ELEMENTARY EDUCATION SUMMER 1935

For the Summer Session of 1935 the Kindergarten-Primary division of the Department of Philosophy and Education at the Texas State College for Women has planned a program of work designed to meet the needs of: (1) teachers in the field who are participating in the state-wide project of curriculum revision; (2) teachers who wish to improve their techniques of instruction so that a new type of curriculum may function more satisfactorily in their classrooms; and (3) students in training who wish to become familiar with the educational principles and classroom practices of progressive schools.

Work may be counted toward the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, and Master of Arts.

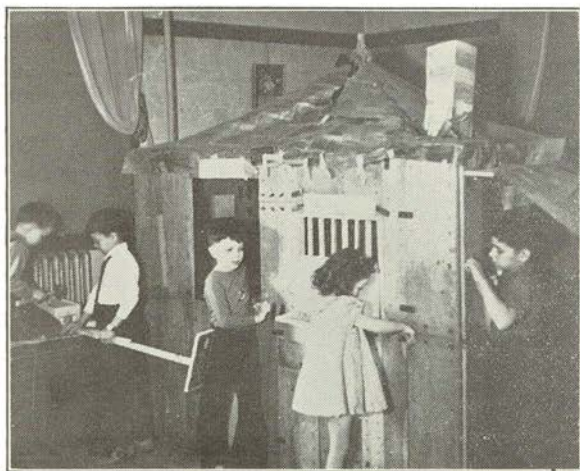

DEMONSTRATION SCHOOL

TRAIN UNIT IN GRADE I.

Of special interest to the summer students will be the Demonstration School with an activity curriculum in operation. This school located in the Household Arts Building will be in session daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m. during the first term of Summer School. A special feature this summer is the addition of the fourth grade to the Demonstration School. Opportunities will be given for observation and student teaching in grades one to four. In each of these grades the students may be by observation or actual participation follow a unit of work from its initiation to its final culminating activity. All students of the college are free to visit the Demonstration School, but special demonstrations under the guidance of the instructor of the course will be planned for those students enrolled in courses in elementary education. Such observations followed by classroom discussions will enable students to evaluate the various educational theories as they function in actual classroom situations.
