COMMUNITY DANCE CENTER SLATES REGISTRATION

Children, teens and adults are invited to explore their creative potential through dance this spring at the Community Dance Center at TWU.

TWU's Community Dance Center offers classes for all ages and abilities. Creative Movement and Creative Dance classes for ages 3 to 12 use movement ideas, imagery and music to explore space, rhythm, dynamics and energy. Pilates conditioning classes for teens and adults are designed to build strength and increase flexibility, coordination and range of motion. The Classical Pilates mat exercises as well as other dance toning techniques will be introduced.

Other types of classes offered include ballroom dancing, ballet, hip-hop jazz, Latin and more.

The registration deadline is Jan. 25, with classes beginning Monday, Jan. 31. Some classes are offered for six-week sessions and others for 10 weeks. For more information, call 8-1-3408, or visit www.twu.edu/lifelong.

TWU TO HOST SEMINAR FOR PSYCHOLOGISTS, THERAPISTS

Psychologists, marriage and family therapists, licensed professional counselors and social workers will learn about the American Psychological Association's multicultural guidelines and how they can be applied in clinical situations during an Ethics and Enactment of Diversity seminar Feb. 11 at TWU. The seminar will be held on the Denton campus and will feature Dr. Melba J.T. Vasquez, ABPP, and Dr. William Cross.

Participants who complete the program will receive six continuing education clock hours, including three in ethics, from TWU. The continuing education credits will be accepted by the Texas State Board of Examiners of Professional Counselors, Texas State Board for Social Worker Examiners, Texas State Board of Examiners of Psychologists and Texas State Board of Examiners of Marriage and Family Therapists.

SEMINAR, continued

Cost of the seminar is $10 for Federation of North Texas Area Universities' students, $35 for federation faculty, $85 before Jan. 31 for persons not affiliated with the federation and $95 after Jan. 31 for non-federation registrants. For information or to register, call (800) 250-7808 or 8-1-3408, or visit www.twu.edu/lifelong.

Vasquez has been in full-time independent practice in Austin since 1991. For 13 years, she served as a psychologist at Colorado State University and at the University of Texas-Austin Counseling and Mental Health Center. She is a past president of the American Psychological Association Division 35 and Division 17, and has been elected president of the Texas Psychological Association for 2006.

Cross is a professor and head of the doctoral program in social/personality psychology at the Graduate Center at the City University of New York. He serves on the editorial board for both the Sage series on Race and Ethnic Minority Psychology and the Journal of Multicultural Counseling and Development.

The seminar is sponsored by the TWU Office of Lifelong Learning, TWU psychology program and Federation of North Texas Area Universities, which includes TWU, Texas A&M University-Commerce and University of North Texas.
