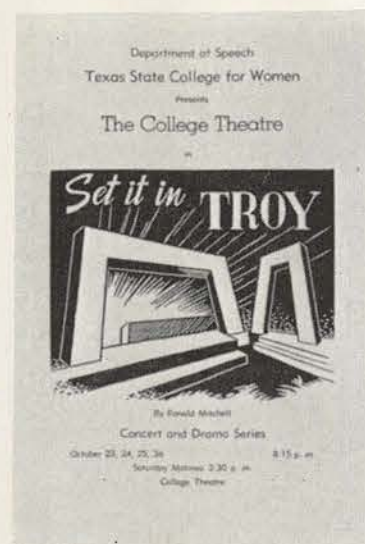

Loveable Caroline watches the adoring glances between Rip and Anne while Victoria is defiant of their love.

Capably portraying Victoria Van Brett, Katharine Reeve sits scheming to intervene in the happy marriage of Rip and Anne.

Set It In Troy

by Ronald Mitchell

As an experiment in creative theater, the College Theater presented "Set It in Troy" by Ronald E. Mitchell. It was the third performance ever given of this expose of human nature. The drama is timeless and has a world-wide setting. "Set It in Troy" revolves around the Trojan war and Idæus' love and understanding of his family during the trying times.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

NARRATOR . . . . . Dorothy Lindsey
 IDAEUS, a herald . . . . . Leonora De Grasse
 LAMIA, his daughter . . . . . Elizabeth Noble

Idæus's weary family and friends gaze toward the city of Troy waged in battle and feel the undercurrent of turmoil in their own house.

Scamandra, left, and Thachyris, right, listen to Idæus, as he describes his and King Priam's visit to Achilles.

The Nativity Pageant

An original dramatization of the story portraying the birth of Christ written by President L. H. Hubbard, the Nativity Pageant was presented in its eleventh annual performance this year. When the play was first written and produced many years ago only one presentation was necessary, but growing popularity required four performances to be given each year.

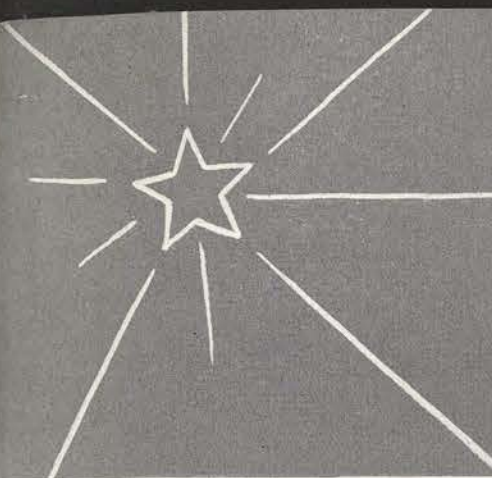

Efforts of the Music and Speech Departments are combined to depict the colorful and spiritual beauty in the birth of Christ. A main cast of fifty students was collaborated with vocal choruses in highlighting dramatic and reverent qualities of the nine-scene drama.

In composing these scenes, President Hubbard was inspired by Mexican Yuletide festivals in Juarez during his boyhood. He used the titles of Renaissance Biblical paintings for "The Story of the Christ Child," and his drama has become a TSCW tradition dear to the memory of every student.

The Three Wise Men, beholding the star in the East, begin their journey in search of the new born King.

Aged Simeon with his grandchildren read from the Prophecy of Isaiah concerning the coming of Christ.

After the angel of the Lord appeared telling Mary of her blessing, she shares her joy with hand maiden, Miriam.

King Herod plots with his advisors to destroy the child who proclaims to be the new King.

Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs

Charming both Denton children and TSCW students was the performance of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" presented by the Children's Theater this fall. Directed by Miss Eleanor Chase, this world-loved fairy tale produced such enchanting characters as Snow White with long tresses, seven pixie dwarfs, cruel Queen Brangomar, dashing Prince Floremond, and wicked Witch Hex.

CAST

Snow White	Joanna Mosely
Queen Brangomar	Norma Zuckerman

Christabel	Mary Ruth Taylor
Ursula	Frankie Teague
Ermengarde	Polly Ellington
Quinivere	Lynnette Douglas
Lynette	Olivia Fertitta
Astolaine	Wynelle Lapereuse
Peddlar	Lera Beth Langford

Verse Speaking Choir

The Verse Speaking Choir is under the direction of Miss Eleanor Chase and has made appearances both on the campus and in nearby cities. Above are pictured the members. They are, front row: Joan Daniel, Eugenia Gould, Earline Ragan, Gene Robinson, Jeanine Brown, Elizabeth Johnson, Ruth Sorrell. Second row: Bettye Lou Harper, Elda Jean Littlepage, Wilma Pollard, Gwen Lane, Marinelle Carpenter, Sonia Willett, Joann Dobbs, Clara Anderson.

Martha Jean Leslie, standing in front of a copy of The Daily Lass-O, has the distinction of being the first editor of the paper as a daily.

The Daily Lass-O is published in the TSCW Print Shop every day except Saturday, Sunday, and holidays. As the only women's college daily in the world, and one of the two college dailies in Texas, the paper boasts of a United Press Association teletype and National Advertising. Besides the daily editors on the opposite page, and Molcie Lou Halsell, below, as Business Manager, The Lass-O has Lee Calhoun on its staff as Cartoonist Editor, and Marjorie Helbach as Photography Editor. Journalism students act as reporters and photographers as part of their class work.

Molcie Lou Halsell, left, is Business Manager of The Daily Lass-O. Next, she and the editor are looking at the first issue of the paper on September 19. The print shop gang keep busy with a paper each day in addition to other jobs. Martha Jean at right is in conference with her daily editors.

Phyllis Radovich, Monday Editor, first semester, is putting up assignments for her reporters.

Marion White, Monday Editor, second semester, reads copy and writes headlines.

Lass-O Daily Editors

Mary Beth Foshee, Wednesday Editor, decides what story will go where on the page layout.

Marilyn Toye, Friday Editor, gives a final check to one of the eight page proofs of her Friday paper.

Jeanne Branshaw, Thursday Editor, runs the brayer over the type in the proof press before taking a proof.

Marcelynn Gates, Tuesday Editor, sees that the copy gets to the linotype machine to be set up.

DAEDALIAN

Gloria Echols, editor-in-chief of the DAEDALIAN Yearbook, is pasting pictures in her big memory book, hoping that it will become every TSCW girl's memory book, too.

MARY BETH FOSHEE
Business Manager

TINA RUTH LAYTON
Art Editor

Dorothy Todd, Editor, looks like she has made up her mind about the Fall Issue of the Daedalian Quarterly.

The Daedalian Quarterly had two issues this year, the Fall, and the Winter-Spring Issue. Sponsored by the English Department under the supervision of Miss Mamie Walker, the literary magazine is published in the College Press. Any student on the campus may contribute literary work to the magazine, and a special Freshman Section is included. The magazines are delivered to the dormitories for every student, which amounts to around 6,000 copies this year.

Roberta Wallace, Art Editor, designs the cover for the issues and draws illustrations for the articles and poems.

Pat Anderson, left, is Literary Editor of the Quarterly. She is shown "pasting up" the dummy for another issue.

The College Print Shop becomes the hide-out of the editors when time comes for inserting the pages for the magazine. Six thousand magazines went through the presses this year.

Modern Dance

This year the Modern Dance Club appeared in concerts over the Southwest, including El Paso, Dallas, Fort Worth, and Denton.

Above Peggy Lander, Jo Lang, Betty Doss, and Regina Mitchell are posed in a position from the Waltz in La Traviata.

Peggy Lawler whirls into a turn.

Going 'round and 'round are Kitty Kelly and Jo Turrentine from another movement of the opera.

Folk Dance

"All jump up and circle wide and swing your gal 'til her petticoat shows." At the Folk Dance Club this can be heard every Friday night with Mrs. Anna Nanson calling. Above from left to right Claire Mae Jenkins, Marjorie York, Jo Ellen Canada, Dorothy Day, Marcille Hook, Meg Goodman, Pat O'Connor, and Bettye Myers are honoring their partners.

Caperettes

Rifle

Shooting matches with colleges all over the country, these "Annie Oakleys" have shot their way to fame. Rifle is taught in three classes and then for those who are top shooters there is a Rifle Club. Seated from left to right are Jean Harris, Elizabeth Hunt, Juanita Reed, Margaret Varner, Jane Ramsey, Betty Browning, and Esther Schmidt.

G o l f

Golf is one of the most popular outdoor sports at TSCW for both faculty members and students. Classes are taught during the day and there is a year around Golf Club. This year Ann Parker won the Ringer Tournament. In the Spring girls play in the Leman and WRA Tournaments.

Below is a class practicing their drives.

Tennis

Each spring girls practice for the WRA Singles Tennis Tournament and the Leman Doubles Tournament and battle back and forth for the two silver cups. Below are TSCW's two top players. Bottom left is Peggy Dyer, winner of the Leman doubles, and bottom right is Margaret Varner, two time Nation Junior Girls' Doubles winner.

Archery

Out behind Dormitory Row each morning there is an archery class practicing vigorously with each member trying to hit the bull's eye.

Bowling

Jackie Shaw starts to roll the ball down the alley as the rest of the bowling class watches. Bowling classes have become one of the most popular physical education courses offered.

Fencing

Girls in fencing classes not only learn how to duel, but they get grace and learn excellent balance. Here the girls in Miss Jeanette Schlottman's class fence it out . . . touche!

Horseback Riding

At all times of the day horses, dogs, and girls can be found at the stables where girls learn to ride and take care of horses. Here the girls are riding bare-back in the stables.

Tumbling

Talented girls who like to fly through the air and do outstanding gymnastics go out for the Tumbling Club each spring. These girls work vigorously three times a week under the supervision of Miss Bonnie Cotteral and at the end of the term they present a demonstration.

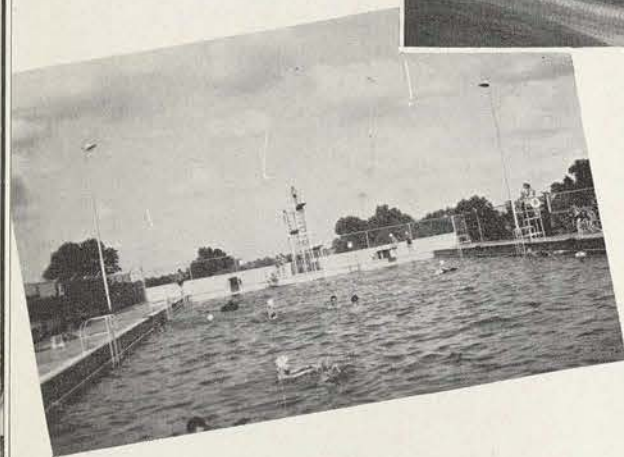

For Class

Swimming

For Safety

Badminton

The Badminton Club went to three Tournaments this year, and came back with honors from each. At Dallas, Bettye Myers won the Consolation Tournament; in Abilene, Margaret Varner won singles; and in Waco, Margaret won again in doubles.

Margaret Varner hits the birdie while Bettye Myers watches.

Volley Ball

Each year in addition to volley ball classes there is a WRA Inter-Dormitory Volley Ball Tournament. Houston Hall's team defeated Rusk's 39-31 in the finals for the championship this year.

Basketball

One of the most exciting times in the gymnasium each year is the finals of the Inter-Dormitory Basketball Tournament. This year three nerve-racking games had to be played before Lowry finally took the title away from Rusk.

Skating

Out on the concrete slab every day several classes of skating learn the art of putting side-walk skating into patterns and figures. They start out with spills and scratched knees and end up as "Sonja Henies" on rollers.

Hockey

Hockey blooms in the fall when girls team up and hit the ball up and down the field trying to get it past the goalie.

Turkey Day Hockey Game

Schools all over the country have big "Turkey day football games." Here at TSCW we don't have football, but come Thanksgiving we have a rip-roaring hockey game when girls team up and call themselves Aggies and Longhorns. This year to the sound of cheers and rooting, the A & M team won 3-1. Always before this would turn out that A & M would beat Texas three touchdowns to one, but there must be a first time for everything.

Tessie...at home

Red and white polka dot bed spreads and curtains to match make this room fun to live in, fun to study in. . . . This attractive little stand is also handy for a coffee table when guests arrive.

A hanging shelf becomes the room and stays within house regulations, too. . . . Clever signs brighten dormitory halls. . . . The young lady who planned this dressing table made a radiator covering to match.

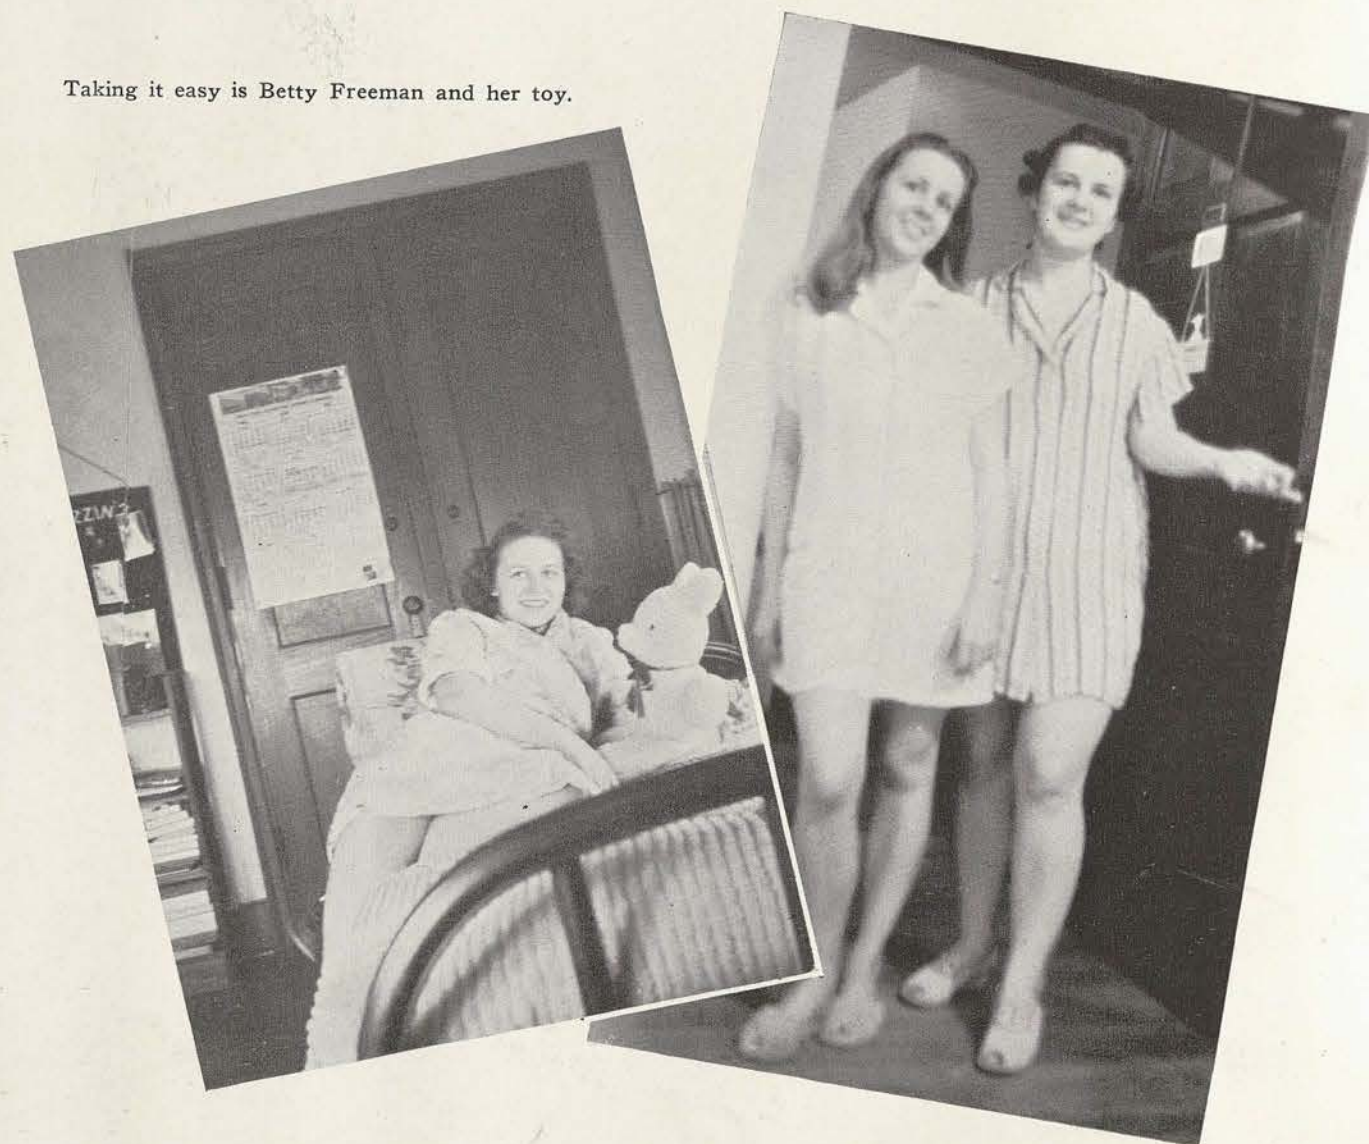

Exam tomorrow? or can't you sleep? Hum-m-m . . .

What We Won't Do Next!

We may not be the best housekeepers while away at college . . . we may not write home as often as we should . . . we may not take our studies seriously enough . . . we may not take as good care of our clothes and ourselves as we should . . . BUT WE SURE DO HAVE FUN!

Well, don't just stand there. Come on in!

Taking it easy is Betty Freeman and her toy.

Jo Ann Rummell is writing to the Aggie in the picture. Look closely and you will see her picture in a smoke cloud from his pipe. Clever, no?

This girl is either joyfully stacking some poor sucker's room, or tearfully unstacking her own. You figure it out.

FLASH! . . . uh . . . surprised?

Concert and Drama Series, 1946-47

THE DALLAS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Highlighting the fall Concert and Drama Series programs was the Dallas Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Antal Dorati, which opened its 1946-47 concert season at TSCW. Presenting its initial season performance each year here may become a tradition. For pictures of the orchestra backstage, see page 265.

METROPOLITAN ARTISTS ENSEMBLE

Jarmila Novotna, Herta Glaz, Raoul Jobin, and Martial Singher make up the brilliant Metropolitan Artists Ensemble presented at TSCW February 7. Complete scenes from operas were given in costume.

PASQUIER TRIO

The Pasquier Trio, composed of three brothers, Jean Pasquier, violin; Pierre Pasquier, viola; and Etienne Pasquier, Violoncello, comprise three interpreters of chamber music and acclaim to be the first ensemble to devote itself to the propagation of string trios. The trio was enthusiastically accepted by the TSCW audience.

BILL PALMER

The second number on the Concert and Drama Series' parade of outstanding artists and lectures was Bill Palmer, nationally known accordionist. Exercising his skill, Mr. Palmer presented musical selections on his custom-built accordion that were considered impossible to play on the instrument.

EARLE SPICER

Earle Spicer, baritone, entertained students by singing delightful ballad selections here in October. Composed of three groups, Mr. Spicer's program included traditional English ballads, Shakespeare and Gilbert and Sullivan, and traditional American ballads.

MONA PAULEE

With her magnetic and "velvet voice," Mona Paulee, raven-haired mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Association thrilled every listener when she appeared at TSCW in November. Born in Alberta, Canada, the opera star is of French-Russian ancestry. She was accompanied at the piano by her husband, Dean Holt, as she sang beloved classical vocal literature.

ERIKA MANN

Erika Mann, lecturer, author, foreign correspondent, and actress, gave a Concert and Drama Series lecture on "Education for Peace" concerning Germany and the world. A leader of democratic thought and action, Miss Mann presented a realistic and vivid interpretation of the full significance of current events in Europe.

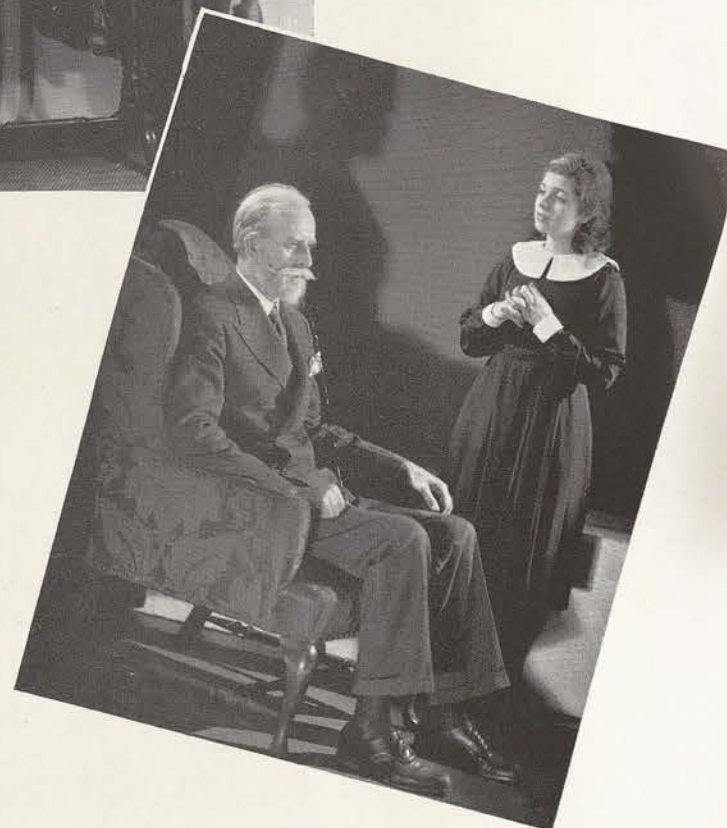

Left, Olga Balish as "Portia" and Herbert Voland as "Bassanio" in a Clare Tree Major Production of "The Merchant of Venice."

CLARE TREE MAJOR THEATRE

Appearing twice on the Series this year the Clare Tree Major Company presented "Nobody's Girl" and Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice."

Right, A scene from "Nobody's Girl," a translation from the French of Hector Malot, as presented by the Clare Tree Major Children's Theater.

PETER KOCH

Opening the TSCW Concert and Drama Series programs of 1946-47 was one of the best known and skilled naturalist photographers, Peter Koch. In an illustrated color movie-lecture he told stories about the natural wonders of the new Big Bend National Park.

EZIO PINZA

Metropolitan singing-actor, Ezio Pinza delighted students with his rich voice with arias from well-known operas. He made his debut with the Metropolitan Opera Company in 1926.

JOHN MASON BROWN

Lecturing at TSCW, John Mason Brown, critic, lecturer, and author of twelve books, has taught at Harvard, Yale, Columbia, and the University of Montana. Mr. Brown is Associate Editor of the Saturday Review of Literature.

ARTUR RUBINSTEIN

As the greatest pianist of all times, Artur Rubinstein appeared at TSCW this spring. This Polish artist began his career at the age of eight and made his first American debut in 1906.

A. M. HARDING

As a well-known astronomer, President Harding of the University of Arkansas gave an illustrated lecture on "Glimpses of Other Worlds."

SAN FRANCISCO SYMPHONY

The San Francisco Symphony appeared as a special attraction on the TSCW stage and not as a number on the Concert and Drama Series.

Under the baton of Pierre Monteux, the orchestra thrilled TSCW students, townspeople, and guests. This performance was the North Texas Concert debut in its eight-week tour of the United States and Canada.

PIERRE MONTEUX

Pierre Monteux, famous 72-year-old conductor of the San Francisco Symphony, was born and educated in France. Long known as conductor of the Paris Symphony, Monteux pleased his TSCW audience with his dignity and obvious discipline of his orchestra.

THE DALLAS SYMPHONY BACKSTAGE

The orchestra tunes up backstage before its first performance of the season.

(Top right) President Hubbard introduces James W. Murray, vice-president of RCA-Victor who presented the College with a vinylite album of Glazounov's "The Seasons," played by the Dallas Symphony Orchestra.

(Circle) Antal Dorati, director of the Dallas Symphony, is one of the youngest conductors of major symphonies. A native of Hungary, he was the youngest student ever to graduate from the Academy of Music in Budapest. At 18 he was appointed conductor of the Budapest Royal Opera House.

Corps Trip!

Blonde, blue-eyed Peggy Hendricks, Sweetheart of the Aggies, stands with Cadet Col. Eddie Brandt at the half of the Aggie-SMU game when she was presented before 40,000 spectators. The band played "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" while Eddie gave Peggy an armful of sweetheart roses and a kiss on behalf of the corps.

Everybody had fun . . .

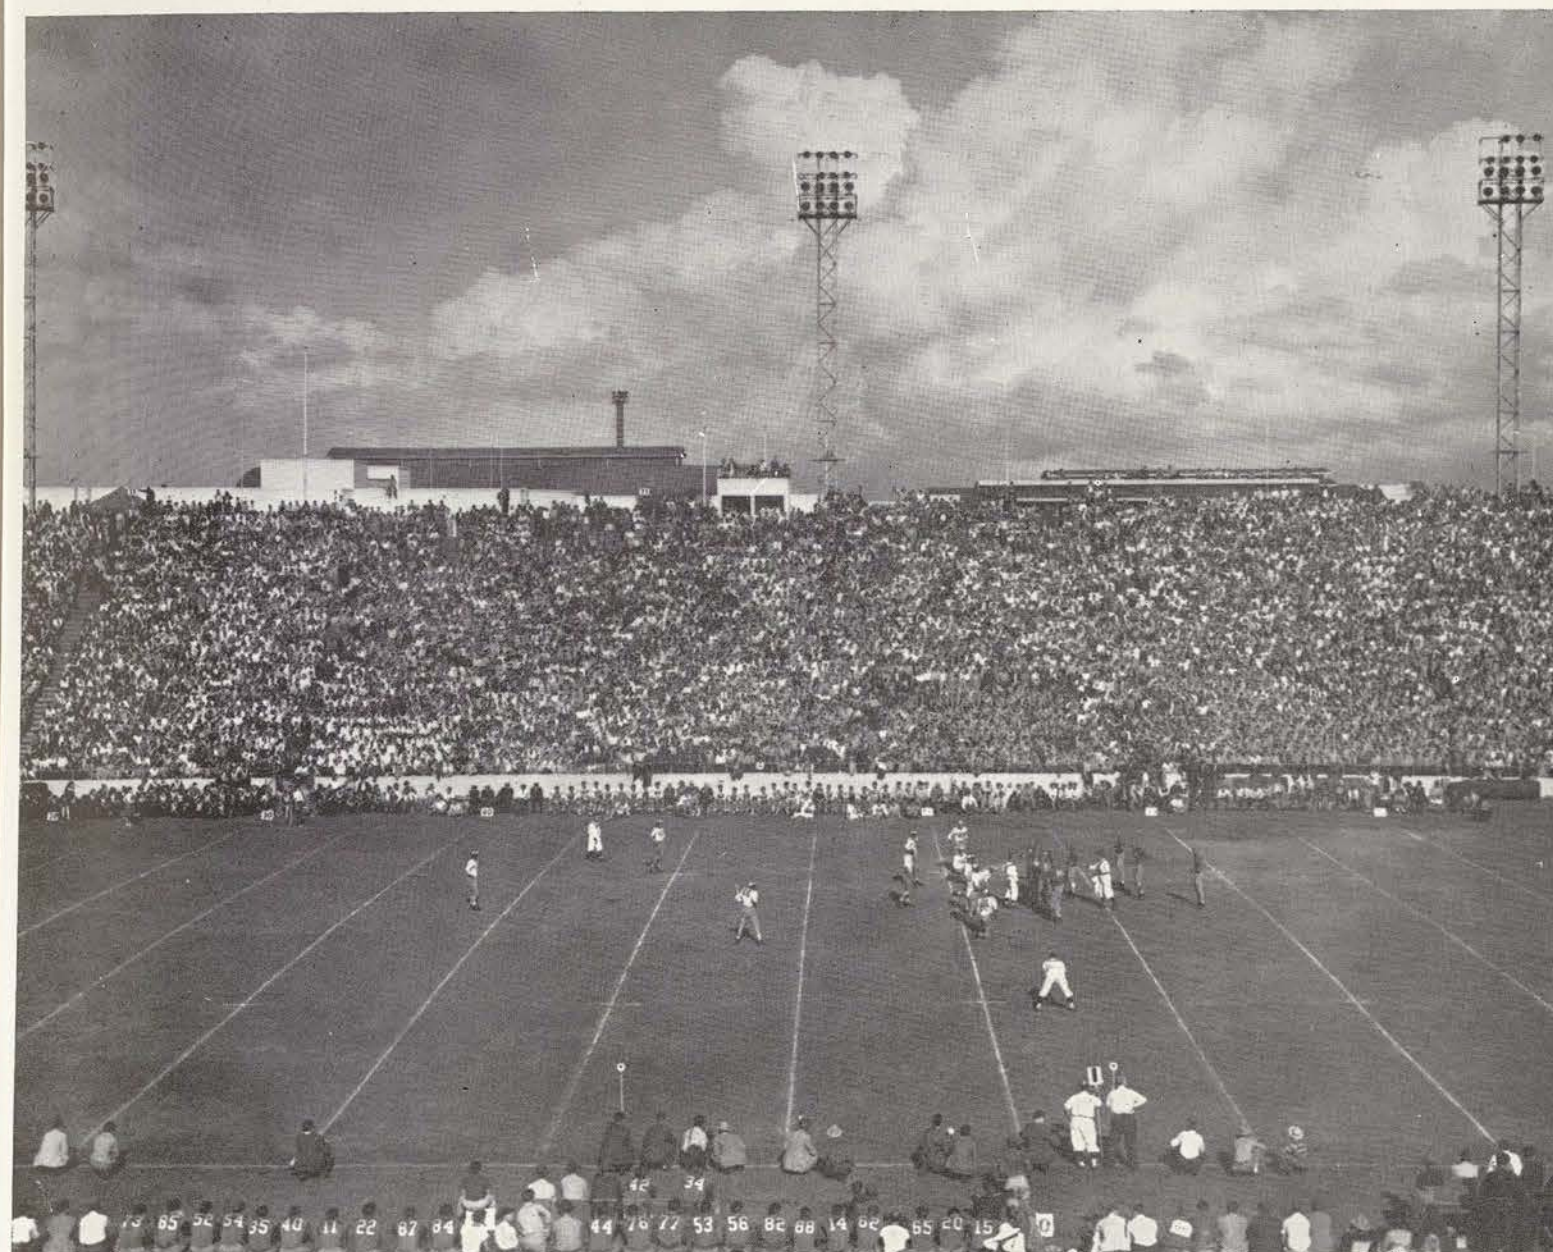

Including the Aggie eleven . . .

At the A & M - SMU game.

The Cotton Bowl in Dallas was filled an hour before the game, which ended with a score of A & M 14 - SMU 0.

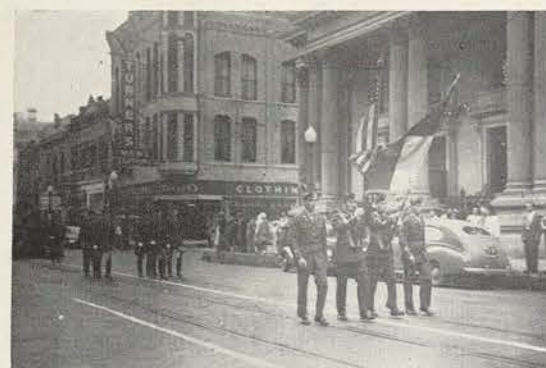

The date . . .

First Corps Trip ticket buyer was Patricia Ann Petus, right; Elaine Anders, left, was second.

Finishing touches . . .

The parade begins . . .

President Hubbard said, "The TSCW campus was like a graveyard at midnight with only 375 girls remaining there."

And there it goes . . .

Dallas merchants opened their doors with special style shows and refreshments. Behind the punch bowl in the center are TSCW hostesses at W. A. Green's, Joana Mosley, Dorothy Moss, Katharine Reeve, and Kathryn Blankenship.

Maroon and white ribboned mums were much in evidence that sunny day when about 1700 Tessies and 8000 Aggies invaded Dallas. Newspapers said it was "the largest attendance before which SMU ever played in Dallas."

From the reviewing stand in front of the Dallas City Hall presidents of the sister-brother schools watch the parade. President Hubbard is third from left and President Gibb Gilchrist of A & M on his left.

During the half the Aggie band formed "TSCW" and played Alma Mater. Mahala Menefee, Student Body President, and her escort, James Yancy, were guests of SMU Student Body President, as were A & M's Senior Class President and his date.

Dallas dance floors were crowded that night . . . With seconds to play a cloud blew up and rain soaked the excited crowd. Aggies and Tessies left wet but happy.

A Beauty Goes...

Oretha Cornelius, Sophomore beauty nominee, is met by Joe Mueller, who is to be her date for the week-end. . . . One last look before going to the George Washington Birthday Ball where she and fifteen other TSCW beauties will be presented to Bandleader Frankie Masters. . . . Joe, a senior from Corpus Christi, pulls on his freshly shined boots. . . . And away to the dance they go. She doesn't even have to sign out. . . . Very danceable music by Frankie Masters and his orchestra is enjoyed by Joe and Oretha.

A barbershop quartette was presented when the Singing Cadets visited the campus. They were guests of the Sophomore Class at their fall dance.

Outstanding Golf Guests

Patty Berg left, visited the campus October 14 with Earl Stewart, below, leading amateur golfer in Dallas. Miss Berg and Gene Towry, former Texas State High School champion, defeated Mr. Stewart and Alice Weeks, TSCW Leman Golf winner last year, 36-39, in a 10-hole match.

Betty Hicks, below, stayed on the campus three days in November for lectures and exhibitions. Ann Parker, winner of Ringer Golf Tournament, and Noran Means, runner-up of last year's Leman Tourney, are observing.

Saltillo Summer School

Six-year-old Saltillo Summer School is a popular place where more than one hundred students go for six weeks in the summer to learn, play, and see Mexico. Saltillo is the Capitol of Coahuila, Mexico. Pictures on this page show TSCW girls enjoying the cool mountain climate and cultured atmosphere.

Student Government

Left, student leaders, Martha Jean Leslie, Mahala Menefee, and Javonne Jewett congratulate Mrs. Joseph Perkins (white blouse), after her speech on "College Government, a Preparation for World Living," during College Government Week. Mrs. M. L. Wooten, second from left, and Mrs. R. J. Turrentine are also shown.

Eleanor Wilson, left, president of the Campus League of Women Voters, watches Mrs. V. Y. Rejabian, prominent leader in civic affairs in Texas, who spoke in assembly on New Voter's Day. Below, new voters take oath.

During College Government Week a forum was held on "College Government '46." Taking part, left to right, were Dr. F. L. McDonald, Miss Elizabeth Painter, Mahala Menefee, Miss Mary Huford, Gloria Echols, and Peggy Lanier. Right, Students at the forum eagerly listen to the speakers.

Prof. Jackson says he talked President Hubbard into letting him brighten up dead week with a talk in assembly. He did.

Outstanding Assemblies

Famous "Lord" Byron Nelson gave a short talk and demonstration in one assembly. He even practiced driving in the auditorium . . . with cotton balls.

Kappy and sister, Margaretta Reeve presented an hour original program on Texas.

Texas Senators and Representatives were introduced in one assembly.

Texas State College for Women Religious Emphasis Week

February 9-13, 1947

Sponsored by
The Student Council of Religious Activities

TOP RIGHT: The Rev. Roger Blanchard, rector of the Calvary Church in Columbia, Mo., returned to the campus for the second time, and was again received by students enthusiastically.

CENTER RIGHT: Col. Ora Jason Cohee, associate director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews for the Southwestern Division, spoke on "Can We Believe in Immortality?" and "Christianity As a Way of Life."

WRA Activities

The most popular WRA activity of the year is the Cornhuskers' Bee held this year on October 18. Faculty and students let down their hair and have a wonderful time acting "corn fed."

Mary Keene, below left, won chicken-calling contest; Sammy King, in plaid shirt, won second. Margaret Daughtry, second from right, won the hog-calling contest, while Kay Horton, right, came in second.

Three of the dorm sing-song groups are shown above. Austin Hall, not pictured, won the contest with "Skip to My Lou." Below are the judges for the sing-song contest.

President Hubbard teases the photographer.

Self Development Week

For one week preceding the Red-bud Festival, TSCW students concentrate on becoming more charming. Special exhibits, programs and style shows are planned. Below is Mrs. Grace Graham, merchandising manager for Neiman-Marcus, who brought a style show to TSCW. She is shown at right with some of her models. Bottom of the page are two of the Home Economics Exhibits.

Posture Queen

HELEN OVERALL

A posture clinic is held during Self-Development Week, and from contestants from each dormitory is chosen a queen. Helen Overall, sophomore art student, received first place this year, with Ruth Hillin, as second, and Jean Littlepage as third. The clinic is sponsored by the Health, Physical, and Recreation Department.

A Picnic ...at Lake Dallas

It takes riding out on the trucks, unloading the food, canoeing, and gathering fire wood to make a good picnic on the lake for the Journalism Club.

Mr. Chambers, journalism prof, whittles a stick for the weiner roast. Editor Glo just grins.

The Junior Class went "out of this world" in the Union Building one night. No other explanation can be given.

THE P. O.

I went into the P. O.
To look into my box
But I was lost among
Sweaters, skirts, and bobby sox.

I struggled thru the reckless crowd
I took my life in hand
For everyone had one intent:
A letter from a man.

Then—in my box a letter stood
I tried my combination
I took it out and read the name,
I had a dumb sensation!

I stood there hot with anger
My face was red with hate
The first thought was to hear it up.
'Twas for my fool boxmate.

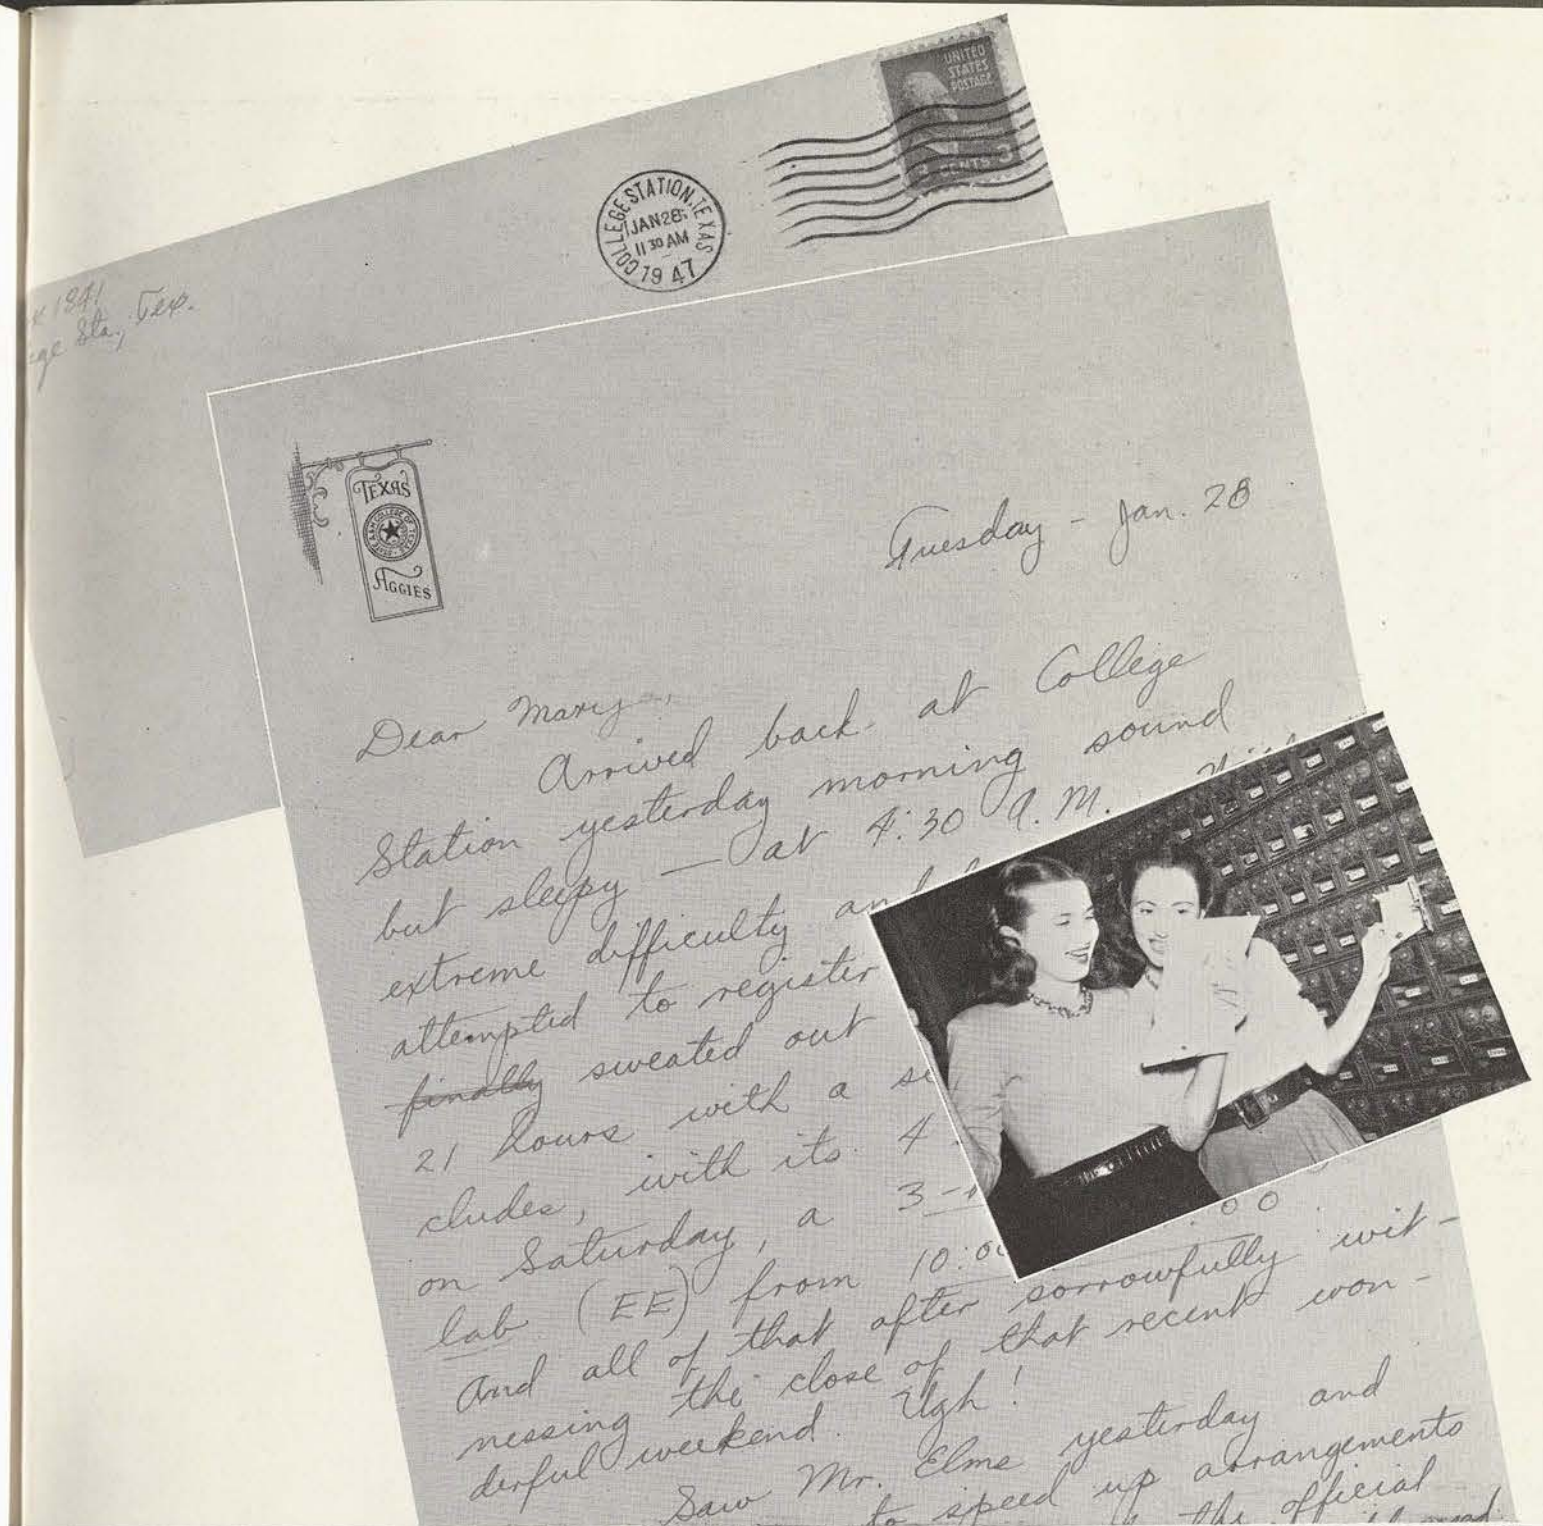

But if you want some mail, mind this:
You'll know if you're not dense,
Just send some letters off yourself
It only costs three cents.

Let's go to the All College Picnic

Two times a year, the entire college, students and faculty, go to Lowry Woods for a picnic. This year the calendar and the weather had a hard time getting together. But we had two picnics as usual anyway. Miss Nell Morris, head dietitian, is shown eating an apple by a college truck, above.

Faculty Fun

Above left, Claude Castleberry dishes out some sizeable steaks for the faculty stag party in the TSCW Golf House. Right, Dr. Jones takes time out for a picture on the way to work. Where is your pipe this morning, Dr. J.?

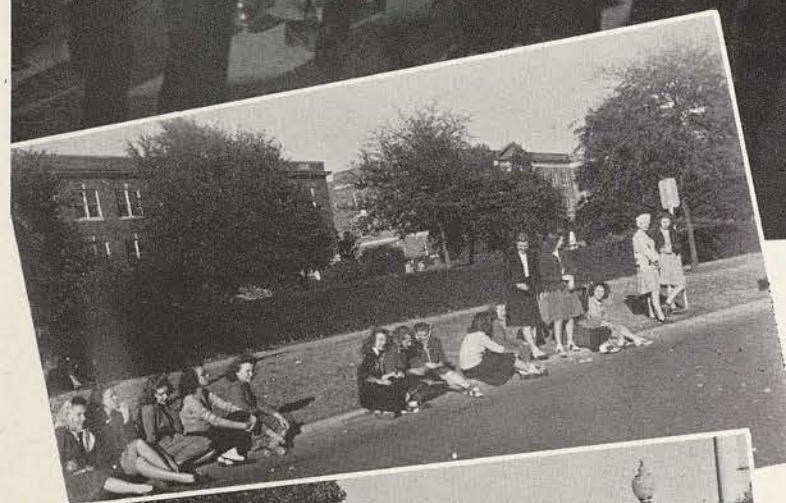

At left, Mr. and Mrs. C. Horton Talley are at a formal dance in the ballroom. Must be intermission time. Also at the party are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chambers, below, keeping good company. Right, All the faculty turns out at the All College Picnic. Below are Mr. Roy McPherson and Dr. Max Shipley participating.

We waited . . .

And waited . . .

THE O. U. BAND COMES AGAIN!

Renewing an old before-the-war tradition, the Oklahoma University Sooner Band members were guests of the Senior Class the evening before the OU-TU game in Dallas on October 12. Seniors "rushed" the Sooners at the dance following their concert.

And waited . . . Here they come!

THE OUTDOOR SWIMMING POOL

When warm weather finally arrives, Tessies head for their 150 ft. x 50 ft. swimmin' hole in back of the Union Building. With Red Cross Life Savers on duty at all times, students and their dates play in the sand, take sun baths, and . . . oh, yes . . . swim.

Tessie's Date Life

Play pool at College Club . . .

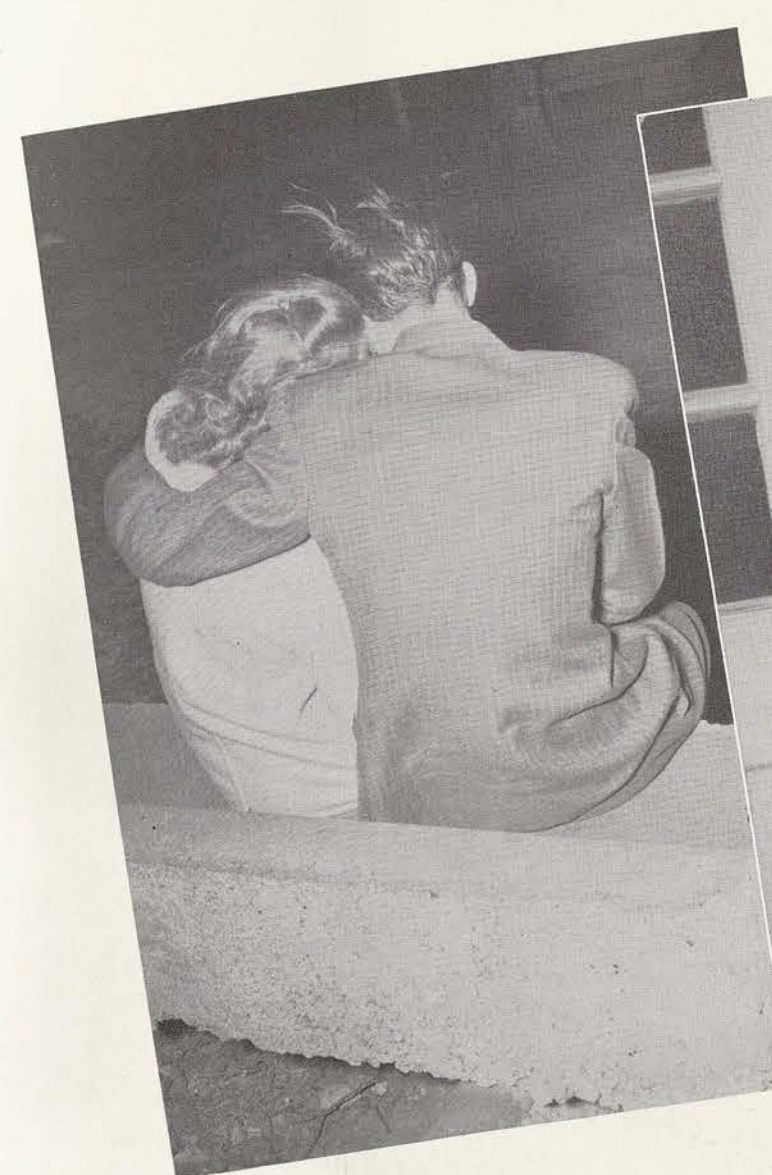

When week-ends come around, and the buzzer buzzes or the door knocks and you discover you "have a guest in the living room," you look forward to no worries, no studies, no nothing.

Then is when signing out starts, rides on the goose, steaks downtown, and strolling around the campus. On these pages Gladys Stubblefield and her fiance, Phinelle Johnson, give us an idea of things to do on a week-end date.

You can go to a movie . . .

Patronize the U. B. . . .

Sit on concrete slabs in Hygeia Woods . . .

Then goodnight . . .

Texas High School Press Association

Officers for 1947 were elected at the convention. Left to right, they are Don Davis, Lubbock High, President; Patsy Wilson, Ennis High, Treasurer; Rodney Hock, Corpus Christi High, Vice-President; and Joan Starnes, Paschal High, Fort Worth, Secretary.

Dr. McDonald, above, demonstrates his photography lecture. Other forums were held on newspaper editing, yearbook editing, and advertising.

For the first time since the war a THSPA convention was held at TSCW. Four hundred boys and girls from all over the state attended this 21st two-day convention. Dr. F. L. McDonald, head of the Journalism Department, was in charge of the program.

The editorial session was participated in by Mary Beth Foshee, left, Marilyn Toye, general secretary of THSPA, Nadine Morrow, and Martha Jean Leslie, standing.

"POP" Concerts

... last year

Outdoor "pop" concerts were very popular last year, under the direction of Fred W. Westphal, now on leave of absence. Students gathered in the amphitheatre about dusk and listened to the short, entertaining concerts.

WCST...TSCW's Own Radio Studio

Janice Brunson, program manager for the week these pictures were taken, instructs guests of the day, Katharine Reeve and Mary Beth Foshee, last two Red-bud Queens.

Janice, Bonnie Jean Cummins, Frances Green, May Burton, Pat Doyle, and Elizabeth Calamia, seated, are executives for the week on the daily hour program.

May Burton, announcing for WCST, which is TSCW spelled backward. . . Musicians at the turn table are Clara Anderson and Betty Duke. . . Engineers in the control room are Bonnie Jean Cummins and Billie Walker. Jan is giving the cue.

PLEDGE WEEK

Anything goes one week of the year when pledges to the eleven literary clubs obey the commands and wishes of their big sisters. Without batting an eye they admit being so low they could sit on a postage stamp and hang their legs off, take their big sister's breakfast to her, and awaken her with "I Love You Truly," measure the Denton Courthouse square with a six-inch ruler, and peel like a banana when asked to.

Or, as shown in the pictures on this page, they may have an air raid, praise their club, cackle like a hen and try to lay an egg in a pasteboard box, clean windows and polish floors . . . and then at the end of all this . . . they give the pledges a formal dinner to prove that they love them.

We Shall Have Music

Jane Darst, left, is director and vocalist.

Furnishing music for college dances and entertainments off campus, the Serenaders get a lot of fun out of blowing their horns, beating their drums, slapping their basses and hitting their keys. Here they are in action.

"Let It Snow, Let It Snow, Let It Snow!"

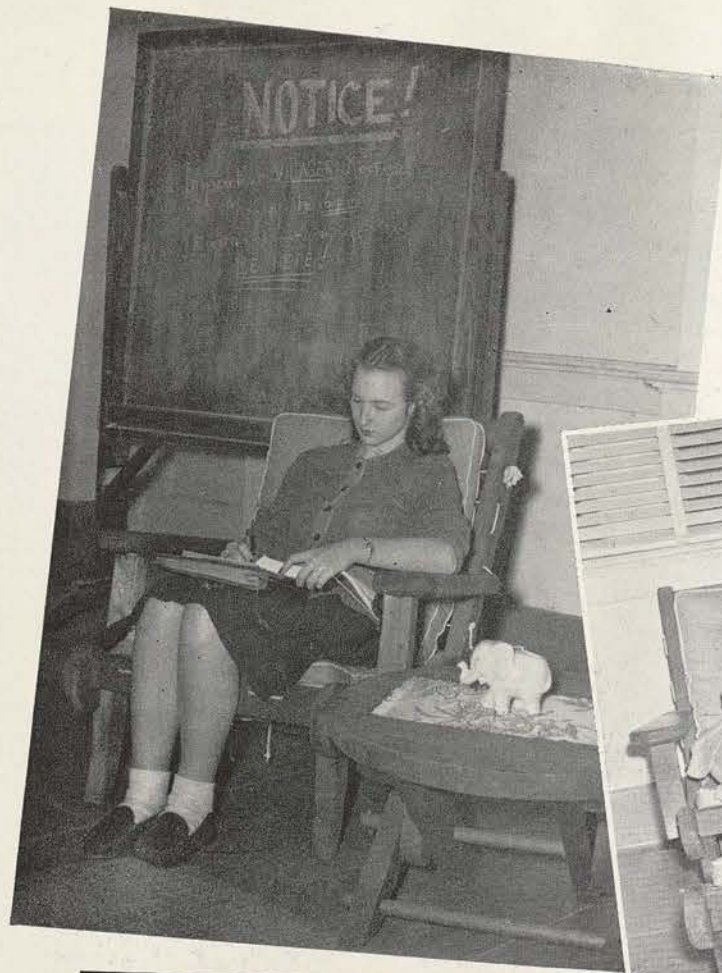

Winter is the season
That puts on the biggest show
It decorates the earth with ice
And blankets it with snow.

This season has much spirit
For traditions new and old
It's time for frolic, fun and cheer
But darn it all, I'M COLD.

THE VILLAGERS HAVE FUN, TOO

Students relax in the attractive Local Students' Room in the Ad Building, top pictures. Lower picture shows a truckload leaving for Lake Dallas for an evening of fun.

DORMITORY SING SONG

Each dormitory selects and arranges a song which is presented in a spring assembly each year. With "Will You Remember," Stoddard Hall won the cup in 1946. Above, President Hubbard congratulates the winners. Ann Crook, president of the Senior Class; Leigh Bulkeley, president of Stoddard, and Gladys Mack, director of the group, accept the cup triumphantly.

More white-clad seniors on the Senior Day picnic.

Graduation . . . last year

Starting at the Ad Building, Seniors make their last journey as TSCW students down the hill on graduation day to the Main Auditorium to receive sheepskins.

Whew! We made it!

Senior Day . . . last year

Seniors of '46 picnic on the lawn by the Science Building on Senior Day before going to a special movie downtown.

Hans Hoffman Exhibit

Miss Dorothy La Selle, left, gave lectures on the famous paintings of Hans Hoffman when his exhibit was in the Art Building from March 6 to April 2. Below, students examine the masterpieces.

Here and There...

TOP LEFT: Entertainment at the Sophomore Dance. MIDDLE LEFT: Dr. McDonald chats with John Rosenfield at the Theta Sigma Phi tea. BOTTOM LEFT: End of one of the many lines at registration. TOP RIGHT: Mrs. Wooten talks with the Lynch twins at a tea. No, it's not a mirror. BOTTOM RIGHT: Carl of the popular elevator asks the photographer if he's going up.

COTTONS for College

HOLIDAYS

I sat in class
My face was blank
My mind was miles away.
I guess the others
Felt the same
Just before a holiday.

Those last five minutes
Sitting there
Were solid mental pain.
I squirmed and tossed
I wanted out
I tried to make that plain.

Then came the bell
She lectured on
She kept us all in check.
So before I even
Left the school
I was a total wreck.

Behind the Stacks

By JANICE BRUNSON

It all started when I went to the campus library to get a book. It was just a wild whim, anyhow. I never do crazy things like that generally.

When I got to the library, I walked nonchalantly up to the desk. The conversation ran about as follows:

Me: "I would like to see somebody with a little authority."

She: "What can I do for you? I have about as little as anybody."

Me (showing card with the name of my book on it): "Do you have this book?"

She (interestedly): "Which edition—the 1923 or the 1924?"

Me (hopefully): "Either one will do."

She (flatly): "No, we don't have it."

I stopped by the door a while to ponder the situation. It was getting pretty desperate, and so was I. Suddenly I spotted an old gentleman browsing around a stack of books. He looked the type that would help little girls in trouble, so I braided my hair and went over to him.

"Pardon me," I said, "but could you help me find this book?"

He seemed intelligent enough so I showed him the card with the name of my book on it. Then I told him all about it. Then I showed him my card again. An hour later I discovered he was stone deaf.

I was half sore when I left. Then, suddenly I deducted that maybe they'd have my book at the TC library.

When I arrived at the library, I decided to try the main desk. The librarian looked at my card for a long time, then sighed, and said,

"I'd let you take this book if it weren't for something the head librarian just said."

"What was that?" I asked.

"She said, 'no!'" she said.

I never bother getting books out anymore. The doctor advised me against it. And, besides, they don't allow screaming in libraries, now do they?

WHY?

My hair is black as night, you say,
And my eyes are like the sea.
My figure slight and graceful
My smile is gay and free.

My lips are soft and rosy,
My skin as white as snow.
My ways are so enchanting;
I'm the sweetest girl you know.

You tell me that I'm lovely—
Every virtue you can see.
Well, then what are you waiting for,
Why don't you marry me?

In Memoriam... Signing Out

... And I'll Bring Home the Bacon

By PATRICIA MEWHINNEY

I don't want to be a man, heaven forbid. Naturally, a male member of the human species undoubtedly has advantages; in the main instance, freedom, but even that costs more in the long run.

No, I wouldn't change if I could be transformed into a Jim or Bill or Joe at a moment's notice. But I would love to be able to hitch-hike to New York on impulse and worry about the money when I had a bill to pay, probably ending up working it out. Or I'd enjoy going stag to a dinky little honkeytonk in some out-of-the way, upstairs location and hearing some real low-down boogie. Or . . . well, you get the general idea.

But then, on the other hand, I like corsages (if they're not pink carnations) and chocolates (hand-dipped at D'Arcy's) and clothes of almost any description. I like the leisurely importance one acquires when doors are opened for one and the gallantry attached to one's mental image of a man who always takes off his hat in a crowded elevator or takes three out-of-the-way steps to pick up the glove so clumsily dropped on the way back to a seat (given one by another twentieth century knight) on a crowded bus. I am effusively enthusiastic about silver costume jewelry and French perfume, any kind of gossip, and all the other female properties.

There comes a time in every young girl's life, however, that the laciest lingerie in Paris and the most expensive Lily Dache hat and all the compliments in the world won't add up to a sum which equals the niceties devoted to the male by institution, custom, and tradition. That time is concentrated in the hours spent in a little vine-covered cottage called home. It's the washing and ironing and the picking up the ashes from Hubby's pipe as he reads the paper on the porch in easy chair and slippers that makes me say, "No, thank you, some other time perhaps" when the delicate subject of holy matrimony is brought to mind.

I'm eighteen and I hope I'm no cureless bag. I've led a comparatively happy life . . . wonderful family, marvelous buddies and other nice and closer acquaintances, but it so happens that due to the war (everything is blamed on it in these post-duration days, anyhow) persons I know seem to be getting married by the scores. Or becoming engaged via diamond or frat pin. Or just going steady. And here am I. Free. Free and proud of it despite the fact that whispers are probably emanating in my hometown concerning "Poor Pat . . . a junior and not even pinned." Well, I'm not mad; I'm not gonna be an eager beaver just to get in the groove and grab a sparkler (a carat, at least) so I can redeem myself in the eyes of those who judge a girl's worth and popularity by the number of times she's been engaged at the termination of her college career. As a matter of fact, I view marriage with increasing reluctance; temporarily, at least, I prefer to be still shopping around. I'll just be getting my freedom when I am graduated; I should sacrifice my newly earned liberty for some no good, six feet two, blue-eyed, blond Atlas?

Should I conform merely because all my friends have completed their silver sets and have their china well underway and are considering a particular pattern in crystal while I haven't even got a can opener? While they're discarding their Latin for satin and their math for a path to the altar, should I falter? Should I waver and make the fatal promise? Should I set the date for taking the vows. Should I look soooooo in love and go around smiling with visions of middle-aisling it in June?

Don't think I'm anti-marriage. I'm not. It would be a wonderful thing to have a permanent meal ticket with personality to follow one around; It might even be nice to raise a family and see what kinda little characters one's children would be.

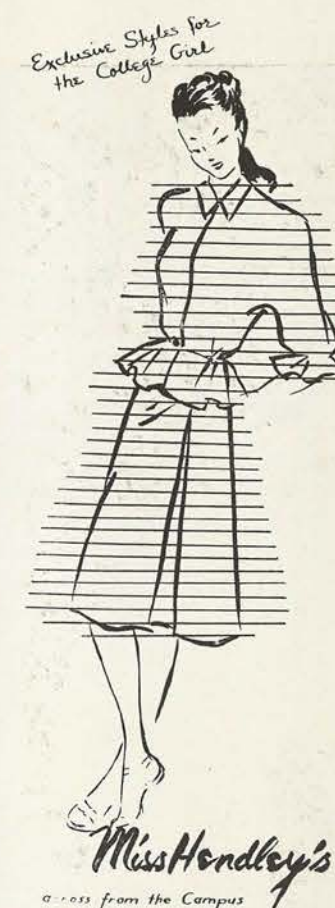

But I don't want a husband; what I want is a good wife. If I thought I could be assured of having three square meals a day steam-in' hot on the table when I got home, I'd gladly pay the grocer's bill. I'd be glad to bring home the bacon if I just had somebody to fry it. I don't say that I'd particularly relish spending a hard day at the office, but I'm pretty sure I could enjoy the same old monotonous routine of an office more than the washing, ironing, sweeping, dusting, sewing, cooking and a thousand other unvarying chores of the housewife; and I'm sure that I could have more enthusiasm for the cut-and-dried repeated jokes of a boss than for the unavoidable drivel of the radio soap opera, and I know I'd rather fight off competition to get an appointment with Mr. Soandso Bigwig than to have to fight off a line of merciless shoppers at the grocery store.

So them's mah sentiments as far as the fatal know's concerned.

The day that I find a man who wants a wife to support him and who will be so good as to keep that wife well fed, keep her house clean, see that her clothes are washed and ironed and mended, care for the bewildering offspring, and work in a little entertainment here and there, I shall be extremely surprised. Furthermore, I shall marry him.

May I get in a word . . .

edgewise?

Sometimes I wondered if I would ever reach this page--always knowing I had to. There has been a TSCW annual every year since the first one and 1947 couldn't fail. So here it is.

A lot of people are responsible for these 336 pages. To Dr. Mac and Marj, who took picture after picture, I say "you were wonderful." To the girls who came into the annual office to check names, type, and paste pictures, I say "we couldn't have done without you." To the staff, I say, "I really appreciate your efforts."

The Dorsey Company, Southwestern Engraving Company, Wheat Photo Service, and the American Beauty Cover Company, all of Dallas, I wish to sincerely acknowledge. Thanks go also to A. E. Brunson who photographed the hands of Jo Roberts and Betty Lou Sorrell for "A Wish" on page two.

A line from the song that has meant a lot to me is used in the Dedication on page three. In full it reads:

"To TSCW we pledge our hearts
Forever to be true
For everything it stands for
Maroon and white to you.

The friends we've made while living here
Will last our whole life through.
To the Seniors and our school
We pledge ourselves anew."

So, another annual is stacked upon the shelf. Every minute I have spent on it has been fun, and I'm not kidding. I just hope you like it.

So good luck to you, to next year's editor, Jane Henderson, and to TSCW.
